VIADUCT GROWING

Crews from Murphy Pacific Enterprises juggle forms into place on the west side of the south end of the existing Highway 101 viaduct in preparation for pouring concrete posts for the new, parallel four-lane southbound viaduct. Workers are Russ Brandon (on truck) and Bernard Culien (below Brandon). Work began on the $2 million project last month and will be completed in July 1971 unless a contractor's proposal for speeding the work is accepted by the state Division of Highways. The plan would cut completion time by six months to a year. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Mountanos Probing Sausalito Threats

President Of School Board Receives Calls

An investigation into five threats against the life of Nathaniel Johnson, black president of troubled Sausalito School District, has been ordered by Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, it was learned today.

The anonymous phone threats were made last week, apparently sparked by Johnson's vigorous defense of Sidney F. Walton Jr., the controversial new principal of Martin Luther King School.

Apparently no threats have been made against the other four members of the board, all of whom are white.

Meanwhile, the Sausalito board braced for an expected tense public meeting today at 7:30 p.m. at the district's offices in Sausalito. A closed session to discuss the allegations against Walton —which include the charge that he threatened the life of a white college president — will be held at 6:45 p.m. Walton, who is in Atlanta, will not be at the meeting.

Johnson, who lives in Marin City, said last week he is "100 per cent behind" Walton and Sausalito Supt. Philip W. Schneider.

Two board members, James E. Muldoon and C. Gerald Clear, have questioned Walton's hiring and Schneider's role in screening of applicants. Muldoon has questioned whether Schneider deliberately withheld information about Walton's militant activities at Merritt College in Oakland and his affiliation with the black panthers.

The threats against Johnson came after he was quoted in the Independent-Journal as saying, "My overall view is that Sausalito is doing something this country doesn't have the guts to do."

He also said, "I'm kind of fed up with the name-calling and nit-picking rather than giving us support and encouragement to do something that if this country doesn't eventually do, it will be destroyed."

Mountanos was not available today for comment.

Tonight's public meeting agenda does not include any discussion of the storm of controversay over Walton's hiring. It presumably could come up under items introduced by the board but indications were the board would try to avoid the subject until Walton returned.

Clear, commenting on the closed meeting, said he expected no quick decisions on Walton or Schneider. "We cannot have a kangaroo court," he said.

Schneider, who has been on vacation during the controversy, was not in his office today and his office said it was not certain whether he would be at the meeting.

Muldoon, who said last week he might ask for the resignations of both Walton and Schneider, today said the reaction he

SAUSALITO INTEGRATION

School Plan A Bright Step —But On Exploratory Toe?

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON
(First of five articles)

"To my knowledge, this is the first school district in the State of California to completely desegregate on a district-wide basis," County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis told the Sausalito School District board on the night of Aug. 11, 1965.

The board had just accepted by unanimous vote a proposal by Hollis — who was then also acting district superintendent; Richard L. Foster, then superintendent of San Ramon Unified School District, and David Shapiro, Foster's assistant.

It called for placing all kindergarten pupils at Bayside School, all second and third graders at Central School, and all fourth through eighth graders at Richardson Bay School.

It also called for phasing out Central and Bayside within three years, replacing them with a new primary school.

Thus, on a note of high hope, the Sausalito School District embarked on integration.

Behind the decision was a long history of dissatisfactions.

Marin City parents had repeatedly complained that their schools were not up to the same standard as others in the district.

Parents in Sausalito and at the Southern Marin forts, as well as in Marin City, had complained that Richardson Bay School, which all seventh and eighth graders attended, was inferior — and cited troubles of its graduates on entering Tamalpais High School to prove their claim.

More than a year before the integration decision, on May 18, 1964 — the 10th anniversary of the Supreme Court's historic Brown vs. Board of Education decision which ruled "separate but equal" schools for blacks and whites unconstitutional — the Marin City dissatisfactions were dramatized by a pupil boycott arranged by the Conference of Racial Equality.

Some 300 pupils stayed away from their regular schools that day to attend "freedom school" at the First Missionary Baptist Church in Marin City. Nearly all of them were black.

The day's attendance figures at the public schools showed plainly the de facto segregation existing in the district. At Manzanita School in Marin City, only about 100 of the 265 pupils enrolled were present; at Richardson Bay, 223 of the 402 enrolled. But at Bayside and Central schools, attendance was normal.

A couple of months later, on July 30, 1964, Wilson C. Riles, director of the Commission on Equal Educational Opportunities of the California Department of Education, submitted a report commissioned by the Sausalito district.

He was pessimistic about the possibilities of integration, holding the population pattern made it impossible.

As a step toward integration, however, he recommended that ability grouping in the classrooms be discarded in favor of "cluster grouping." He also urged appointment of a citizen committee to explore such possibilities further.

The citizen committee, head-

Opium Buy Linked To $65 Robbery

Five youths, four from Marin County and one from San Francisco, were arrested yesterday in Fairfax after a San Anselmo boy was robbed of $65 at knife point, police reported.

The robbery was supposed to have centered around the proposed purchase of some opium but with incense being switched for the drug, police said.

Booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of armed robbery were: John S. Iacono, 19, of 200 Via Lerida, Greenbrae; Reade Collins Backer, 18, of 33 Wellington Avenue, Ross, and Stephen John Pappas, 19, of San Francisco. Backer was also booked on suspicion of possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

Booked at Juvenile Hall on suspicion of armed robbery were: David Iacono, 17, John's brother, and Jan Perroti, 16, of 33 College Park, Larkspur, police reported.

Richard Standridge, San Anselmo police officer, said he was on patrol at 12:40 a.m. when he was stopped by David Bundschu, 16, of 421 The Alameda and Patrick Harold Payton, whose age was not learned, of 1649 San Anselmo Avenue, who said they had just been robbed.

The youths were trying to repair a motorcycle when they were attacked, one man holding a knife at Bundschu's throat and demanding his money, Bundschu told police. Sixty-five dollars was given to the men, the youth informed police, and the men fled in a car.

San Anselmo police broadcast a description of the holdup group's car and Fairfax police stopped the vehicle a short time later at 19 Broadmoor Avenue, Fairfax, police said. San Anselmo police then arrested the five.

John Iacono told police that Bundschu and Payton had approached him and his four companions at the Third Rail Coffee House at 72 Kensington Road and asked if his group could sell them $100 worth of opium.

Iacono, police reported, said the group could and they agreed to meet in the vicinity of the Stop N' Go Market at 807 San Anselmo Avenue while Bundschu went to get some money.

It was agreed that Bundschu and Payton would be given incense instead of opium in order to get the money, Iacono told officers. When Bundschu returned, he did not have all of the money, Iacono reported to police, and Pappas and one other of the group took the $65 from Bundschu, Pappas using the knife as a threat.

Police said they searched the five young men at the police station where they found a package of cigarette papers and one rolled matchbook cover partially covered with a substance which appeared to be marijuana residue on Backer.

Pappas is in jail in lieu of $1,250 bail; John Iacono posted $625 bail and is to appear in Municipal Court at 2 p.m. tomorrow. No bail was posted on Backer who was later cited to Juvenile hall on court order.

Agnew Reports On Hurricane

SAN CLEMENTE (AP)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew today recommended to President Richard M. Nixon that a better system be found for predicting when and where hurricanes can be expected.

He also suggested that ways be found to provide assistance to stricken areas more quickly.

The vice president, who made a helicopter survey of gulf areas hit by Hurricane Camille, reported personally to President Nixon today at the Western White House on the devastation of the storm.

He was asked by newsmen what the damage estimate might be.

Agnew said he knew of no accurate estimate but that some thought it would go as high as $500 million.

He said efforts to get advance warning had been handicapped in this instance because while the Navy had exceptionally good equipment for reading the meteorological situation, its plane equipment was too obsolete to penetrate the hurricane and do the job properly.

While the Air Force had a wonderful plane for the job, it did not have the equipment capability of the Navy, the vice president said. Agnew said this was one of the reasons he was recommending reinforcing systems for measuring storms.

He also told newsmen outside the President's office here that Lake Ponchatrain outside New Orleans does not have enough flood protection and controls for such a highly populated area.

A million dollars in federal disaster aid money already has been allocated by President Nixon for Mississippi and another $1 million for Louisiana.

Judge May Ban Kopechne Autopsy

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A judge today took under advisement a move to dismiss a request of Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass., for an autopsy on the body of Mary Jo Kopechne.

The action apparently killed any hope the Massachussetts prosecutor had of presenting autopsy results at an inquest into her death he has scheduled for Sept. 3 in Edgartown, Mass.

The 28-year-old Miss Kopechne drowned last month when a car driven by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D.-Mass., plunged off a narrow bridge on Chappaquiddick Island on the Massachusetts coast. She is buried in nearby Larksville.

Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court said he would take at least 48 hours to rule on the motion by the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N. J., who are opposed to an autopsy.

They claimed, through their attorney, that Pennsylvania was without jurisdiction in the matter because "no crime has been committed in Pennsylvania."

Brominski also said no date would be set for a hearing on Dinis' original petition until after he had ruled on the Kopechne motion.

Dinis had no immediate comment on whether he planned to postpone the inquest.

His assistant, Armand Fernandes Jr., said, however, "there will be an inquest, and because of that fact, there ought to be an autopsy."

Brominski said his normal procedure after writing an opinion was to mail copies to opposing counsel and then publicly announce his decision the following day.

"Then if I have to schedule a further hearing on the matter, I usually allow at least 10 days before doing so," he said.

If he followed that procedure, a hearing on the original autopsy petition could not be held before Sept. 8.

Czech Student Dies Of Burns

BRNO, Czechoslovakia (UPI) — A 19-year-old part-time student has died of burns suffered when he set himself on fire to show Russian occupiers he would rather die "with my head held high than live on my knees," his friends said today.

Jan Polasek, a plumber in a textile factory, soaked his clothes with gasoline Thursday during an anti-Soviet demonstration in this Moravian capital and ran blazing into Svoboda (Freedom) Square.

He was taken to a military hospital near Brno where he died yesterday the friends said.

Marine Jets Leaving Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI) — A Marine fighter squadron with 250 men and 14 Phantom rets will leave Vietnam for Japan tomorrow as part of President Richard M. Nixon's 25,000-man troop withdrawal.

Spokesmen said Attack Squadron 334 will be stationed at Iwakuni, Japan, and will operate as a first-line combat-ready unit prepared to support marine requirements in Asia.

The withdrawal will bring to about 20,000 the number of U.S. servicemen withdrawn since President Nixon announced the withdrawal plan last month.

B52s Blast Red Dumps Near Cambodian Border

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52s blasted an arc about 80 miles north of Saigon with up to 750 tons of explosives today in a move to blunt an expected new round of enemy strikes.

The U.S. Command said the eight-engine planes flew five missions against "enemy activity, base camps, bunkers, supply and staging areas" close to the Cambodian border.

All the raids were within 10 miles of the key district capital of Loc Ninh, scene of bitter fighting when the Communist command kicked off its fall campaign Aug. 11-12.

The concentrated pounding of a known major enemy infiltration corridor leading from Cambodia was prompted by indications that the enemy plans to launch another series of attacks around Sept. 1.

During that period, Hanoi celebrates the 24th anniversary of Ho Chi Minh's proclamation of the independence of Vietnam and the establishment of the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam.

Informants said Monday there are elements of four enemy divisions poised in an arc cutting across three provinces bordering Cambodia.

The enemy's campaign slowed down somewhat as it entered its third week Monday but informed sources reported renewed movement at night in Tay Ninh Province northwest of Saigon.

Military sources said the ene-

Teamsters Picket Oakland Terminal

OAKLAND (UPI) — Teamsters picketed an empty dockside terminal in Oakland today in a dispute with the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union.

About half a dozen pickets marched in front of the 7th Street dock operated by Marine Terminals. There were no ships tied up there, however, and a company spokesman said there were no goods in the warehouse.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

CIA Lied, Attorney Says

NEW YORK (AP) — A lawyer for three of eight Army Green Berets charged with murdering a Vietnamese, reportedly a double agent, says a Central Intelligence Agency representative "lied" at a pretrial hearing last week to "cover up for his own mistakes and stupidity."

Rothblatt

"The CIA," said attorney Henry B. Rothblatt, "distorted information to precipitate the hearing. Then, in cross examination, a representative of the agency was caught in lies and hid behind executive privilege."

Rothblatt returned yesterday from Saigon and said he was confident the Army would drop charges against the eight Special Forces members "within a week."

"They just don't have any evidence," he said of the Army.

Rothblatt said he could not discuss details of the case because they were classified by the military.

Captain Cleared In Collision

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A court-martial cleared Capt. John P. Stevenson today of charges that he was partly to blame for the collision of his ship, the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne, and the American Destroyer Frank E. Evans.

Stevenson

The five-man board ruled for honorable acquittal after the judge advocate, Cmdr. P. L. Sharp, found that Stevenson did not have to answer the two charges of negligence. He was accused of failing to transmit to the destrayer a positive direction to correct a collision course and of failing to put his engines astern when he realized a collision course could not be avoided.

The U.S. Navy has yet to announce whether it will bring charges against any of the officers of the Evans. Seventy-four Americans died when the Melbourne sliced through the destroyer in the South China Sea during maneuvers on June 3.

"The primary responsiblity rested with the destroyer," said a joint U.S-Australian investigative board, but it said the carrier was partly to blame.

Date For Fear

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says a friend in one of the nation's militant groups has told him that terrorist activities aimed at making Americans fearful will begin Oct. 1.

Graham declined, in an interview yesterday on the ABC television and radio program "Issues and Answers," to identify his informant.

The evangelist said moral decay in American society has been accelerating lately, citing erotic movies and Broadway shows.

"There is so much hell in the country because there is not more hell in the pulpit," he said.

Rash Of Fires

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — Officials today blamed a rash of pyromania for one of the worst series of Riviera brush fires in recent years.

As firemen and troops beat down the last of the blazes, campers, tourists and residents all along the Mediterranean were being asked about suspicious persons belived tighted the tinder-dry hills, often behind the backs of crews who were already battling windblown flames.

Admiral Leaps

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Rear Adm. Alan F. Fleming, commander of the U.S. Fleet Air Mediterranean, and seven other persons leaped into the sea six miles offshore yesterday to escape a fire aboard a motor launch.

All were picked up by three craft in the vicinity. The launch sank in 200 feet of water.

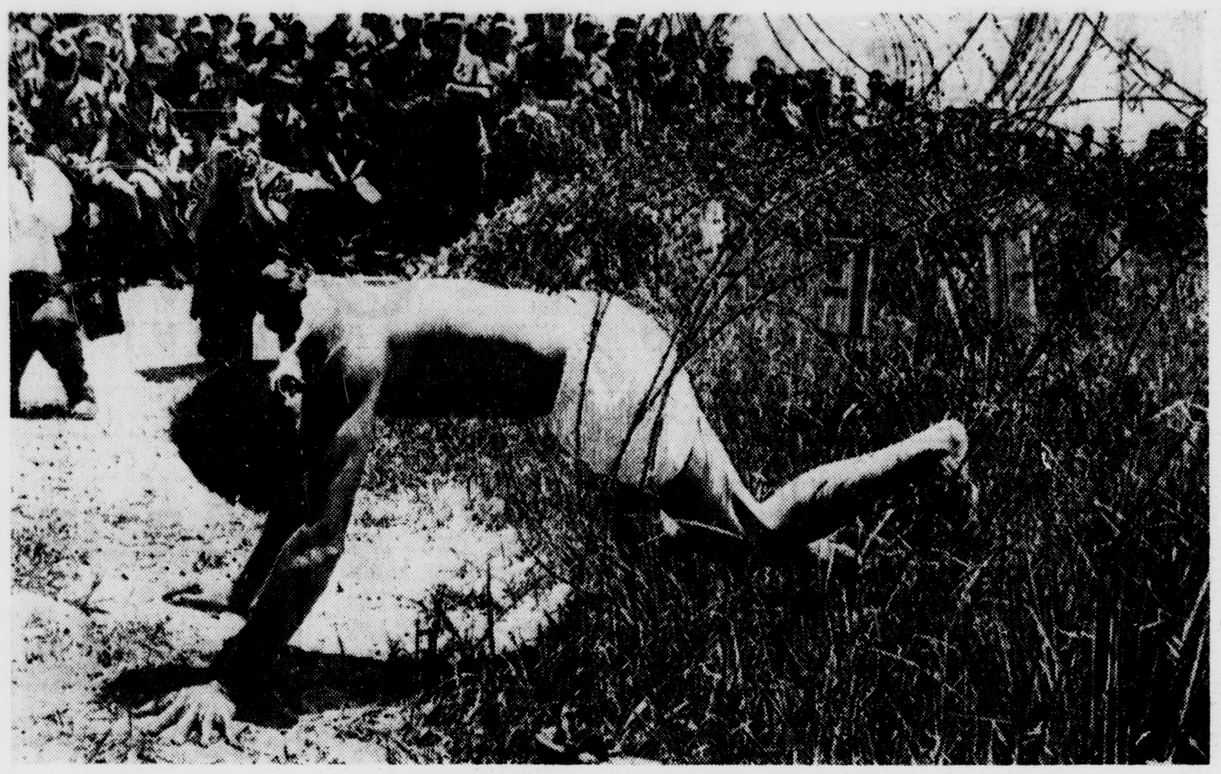
A Navy spokesman said that in addition to the admiral and his wife the party included two other naval officers and their wives. There was a crew of two.

Respect For Priests

CASTEL GONDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI says priests, friars and nuns deserve the respect and affection of all.

In his regular Sunday speech at the papal summer residence, the Pope said:

"We want to comfort the vocation of these generous and courageous souls, franchised from the world in which paradoxically they go on living, in order to seek in the fullness of love, Christ, the church, the brothers and the world itself, in the humbleness of service and in the greatness of sacrifice."



VIET CONG EFFICIENCY

After Viet Cong commandoes cut through barbed wire at Da Nang last week, U.S. officials wanted to know how they did it. Here, former Viet Cong sappers who have defected demonstrate for U.S. troops at Long Binh. It is claimed the guerrillas can cut through 200 strands of concertina barbed wire in 90 seconds without making a sound. (UPI Telephoto)

Storm Stops Spreading Brush Fires

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Helped by a tropical storm 1,000 miles away, firefighters have stopped the spread of three searing brush fires that crackled over 42,700 acres and forced an estimated 650 persons from their homes.

The fires began Friday a few miles apart in northern San Diego County. Up to 1,800 weary firefighters confronted gusty winds, 100-degree heat and 10-per-cent humidity in the parched, brown hills as the blazes swept out of control.

Then came the break.

A large tropical storm off Mexico pushed moist air into Southern California, driving the humidity up and the temperature down.

TB Still Deadly

HELSINKI (UPI)—Tuberculosis is still a killer disease in Finland. Medical authorities report 400 persons died from the disease in 1968 and 5,800 new cases were discovered.

Park Back In Seoul With Hitchhikers

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean President Chung Hee Park returned home today from talks with President Richard M. Nixon and told the nation he is convinced that America's defense committee to his government will remain unchanged.

Continuing his generosity to American air hitchhikers, Park brought with him the wife and daughter of an American serviceman stationed in Seoul.

In an impromptu speech to a welcoming crowd at Kimpo International Airport, Park said there has been some apprehension and speculation among Asians about the Nixon government's new Asian policy, but as far as Korea is concerned there will be no change.

The 51-year-old Korean leader said this is because South Korea is in a unique situation in which its security is directly linked with that of all Asia.

Added to Park's 40-member party at the last minute were Jean Brown, 25, of Shreveport, La., and her 6-year-old daughter, Lisa. In Seoul, she plans to set up housekeeping for her husband, Army Sgt. George C. Brown Jr., who has been in Korea a month and has another year to serve. Brown met his family at the airport.

When he arrived in California Wednesday, Park brought Anne Mattson, 19, of Newberry, Mich., who had been visiting her sister in Seoul. She asked for the ride, saying she needed the money to go to college.

Mrs. Brown had sent a telegram to the South Korean president Friday at Yosemite National Park. After his meetings with President Nixon in San Francisco Thursday and Friday, Park went to Yosemite where he golfed and caught six rainbow trout.

"It didn't seem like a bad idea, and all he could say was no," Mrs. Brown said of her telegram. She said her daughter suggested it after they saw Park's picture in a newspaper.

She said the South Korean president phoned her Saturday night and told her, "If you and your daughter can find a way to San Francisco, then you can come along."

Czech Troops Roll In Again, Shut Bridges

PRAGUE (AP) — Demonstrating that the government is determined to stop anti-Soviet protests in Czechoslovakia, trucks carrying about 800 troops rolled into Prague last night.

The troops closed two bridges and took up positions on the west bank of the Vltava River opposite downtown Prague. There were not as many soldiers as were brought into the city last week to control rioting on the first anniversary of the Soviet invasion.

The arrival of the troops apparently was staged to coincide with the end of a football game between two major Czechoslovak teams. The military maneuver kept the crowd of 3,000 from the neighborhood of the Communist party headquarters, which is between the two closed bridges.

The crowd appeared quiet and no arrests were noted. Any disturbance in such a crowd would be grounds for arrest under severe new emergency laws promulgated after the violence last week on the first anniversary of the Soviet invasion.

15 Iraqis Executed; Arabs Gathering

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arab foreign ministers gathered in Cairo today as calls for a holy war against Israel mounted.

Brought together by the fire in the Al Aksah Mosque in Jerusalem, the ministers were expected to discuss Jordan's proposal for a summit meeting. And a summit meeting could result in the Arabs abandoning all efforts toward a peaceful settlement with Israel.

Egypt, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia already have given their approval to a summit meeting.

There were these other developments in the Middle East:

Israeli jets struck at guerrilla bases in Jordan 19 miles north of Amman today after a mine killed two Israeli soldiers and wounded two near the Jordan River. Five Arab guerrillas were reported killed in a clash in the Golan Heights, and seven Israeli border police were reported wounded in an ambush near the Lebanese border. On the Suez Canal front, an Israeli soldier was killed and another wounded in day-long artillery and small arms exchanges Sunday.

Fifteen Iraquis were executed in Baghdad at dawn today after being convicted of spying for Israel and the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. Nine of the men including two Jews, were civilians and were hanged. The rest, a police commissioner and five soldiers, were shot. Thirty-six Iraqis were executed on the same charges earlier this year, and nine of them were identified as Jews.

Police in Izmir, Turked, announced that a Jordanian student was killed and another injured when a homemade time bomb they intended to place at the Israeli pavilion of the Izmir International Fair exploded accidentally late Saturday night.

SAN CLEMENTE (AP) — Tricia Nixon, the President's 23-yeardold edler daughter, has gone back to the White House in Washington after a 12-day stay with the family at the western White House.

Thailand Not Seeking Immediate U.S. Pullout

BANGKOK (AP) — Thailand is not seeking an immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops stationed on its soil, Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn said today.

Thanom, making the first official Thai comment on Washington reports that Thailand had sought negotiations for a U.S. withdrawal, also said Thailand did not want all of the 50,000 American troops in the country pulled out.

The Thai leader said Thailand's request for negotiations on U.S. troop withdrawals was related to American troop withdrawals from South Vietnam.

"The purpose of the Americans sending troops here was to support their troops in the Vietnam war," he said. "Now the Americans have begun withdrawing some of their forces from Vietnam.

"As soon as the Vietnam war is concluded there will be no longer be any need for the Americans to keep troops here. Therefore, we would like to know their plans."

This was the reason Thailand had asked the United States for discussions on troop withdrawals, he said.

CHP Chopper On Duty Over Marin

A blue-and-gold California Highway Patrol helicopter will be hovering over Marin commuters tomorrow morning, keeping an eye on traffic.

The helicopter, one of three operating in the state under a one-year study, will be over Marin from 7 to 9 a.m., reported Sgt. James Dukes of the Marin Division of the highway patrol.

Riding with the pilot will be a local highway patrolman, familiar with Marin roads, who will board the chopper at the Richardson Bay heliport.

The jet turbine helicopter, equipped with floats for water landings, will be used primarily for traffic surveillance, service to motorsits and law enforcement, the patrol reported.

Skimming over Highway 101, the crew can detect causes of traffic tieups, report them, and direct ground crews to the location.

It is equipped with two litters for emergencies, and Sergeant Dukes noted it would be valuable for aiding injured or sick at mass gatherings.

He recalled the need for helicopters at the recent rock festival in New York that attracted hundreds of thousands of youths.

It also could provide traffic direction and control for major events such as Western Weekend in Novato or the Dipsea race from Mill Valley, he said.

The helicopter also will serve to detect law violators and help catch them. The three helicopters in the state will operate until July 1, 1970.

Pakistan-China Highway Open For New Trade

KARACHI (UPI) — Trucks rolled today over a 456-mile paved highway between Communist China and Pakistan that follows the famed overland "silk route" of Marco Polo.

The highway connecting the Karakoram Mountain states of Pakistan with China's Sinkiang Province opened Sunday with scores of Pakistani officials welcoming the first trade caravan from China.

An agreement for construction of the highway was reached two years ago, mainly to increase the Pakistan-China barter trade which has averaged $60 million annually since 1965.

Pakistan sends raw jute and raw cotton to China in exchange for rice, cement, non-electrical machinery, dyes, colors and other goods.

Auckland is the largest city and seaport of New Zealand.

Redwood Park Tidied For Nixon

ORICK (AP) — Redwood national park officials worked today to spruce up the canyon of trees where President Richard M. Nixon will dedicate the Lady Bird Johnson Grove of giant redwoods Wednesday.

It will be a special birthday present for former President Lyndon B. Johnson, who created the preserve on Oct. 2, 1968, when he signed the bill creating the park. He will be 61 Wednesday.

Mrs. Johnson dedicated the park Nov. 25, 1968, to climax her final conservation tour of America as the nation's first lady.

"It will be pretty much the same ceremony it was last November," Park Supt. Nelson Murdock said in an interview yesterday.

The presidential party—including the Nixons and the Johnsons—will hike a mile or so off Bald Hills Road on a dirt trail to the towering grove of California coast redwoods, the tallest living things.

The 58,000-acre park was established after years of controversy between conservationists and big lumber companies. The compromise park boundary encompassed about 28,000 acres of California state redwood parks and about 30,000 acres of private timber lands.

British Unit To Stay In Ireland Longer

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops will continue their peacemaking role in Northern Ireland for at least four months, military sources indicated today.

"There is no question of us departing," said Lt. Col. Charles Millman, commander of the troops in Londonderry.

Millman met with the citizens' defense committee which controls Bogside, the barricaded Catholic area in Londonderry. He told the Bogsiders that the army would protect them if they decided to pull down their barricades.

Northern Ireland generally had a quiet weekend, with scattered fires but no casualties.

Protestant extremists kept up their protest against the army's decision that the Protestant B-Special police reservists must turn in their arms when not on duty. James King, chairman of the Armagh Ulster Protestant Volunteers, an unofficial defense force, said: "But for the work of the B-Specials in the past two weeks, anarchists and rebels would have run through the north."

In an attempt to counter Bernadette Devlin's visit to the United States, the governing Unionist party decided to send three members of Parliament to Canada and the United States.

Underground Brewery Found In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — A gaping hole in the pavement caused by a sewer collapse uncovered an old place known as Uhrig's Cave, an underground beer parlor and beer cooling cave in operation from the 1880s to the early 1900s.

Ignatz Uhrig and his brothers enlarged the place from a smaller cavern to complement their brewery. At one time the cave measured 210 feet long, 20 feet wide and 20 feet deep.

Four Injured In Three-Car Bridge Crash

Four persons were injured in a three-car chain collision Friday on northbound Highway 101 near the north tower of the Golden Gate Bridge, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers reported that a car driven by Donald Demetreos, 50, of 1223 Ridgeway Court, Novato, struck the rear of a car driven by Peter R. Oqvuist, 22, of 423 Mangels Street, San Francisco, which had stopped in heavy traffic at 5:35 p.m.

Oqvist's car was pushed into a car driven by Bernice Kerr, 55, of 10 Winship Avenue, Ross, which also was stopped, officers said.

Mrs. Kerr suffered a sore upper back and nevk; Oqvist, a stiff neck; Demetreos, a cut of his upper lip, and Wade B. Brown, 35, of 423 Mangels Street, San Francisco, a passenger in Oqvist's car, neck sprains. Demetreos told officers he would be treated by his own doctor. The others were treated at Marin General Hospital.

Presidency Seen For Ted

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., says he expects Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to become president of the United States.

But McGovern said in a radio interview yesterday he doesn't expect Kennedy to seek the office in 1972.

McGovern said he felt that Kennedy was leaning away from a 1972 presidential bid even before the recent automobile crash involving Kennedy in which a young woman was killed.

"I think he felt, for his own reasons, that perhaps 1972 was not the time for him to make a presidential bid," McGovern said.

Commute Proposals

A recommendation that the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District immediately implement the Marin County Transit District's proposed bus system, and that hydrofoils be tested with federal funds, will be considered for adoption by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Civic Center.

AT MUSEUM

N.Y. Protesters Bare Their Ire

The bare romp, staged by Kayoi Kusama, a 29-year-old Japanese sculptress, took museum officials by surprise.

Miss Kusama, who previously staged nude "happenings" on Wall Street and near the United Nations, said the museum was a place where "you can take off your clothes in good company."

And so her accomplices did, as 200 visitors and an astonished security guard looked on in apparent shock.

"The place isn't made for people," said James Golata, as he climbed barely atop Maillol's "Girl Washing Her Hair," a bronze nude. "The guards won't even let anyone take off their shoes and dunk their feet in the pool."

As the eight nudes stood in the pool and mimicked their stone and metal companions, chief security officer Roy Williams pleaded with them to get dressed. But the young people held their poses.

Miss Kusama said the display had a serious purpose—to protest what she called the museum's lack of modernity. She called it a "mausoleum of modern art" and asked:

"What's modern there? I don't see it. Van Gogh, Cezanne, these other ghosts all are dead or dying. While the dead show dead art, the living artists die."

Williams, after 20 minutes, convinced the nudes to dress and leave. As he escorted them from the enclosed garden on West 54th Street, he warned them never to return.

Later, Miss Kusama led her flock, fully clad, to the Bethesda Fountain in Central Park, to mingle with the standard afternoon crowd of hippies, musicians and families and recount their bare protest.

Six young women and two men shed their clothes and frolicked in the sunny museum garden and reflecting pool amid larger-than-life nude statues.

Four-Car Pileup In Bridge Jam

Three persons received minor injuries in a four-car pile-up in the clogged southbound lanes of Golden Gate Bridge last night, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Injured were Joan K. DeWindt, 22, of Alameda; Richard Heinisch, 49, of San Francisco, and Earl Moree, 39, of San Francisco. None required hospitalization.

The patrol said the front car in the rear-ender was driven by Burton Honig of Belle Harbor, N.Y. His car was hit by one in which Miss DeWindt was a passenger, driven by Charles Jack Konig of Grandville, Mich. Konig's car was hit by Heinisch's which was struck by one driven by James W. Kwiezinski of San Francisco. Moree was a passenger in Heinisch's vehicle.

The accident occurred at 7:20

Since 1960 more than 78,000 South Vietnamese soldiers have been killed in action.

TV Sets Stolen From Auto Agency

A $175 television set, a $40 desk set and transistor radio and another television set of undetermined value were stolen from Annex Motors at 535 Francisco Boulevard Thursday night, San Rafael police reported today.

Police said burglars apparently entered through an open window.

Record Crowd At State Fair

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A crowd of 63,071 that attended Sunday's events at the California State Fair was higher than attendance for any single day at last year's 58-day fair program, fair officials said today.

Among the Fair visitors at the attraction's third day of a 19-day run were 18,219 oldsters who were admitted free on "Senior Citizen's Day."

A special event today will be a demonstration of recovering astronauts by a special Navy team of frogmen from Coronado. They will drop from a helicopter and recover a replica of a space capsule in the exposition lagoon.

Motorcycle Taken

Kent L. Lewis of 218 Forrest Avenue, Fairfax, reported Saturday his 1969 black Harley Davidson motorcycle which did not yet have a license was taken from his home between 9:30 and 10:50 p.m., police said today.

Protesters Jam Pittsburgh Streets

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Hundreds of demonstrators saying they want more blacks in craft unions poured into Pittsburgh's downtown during rush hour traffic this morning, snarling vehicles and pedestrians in a massive traffic jam.

Police, some wearing hard hats and gas masks, tried to direct traffic through the city's famed Golden Triangle while angry motorists caught in the traffic jam leaned on their horns adding to the din.

The huge throng, composed of whites and blacks, walked three and four abreast along the streets. Trolleys, buses and cars were backed up for blocks on Grant Street and Liberty and Penn avenues, three of the main arteries in the downtown area.

The demonstrators ignored traffic signal lights, but sometimes stopped when asked by police. Extra patrolmen called out to handle the expected crush of people were stationed about 20 feet apart on the streets.

As the traffic jam built up, many trolley and bus passengers got off and walked to their jobs.

The demonstrators marched to the U.S. Steel Corp. Building, a 65 story skyscraper being built downtown. There they they were confronted by about 30 police officers wearing hard hats and holding nightsticks.

About 100 workers, all white, looked down from high perches in the building's ironwork while the crowd of demonstrators massed.

Also at the building was a group that called itself the Democratic Association for Black Brothers. They were about 15 to 20 teen-age boys dressed in black berets, shirts, trousers and shoes. They carried bayonets and held four German Shepard dogs on leashes.

Police finally coaxed the workers from their seats. They returned to the ground and a portion of the demonstrating group broke off and headed toward Duquesne University where several buildings are under construction.

The demonstrators, estimated at about 1,000 by police, moved into the downtown from Pittsburgh's North Side where they were going to defy a court order and demonstrate at the half-finished Three Rivers stadium.

But contractors at the stadium joined contractors at five other major construction projects in heeding a plea by the city to give their men the day off.

The demonstrators listened as a court order limiting pickets was read by an Allegheny County deputy sheriff, then started across the Manchester Bridge into the downtown.

"Since it (the stadium) as shut down, we're taking the people to various other jobs that might not be shut down," said Byrd Brown, director of the Pittsburgh chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and a leader of the demonstration.

Public Safety Director James A. Cortese asked the project owners to keep their workers off the job because of "a very real potential for violence."

Work was stopped on the $35-million stadium, the 64-story U.S. Steel building, the Westinghouse office building, the Pittsburgh National Bank building and the Bell Telephone building.

A study by the Mayor's Commission on Human Relations showed that of the 30,000 members of building and trade unions in Pittsburgh, only 2 per cent were Negroes.

WAR

my was once again "preparing the battlefield"—deploying ammunition and food supplies in advance of their attacks—and their night movement "is starting up again."

"It's not as much as it was two weeks ago, but it's there, all right," one U.S. officer said.

Elsewhere, sporadic flareups were reported Monday in Binh Duong Province where 76 enemy soldiers were killed in two sharp battles with U.S. forces about 30 miles northwest of Saigon. U.S. losses in the clashes were two killed and 10 wounded.

In the Mekong Delta, 30 miles southwest of Saigon, a North Vietnamese army colonel was reported killed by U.S. troops yesterday when, after feigning death, he rolled over with a grenade in his hand.

Rangers from the U.S. 9th Infantry Division killed the colonel before he could pull the pin of the grenade, spokesmen said.

A North Vietnamese army captain captured after a brief engagement in which eight other enemy soldiers were killed identified the colonel. He said the force was moving toward Cambodia for a brief rest when it was spotted.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that a 2½-ton truck loaded with ammunition exploded today, killing four persons, wounding 45 and destroying four houses. It was not immediately determined what caused the explosion.

The blast occurred on a street in the provincial capital of My Tho, 35 miles south of Saigon.

The U.S. Command reported 29 enemy shellings of allied bases and towns in the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. Monday, 17 of them against U.S. troops and installations. Thirty-five Americans were wounded, but no U.S. fatalities were reported.

U.S. headquarters also said 983 more U.S. fighting men—653 soldiers and 330 sailors—left South Vietnam Monday as part of President Nixon's initial 25,000-man troop redeployment.

Nixon has decided to hold up a decision for more American troop withdrawals because of the upsurge of enemy attacks but the White House said no freeze has been placed on the first 25,000 ordered pulled out.

Burglars Strike Four Households In Sausalito

Sausalito police today reported four burlaries since Thursday, including the theft of items valued at $1.645 from a single apartment.

Police said the 44 Crescent Avenue apartment of John Andrew Ronscauge was burglarized during Thursday. Thieves made off with $1,645 worth of sound equipment, sculpture, cameras, radios, luggage, a .22-caliber pistol, a 30.06 rifle and a .16-gauge shotgun.

Entry to the apartment apparently was gained by jimmying a lock, police said.

Another apartment in the same building, occupied by Tamara Victoria Krassavin, also was hit by burglars Thursday who took a radio and speaker worth $140.

Another burglary on Thursday netted a television set and sewing machine valued at $40 from the home of Joanne Elizabeth Rockwell of 4 Sausalito Boulevard, police said.

The fourth burglary was Friday night at the Lucky Porky restaurant at 707 Bridgeway. Thieves, who gained entrance by removing a window, got $137 in cash.

Hospital Parking Report Tomorrow

A report on the surfacing of the new parking lot on Bon Air Road will be made by Dan Coleman Associates, engineers, to the Marin Hospital District board at a meeting at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

The board will also authorize advertising for bids for repair and resurfacing of the hospital's existing parking lots. The board meets first at 6 p.m. for dinner in the cafeteria, then moves at 7 p.m. to the Coral Room.

Innocent Plea In Marijuana Case

Brace Gustave Bonnivier, 24, of Sausalito pleaded innocent today in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana Dec. 14, 1968 in Sausalito.

A jury trial was set for the week of Dec. 8.

Review Asked

Fotomat Corp. of Burlingame will ask the Corte Madera Board of Design for design review approval of a drive-in Fotomat structure to be built in the Co-op Center parking lot at 71 Tamal Vista Boulevard at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the town hall.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

The Answers Were Correct

The Ace Health Insurance Co. promoted a sales contest among its salesmen. Before Sam, a top salesman, sold Charles a policy, he asked about Charles' blood pressure and possible diabetes. Charles said his blood pressure was trifling and his mild diabetes was "controlled" by pills and diet. Nothing more.

On the blanks Sam wrote "no" to both questions, and Charles bought the policy. One month later he had a heart attack, and the company got many a hospital and doctor bill. It refused to pay them, on the ground that the application was not accurate.

In court Charles won: He had told salesman Sam the truth. What Sam wrote down was no concern of his. At any time the company could have checked Charles' health before handing over the policy. But it did not.

Said the court, people often buy insurance like other things, relying on the salesman's good faith. For the courts to presume that they know what the policy says is simply contrary to fact. Most people don't know until something goes wrong and it is too late.

Remember, though: The insured himself cannot misrepresent an important fact in his application. If he does so, the policy is void.

In buying insurance, the court said, the buyer cannot really bargain, since the company fixes the terms, and that is that. Besides, the buyer has to rely on what the agent tells him.

The company's action may also extend the coverage of a policy. For example, Pete had a general liability policy in case he hurt someone accidentally; but not if he intentionally assaulted someone. Pete got into a fight and slugged his neighbor.

The neighbor sued Pete. Since Pete claimed self-defense, the company's lawyer said the company would defend Pete in court and cover his liability. The neighbor won a $10,000 judgment against Pete which the insurance company refused to pay, strictly in accordance with the written terms of the policy.

Still, the court held that its representative had led Pete to believe it would cover the claim. The company had to pay anyhow. (Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

has received from residents in the community indicates that many "are somewhat fearful that we might have gotten away from our avowed purpose of integration."

He declined to elaborate on the statement, saying, "I think that's about all I can say."

Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith, who also is backing both Walton and Schneider was unavailable today as was trustee David E. Freedheim, who could be the swing vote in a showdown vote on the firing of either of the men.

Another touchy issue on tonight's agenda is action on whether to continue the Black Panther-originated breakfasts. The board is expected to decide whether the district should take over the breakfasts which have been under fire from reisdents of the district and elsewhere.

Jury Trial Slated In Attack Charges

A jury trial was set today in Marin Superior Court for the week of Sept. 29 for two San Francisco men who are charged with raping a San Leandro woman Aug. 2 at Muir Beach.

Held in Marin County Jail awaiting trial are Robert James Walker, 23, and Edward McCullough, 29.

They are charged with first raping the woman at the beach, then taking her to San Francisco where they attacked her again and stole her purse and car.

Boy Is Bruised Walking Into Car

Morgan Geiger of 142 Willow Avenue was taken to the hospital by his mother, Gretel Geiger, police reported. The accident occurred at 7:04 p.m on Willow Avenue between Tamalpais Drive and Sierra Court, according to police.

Table Stolen

Someone stole a wrought iron table, chair and planter, valued at a total of $60, from the lawn of Mrs. Stanley Stuart, 20 Grove Avenue, Corte Madera, during the week end, Mrs. Stuart reported to police at 9:50 a.m. yesterday.

SCHOOLS

ed by Robert E. Rogers, went to work in October, and on July 1, 1965, it recommended immediate steps to desegregate Manzanita School. It also urged a professional study of the entire school system.

The study by Hollis, Foster and Shapiro resulted. They concurred with Riles on "cluster grouping."

The plan followed quiet closely a proposal by CORE, then the most militant and active group in behalf of Marin City residents.

Douglas J. Quiett, CORE chairman, had reported the preceding November to a Marin County Human Rights Commission housing task force that CORE had been seeking adoption of the "Princeton Plan," putting all primary grade pupils together in one school and all upper grade pupils in another.

It fell to a new superintendent, Charles W. Lavaroni, to put the integration plan into practice with opening of schools in September, 1965. The "first completely desegregated school system in California" received wide notice and drew observers from many other districts.

There was a portent of things to come, however, at an Oct. 11 board meeting, in a petition signed by 61 parents complaining about lack of discipline and alleging that the new "cluster grouping" was slowing pupil progress.

If the integration plan looked like a giant step forward to Hollis and Lavaroni, it appeared to a newly elected majority of the school board to be merely thrusting out an exploratory toe.

Nathaniel Johnson, David E. Freedheim and Bruce E. Woelfel, elected in 1965, agreed with a comment of Riles a year earlier: "Often the feeling is that if you just jockey children around, mix them up, education improves. That is not true."

There were increasing indications that relations between the new board and new superintendent were not entirely happy.

The board engaged Foster, who had participated in the original desegregation recommendations, to make a new survey of how the plan was working.

And at the meeting of March 14, 1966, the board went into one of its frequent closed sessions with the superintendent and emerged to announce that Lavaroni's resignation had been accepted, affective June 30.

At the next board meeting, Trustee Harold L. Sleight proposed that Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato be named to the top job, but his fellow trustees preferred to seek more widely. They named County Superintendent Hollis, trustee Johnson, and Lavaroni as a committee to screen candidates.

The choice of the committee was Phillip W. Schneider, a San Rafael native who had his second teaching job (in Larkspur) and his first superintendency (of the old San Jose School District in and around Hamilton Air Force Base) in Marin County. He was superintendent of Whisman Elementary School District in Santa Clara County when he got the nod.

"I still have to say Schneider was head and shoulders above all the other candidates," said Hollis this week.

Groth, 56, collapsed at his home Saturday while playing cards and was declared dead on arrival at 8:28 p.m. at Marin General Hospital. He had been ill recently with double pneumonia, accoridng to Marin County Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan who attributed death to natural causes.

Reared in Minnesota, Groth had lived in Marin County for 16 years, most recently at 74 Mohawk Avenue in Corte Madera. He had been employed in the service station business for the past 20 years and had operated the Union Oil station, 455 Miller Avenue for 11 years.

He was a member of Marin Lutheran Church of Corte Madera.

He is survived by his wife, Laura S. Groth of Corte Madera; two daughters, Gloria Lascy of Fair Oaks and Myrna Tillett of Larkspur; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Groth of Minnesota; a brother, Gerhardt Groth of Minnesota; a sister, Lillian Haber of Minnesota; and six grandchildren.

CHARLES MODIN

Charles E. Modin of Mill Valley died yesterday at a local convalescent hospital following a long illness. He was 94.

Born in Sweden, he came to the United States in 1879 and lived in Nebraska, Kansas and Idaho before moving to California in 1917. He moved to Mill Valley in 1922 and for the past 25 years lived with his nephew, Raymond, H. Modin, at 3 Robertson Terrace, Mill Valley.

He is survived by five nieces and three nephews.

Memorial services will be at 1 p.m. Thursday at the Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel in Mill Valley.

RUTH STEWART MATSON

Funeral for Ruth Stewart Matson, formerly of 28 Marinero Circle, Tiburon, was held Saturday in San Francisco.

Mrs. Matson, 58, who recently moved to Silverado after one year's residence in Tiburon, died suddenly in Zephyr Cove, Nevada August 18.

A native and resident of Tsien Tsin, China, for 20 years, Mrs. Matson lived in Sleepy Hollow for more than 10 years before moving to Tiburon.

She is survived by her husband, Paul H. Matson; four daughters, Mrs. William C. Huyck of Salem, Ore., Mrs. O. B. Cavanaugh of Sunnyvale, Mrs. Richard M. Stewart and Mrs. John E. Miller, both of Los Angeles, a son, John F. Winkler of Arcata.

The body was cremated and the ashes scattered at sea.

Seven Arrested For Loitering

A continuing crackdown on loitering by Sausalito's weekend fun-seekers resulted in the arrest of seven persons, including four juveniles, Saturday, police reported today.

Three of those arrested, two of them from Toronto, Canada, were booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of blocking a public sidewalk. They were all released on $35 bail pending court appearances at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Arrested after police repeatedly warned them to move from the Excelsior Lane stairway were John Arthur Knaggs, 28, of San Francisco, and Helary Yvonne Irlam and Diane Eliane Willis of Toronto.

Three juveniles were cited to juvenile authorities and released. One was sent to Juvenile Hall.

RONALD J. LAGER

Ronald J. Lager, 40, of 30 Altura Way, Greenbrae, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

Lager was proprietor of Northgate Drugs at the Northgate Shopping Center. A native of California, he had lived in Marin 16 years. He was a member of the California and Marin County pharmaceutical associations.

He is survived by his wife, Patricia L. Lager; three sons, Warren, Matthew and Robert Lager, and a daughter, Barbara Lager, all of Greenbrae; a brother, Dr. Melvin Lager of Burlingame, and a sister, Adele Delman of San Francisco.

Private funeral will be tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

W. P. GLYNN

Requiem Mass for William P. Glynn, brother of James C. Glynn of Greenbrae and Frank Glynn of Novato, will be tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at Saint John's Catholic Church, San Lorenzo.

Glynn, 60, a 20-year resident of Hayward, died in Castro Valley Friday after a short illness.

A native of San Francisco, Glynn was a member of Plumber's Union Local 444 of Oakland.

He is also survived by his wife, Austa, of Hayward; two other brothers, Robert Glynn of Alameda and Thomas Glynn of North Hollywood, and a sister, Marie Hatfield of Santa Clara.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Grissom's New San Lorenzo Chapel, San Lorenzo. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Hayward.

HELEN BANKS

Private funeral for Helen Banks, 89, of 105 Palm Avenue, Corte Madera, has been held at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Banks died Saturday at Marin General Hospital, a week after she fell at her home and suffered a broken hip, according to Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan. She had a history of heart disease also, he said.$- A heart disease also, he said.

A native of New Jersey, Mrs. Banks had lived in California 52 years, the last 30 in Marin.

She is survived by a son, Edwin Brandt of Los Angeles.

LEONARD SJOBERG

Leonard Ellis Sjoberg, 46, of San Rafael, was found dead yesterday at his home. Sjoberg died apparently of natural causes, according to Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan.

His wife, Joy Gwendolyn Sjoberg, found Sjoberg lying in a hallway of the home at 36 Royal Court at 8:20 a.m. She said he had been ill for a month. An autopsy is pending.

Sjoberg was district representative for Kingsford Charcoal Company of San Francisco, and was past president of Sjoberg Brothers of Richmond. A native of California, he had lived in Marin for a year and a half.

He is survived by his wife; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Sjoberg of El Cerrito; a son, Rick Lee Sjoberg of El Sobrante, and a sister, Mrs. Jack Ries of Benicia.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Sunset View Mortuary, 101 Colusa Avenue, Berkeley. Burial will be in Sunset View Cemetery, Berkeley.

CARL J. MARTY

Carl J. Marty, 77, a retired Petaluma rancher, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Switzerland, he moved to Denver, Colo. in 1906 and to Petaluma in 1921. Marty owned and operated a dairy and poultry ranch at 521 Eastman Lane until his retirement in 1947. He was a member of the Helvetia Society of San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Anna; two sons, Fred and Charles Marty of Petaluma; two brothers, Thomas Marty of Petaluma and Adolph Marty of Menlo Park; two sisters, Anna Griffith of Petaluma and Rose Hafner of Santa Rosa. A grandson also survivies.

Requiem Mass will be said at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Vincent de Paul Church, Petaluma. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery. Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. today at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

Gasoline Lake Perils Portion Of Richmond

In devastated portions of Western Virginia flooded by torrential rains brought on by Hurricane Camille, the toll rose yesterday to at least 74 dead, 109 missing and more than $132 million in property damage.

National Guardsmen cordoned off a 29-block area in Richmond yesterday after a leak was discovered in a partially submerged 300,000-ballon gasoline storage tank.

The fuel collected an inch deep on top of muddy river water, trapped in a basin-like depression when the river began to fall.

Firemen began carefully pumping the gasoline into sewers leading to the James.

Food supplies, fresh water and clothing still were being carried to demolished mountain communities in Western Virginia where residents worked to dig out from under tons of mud and tangled debris.

As rescue workers continued to claw through mountain ravines and canyons in their search for the dead, the Coast Guard announced it would take up the search 200 miles downstream.

The Coast Guard planned to search the river as far west as Richmond for bodies that may have washed downstream from the mountains.

At Hopewell, 20 miles downstream from Richmond, hundreds of dead animals—but no human bodies—were found in the water.

Protest Deadline On Assessments

Marin property owners have until 5 p.m. tomorrow to protest their new assessments with the county assessment appeals board.

The clerk of the board is located in room 315 of the county administration building at the Civic Center.

Clerk Mona Elder said 116 appeals have been filed, compared with 251 at this date last year.

The board will begin hearings on Sept. 26 in the supervisors' chambers.

Fairfax Pet Deer Shot, Owner Says

"Baby," the problem-prone deer that is a friend to half the youngsters in Fairfax, has been shot, Laura Nawrath, the 17-month-old deer's owner, said Saturday.

The popular pet deer apparently will live although a veterninarian said a .22-caliber bullet passed into its head next to the eye and left through its nostril.

The deer was shot Friday morning while it was on the porch of the Nawrath home at 620 Bolinas Road. The home is surrounded by game preserve land, Mrs. Nawrath said, adding was shot by a poacher.

Baby has had a series of troubles since the Nawrath family found it abandoned in April 1968. A pack of dogs attacked the deer last November and he nearly died from his wounds.

This year, the day before deer hunting season opened, Baby was tied to a tree by a rope around his leg. "I think someone had tied him up to come back and shoot him the next day," Mrs. Bawrath said.

She is sure the shooting was not an accident. "He's got ribbons tied all up and down his horns," she said. "So it would be obvious to anyone he's somebody's pet."

She urged residents who see persons carrying guns in the area to warn them that the area is not open to deer hunting.

Help Is Pouring In For Victims Of Storm

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A telethon originating from Jackson, Miss., had raised an estimated $1.3 million for victims of the storm. This included a pledge of $1,000 from the family of President Richard M. Nixon.

In a call to telethon headquarters, the President described the hurricane as "probably the worst natural disaster we've had in this country."

Comedian Bob Hope was master of ceremonies for the statewide telethon, which also enlisted singer Eddie Arnold, clarinetist Pete Fountain and members of the New Orleans Saints football team.

The American Red Cross, meanwhile, said it needs a minimum of $15 million in donations to meet the cost of emergency aid and recovery help for the hurricane victims. The relief agency had asked for $6 million last week.

Some 69,000 in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Virginia and West Virginia were affected by the hurricane, the agency said and at least 20,000 families would need Red Cross help.

U.S. Army helicopter pilots searched remote parts of the Gulf Coast for inhabitants isolated by the storm.

Officials at 3rd Army headquarters, Fort McPherson, Ga., reported finding one stranded family of 12 persons near Wiggins, Miss., about 30 miles north of the devasted Gulfport area. The family had been without food or water for two days.

Helicopters flew in enough food for three days for more than 130 isolated refugees found 10 miles south of Poplarville, which is about 40 miles north of the coast.

The exact death toll was confused by a number of conflicting estimates and remained unknown. Gov. John Bell Williams placed the figure at about 200, reducing his earlier estimate of 300.

Attempted Auto Theft In Ross

An attempted car theft and the possible theft of a license plate were reported today by Ross police.

William Drews of San Francisco reported that while he was was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Drews, at 300 Upper Toyon Drive, someone, between 6:30 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 p.m. yesterday, tired to take his car. It was pushed out of the garage and rolled downhill, hitting a nearby wall on Upper Toyon when the steering wheel locked. The right front fender was caved in and the lights smashed.

Edward R. Bunting reported missing his front license plate, WRX 241, yesterday, but did not know when it disappeared.

Moon's Age Revealed By Rare Gases

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Scientists say moon rocks brought back to earth by the Apollo 11 astronauts may be 2 billion to 4.5 billion years old —the age of the solar system itself.

The gases indicate the material is at least as old as the oldest rocks from the earth's crust.

The researchers said the material contains relatively large amounts of "solar wind" gases, which are streams of particles that boil off from the sun when it is active. Some of these particles bombarded the moon in the form of cosmic rays.

Few such particles get to the earth because the earth's magnetic field keeps them away. But the moon has no magnetic field.

Some of the material will now be packaged for distribution to scientists throughout the United States and nine foreign countries.

It will be about three months before these investigators make their reports on the bits of lunar samples received.

Sharon Asleep Polanski Says

NEW YORK (UPI)—Movie director Roman Polanski believes his wife, actress Sharon Tate, was asleep when the killer who murdered her and four others began his wild rampage, Life magazine said today.

Life writer Thomas Thompson, a longtime friend, accompanied Polanski on a tour of the director's blood-spattered Hollywood home, where the multiple murders occurred Aug. 8.

Polanski, who was in London when his wife was killed, was on an unsuccessful search for a "thread" which might provide some clue to a solution.

"Sharon must have been asleep that night," Thompson quoted Polanski as saying. "Look there, the pillows—she always put them that way when I was gone."

Thompson said Polanski was looking at a big double bed, with the bedclothes rumpled on one side. Two big pillows had been laid end to end down the center of the bed.

"She hugged the pillows instead of me..." Polanski explained. "She must have been awakened by the noise and got up."

He walked down a hall into the living room.

"They hit her here," he said. "She tried to get out that door, and they dragged her into the living room and did . . . it."

The house was just as the police had left it, and Thompson said in effect that spatters, smears and strains of blood on walls, doors and carpets lent emphasis to Polanski's reconstruction.

Killed with Miss Tate were Jay Sebring, a hair stylist who was once her fiance; Voityck Frokowsky and Abigail Folger, houseguests of the Polanskis, and Steven Parent, a youth who had been visiting their caretaker.

The director discounted reports that the murder was the result of some sort of cultist drug - and - sex ritual. "We smoked pot at my house," Polanski said, "but I don't think I've ever been to a Hollywood party where it wasn't."

Alioto To Resist Rafferty

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto said yesterday he would resist efforts by Max Rafferty, state superintendent of schools, to de-certify teachers who used "banned" books in the classroom.

The books, "Soul on Ice" by Eldridge Cleaver and "The Dutchman" by LeRoi Jones, were stricken from the black studies program of San Francisco high schools last Wednesday by the city's school superintendent Robert E. Jenkins. Rafferty had threatened revoking teachers' credentials if the books were used.

Alioto said he would seek an injunction against Rafferty if the state school superintendent tried to penalize teachers for using the books.

"Local authority over education must be inviolable," Alioto said, "and I believe San Francisco must stand firm against the repressive interference of the state superintendent."

Indiana Teacher Celebrates A Year With New Heart

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "All the girls wanted to kiss me," said Louis B. Russell Jr. after the first anniversary celebration for his new heart.

"I don't know whether this 17-year-old heart had anything to do with this or not."

Russell figures he has two birthdays now.

The Indianapolis schoolteacher won't be 45 until April 26, but Sunday was the first anniversary of his heart transplant operation.

"I don't think I've ever had a birthday with this much excitement and this many people," he said last night.

Friends, relatives, people he hadn't seen in a long time and people he'd never seen before dropped in to congratulate him.

"There was a whole slew of them coming in all day long," Russell said.

In an operation at the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond on Aug. 24, 1968, Russell received the heart of a youth who died of a gunshot wound.

The death of Dr. Philip Blaiberg, a retired South African dentist, left Russell the world's second longest surviving heart transplant recipient. A French priest, the Rev. Charles Boulogne, 56, is the world's longest surviving.

Russell said the death of Blaiberg "was just something that makes you think.

"It's like this. I drive a Pontiac and if word got out that something went wrong with that year's Pontiac, I'd think about it, too," Russell said.

"The Man upstairs decides for all of us and when he decides, no doctor nor anyone else can prevent this," he said.

Motorcyclist Breaks Leg

An Oakland man suffered a broken leg and his passenger suffered minor injuries yesterday when their motorcycle slid into the front of a car on Lucas Valley Road.

Jerry B. Yee, 21, was treated at Marin general Hospital, then transferred to Cowell Memorial Hospital at the University of California at Berkeley where he was reported in satisfacotry condition.

His passenger, Carolyn Yee, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a scraped right hand.

The California Highway Patrol said the accident near the San Geronimo-Nicasio Road intersection with Lucas Valley Road occurred when Yee's cycle drifted across the center line on a blind curve and collided with a car driven by Kenton Allen Anderson, 20, of Vallejo. The mishap occurred at 2:50 p.m.

Hearings Scheduled On Airplane Parking

Two special hearings, both involving airplanes, will be held by county zoning administrator Thomas E. Cordill at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow and Wednesday in the Civic Center.

Tomorrow's hearing is on a request by the owner of the illegally parked seaplanes on Richardson Bay, Chris Hansen of San Francisco, to keep them there. The base sprang up during the past two months despite numerous notices by the county to Hansen that it was illegal without a variance.

Wednesday's hearing will be on a use permit asked by the DSI Corp. to continue suing the airport at the Smith Brothers Ranch, which has operated for years without the official blessing of the county.

Also on Wednesday's agenda is a use permit for the construction and operation of a Jack In the Box drive-through restaurant on the northwest corner of the intersection of Ignacio Blvd. and Entrada Drive, Ignacio.

San Anselmo Rate May Be $2.255

San Anselmo City Council will consider adoption of a 1969-70 tax rate of $2.255 per $100 assessed valuation at its 8 p.m. meeting tomorrow in city hall. The 1969-70 budget already has been adopted.

Councilmen will also consider a proposal that the Atheneum Arts Foundation, now housed in the old Dollar Estate in San Rafael, be allowed to use the Robson-Harrington Mansion as headquarters.

Policeman Hurt During Fight

Simpson did not require hospitalization.

Raymond Lee Wise, 23, of 37 Madrona Avenue, Mill Valley, was arrested for resisting arrest and booked into Marin County Jail where he was held for arraignment this afternoonin lieu of 625 bail.

Police said Simpson had gone to the Kettle at 633 Bridgeway to investigate a report of a fight. While questioning Wise, the Mill Valley man became belligerent and shoved Simpson down, police said.

Cycle-Auto Crash

Philip Hadjian, 18, of San Francisco, was to see his physician for minor injuries yesterday after his motorcycle collided at 3 p.m. on a Highway 1 curve near Muir Beach with a car driven by William Conrad Soomann, 55, of San Francisco, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Three Burglaries Reported In San Rafael

San Rafael police today reported three residential burglaries. Jewelry valued at more than $2,500 was stolen in one of them.

The home of Irene M. Pitman, 15 Brookdale Avenue, was entered between 9:30 a.m. and 3:10 p.m.Friday. Taken were a diamond ring valued at $1,500, a brooch valued at $1,000, a watch valued at $75, another ring with no value given, and a box of syringes used for injecting insulin.

Phillip J. Cullen of 841 Las Pavadas Avenue told police a burglar entered his residence between 2 a.m. Aug. 16 and 1:40 a.m. yesterday and stole a stereo phonograph system valued at $550.

A burglar who entered the residence of Richard Ray, 45 Manderly Road, between 6:30 p.m. Saturday and 11:30 a.m. yesterday stole a color television set and all the family's silverware and jewelry. No estimate of loss was given.

Plea For Park On Tap In Tiburon

Proposals to purchase two and a half acres adjacent to Reed School for a city nature park and to contribute $500 to a Trestle Glen Boulevard landscaping project sponsored by the Belveron Association will be heard by the Tiburon City Council at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

The council is due also to set the city's 1969-70 property tax rate at 65 cents per $100 assessed valuation to finance its approved budget of $566,643.

In addition, the council will hold an appeal hearing on Lawrence C. Olin's request for reduction of required setbacks in Reedland Woods Unit 1 and will consider an ordinance regulating the keeping of horses within the city.

Lunching Driver Hits Guardrail On 101

A Corte Madera driver, who leaned over to pick up a tomato, suffered a concussion at 3:05 p.m. Saturday when his car struck the northbound Highway 101 center guard rail, north of Alto overcrossing.

California Highway Patrol officers reported that the driver, Joseph William Nagy, 56, of 5 Council Crest Drive, told them he was eating lunch and leaned over to pick up a tomato when his car swerved into the rail. Nagy was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Assessment Ratio Set By Board

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Board of Equalization has set the statewide property assessment ratio average at 23.2 per cent.

The average, set at a meeting Friday, has a bearing on local school aid apportionments by the state, and on appeals of property value assessments.

Marin County's rate is 21.8 per cent.

The assessment levels from the 58 counties vary from a low of 18.2 per cent for Trinity County to 25.5 per cent for Alpine County. The board adopted a policy that it would tolerate a county ratio within 4 per cent of the average.

Thus, it ordered Trinity County to show cause why it should not be forced to raise its ratio.

The ratio is the percentage of cash value at which property is assessed for property tax purposes. State law requires the counties to reach a uniform 25 per cent by 1971.

Twenty-five counties are equal or above the 23.2 per cent average. Seven are 25 per cent or higher;

Ratios of some major California counties as reported to the board include Contra Costa 24.2 per cent, Los Angeles 24, San Diego 23.8, Santa Clara 23.7, Ventura 23.3, San Joaquin 23.1, San Mateo 23, Santa Barbara 22.6, Orange 22.3, San Francisco 22.2, Sacramento 22.2, Santa Cruz 22, Riverside 21.7, Fresno 21.1, San Bernardino 21.1, Monterey 21, Napa 19.4.

Burglar Is Busy

A burglar broke down eight doors to offices and shops in the Hansell Associates building, 33 Reed Boulevard, Strawberry, Thursday, and stole a typewriter, a rug, a doctor's bag, and a small quantity of wine and meat, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday. Value of the stolen property was estimated at $600.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Animal Proteins Too Expensive To Supply Global Population

VAN DELLEN

Animal proteins in significant quantities are too expensive for most people in the world. The situation is not likely to improve because production of these proteins cannot keep up with the population explosion. Present and future needs undoubtedly will be met by conventional plant proteins, including those of cereal and legume origin.

Prosperity increases the demand for milk, meat, poultry, and eggs. This is understandable because humans are carnivores and the proportions of essential proteins of other animals come much closer to meeting our RAISING CHICKENS, even under efficient factory-type methods, is expensive, considering the end cost per pound of edible protein obtained. We might find it cheaper to forget the drumstick and eat chicken feed (processed, of course) because of its protein content.

The production of meat from swine faces the same problems. Cattle hold more promise because large grazing areas remain. Many advocate a greater use of marine and fresh water fish. Marine resources, however, are not inexhaustible. Furthermore, they are not a cheap source of protein. And, in some underdeveloped countries, the people are too poor to pay the fisherman for his catch.

THE TYPES OF FISH that most of us enjoy are relatively limited. In contrast, a fish protein concentrate (FPC) can be made from species not usually acceptable to man. Through a new process, the oil from suitable fresh fish is extracted leaving a bland, odorless powder that contains 80 per cent protein.

The oil-rich seeds of cotton, soybean, sesame, sunflower, and peanut are becoming a rich source of protein. But the most popular of all are the conventional plant proteins obtained from wheat, rice, and corn. Legumes are the second most important source of proteins.

INFLAMED PANCREAS

P. R. writes: How is pancreatitis treated?

REPLY

By using drugs to control pain, quiet the pancreas, and eliminate infection. Acute pancreatitis may be associated with shock, which requires blood transfusions and other intravenous fluids. Diet plays an important role when the condition is chronic. In some instances, removal of the gallbladder is recommended to eliminate the source of infection.

MILK CONTAINERS

V. V. writes: Will the wax inside milk cartons cause cancer after drinking milk from them for a long time?

REPLY

No. There is little if any chemical reaction between wax and milk. Furthermore, there is no proof that wax in itself causes cancer when taken internally.

UNDULANT FEVER

A. D. writes: Are dizziness, diarrhea, and numbness of the arms signs of undulant fever?

REPLY

Possibly, but they are not the usual symptoms. In addition, they could occur in a variety of disorders, varying from an ordinary cold to nervousness.

For the kids, we'll have free cut-out lunar modules.

All this on all our Americana flights to New York from August 27 to September 23. Plus first-run Astro-Color movies and cartoons.

Incidentally, the Apollo 11 film is so impressive, you'll probably want to see it twice. Simple. Just buy a round-trip ticket to New York. Only $227.85. (Coach Excursion Fare, including tax, minimum 7 full days, maximum 30 days travel.)

Indians Close Beach To Stop Littering

TAHOLAH, Wash. (AP) — The Quinault Indian Tribe closed 25 miles of popular Pacific Coast beach to non-Indians at 12:01 a.m. today and State Atty. Slade Gorton says he is uncertain the state can do anything about it.

The land affected forms the western boundary of the Quinault Reservation on the Olympia Peninsula in Northwestern Washington.

The closure was ordered by tribal chief James Jackson to halt excessive littering and defacing of the beach, its rocks and driftwood, a tribal spokesman said.

Jackson said Indian patrolmen went on duty at 12:01 to enforce the order and more would be on duty shortly after dawn. He said Indian officers had instructions to turn back non-members of the tribe who attempted to use non-public roads on the reservation.

Meanwhile, in Olympia, the state attorney general said he wasn't sure if the state could do anything about the closure.

"The status of Indian reservation beaches is fairly complicated and I cannot yet comment on the legality of the tribe's action," Gorton said.

Gorton said the matter would be discussed at a staff conference Monday.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the Garys Harbor County Sheriff's office said the Indian action apparently is legal.

"We assume the reservation encompasses the beaches," the spokesman said. "Whites have no right to go in there if the Indians object. The Indian police can take them into custody."

The tribe cited an 1873 treaty and subsequent rulings of the U.S. attorney general and the solicitor of the Department of the Interior as authority for its action.

"The Quinault Tribe feels very strongly that by doing this we are protecting the right of future Americans to enjoy the natural and unperverted beauty of the area," a tribal spokesman said.

"We are tired of the apalling treatment of our land," said Joe DeLaCruz, business manager of the Quinaults.

The tribal council said the area has been littered by campers, Indian clam beds have been destroyed and Indian fishing nets stolen.

Another reason given was the desecration of the Point Grenville Rocks. A spokesman said the rocks are deeply rooted in Indian traditions and legends, but are being vandalized by tourists.

"We've got legends about some of those rocks that go way back," Jackson said. "Then when you see some idiot up there with a spray can painting . . . It kind of ticks you off."

Crewmen Lost From Freighter

SYDNEY (AP) — Twenty-four crewmen of the Australian freighter Noongah were missing late today after the 81,464-ton coastal ship rolled over and in a gale before dawn about 250 miles north of Sydney.

Two other crew members, an engineer and a steward, were picked up from a life raft by the Japanese oil tanker Koyo Maru.

The Noongah, which had a cargo of steel, apparently went down soon after her crew abandoned her in raging seas and heavy rain. The ship's captain, Leo Botsam of Melbourne, radioed that the ship had a 12-degree list and that he and the crew were taking to the life boats and life rafts.

Planes and two destroyers were searching the area.

Police Find AWOL Soldier—Short Hair

Short hair led to the arrest of a 20-year-old Army man found with what appeared to be marijuana and an LSD pill yesterday Larkspur police reported.

Thomas Hugh Harris, who went AWOL from the San Francisco Presidio July 24, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs, possession of marijuana, police said. He was to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Police stopped a car at 5:30 a.m. in the 500 block of Magnolia Avenue today to check the vehicle for a loud muffler and lack of a license plate light.

While talking to the driver, whose name was not disclosed, police saw Harris in the back seat, covered with a blanket. After Harris uncovered himself, it was noticed that he had an extremely short hair cut, police said.

Harris was asked by police if he were AWOL from the Army and after he said yes, a search disclosed a bag of vegetable matter believed to be marijuana and an orange pill believed to be LSD, according to police.

Family Scrap Leads To Jail

A family argument Saturday night led to the arrest of a Hamilton Air Force Base sergeant, Novato police reported.

Booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of assault and battery, and resisting arrest, and released on $625 bail, was S/Sgt. William D. Cornelius, 34, of 1272 San Jose Blvd., Novato. He was scheduled to appear at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that Cornelius is supposed to have slapped his wife, Virgile, and run her out of the house. He struggled when police tried to handcuff him, they reported.

Laird Is Reported For Viet Troop Cut

Such a move would amount to a 50 per cent reduction in U.S. strength in Vietnam. The Communists have been demanding unconditional withdrawal of all American forces.

In an interview published this week, Time quoted Laird as saying the 50 per cent pullout "could become a fallback position if the Communists continue to balk at an agreement and refuse to reduce their war effort unequivocally."

The secretary said Americans left behind under such a plan would "not engage in close combat on the ground unless attacked."

"A key feature of this outline is that the American troops kept in Vietnam would all be volunteers rather than the present mix of draftees and regulars," Laird said.

"Further, they would be used only in a support capacity. They would supply the South Vietnamese with air and artillery cover and an assortment of logistical (supply) services."

He said the support forces would remain in Vietnam indefinitely.

Theft From Car

A stereo player and 20 tapes valued at $240 were stolen from hsi car Saturday or yesterday, Donald L. Phillips of 139 D Street, Apt. 17, San Rafael, told police. The car was in a carport at that address when it was broken into, police reported.

Another Marin Pot Farm Suffers From Early Harvest

Another marijuana farmer could report a crop failure today. The cause was the usual blight for which "grass" farmers have been unable to find a cure — lawmanitis.

Acting on an anonymous telephone call, San Rafael police and the Marin County Drug Abuse Cureau Friday uncovered a six-by-three-foot marijuana garden tucked away behind a carport at 35 Clorinda Avenue, San Rafael.

Officers found no one at home, but spotted a yellow bowl on the rear porch of the residence of Bradford Ohlund, holding three more sprouting marijuana plans, Inspector Richard A. Douglas reported. On the strength of that, they entered the house, and reportedly found a jar containing marijuana, a small bag of hashish, a water pipe and a tinfoil-lined pipe used to smoke marijuana.

At this point, Douglas reported, he called the district attorney's office for advice and was told the search probably was not legal, and that they had gone too far to seek a search warrant. The officers confiscated the contraband, took pictures of the pot garden and uprooted the plants for evidence.

DEEP STEAM Wall to Wall Carpet Cleaning

CLEANS DEEP actually removes soil from both the pile of the carpet and the carpet backing. It does not scrub it deeper.

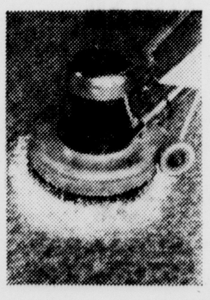
GENTLE ACTION uses no brushes or scrubbing action, so it does not distort the pile of the carpet.

SAFE PROCESS scientifically developed specially for the professional carpet cleaner. It is completely safe for all carpet fibers.

RESTORES PILE the powerful extraction process removes moisture immediately, thus avoiding shrinkage, and lifts matted pile to 'like new' appearance.

ECONOMICAL reduces the need for frequent professional cleaning because it removes the deeply embedded soil and leaves no residue in the carpet fibers to collect dirt.

SOIL RETARDING AND MOTH PROOFING are included at no extra cost.



The old equipment with brushes, using liquid detergent or powder, scrubs the soil DEEPER into the fabric . . . and even with the help of a vacuum fails to remove soil or residue. The detergent or powder left in the fabric soon attracts more soil and it is not long before the soil works back to the surface. Soon your carpets appear more soiled than before!

Soil Extracted, Not Scrubbed Deeper! That's the Difference . . .

HOW DEEP STEAM SOIL EXTRACTION WORKS

Deep Steam Soil Extraction equipment applies wet steam with a professional formula and soil retardant under pressure deep into the carpet fibers. The two cleaning agents combine to break down soil and the static electric charge, which holds the soil deep in the pile of the carpet, and brings this soil into suspension. Then, instantly, the moisture and soil are removed by the powerful continuous extraction process into a separate stainless steel container. During this cleaning operation every fiber is coated with SOIL RETARDANT and MOTHPROOFING to keep your carpet cleaner and protected longer.

NINE DROWNINGS

Placid Lake Elsinore Turns Into A Killer

ELSINORE (AP) — The placid green waters of Lake Elsinore have turned killer.

In three months nine persons -- two adults and seven children --have drowned in the lake, 60 miles southeast of Los Angeles, in Riverside County. Only three drowned there in five years preceding last May.

"And we all hope there won't be a No. 10," says Elsinore Mayor Norman L. Chaffin, 31.

The lake became a death trap after last winer's rains. They swelled its depth from 9 to 25 feet and expanded it a mile -- spreading it over scores of drainage ditches, some as deep as chimney shafts.

Most of the chasms are near the shoreline, making it treacherous for non swimmers to wade far out. All but one of the dead were non swimmers.

Warning signs dot the shoreline. But, says Senior Patrol Ranger John Stoltz, "nobody does much reading when they're hurriedly unloading a station wagon beside an inviting lake."

"We've done everything possible," he sighs. "There is no lifeguard service available except at one beach.

"We patrol frequently but we can't be everywhere."

The first victim was Joy Dean Applin, 13, Sunnyvale. She walked into the water May 17 with a younger sister on her shoulders.

Joy stepped into a trough on the lake floor. Both girls began struggling in panic. The younger girl was rescued by campers. Joy was not. Her body was later recovered.

Since then, the lake has claimed the lives of a 13-year-old Elsinore girl and her brother, 8; a Costa Mesa boy, 7, and three members of a Corona family – boys 21, 15, and 13 --who drowned while chasing a beach ball into the water July 3. All stepped into holes and sank over their heads.

A 24-year-old parachutist came down in the middle of the lake June 2. He could swim but couldn't get free of his 'chute and drowned.

The last drowning, a 7-year-old Pomona girl, was July 5. She stepped into an irrigation ditch the lake had covered. A human chain of campers later recovered her body.

The 2,500 townspeople of sleepy Elsinore, nestled about a mile from the lake, have been shocked by the tragedies. To try to prevent more drownings, learn-to-swim classes at the lake have begun as well as Red Cross lifesaver and first aid classes.

In a way, says Chaffin, the deaths are bitterly ironic to many Elsinore residents.

The lake was no more than a big mud puddle for a decade before an agreement was made in 1964 with the state Metropolitan Water District to make the lake into a state park with a water level high enough for recreation.

Since then, Elsinore has become a good-sized recreation area, drawing several thousand persons every weekend.

"We saw the lake grow from almost nothing into something big," says Chaffin. "And now the lake has turned on us."

Two Auto Firms Seeks Permits

The San Rafael Planning Commission will consider use permits and architectural plans for two new auto agencies on Francisco Boulevard at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

Hercules Viglienzone has applied for permission to build a 20,000-square-foot showroom and office structure at 475 Francisco Boulevard and George Dexter is seeking permission for a 12,000-square-foot building at 445 Francisco Boulevard.

The commission will also consider a request for location of a berthing-float for the Sea Scouts on the canal behind the Montecito Shopping Center.

Junior High Students Due Signup Packets

Registration packets for students at Kenilworth Junior High School, Petaluma, will be mailed tomorrow, according to Charles A. King, student activities director.

The packets will include students' homeroom numbers, insurance forms, emergency cards and bus schedules. New students or those who wish counseling should contact the school before Wednesday, he said.

A lemon tree will bear as many as 3,000 lemons a year.

Taj Mahal Approach Vs. Grass Roots Plans

Roger Schoen, who has plans for a recreation center in the San Rafael Canal area which will cost the city little or nothing, failed to present them at last week's city council meeting. This was unfortunate, because the council was hit with a $681,000 price estimate on a community center at Albert Park and should have been in receptive mood for a low-cost or no-cost neighborhood center.

The plan developed by Schoen, who operates a barber shop on Belvedere Street, and that presented to the council by architect Robert W. F. Severin serve to show the great gap that too often exists between the grass-roots approach and that of officialdom.

Schoen, with backing from neighborhood groups, the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council and the county probation department, proposes to take over an abandoned building beside the San Rafael Canal and convert it into a place where youngsters can drop in for informal recreation activities.

THE CITY HAS a more grandiose plan. Architect Severin's proposal, which he developed from requests by the city recreation department, envisioned a community recreation center to adjoin a new central fire station between Albert Park Lane and the Safeway store. He estimated costs at $681,000 for the recreation center, $382,265 for the fire station, and $300,000 for land not already owned by the city. Councilmen immediately objected to the size and cost of the proposed rec center.

Schoen did not present his proposal, as he had planned, because he was told by Acting City Mgr. James H. McCown and City Councilman Harry A. Barbier that it was too late to get on the agenda. Unfamiliar with council proceedings, he did not realize he could have presented it at the time set aside for "persons wishing to address the council."

His plan has a few technical difficulties. The building, a former Standard Oil of California warehouse, is on land which the city turned over to the state in a recent land swap to straighten out tidelands ownership. The city fell heir to the building, but state permission would be necessary to make use of it where it stands.

Schoen's proposal appeals to the probation department and the police because lack of youth recreation facilities in the canal area has contributed to high incidence of vandalism and more minor mischief there.

THERE ARE UNTAPPED reservoirs of both good ideas and good will in every city which too often are overlooked by officialdom. Schoen's is just one example. Architect Severin himself some years ago presented a plan for a "Mission Promenade" which might have gone far to revitalize the downtown. Because the city did not pay for it, city officials did nothing about it. More recently, Albert F. Schmitz of Moore's Stationery made a very sensible proposal for downtown bus service which fell on deaf council ears. And the late William Ferrari presented the San Anselmo City Council a well-worked-out plan for downtown rehabilitation which was filed and forgotten — though the city later paid several thousand dollars to a consultant for a very similar one.

The inexpensive way sometimes is the best.

Anything Edible, They Eat

Raccoons, like man, are omniverous. Barring individual excentricities, if it is edible, raccoons will eat it. Vegetables, fruits, meats, fish, rice, bread and dairy products—all appeal to this hungry fellow. He is especially fond of nuts.

Friends who have about nine raccoons eating at their house every night tell us that raccoons are very fond of kibbled dog food. For their nine, they put out three pie pans full of kibbles every night.

We have tried kibbles on our raccoons, too, and just like the advertisements say, it has a glossy coat and enjoys eating and begs for more.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Get That Horse Off The Trail; He Has No License Plate!

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Bigger and better taxes for horse-owners in California loom as the result of a measure passed by the state Legislature.

The Legislature slipped through AB 2245, by Assemblyman George Milias, R-Los Gatos, allowing any county in the state to impose either a county-wide or regional park district-wide tax of up to $10 a head on "horses, mules or other animals used substantially for pleasure riding or trail use."

This is provided the animals are used by the owners on public areas designated for such use, in other words, on riding and hiking trails.

THE NEW LAW could result in the development of a new sport for equine lovers, which would be the acquisition of "riding mules" for use on riding and hiking trails. So far, no one has ever heard of the lowly mule being used for pleasure riding, although they were quite common in a bygone era. But Milias prepared for all contingencies, and in case the sport should get inder way, he wants the tax to apply to the mule as well as the thoroughbred.

His proposal contains exemptions for stock horses used only on ranches or other private property, riding stable horses used on private property or on federal land, and such other exemptions as the "county or district taxing agency may determine."

But of course, there are no exemptions for the Sheltland ponies used by the kids.

EXPENDITURE of the money derived from the "horse tax" is also specified in the measure. The county treasurer must set up a fund to be used for the "acquisition and construction" of trails for horseback riders and hikers.

This provision means that the horseback riders would have to pay for the convenience of people who can't afford a horse, and hike instead. It has been suggested that a "back-pack tax" should be added so hikers could help support the riding and hiking trails, and help the horsemen a bit. That may come later.

THERE IS NO provision in the bill for collecting the tax, and how the counties would do it is a question. They could work it like they collect dog licenses, putting the owner to the annoyance of going to the county court house and buying an annual license.

Or, they could create a new bureauacracy and really make the tax equitable by stationing "horse tax collectors" along the hiking and riding trails, who would be instructed to halt the riders' morning canters every so often and check the horse registration, as well as arrest the rider if he fails to produce the necessary papers.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Fighting In Ulster Not Religious

Walter Beam in his letter (I-J Aug. 19) re the passion of religious hatred misses the point. The fighting in Ulster is not religious, no one takes religion seriously enough to fight over it any more.

The problems in Ulster are social. It is simply that the Catholics are the "niggers" of Ulster. They are systematically excluded from jobs, good living areas, and positions of power. So they have reacted with the same blind frustrated violence as the blacks in this country and with a similar amount of justification.

Chance For People To Have Their Say

I have read with interest letters to the editor in the recent past regarding representative government and majority community thought in some of our small and medium size cities. "The will of the people," in truth ideal, in fact difficult or impossible to discern without the use of the ballot box. So we elect officials who come closest to our way of thinking in most matters and hopefully represent our feelings in the everyday business of government. The problem comes when elected officials' reasoning and our own are at odds. Thoughful citizens react with letters, cards and telegrams. Concerned citizens attend meetings, form committees and are very vocal. But the vast majority are silent, weakly accepting what's dished out without a whimper until they are faced with accomplished fact (as effects them directly) and only then yell loud and long as to how the results did not reflect majority thought.

Each residence in Fairfax recently received a questionaire in conjunction with the Fairfax Community Congress to be held Oct. 11. It affords every resident the opportunity to make himself heard about any facet of community life about him.

Those of us who do not avail ourselves of this excellent means of putting forth our ideas must eventually suffer the results of the opinions of those interested in expressing themselves. Whose town? . . . It might be the other guy's.

Anxieties Created By Bus Decision

We learned today, Aug. 22, that the school bus transportation to Terra Linda High School is discontinued.

The board of education made the decision during the current vacation so families of Marinwood, two miles away, are left into a pool of anxieties: (1) how to get our children to school in time: (2) how to get them home on time.

All citizens have been alarmed by marijuana and drugs, etc. If more children are to "hang around" close to school grounds or nearby won't they be more to get involved into any kind of a trap, even the goddie-goodie children we all think we have? . . .

As a citizen, and as a resident of Marinwood, a mother of a freshman, I wish the board of education would reconsider even if some slight charge must be asked from families which are concerned about their children's welfare.

Novato Does Not Lack Ambulance

I would like to comment on the article, "Novato's Ambulance Service," which appeared in the I-J Aug. 22.

This article was very misleading. It seems John A. Trumbull, a Novato attorney, is organizing a voluntary ambulance.

The article stated Novato has been without its own ambulance service since last year. This is untrue. Doctors Ambulance (now known as Bay Cities) has been in Novato, stationed in the Ignacio area, since last September or October. This is the county contract ambulance and is backed up by the ambulances in San Rafael. Whenever the ambulance in Novato goes out on a run, Doctors pulls up another ambulance near the Civic Center and 101 Highway for backup. These ambulances are manned by state licensed professional ambulance men who know their job.

It stated in the article also, the volunteers should be 21 and will receive a Red Cross first aid course. Also women were being recruited.

Well, the state law reads an ambulance driver must be 21 years old, he must pass a written examination and physical examination. The first aid course offered by the Red Cross is not enough training to make you an ambulance driver or attendant . . .

Pleased With Story Of Summer Work

I was delighted with the article about what young people are doing in a constructive way during the summer months; I see so much of lackadaisacal attitude on the part of the young people and even sheer laziness, that it did my heart good to read that many were doing constructive work and helpful work. I think it must have struck many of us the same way and I hope more in the positive angles can be printed in your fine newspaper.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Aug. 25, 1959

A 60,000-volt power line exploded, blacking out portions of Southern Marin and investigation revealed that juveniles had been shooting at insulators on the high voltage lines near Rodeo Avenue, west of Sausalito.

Marin's second and third cases of polio for the year were reported by the Marin County Health Department.

20 YEARS AGO

Aug. 25, 1949

San Rafael started a $200,000 street improvement program with repaving of Fourth Street.

The farm service department of the First National Bank in San Rafael reported that a record price of $570 was paid for a cow in an auction in Novato.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

The university stands for freedom; we are told this especially on those occasions when it is threatened by certain outside political forces. But when it is threatened from within, it becomes clear to even the meanest intellect that this freedom is largely an excuse to avoid the hard but important questions of what is right and what is wrong, what is proper and what is improper, what is good and what is evil, and what is beautiful and what is ugly. — Walter F. Berns, former professor of government at Cornell University.

THE DRUMMONDS

Nixon's New Welfare Plan Takes Initiative From Democrats

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — A whole new political climate is developing in the nation on domestic policy.

The Democrats have lost the initiative. They never dreamed a Republican President would do that to them. They were confident Richard Nixon would be helpfully timid.

They're waking up to their plight now, but it is too late. Suddenly Mr. Nixon's bold welfare program has put an embarrassed Democratic Congress on the defensive. It doesn't know whether to attack the new relief resolution, try to do it one better, or just hold its breath until voter reaction becomes more evident.

Some Democratic liberals are starting to pick at the program; that's just about all. They suggest it won't work but offer no solid evidence. They suggest enough money isn't going into it, but even at its inception it does far more to help the needy and the working poor than anything previous.

THE DEMOCRATS are now in a ditch of their own digging. They got into it through their own do-nothing policy, certain that the President, occupied and perhaps stymied by Vietnam and inflation, would also be doing nothing.

Despite the fact that the old welfare system had come to the end of its road and was proving both disastrous and destructive, two Democratic administrations over eight years did nothing about it, and the present Democratic Congress did nothing about it in the past eight months. It showed little dissatisfaction and proposed no alternative.

This is why the Democrats are in acute disarray. And now they see President Nixon doing what was open to them to have done. He has dared to say that the old must go, and he has dared to propose that something better be put in its place.

He reminds one somewhat of F.D.R. Franklin Roosevelt didn't know whether the things he proposed would ease the depression, but he was determined to try. Mr. Nixon doesn't know whether his towering new program — breaking new ground on welfare, wage supplements for the working poor, federal revenue sharing, child-care centers and manpower training — will work well at all points. But he knows that what they are replacing has worked badly, and he is ready to try something new.

That's what the Democrats didn't except, and that is where Richard Nixon caught them asleep.

WHAT, THEN, will this Democratic Congress do with the President's welfare plan? Will it founder on Capitol Hill or be approved? There is no certain answer now, but we venture that the Democratic Party cannot afford and will not dare to kill the Nixon program.

The Democrats can't possibly justify continuing the old system, and there's little likelihood they can produce anything better than what Nixon has offered to put in its place. They may try to reshape it, but it will end up a Nixon Administration program. And if they oppose it, they will be carrying the political football backward over their own goal line.

THE WAY Mr. Nixon developed his views and made his decision sheds interesting light on how he works.

HEW Secretary Robert Finch, urgan affairs adviser Daniel P. Moynihan and Labor Secretary George Schultz were its principal advocates. But Finch knew and others quickly learned that the President wanted to master the facts before he got surrounded with conflicting opinions. They fed him information without suffocating him with solutions. When the point of decision came, Richard Nixon could test proposals on the basis of his own knowledge.

For the final cabinet discussions at Camp David, Finch, Schultz and Moynihan thoroughly prepared themselves to answer the cabinet critics. They didn't have to say a word. President Nixon said it all.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Mistrust Of Allies Seen In Beret 'Liquidation'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — South Vietnamese intelligence and counter-intelligence units are presumed by U.S. authorities to be thoroughly infiltrated by the Viet Cong.

That circumstance apparently had a bearing on the much publicized Green Beret murder case. It is the explanation advanced here for keeping the murder victim under U.S. control after he had been shown to be a double agent.

Under normal circumstance, civilian offenders are turned over to South Vietnamese authorities for action. That was not done in the Green Beret case, however, and eight members of the Special Forces — Green Berets — face possible murder charges as a result.

APPARENTLY the Green Berets, having subjected the man to intensive interrogation, did not want to turn him over to South Vietnamese authorities. They felt that he would be questioned by the South Vietnamese and might disclose information about Special Forces activities which would leak back to Hanoi.

The CIA has informed key congressional leaders that the victim in the case was not employed by CIA, at any level, and that CIA did not order his death.

The victim was, according to the best information available here, a rather low level military intelligence agent who reported truck traffic and troop movements. He did not have other, super-secret duties as intimated in some published reports.

After he had been shown to be a double agent, according to this version, the Green Berets consulted with CIA on how to proceed. Sources here say CIA felt the regular routine should be followed and the matter should be turned over to South Vietnamese authorities.

The contrary decision was made by the Special Forces high command, according to this account.

THE FUTURE of the USS New Jersey, the big battleship recommissioned for duty in Vietnam, is once again in doubt.

The New Jersey was sent to waters off North Vietnam late last September. In late March, the ship was ordered home for a regular overhaul after six months of fire support and shore bombardment.

Before the New Jersey arrived off North Vietnam, bombardment had been restricted to the southern part of North Vietnam. Soon after the ship reported there, all bombing of the North was halted, and all bombardment there was stopped also.

That meant that the ship's 16-inch guns, which lob 2,700-pound projectiles, were greatly restricted as to targets.

In recent congressional testimony, Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, the chief of naval operations, testified that the New Jersey had not been given a fair test under the circumstances.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., now chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, was the major booster of recommissioning the New Jersey. In a time of heavy economy pressures, however, Russell's support may not be quite enough to keep the big battleship on the firing line.

Smooth-Running Board Meetings Reflect Credit On Chairman

To those who spend a lot of time at the Civic Center, one of the first things that stands out is how well the new board of supervisors functions. Not that all members share similar views, but that the business going before them is handled efficiently and expeditiously.

Such was not the case last year or the year before. Bitter fights often broke out among members, occasionally sending weekly board sessions far into the evening hours. We can especially remember arguments between Thomas Storer and Ernest Kettenhofen and between Kettenhofen and Byron Leydecker.

With the present board makeup, one would have predicted this to continue. Not so, Bud Baar, for instance, stands miles away, ideologically, from Michael Wornum, but there is little squabbling.

This is as it should be, and much of the credit goes to chairman John McInnis, stern of voice and succinct of word. He will stand for no nonsense — from audience or board member.

THINK YOU HAVE troubles, Marin taxpayers? Tax rate is up 12.5 cents, you say? Well County Administrator Alan Bruce quickly points out that the tax rate in Sacramento County is projected to rise a whopping 74 cents. The board of supervisors there is faced not only with that blow, but the county administrator and some members of his staff recently quit, leaving their replacement holding the bag.

Look for a little razzing when the Sixth Army Concert Band, from the Presidio of San Francisco, gives a performance on the San Rafael Courthouse lawn Sept. 5. A letter to the board of supervisors requesting permission for the band to appear had this postscript: "Maybe the concert might induce some of the 'hippies' usually occupying the courthouse lawn to enlist."

Betcha the county will be occupying the Hall of Justice before that happens.

THE SOCALLED Chosen Family, ousted from its sprawling digs at Rancho Olompali after the county said living conditions there were hazardous, has scattered, with some members reportedly settling in the San Geronimo Valley in an old mansion near Lagunas Creek. Like Olompali, that's in county jurisdiction and county building inspectors are wondering when it's all going to end.

Say, we don't mind the lights of the county administration building burning at night to show off the joint, but must they be left on during the day? An enormous bank of lights remains turned on in the planning commission chambers even when the room is not in use.

Evening Class Signups Slated

Registration for College of Marin's evening credit classes at Novato High School will be held in the high school office, from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow. Textbooks will be sold at the same time, according to Berkeley Johnson, assistant dean of instruction.

Students planning to attend the Novato classes may also register at the Kentfield campus, Sept. 2-3 from 7 to 9 p.m. Classes begin Sept. 8.

Classes offered this fall will be U.S. history, U.S. government, introduction to cultural anthropology, animal biology, beginning accounting, principles of economics, reading and composition, history of modern Europe, introduction to philosophy, general psychology, psychology, introduction to sociology and American social problems.

Third Discussion On Center Plans Set

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission will consider again plans for a proposed community recreation center building, which architects have submitted at about twice the cost the city had estimated, at 8 p.m. Wednesday at city hall.

The city council sent plans for the center back to the commission last Monday when a cost estimate was placed at $681,000. The council recommended the commission consider eliminating the auditorium from the center and other aspects that would bring the price down.

Long Road Leads To Silent Hotel Room - And Waiting

It was a long road that took me to that hotel room in Bowling Green, Ohio, last Sunday morning. Through the window I could look out across the lawn to the pool shining in the sun. The laughter of children ricocheted off the white stucco walls.

But in the room there was stillness, a stillness laced with tension, and I watched the young giant sitting on the edge of the bed holding a book of matches, methodically tearing out a match, twisting it carefully, tightly, chewing it, tossing it into a basket — and beginning the ritual all over again.

YOU LOOK at your watch. The time is 11:20. In 10 minutes it'll be 11:30 and then another and another and another, until finally it will be two in the afternoon — two in the afternoon when the whistle blows, when the crowd comes to its feet with a roar and the young giant will be racing down the field on the kick-off of his first professional football game.

But now in the stillness-heavy room you sit with him, wishing you could say something that would have any meaning, or if not that, wishing you could make with the easy chatter and the light talk, but you don't even try because you know you're not good at it, never were good at it. So you sit, saying nothing, knowing that everything that had to be said had been said, so you let it go. Let it go, you say to yourself, let it go.

YOU CAN'T HELP going over that road, however, that long road that brought you here. You remember the first time you saw that young giant. You held him out at arms length and looked at him. He was a month old then. You had been off in another part of the world when he was born and now, a month later, you met.

In this silent hotel room you laugh inwardly as you think of the time you tried to teach him how to cast with his new rod and reel and, being wholely uncoordinated, he tripped himself into the bass pond. And the time when, with your fingers crossed, you presented him with his first two-wheeler and you came home from a trip to learn he and that bike had tangled with the chrome grillwork of a Buick. It is said that God looks after drunks and little children and this youngster needed all the help he could get. He got it, for he walked away with only a couple of skinned knees and a bruised ego.

SOMEHOW he muddled through those early years — a happy, laughing kid who couldn't run without stumbling, couldn't slice a piece of cake without cutting his finger, and couldn't get out of his bunk bed without putting another lump on his head.

And when he entered high school you caught your breath when he said he was trying out for the football team and you remember how hurt he was when he didn't make it. He didn't make it in his sophomore year either. We sat together on the kitchen steps that day and we talked. His head was bent over his knees and he was crying as only a terribly disappointed youngster can cry. You remember how proud you were when he blubbered through his tears he was going to try again.

THEN ALL at once he was coordinated and the next year he made it and the year after that. He finished college last June on the dean's list and in July he reported to Boston's professional football training camp. The other day the call came, "Dad, are you coming . . . ?"

So I found myself there, sitting with him, waiting out those agonizing minutes before his first pro game. He didn't know it, but this was my first pro game too. You see, I had waited for him. It's a great game that becomes greater when you have someone to look for — someone you love.

Senior Citizens Set Baseball Outing

The Goldenaires Senior Citizens Club will take a bus trip to the San Francisco Giants-Montreal Expos baseball game Sept. 3 in Candlestick Park.

Club members and guests must reserve bus seats by Thursday, according to officers. Buses will leave the Community Recreation Center at Second and Brooks streets, San Rafael, at 11 a.m. and return at 5:30 p.m.

Conservers Aid Beach Planning

The National Conservation Foundation is initiating a project which will assist the Marin County Planning Department in developing a revised general plan for the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area.

The foundation will provide a team of natural scientists, designers and engineers to interpret the several studies of the area prepared for the county.

The project will result in a report to the planning department which will recommend a program for integrating future developments with the environment of Bolinas Lagoon and adjacent lands.

San Rafael Sergeant Named Soldier Of Month In Vietnam

S/Sgt. Carl R. Graham, son of Charles D. Graham of 1355 Clinton Avenue, San Rafael, was named noncommissioned officer of the month for the Army Headquarters Area Command in ceremonies in Vietnam recently.

A customs inspector with the headquarters detachment of the command, Graham was selected for his knowledge of military subjects and current events, outstanding military bearing, technical knowledge of his job and his performance of his job, Army officials said.

CALAWAY — Airman John A. Calaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Calaway of 940 Ignacio Boulevard, Novato, has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., for training in aircraft maintenance after completion of basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

AHERN — 2nd Lt. Daniel B. Ahern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. Ahern of 455 Calle De La Mesa, Novato, has been awarded Air Force silver pilot wings upon graduation from Vance Air Force Base, Okla. He will be assigned to Cam Ranh Bay, Vietnam, for duty with a unit of the Pacific Air Forces following specialized aircrew training at several bases.

San Rafael Trio In Pot Arrest

Three San Rafael youths were arrested Saturday after police reportedly found them with an assortment of marijuana and narcotics paraphnerlia at 4 a.m. in the Peacock Gap area.

Eugene Fredrick Schenk, 19, and Robert Dudley Deane, 18, both of 231 Riviera Drive, were booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of having marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. They were released on their own recognizance to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

A 17-year-old youth was booked into juvenile hall on suspicion of having marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia.

Police, who were checking out a report of noise in the area, said they came upon the youths on Riviera Dirve.

Beating Suspected In Petaluma Death

A 47-year-old Petaluma man may have been beaten to death along the Petaluma River, police reported today.

Robert Frederick Buhrer of 17 Post Street was picked up by the fire department ambulance beside the river at 2:30 p.m. Saturday and taken to Sonoma County Community Hospital, Santa Rosa, where he died at 4:30 p.m.

Sonoma County Coroner Andrew Johansen said preliminary autopsy reports showed that Buhrer had suffered a ruptured bladder, but said further tests may find other injuries that could have contributed to his death. He said that Buhrer's body had many marks that could have been inflicted during a fight.

Police believe that Buhrer may have been involved in the fight Thursday at 9:30 p.m. when two young men tried to steal wine and money from him and Richard J. Lake, 37, at C and First Streets near the River. Lake had been treated at Hillcrest Hospital for two superficial stab wounds, but Buhrer refused treatment at that time, police said.

In custody for questioning is Jimmy Sims, 18, of no known address. Capt. Henry Eslick said he would meet with a representative of the district attorney's office today to decide what charges may be filed against Sims.

Buhrer, a native of Hollister, San Benito County was an unemployed laborer. He was a Navy veteran of World War II.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Louise Zenzunen of Petaluma; his stepfather, Phillip Zenzunen of Petaluma; a son, Jerry Lynn of Chicago; and a brother, Ernest Buhrer of Petaluma.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

Petalumans Burgled While On Vacation

Jack Arrington, of 713 Calton Court, Petaluma, told police yesterday that his home had been burgled last week while the family was on vacation.

Corte Madera Green Beret Wounded In Viet Action

A Corte Madera couple is waiting today for word of their son, a demolition engineer with the Special Forces who was critically wounded in combat in Vietnam Aug. 12.

Beyond two telegrams from the Army, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Bruscino know nothing of their son, Sp/4 Michael M. Bruscino.

Like countless families who receive notification of war injuries, they must wait until the victim can be moved from the war zone, a process that sometimes takes weeks, the Red Cross reported.

The Bruscinos, of 10 Hickory Avenue, learned Aug. 17 that their 20-year-old son had been hit by small-arms fire and that there were injuries to his stomach and his 10th vertebra was paralyzed. A progress report from the Army Friday indicated his condition was still very serious.

Bruscino had been in Vietnam since last May and had been on a classified mission near the demilitarized zone, his mother said. There were only six Americans at his outpost, she reported.

Bruscino volunteered after he graduated from high school in Richardson, Tex. where the family lived for 18 months. They have otherwise lived in Marin since 1961 and young Bruscino, the eldest if five children, attended Redwood High School.

"He feels very strongly about this war," his mother said. "He wrote that these people (the Vietnamese) don't want to be under Communist control."

She called the Red Cross and the casualty section of the Pentagon but neither could give her any details or say where Michael is.

MICHAEL M. BRUSCINO
Injured in Vietnam

Caroline Walsh of the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross explained her hands are tied until Bruscino is moved from Vietnam.

While injured soldiers are in Vietnam, they are moved from hospital to hospital, sometimes as often as three or four times a day, making it impossible to find out where they are, she said.

Mrs. Walsh said injured men are moved as soon as possible to hospitals in Japan, the Philippines or the U.S., but the move depends on where in Vietnam they are and their condition.

As soon as a man is moved, the Red Cross can get information for families, she said.

Mrs. Walsh says the Army is good about sending progress reports until the men are moved and the Bruscinos will probably receive another by Wednesday.

Another Sentence In LSD Possession

David Brian Denison, 19, of San Rafael admitted today in Marin Superior Court that he had LSD with him when he returned to Marin County Jail June 14 from a doctor's appointment.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set sentencing for Sept. 15 and told the youth that he will probably receive a 30-to-60 day jail sentence to run consecutively with the one he is now serving for burglary.

Tennis Courts

The Bolinas Community Public Utility District will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the district office, 230 Elm Road, Bolinas, to discuss tennis courts at Bolinas Park.

Blind Woman Held Victim Of Cheaters

A housekeeper, her family and friends have been accused in Marin Superior Court of cheating a nearly blind 85-year-old Fairfax spinster of $50,000 by having her sign checks she could not see.

A suit filed by attorney Warren R. Perry on behalf of Crocker-Citizens National Bank and the spinster, Sybil Marston, asks return of the $50,000 and court attachment of the defendants' bank accounts.

The suit sayd the housekeeper, Margaret Brooks, and the others got the $50,000 over five years by giving her checks to sign which they said were for household expenses. Miss Marston's sister, Mrs. Walker Leigh of Berkeley, asked the bank to act as conservator of her sister's property and the bank filed suit.

Defendants are Mrs. Brooks, her son, Joseph Fusilier, and her ex-husband, George Fusilier, all of Hilarita Housing, Tiburon; Ida Russell, Robert Whitley and Billie Joyce Whiteley, also of Hilarita Housing; Joan V. Winn of Mill Valley, and Virginia Walton and Henry Schrich, whose addresses were not given.

Wife Asks $250,000 In Jail Death Suit

A $250,000 suit was filed today in Marin Superior Court against the county by the heirs of a man who died last January in Marin County Jail.

A similar claim against the county had been denied earlier by the Board of Supervisors.

Cesar N. Urias (also known as Rivera), 31, was found dead in his jail bunk on the night of Jan. 25, three days after he had been booked for drunkenness. He was a kitchen helper living at the Traveler's inn in San Rafael at the time of his arrest.

His wife, Dulce Urias of San Francisco, and his daughter, Alma Urias Morales, ask $125,000 general damages and $100,000 punitive damages.

They contend that Urias was "obviously ill in body and mind" when admitted to jail and that officials there did not summon medical aid. They also claim that "two John Does" assaulted and struck Urias, contributing to his death.

Berserk Youth Breaks Windows

A San Rafael youth, apparently on a drug trip, shattered three windows and upset display racks at the Food Mart, Fifth and Tamalpais avenues, on Friday, San Rafael police reported today.

John V. Thompson, 18, of 110 Laurel Place, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on the scalp and left arm, and admitted for treatment of the drug. He was released Saturday.

Police said Thompson was hitchhiking Friday and took a pill given him by hippies who picked him up. He began to get LSD-like reactions when he returned home and was taken for a walk by his sister and brother-in-law, Kathleen M. and Robert E. Bond, also of 110 Laurel Place. They got as far as the market when Thompson went berserk, hurling himself into the windows and upsetting the racks.

Brother's Plea In Drug Sale

A preliminary hearing in Municipal Court for his brother, Frank Joseph Bonomolo, 22, who is accused of selling LSD, is set for Sept. 16.

GAS MASK DRILL—Someone just yelled "Gas!" These Marin County reservists have nine seconds to get their gas masks on. The drill is part of the chemical warfare training the weekend warriors must receive once a year. The 91st Training Division of Northern California, with headquarters at Fort Baker, is now in the midst of its summer training at Fort Ord on the Monterey Peninsula.

Marin Reservists Hitting The Dirt

Story and photos
By STEVEN COOK

Hundreds of Marin County men have traded suit coats and ties for boots, brass and uniforms.

In exchange for their 9-5 office jobs, they are working from 5 a.m. to 9 p.m., running Army recruits up and down the sand dunes of fog-bound Fort Ord on the Monterey Peninsula.

They are the summertime soldiers of the 91st Training Division of Northern California, headquartered at Fort Baker. The Reservists are spending their annual two weeks of summer camp, Aug. 16-30, at Fort Ord.

The 3500 men of the division owe two weeks of active duty training and 24 days of training at home stations annually for six years.

The division is commanded by Maj. Gen. Stuart D. Menist of Kent Woodlands, an insurance company vice president. Its Second Brigade, headquartered in San Rafael, is commanded by Col. Earl L. Rains of San Rafael, a food brokerage executive.

The 550 men of the Second Brigade come from Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino, Solano, Napa and Alameda counties. While at Fort Ord, they have assumed the training duties of the men of the Third Fort Ord Basic Training Brigade.

The two week session of active duty allows the men of the 91st Division to practice the tasks they would have to perform if their unit was called to active duty — providing basic and advanced infantry training to Army recruits.

EVERYBODY RUN — Sgt. Russell Zappetini, a San Rafael blacksmith for 50 weeks every year, is an Army drill sergeant this week. He shouts orders for a faster pace as recruits in their second week of basic training run the mile.

PIGGYBACK PARADE—It's a long way to run with a man on your back—150 yards. It's harder still if you're overweight and physically weak. Sp/5 Gerald Lefkowitz, a San Rafael social worker, runs with the recruits, urging them through the race, which is part of the Army's Physical Combat Proficiency Test.

TIME OUT—Pfc Joseph Ferraiuolo of San Rafael is one of the Marin County reservists who have traded bedroom for barracks while on two weeks of active duty training this summer. Ferraiuolo, rests on a foot locker in the barracks of Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 2nd Brigade, San Rafael.

HAND-TO-HAND—If you lean forward and push back suddenly, you can break the grip of a man who has grabbed you from behind. Sgt. James Bilderback, who works for Pacific Gas and Electric Company in San Rafael, demonstrates the technique in a hand to hand combat class at Fort Ord.

MARIJUANA SCARCITY BLAMED

Drug Expert Says Youngsters Forced To Try Out Hard Stuff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—One of the nation's leading drug experts said today the government's temporary success in limiting the availability of marijuana has only caused many young people in the San Francisco Bay area to switch to other potentially more dangerous drugs.

Dr. Joel Fort, a medical doctor who served as a consultant on drug abuse for the World Health Organization and the United Nations, said a drastic shift in the average American's attitude toward marijuana, and all drugs, must be forthcoming before the current drug crisis can be solved

HURTING YOUTH

"We are criminalizing a whole generation of youth in America and are turning an ever larger number of young people toward hard drugs as a result of our ineffective and destructive policies toward the possession of marijuana," the Ohio State University medical school graduate warned.

Dr. Fort noted that one of the principal arguments against the use of marijuana—that it causes the user to graduate to "harder drugs"—is a myth and is actually working in reverse in California.

"In San Francisco today, a number of young people are entering into the very hazardous use of black market stimulants and sedatives as well as LSD because of temporary unavailability of marijuana," the professor in the School of Social Welfare at the University of California at Berkeley said.

PARADOX OUTLINED

"Paradoxically, we therefore have a situation in which the absence of marijuana is leading to 'hard drugs' rather than the presence of it," Fort said.

But he said the mere passage of criminal laws only complicates the drug crisis and will never stop drug abuse.

"The American system of attempted drug control through extreme laws has been markedly ineffective and destructive and in fact has led to more use of more drugs, including more potentially dangerous ones, than ever before," Dr. Fort said. "Only an approach of prevention and education which seeks to correct the alienating forces in our society and improve the quality of life will be successful in reducing drug use."

ROCK FESTIVAL

The author of the book, "The Pleasure Seekers," a comprehensive study of the drug crisis in layman's terms which will hit the bookstands next month, said his theories were manifested in the recent Woodstock Rock Festival near Bethel, N.Y.

"The recent hysterical statements about drug use and adverse reactions at the Woodstock Festival appear to have been greatly exaggerated," Fort said.

"But even these unfortunate reactions could have easily been dealt with by a humane health approach to drug abuse providing treatment and education rather than fostering fear and rejection.

"The roots of drug use in America are very deep. We live in a drug-ridden, drug-obsessed society where we are taught from childhood by parents and by commercials that problems are easily solved and happiness obtained through chemicals," he said.

Dr. Fort said that the use of marijuana, like all drugs, involves some risks, especially to people already in an extreme emotional state. "But marijuana is fortunately not a narcotic, not addicting, and in its overall effects it is less destructive to the individual and society than tobacco or alcohol," he said.

Dr. Fort said the emotional and unobjective American attitude toward the entire drug situation has resulted in a situation where "many people feel that we are making social progress when we have former heroin addicts dying from alcoholism."

He urged an objective look at the entire drug situation, especially a realization of the effects of the legal drugs. "In addition to widespread alcoholism and the well-known enormous health problems from cigarette smoking, we have as a society a very serious and growing drug abuse problem with the amphetamines, such as dexadrine and methadrine, and with sleeping pills such as the barbituates.

"Most of this is among middle class, respectable people getting these drugs on prescription from their doctors as well as a certain amount of black market use by a minority of young people who turn to these pills mainly when marijuana is made temporarily unavailable by the occasionally successful activities of drug policemen," the creator of the Center for Special Problems in the San Francisco Department of Public Health said.

featuring new Color Commander Control

New Zenith single control adjusts contrast and color level, with brightness in the proper ratio—so they stay perfectly in balance as you adjust the color picture to match changing light conditions in the room. There's no longer any need to turn separate controls as in conventional receivers. Now when conditions of varying ambient light occur, such as alternately dim or bright room light, you can easily compensate for varying room light by simply adjusting the Color Commander Control for the most pleasing picture, with virtual elimination of washed out or over saturated color pictures.

plus revolutionary Chroma-color tube

After years of research, Zenith introduces Chromacolor, featuring the revolutionary Black-surround principal, that brings you a color TV picture more than 100% brighter—with more true-to-life colors, sharper detail and greater contrast—than any previous giant screen color TV. Zenith, unlike other sets, uses smaller phosphor dots to make up the TV picture, surrounding them with jet black to bring you a picture with increased definition, greater detail, brighter colors. Come see this remarkable innovation at your nearest Big E.

Remember, the Big E is now premiering Zenith's 1970 line of color and black and white television sets, plus new radios, phonographs, tape recorders and wonderful cassette recorders. They're on display at all Big E's now.

Bolinas Lagoon Control Report Due Supervisors

Existing controls on filling Bolinas Lagoon will be reported to the Marin County Board of Supervisors by Public Works Director Donald R. Frost at an all-day meeting beginning at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the Civic Center.

Conservationists criticized the controls as inadequate after developer George P. Leonard of Stinson Beach filled in southeastern portions of the lagoon before ordered to halt by Frost.

County parks and recreation concern over the possible damage of fill to lagoon wildlife and shellfish.

On the agenda at 10:30 a.m. is a hearing of an appeal by the Gallinas Village Improvement Association from the county planning commission's conditional approval of the design for the Tarrant Apartments at La Brea Way and Adrian Street.

An ordinance controlling parking at Waldo Point, a report on logging on the Righetti property in West Marin, and a continued hearing on widening Novato Boulevard are also on the agenda.

Jealousy Kills Husband, Son

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police said a woman motorist used her car to ram the motorcycle on which her husband was giving a teen-age girl a ride today, killing him and the couple's son in the car.

Officers arrested Bonnie Bradford, 26, for investigation of murder in the deaths of her husband, Charles, 27, and their son, Kyle, 3. The car went out of control after the crash, flipping over and fatally injuring the child. Police said Mrs. Bradford chased the cycle several blocks before the collision.

$1,000 Stereo Taken From Student Home

Stereophonic equipment, valued at about $1,000, was stolen Friday from the Muir Woods home of two college students, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

James Wiernick, 21, of 20 Washington Park Ave., a student at the University of California at Berkeley, reported that the equipment owned by him and Allan Goldberg, 22, another student, was taken from the house sometime from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Savings Bond Sales Pass $1 Million Mark

Marin County's U.S. savings bonds sales for July totaled $135,442, county chairman William P. Murray Jr. has reported. Sales so far this year total $1,043,833, he said.

California sales for the year were $216,033,418 and sales for July were $28,695,447.

Member Resigns From Juvenile Panel

Anne S. Miller has resigned, effective immediately, from the Marin Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission to spend full time on a new teaching job.

She has been a member of the commission since July 1967. She announced her resignation in a letter to the board of supervisors.

Pay On Agenda

Possible pay increases for teachers and classified employees of the Lagunitas School District will be discussed by the board of trustees at 7:30 p.m. today.

Long-term building needs of the district will also be considered.

Nelson Is President Of Estate Council

Robert N. Nelson, a San Rafael attorney, has been elected president of the Marin County Estate Planning Council, an educational study group in personal and estate finance management.

Novato Budget, Tax Rate Due Tomorrow

The Novato City Council is scheduled to adopt the fiscal 1970 budget and set a tax rate at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Novato Community house.

The council also will consider changing all parking on Grant Avenue west of Highway 101 to parallel parking. The council deadlocked over the issue Aug. 12. At present, part of the street has parallel parking and part has angle parking.

Other items to come before the council include reorganization of the public works maintenance department and revised employee classifications, setting a date for a meeting with the parks and recreation advisory commission on a possible bond issue for parks and a report on the downtown study.

Redwood Empire's Boosters Will Meet

The Redwood Empire Association will hold its annual convention for the first time in San Rafael, J. Galen Foster, general chairman, has announced.

The meeting has been set for Sept. 24-27 at the Holiday Inn in San Rafael. Travel promotion plans for chambers of commerce and visitors' bureaus, development of Redwood National Park and recreation programs in Oregon will be among the topics of discussion.

Any $7,000 car makes you feel secure on a country club driveway. The Mercedes-Benz 280S makes you feel secure on a bustling turnpike.

Look underneath, and you'll begin to see why.

At Mercedes-Benz, engineers—not styling geniuses or marketing wizards—have the upper hand.

And these stubborn purists insist that if a man can afford to invest $7,000 in an automobile he is entitled to get more than a status symbol.

Result: the Mercedes-Benz 280S at right bristles with sophisticated, ultra-performance features that simply do not exist on domestic sedans in the so-called "fine car" field. It steers, maneuvers and stops as if your life depended on it.

This is one reason why Car and Driver magazine, with a world of cars to choose from, concludes that the current Mercedes-Benz line "represents the present pinnacle in safe car engineering."

Of all cars in the "luxury class" field, the 280S is rated the safest, most roadworthy. Read why.

Racing car suspension

For a clue to the almost uncanny handling and evasive ability of the 280S, scrunch down and look beneath the rear bumper—at the axle. It's not the rigid "beam" axle of most domestic cars. It is articulated.

This Mercedes-Benz low-pivot swing axle permits each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other, just as the front wheels do. The result is leech-like roadability.

If you know what you're looking for, you can also spot heavy-duty thrust arms, individual coil springs and shocks, and a horizontal hydropneumatic load-leveling device.

All in all, suspension ideas more common on 180-mph Grand Prix racing cars than 5-passenger sedans.

Engineering extravagance?

A passenger car doesn't need a suspension fit for a racer, argue some critics. True, reply Mercedes-Benz engineers. For everyday city driving, this is sheer engineering extravagance.

But some day you might have to get off the pavement, onto a stretch of potholed back road. You might have to enter a sharp curve or a turn-off faster than you intended. You might have to change course quickly while cruising at 65 mph on a busy turnpike.

And, suddenly, you realize that this engineering extravagance is no extravagance at all.

Sharp reflexes

Occasionally, it is also necessary for a 3,400-pound automobile hurtling along at high speed to stop abruptly.

Once more, Mercedes-Benz engineers draw on their experience with World Champion racing machinery. They employ the more expensive, but clearly superior, type of brakes used almost universally on today's professional racing circuits.

Disc brakes.

The engineers don't stint, either—by putting disc brakes only at the front wheels, and settling for conventional drum brakes on the rear. They insist on attaching a massive caliper-type disc brake to every wheel of every Mercedes-Benz.

Someday, doubtless, 4-wheel disc brakes will be offered on a domestic "luxury" car.

Accurate steering is vital for maximum control, too. In an emergency, you don't have time for a sweeping twirl of the wheel. The car must respond instantly.

The 280S does. Credit the ingenious Mercedes-Benz recirculating-ball-type steering system. It eliminates sloppy play in the wheel—and blesses you with the "feel" of the road. Suddenly, you are a more confident driver.

Taut, sensitive steering is retained even with Mercedes-Benz power steering—characterized by Car and Driver as "unquestionably the most precise unit of its kind ever developed."

If trouble comes

The responsiveness which makes the 280S such a joy to drive is its best defense against blundering motorists. However, if the worst happens, the car is designed to shield you. Naturally, it meets all the U.S. safety regulations. But Mercedes-Benz safety goes beyond the letter of these laws.

The entire passenger compartment is built as a sturdy "safety zone." Doors are designed to stay shut on impact. The front and rear of the car are engineered to crumple in a crash at a controlled rate, absorbing shock and reducing the threat of serious injury.

"A fellow hit me when I was stopped at a toll booth," reports one Mercedes-Benz owner. "People in his car were hospitalized. But I just opened my door and stepped out."

Showroom experiments

The 280S is as habitable as it is roadworthy and safe.

Slip behind the wheel, and flex your back. This is no marshmallow seat. It supports you, hour after hour. It should: it was designed with help from orthopedic physicians. The springs inside are tuned to the car's suspension motions, cancelling out thousands of tiring vibrations every mile.

Check the rear shelf. Carpeted. Feel the underside of the dashboard. There's no spaghetti tangle of wires. It's fully finished off. Finger the wood trim—real walnut, not plastic.

No shortcuts

Your 280S is built with uncompromising care, to make it a lasting investment.

Every 280S begins life in a shower of sparks. It is not bolted into being, like a conventional car, but solidified by thousands of welds. After 50,000 miles or so, you may start to wonder if it will ever rattle.

When welding stops, the body is gone over by hand with a soft glove. Bumps and burrs are spotted and smoothed away. Vital seams are packed with solder and buffed to oblivion.

The body is then dunked in a 52-ton primer tank, baked, sprayed, hand-sanded, sprayed again, then hand-sprayed. Total primer and paint rust protection: over 44 pounds.

The overhead-cam, six-cylinder engine equals the coachwork for longevity. Bearings are delicately machined to within 4/10,000ths of an inch, and pistons and connecting rods are painstakingly matched and balanced. Yet this power plant is about as fragile as a bull. It's built to cruise flat-out indefinitely—and, on Germany's wide-open autobahns, it often does.

An unconventional car? Defiantly so. Mercedes-Benz does not make conventional cars—and never will.

24-page brochure

If you'd like more facts on this remarkable motor car—$7,000* complete with automatic shift, power steering and electric windows ($6,249* without frills)—mail the coupon for a color brochure.

Of course, the quickest way to appreciate the car's virtues is simply to arrange for a test drive.

Other models to mull over:

220 Diesel—the only diesel-powered automobile Mercedes-Benz makes, gives you small-car economy in a big, safe sedan that may well endure for decades, $4,780*.

Irish Career Woman Discusses Life Of Travel And Adventure

By JOAN LISETOR

Joan Bergin considers herself a fortunate person. She has been able to combine her intense interest in travel and great love of adventure with a career.

Known as Siobhan Ni N'Aimbergin in her native Dublin, Ireland, Miss Bergin travels around the world on behalf of an Irish carpeting firm, visiting stores and lecturing and discussing interior decorating with the public.

She was in Marin Friday on what she calls one of her short trips.

"I'VE ONLY been away two weeks, and next week I am going to take a holiday in Los Angeles," she explains. "This is quite a rest after the five and six month marathon trips I have been making for the past three and a half years."

Discussing the countries she has visited Joan says it is easier to list the ones she has not visited, and the only continent she has missed is South America.

"If I inherited a million pounds I couldn't travel just for enjoyment," the 27-year-old Irish girl says.

But the spirit of adventure is still growing in the colleen who once persuaded a Jesuit priest to smuggle her into Red China.

"I was having dinner with friends in Hong Kong one night and met the priest, who had been a missionary before they were expelled from Red China," she explains. "He wanted to make one more visit to the people, and in a rash, brave moment I convinced him to take me with him. I was disguised as the most unlikely looking Chinese, and we flew in his plane as far in as the Yangtse River.

"ONCE I WAS there, I must confess to being a trifle uneasy and everything was tempered by the fear of not getting out, but after two and a half days we were able to get out by plane."

An exciting life began by answering a newspaper advertisement which led to her present job for Joan, who had planned a music and drama career. She is still active in a little theater group, which she says takes all of her spare time and salary when she visits her family in Dublin. She is a graduate teacher of the Loncon College of Music and Drama in Dublin, but most of her studies have centered around interior decorating.

She won a scholarship from the Swedish Arts Council to study textiles in Stockholm and her thesis on Georgian Dublin qualified her for a fellowship in the Institute of Allied Arts in Zurich. Joan is frequently invited to design the interiors of hotels and public buildings and lectures to clubs on interior design during her travels.

"If I could live in any city in the world," the young executive says, "it would be either Dublin, Hong Kong or Sausalito. On my last trip to Marin County, which was in the spring, I noticed the grass on the hillsides. Until then I thought that Ireland had the greenest grass, but it's here in Marin. It is a place that has a little bit of almost every country I've seen in the world."

Finale Of Fashion-Luncheon Series To Be Held Wednesday

Marin Women

A colorful fashion show with live music will provide a finale to the Northgate Group summer luncheon series Wednesday at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. Mrs. Patrick Foster of Ross, president of the Northgate Group, will welcome the nine sponsoring Marin County organizations and the over 450 guests who are planning to attend this season's closing Northgate Group fashion-luncheon.

Mrs. Hal C. Moore of Greenbrae, who has been the general chairman for the summer luncheon series, says that the nine co-sponsoring groups will provide a total of 18 models, and the organizations will also make available over 80 women who will serve the luncheon.

PARTICIPATING IN the final fashion-luncheon of the series is the North Bay Council of the Children's Home Society. Mrs. Burt Richardson of Larkspur is the general chairman for the fashion-luncheon and will provide 10 waitresses from the various Children's Home Society chapters in the area. Models are Mmes. Douglas Meyer, Santa Rosa; A. J. Corsi, Santa Rosa, and William Brady, Petaluma.

Pixie Parents, who maintain a pre-school memorial playground on the center grounds, will provide 15 waitresses. Mrs. Donald Herbers of Corte Madera is fashion-luncheon chairman for Pixie Parents. On the runway for the group are Mmes. Sandy Greenblat, San Rafael, and Willard Stump, Kentfield.

General chairman for the American Association of University Women is Mrs. John N. Morrison of Novato. Mrs. John A. Colistra of San Rafael is waitress chairman and will furnish 10 women who will serve the luncheon. Model chairman is Mrs. Arthur Ritter of Novato. Models are Mmes. Gilbert Guerin, San Rafael; and Arthur D. Ritter and David Hudson, both of Novato.

BOYD MARIN Museum of Science general chairman is Mrs. William Corrigan of San Anselmo. Thirty volunteer waitresses will come from the museum group. Models are Mmes. Bruce Cullen, Tiburon; Arthur Morse, Mill Valley, and McKenzie Moss II, Kentfield.

The Garden Society of Marin waitress and model chairman is Mrs. Fred Sloat of Ross. The group will provide 10 waitresses. The Garden Society representative of the runway is Mrs. Andre Claeys, Corte Madera.

Mrs. William Muller of Ross is the general chairman for the Marin Garden Club. The group will furnish two waitresses. Mrs. C. Hugh Carruthers of Kentfield will model for the organization.

ALSO BEING honored at the Wednesday fashion-luncheon, but not participating in the fashion promenade, is the Marin Conservation League. The league, which was established in 1934, was one of the founding members of the Marin Art and Garden Center. It was founded for the purpose of preserving and developing the natural assets of Marin County.

The Northgate Group will be represented on the runway at the fashion-luncheon finale by Mmes. H. Reed Volin, San Rafael; Ellison Ebey, Sausalito; William Morrisey III, Ross; and John W. Merryman, San Rafael. The Northgate Group model chairman, fashion coordinator, and liaison between the sponsoring organizations for the series has been Mrs. Boyd Lang of San Rafael.

Ronald Banks To Wed Catherine B. Frank

CATHERINE BRIDGET FRANK

The engagement of Catherine Bridget Frank to Ronald Kenneth Banks of San Rafael has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Frank of Forest Knolls.

The future bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is attending the College of Marin. Robert L. Frank of Portland, Ore., and Michael Frank of Forest Knolls are her brothers and Mrs. Arnold Schrick of Novato is her sister. Frank W. Frank of Ross is Catherine's grandfather.

Ronald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Banks of San Rafael, is employed by the Standard Oil Co. of San Rafael. He was graduated from Terra Linda High School and attended the College of Marin. Mark and Melanie of San Rafael and Steven of Mt. Holly, N. J., are his brothers and sister.

Ronald's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maslen of Mill Valley.

Kenneth Frost Claims Bride In Vallejo Rite

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Bailey of Vallejo. Ken is the son of the Kenneth Frosts of Belvedere.

Mrs. James J. Benn of Bethesda, Md., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Frank L. Cunningham of Vallejo, Mrs. Neil Bridges of Sacramento, Cecelia Moore of Folsom and Diane Johnson of Rancho Cordoba.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Charles W. Frost of Belvedere, to be his best man. Assisting wedding guests to their places were Jack L. Cooper of San Francisco, Ross Fitz-Gerald of Davis, Robert Olson of Cambridge, Mass., Oliver T. Townsend of Wilmette, Ill., and Robert T. Groseth of Oak Park, Ill.

Jane is a graduate of Vallejo Senior High School and of the University of California at Davis. She studied for a year at the University of Madrid and erned an M.A. degree at Davis, where she is an associate in the Spanish department.

Ken is the grandson of Mrs. Charles Whitfield White of San Francisco and Mrs. Faye L. Frost of Aptos. A graduate of Redwood High School, he continued his education at Indiana University, where he received the bachelor's degree. He is a doctoral candidate in chemistry at the University of California at Davis, where he is a research assistant in the chemistry department.

After a wedding trip to Mendocino, the couple will live in Davis.

From Bunny To Stock Broker

NEW YORK (AP) — As a Playboy bunny, Caryl Goldman's stock in trade was tips. Now, 14 months later, her tips in trade are stocks. She's a registered representative at a brokerage house.

The road from the Playboy Penthouse, where bunny-suited hostesses work mainly for tips, to the world of Wall Street and high finance may seem long, but to the petite, raven-haired Miss Goldman, it was only a hop, skip and a jump.

"I quit after three years at the club, started as a trainee, and now here I am," she sayd, glancing at the electronic stock quotes illuminating the wall above her desk.

"I like it here. It's exciting and now here I am," she says, perched on the edge of her chair like a . . . well, like a bunny.

She is tiny — five feet even — 28, and completely feminine, but doesn't seem out of place in the "board room" filled with some 40 men and only one other woman.

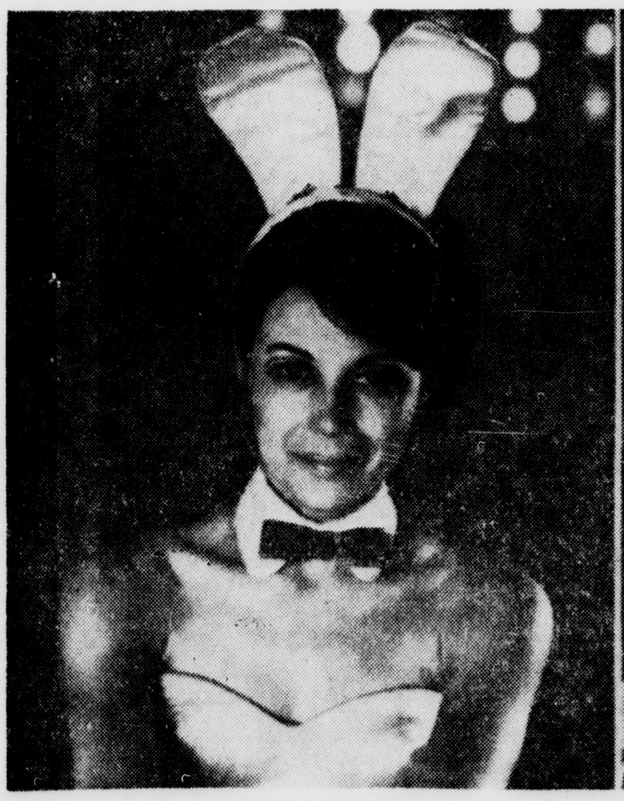
"I first got interested in stocks when my father died. He left my mother a lot of securities and I got very involved in investing them for her."

"After a while, I decided I might as well get in the business and started applying at different brokers."

Miss Goldman deals primarily with large investment accounts and traders, taking buy and sell orders on the phone and keeping a close watch on the progress of various stocks.

She's a well-educated ex-bunny with a bachelor of arts degree in art history from the University of Syracuse where she made the dean's list, a master's degree in education from New York University and taught first and second grades in Bedford-Stuyvesant before becoming a Playboy bunny.

"I left teaching because it was no longer challenging," she says. "I guess it was about the same situation as a bunny."



CARYL GOLDMAN, left, when she was a bunny at the Playboy Club, is now a registered representative for a New York brokerage house and works at her desk, right. No dumb bunny, she has a bachelor of arts degree and a master's degree from New York University. (AP wirephoto)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

She Gave Her Son To Sister Who Refuses To Let Them Meet

DEAR HELEN:

The doctors thought I was going to die when my premature baby was born 21 years ago. To be sure he'd have a home, my husband and I signed papers giving my sister custody. Then miraculously, I recovered.

But my sister, who couldn't have children, was so brokenhearted at the thought of giving him up, that we let her keep him. I was still very sick. And I thought I could have more children. As it turned out, I didn't.

It hurt terribly seeing him grow up and not being able to tell him the truth. Then one day in a drunken fit my sister gave the secret away.

I never interfered even though she was an alcoholic. Now he is married to a lovely girl, and I want to be friends, but my sister is being very mean. She won't allow me to come near them. She says he isn't my son because she raised him. After all, I sufferd eight months and nearly died having him. He is my flesh, and a fine boy who doesn't drink or smoke.

Should I be kept from seeing my own son, and perhaps later on, his children? — T. Y.

DEAR T:

There's more to this than appears in your letter, and I can't play Mrs. Solomon unless I know all the facts. Even then, the best I could do would be to say, "Thank your lucky stars the boy turned out well, and give him as much time as you gave him during his growing-up years. I think your sister will grant you that." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

The letter from "Never Forgot Him" might be the story of my life. It isn't always true that you outgrow a first love, Helen.

At 18, I too broke up with the boy I loved because of parental objections. Within three years, both of us had married someone else. I thought of Bob occasionally, but my husband was a good man and I busied myself with making a home and raising our children.

If the goodness of a hsuband is to be measured by material things, then I have a wonderful man, but if it is to be measured by how much he gives of himself, I have very little.

Helen, after 12 years of marriage I reached a point where I felt alone whether I was with him or not. No amount of telling him how I felt made any difference. He 'd only say, "This is the way I am"—a solid wall of indifference.

I involved myself with part-time jobs, club activities, college courses and eight more years passed until I was 41. Then fate stepped in.

After a shopping trip to the city, I decided to stop for a late lunch. A man leaving the restaurant held the door open for me. Yes, it was Bob, and after 23 years, we knew each other immediately!

This was the beginning of something that had never really ended. We meet whenever his business and my home life allows. We have wonderful times together. We share. We can talk. We're alive again.

Bob has a home life on a par with mine. We both feel that we cannot base our own happiness on someone else's unhappiness, so we do not ask our mates for divorces. Perhaps we're better mates because life doesn't seem useless any more. Frankly, I doubt that his wife or my husband would care. No, this isn't a story book ending, and perhaps it never will be. But I can't feel guilty, nor can Bob. We are just grateful that we have each other. — NEVER FORGOT HIM EITHER

Karen Youngman To Be Wed In October

Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Youngman announced the engagement of their daughter, Karen Ann, to Michael Richard Ryan at a party yesterday at their Oakland home.

KAREN ANN YOUNGMAN

Karen is the brother of George Youngman of Baltimore, Md., and Walter C. Youngman Jr. of Alameda. She was graduated from San Jose State College, where she was a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, and is employed as a legal secretary in San Francisco.

Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Ryan of San Rafael and the brother of Robert Ryan, a student at Occidental College in Los Angeles. He was graduated from San Rafael High School and San Jose State College, where his fraternity was Sigma Chi. The future bridegroom is employed by National Cash Register Company.

An Oct. 11 wedding date has been set by the couple.

Roderick Stephen Taft Weds In Laguna Beach

Roderick Stephen Taft Jr. of Belvedere claimed Ellen Beemer of Laguna Beach as his bride Saturday in a ceremony at St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Laguna Beach.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beemer of Laguna Beach, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roderick S. Taft of Belvedere.

Maid of honor was Fredde Howarth of Newport Beach, and bridesmaids were Roxanne Taft of Belvedere, the bridegroom's sister, Jane Curry of Arcadia and Mrs. Sam Mercer Jr. of San Mateo.

Wyborn Mercer of Belvedere was best man. Ushers were Tom Cooke of Belverdere, Tom Gootherts of Corte Madera and Sam Mercer Jr. of San Mateo.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. After a wedding trip to Monterey the couple will live in San Diego, where the bridegroom will be in his senior year at San Diego State College. He was graduated from Redwood High School.

The bride is a graduate of Laguna Beach High School and the University of California at Santa Barbara. She is the sister of Mrs. Roger Loar of Walnut Creek and John Beemer of Laguna Beach.

The bridegroom is the brother of Mrs. Alicia Widmer of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Stephen Ferris of Napa and the grandson of Mrs. Anna Bilotti of Belvedere.

Firm Muscles

A new exercising device can be stored against a wall or even toted along when you travel. It helps firm muscles in much the manner rowing a boat does.

Bandages

The first oversized adhesive bandage with a non-stick pad is available. The pad, two inches square, is constructed to keep wounds semi-dry, which most doctors agree is the best condition to speed healing.

Earthy Tones

ON THE AGENDA

Marin Opera Action Group To Sponsor A Series Of Previews

Mrs. Edmond C. Ward of Kentfield, chairman of the Marin Opera Action Group, has announced the schedule for the fall San Francisco Opera preview series to be held in Marin, sponsored by the local Action Group.

Previews will be held on Thursday evenings. The first will be given in the Barn at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, and the others will be held either there or in the Caroline S. Livermore Room at the center.

On Sept. 11 Jess Thomas, renowned tenor, will preview "Ariadne Auf Naxos," in which he appears with the San Francisco Opera Company. On Sept. 25 a preview of "Fidelio" will be presented by Speight Jenkins, news editor of "Opera News" magazine.

John Rockwell, music critic of the Oakland Tribune, will present a program on "Gotterdammerung" on Oct. 9, and on Oct. 30 "La Forza Del Destino" will be the subject of a program by Dale S. Harris, Stanford University professor and KQED reviewer.

Previews reservations chairman is Mrs. Carlo S. Fowler of Kentfield. A brochure on the opera season or preview information may be obtained from Mrs. Ward.

THE NOVATO chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will have a potluck dinner at 6 p.m. Thursday in the Druids Hall.

Novato chapter, International Order of Rainbow for Girls, will present the opening and closing ceremonies prior to the meeting at 7 p.m.

Chairman is Mrs. David Hixon assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Hoekman, and Mmes. Earl Marshall, Stephen Shoemaker and Pearl Johnson.

A SURPLUS book sale will be held Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. during the final luncheon and fashion show in the summer series at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross to benefit the Moya Library. The library is being established with a permanent, quality selection of books by the Moya Library Guild. The sale will be conducted adjacent to the Octagon House at the center with a wide selection of paperbacks available to buyers. Books for the sale have been donated by guild members and others.

A SALAD bowl luncheon will be sponsored by Court St. Agnes 1428, Catholic Daughters of America, on Thursday at noon in St. Rita's Parish Hall, Fairfax.

Mrs. William McPartland, grand regent, has appointed Mrs. Antone Schunk chairman for the event. Reservations chairman is Mrs. Jessie Sullivan of San Anselmo. Mrs. Schunk has chosen as her committee Mmes. Franklyn Fontes, Claude Kalen, David Lippi, Robert Alten, McPartland, Russell White, Nelson Harris, Sam Irving and Edmond Bruschini.

Pilot Dies At Age 82

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—Zaddie R. Bunker was 65 when she decided she'd rather be in the cockpit than baby-sit her grandchildren. So that's what she did.

Now this desert community is mourning the death of Mrs. Bunker, a legendary figure among women pilots. Death came Thursday—just a week before her 82nd birthday and preceded by these achievements:

Learned to fly at 65; flew solo back and forth across the continent at 66; earned her multi-engine license at 68, and flew faster than sound at 73.

Mrs. Bunker, known as "the Flying Grandmother," and "the First Lady of Palm Springs," first came to the desert in 1913—long before it became the winter playground of movie greats and other celebrities.

Her first job, at age 26: delivering merchandise to local business houses from the railway station in a freight truck.

On winning her multi-engine pilot's license at Teterboro, N.J., she commented: "Why did I learn to fly at 65? Because it's fun."

She maintained that "anyone can learn anything he wants to with enough perseverance."

Of her crosscountry jaunt, she told a newsman: "I've been driving for 45 years, but if I had to make this trip by automobile I don't think I could have done it. Motoring just isn't safe enough."

She confessed to friends recently that 18 months ago she half-heartedly applied to be an astronaut and was rejected.

"I could have done it," she said.

The funeral was today at 9 a.m. in the Palm Springs Community Church.

LINDA LEE Horick became the bride of Jeffrey Scott Kaspick at Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Horick of Point Reyes Station. They will live in Sacramento, where both are seniors at Sacramento State College.

Marin Dance Council Elects Jack K. Fifield President

JACK K. FIFIELD

He has been dancing since 1957 and previously served as treasurer for the council. He has also be president of the Step Togethers of Marin, president and treasurer of the Southern Marin Folk Dance Club and treasurer and vice president of the Hardly Ables.

The Marin Dance Council is the coordinating body for the various Marin folk dance clubs and spokesman for the clubs to the California Folk Dance Federation.

The next activity sponsored by the council will be a family camping weekend on Sept. 6 and 7. Other important events will be the Karlstad Ball on New Year's Eve, the President's Ball in April and the Folk Dance Festival in July.

Born in Oakland, Fifield was graduated from high school in Colusa.

He is employed by the Army as a civilian joiner-cabinet maker at the Presidio in San Francisco. He has lived in Marin since 1952. He has two children, Mrs. Robert Freet Jr. of Pennsylvania and Florida and Grant Fifield of Cotati, and seven grandchildren.

His other interests are fishing, hunting and camping.

Linda A. Green Is Bride Of James T. Vincent

Linda Anne Green became the bride of James Thomas Vincent Saturday in a nuptial mass celebrated at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel in Mill Valley.

Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Green of San Anselmo, chose Genetha Day of San Rafael as her maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Sherrey and Shelley, the bride's twin sisters, and Tina Vincent, the bridegroom's sister.

Linda was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and the University of California at Davis. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Green of Larkspur and Earl Hipsley of New Market, Iowa, formerly of Larkspur.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Vincent of Freedom, was graduated from Watsonville High School, Watsonville. His sisters and brothers are Tina, Hilary, Thomas and Joseph, all of Freedom.

The couple will live in Davis where James will attend the University of California.

Diana House Wed Yesterday To Stanley Thomas Burnett

The First Presbyterian Church of Stockton was the setting for the marriage yesterday of Diana Marie House, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert James House of Mill Valley, and Stanley Thomas Burnett of Mill Valley. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burnett of Lodi.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Stanley Coker of Stockton, and bridesmaids were Vicki Brassfield of San Rafael, Tina West and Pamela Pascual of Mill Valley.

James Munro of San Luis Obispo was best man. Ushers were Douglas Trampetti of Oakland, Daniel Koolhaven of Mill Valley and Robert Sullivan of Fairfax.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the West Lane Mobile Home Park in Lodi. On their return from a wedding trip to Carmel, the couple will live in Santa Rosa.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Diana attends Sonoma State College. She is the sister of Robert J. House Jr. of Salem, Ore., Mrs. John D. Harrison of Stockton and Debra House of Mill Valley and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. David House of Berkeley.

A graduate of Lodi High School, the bridegroom has just completed service with the Army and will continue his education at Santa Rosa Junior College in the fall.

Home Accidents

Deaths from home accidents are declining, but slightly. The National Safety Council says that home deaths decreased two per cent in 1968, 500 fewer than the 1967 toll of 28,000.

Rural Fires

Rural fires take a devastating toll. Government sources estimate that 1,000 persons lose their lives every year because of rural fires. Four million acres of land burn, causing 208 million dollars worth of damage.

UP, UP AND FORGET IT

It was a great idea, but the piece of driftwood was just too big. Free form constructions like these will be background for the art at the Sausalito Arts Festival, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Sunday, Monday at Bayside School. Volunteer artists who are constructing the festival grounds decided instead of this, to put a mobile on top, a lightweight one.

$1 Million Bails Out N. Y. Festival

NEW YORK (AP) — The wealthy drug family of John Roberts, promoter of the most fantastic rock festival in history, at White Lake, N.Y., put about $1 million in a bank this morning to cover the venture's debts, Roberts' partner said.

"We are speechless at the way the Roberts family rushed forward," said Joel Rosenman, a 26-year-old lawyer who has been associated with young Roberts in Woodstock Ventures for two and a half years.

"We are in debt to the Roberts family in ways other than financial," Rosenman added. "We'll make every effort possible to repay them." He declined to say what bank was involved.

Rosenman said the money put up by the Roberts' family—from a fortune made from Polydent and other products of the Block Drug Co.—would be used to pay "every legitimate creditor" of Woodstock Ventures in full.

He said he and Roberts, 24, hope to recoup the $1 million by sale of films and recordings made at the festival at White Lake, the weekend of Aug. 16-17.

The estimated half-million young people who crowded the pastures around the festival bandstand were, ironically a prime reason for the financial loss.

Only from 60,000 to 70,000 tickets had been sold in advance and the kids poured into the festival site in such huge numbers that ticket-taking became impossible.

It is estimated that enough technical papers are written every day to fill seven sets of Encyclopedia Britannica.

MUSIC REVIEW

'Cosi Fan Tutte' A Pleasure Despite Acoustical Problem

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

One of the high points in the 35-year history of the Marin Music Chest must have been the presentation of an entire opera, Mozart's "Cosi Fan Tutte" yesterday afternoon as the third program in its current summer series at Forest Meadows.

There were many reasons why this was a commendable venture, and only one bad aspect — one having nothing to do with the caliber of the production. This was a high wind that played havoc with acoustical conditions and the loudspeaker system.

In some areas the fine shadings of Mozart's exquisite music and the skill of the singers in interpreting them with utmost finesse must have been lost, as they were for me until I found just the right spot to sit.

One of the major reasons for the high level of the presentation was that it was a San Francisco Opera production by Western Opera Theater, a traveling repertory company of young singers. Another reason was that this opera with its small cast of six singers is intimate and better suited to less than opera-house-size audiences and can be staged with one simple set.

But most important of all was the superb casting in looks, voice and dramatic ability of the six characters. Not only were they individually excellent in their arias, but their voices blended to perfection in duet, trio, quartet, quintet and sextet.

The voices of soprano Sheila Marks as Fiordiligi and mezzo soprano Donna Petersen as Dorabella were wonderfuly complementary. Since the role of Fiordiligi contains music written to show off the voice of a certain prima donna, Miss Marks had more chance to show her virtuosa skill, particularly in the aria "Come Scoglio" with its astounding range and huge skips, and in the aria "Per Pieta."

Miss Petersen, though not having as brilliant material, sang splendidly. Shigemi Matsumoto was very nearly the ideal soubrette for the coloratura role of the maid Despina, as was immediately established in her first aria on the art and necessity of flirtation. She was not quite so successful in changing her voice to match her disguises, first as the doctor and then as the notary.

Baritone Allan Monk as Guglielmo, lover of Fiordiligi, and tenor Lawrence Boyle of Ferrando, Dorabella's fiance, were well matched with the girls.

Bass William Fleck was by no means the cynical old man, as Don Alfonso is often played, but a suave, sophisticated bachelor responsible for the bet that all women prove faithless which forms the core of the plot. He had a fine voice and perhaps the best diction of all the singers.

Adding much to the enjoyment were beautiful costumes. I was pleased that when disguised as Albanians the two men were not made to look like buffoons, as is sometimes done and the good English translation that is important for many not accustomed to opera.

Musical director Richard Woitach led the small orchestra in a bright, efficient manner and tempo that kept everything moving at the right lively pace.

There was a large audience, but not many of the young people who are hearing a different beat nowadays or off doing the athletic things possible on a sunny day.

Final program in the series will be presented by classical guitarists The Romeros Sept. 21 at 3 p.m.

During World War I, the Presidio of San Francisco was an officer's training camp for the 11 Western States.

Minor Injuries In Auto Crash

A two-car collision on Drake's View Drive near Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 3:45 p.m. yesterday afternoon resulted in minor injuries to two persons, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Mark William Baldrige, 22, of La Honda, and his passenger, Peggy Ann Wilson, 20, of Redwood City, were injured when their car collided with one driven by Betty May Heilig, 55, of 490 Pinewood Drive, San Rafael.

Baldrige complained of a sore wrist and right knee and a chest pain and suffered a bump and cut on his forehead. Miss Wilson had pains in both knees and a shoulder, the patrol said. Both refused treatment.

Burglary Reported In Sleepy Hollow Home

A burglar has stolen an estimated $450 in change from a Sleepy Hollow residence, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Deputies said the thief took a five-gallon jar containing 38 pounds of coins and three small coin banks Wednesday afternoon from the residence of Gerald F. Kerleher, 31 Dutch Valley Lane.

Girl Drowns In Pool At Her Home

Thirty-month-old Kelly Germanine McMurtry accidentally drowned Saturday afternoon at her home at 335 Crown Road, Kent Woodlands, the sheriff's office has reported.

Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMurtry, drowned shortly after noon in the yard of her home after she walked to the pool unobserved by adults.

Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan reported the child apparently fell in to the pool and was missing about 15 minutes before the accident was discovered. She was reported dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital at 1 p.m.

Kentfield firemen tried to revive her with heart massage, mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and a resusciator, to no avail.

The child had lived in Marin about two months. Funeral is pending at Oak Hill Mortuary, San Jose.

Mystery Death For Skydiver

OCEANSIDE (UPI) — An autopsy will be performed on a veteran skydiver who died Saturday while making his second jump of the day at the Oceanside parachute drop zone.

Robert L. Bolger, 31, Los Angeles, jumped from about 6,000 feet, went through his planned maneuvers, and was about to open his parachute when he seemed to double over in pain, police said.

Witnesses said he managed to open the chute, but it was too late and he hit the ground with it only partially filled. Bolger had made 142 jumps previously.

Painting Theft

A $150 fingerpainting was stolen from the home of Edward Cannon at 4200 Paradise Drive yesterday, deputies at the Marin City sheriff's office substation reported today.

Woman Who Hit Kiesinger Gets Suspended Sentence

BERLIN (AP) — A Berlin-born Frenchwoman was given a four-month suspended jail sentence with three years probation today for striking West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger in the eye last November.

Attorneys for Beate Klarsfeld, 30, the defendant, filed a cross-complaint in the West Berlin Appeals Court charging Kiesinger with insult because of his Nazi past.

Kiesinger, a former member of the Nazi party, worked in the radio propaganda section of the wartime Foreign Office in Berlin. Attorney Horst Mahler, speaking for Mrs. Klarsfeld, said Kiesinger's public office, despite his past Nazi connection, was an insult to his client.

Mrs. Klarsfeld struck the chancellor at a political rally in West Berlin last Nov. 7. The same day a court handed her a one-year prison sentence, which she appealed.

Judge Wolfgang Taegener noted there were mitigating circumstances in that the parents of Mrs. Klarsfeld's husband died in a Nazi concentration camp and that she felt she acted out of political conviction.

And An Hour Later He Was Hungry Again

David D. Smiley of 512 Browning Court, Tamalpais Valley, got a Chinese dinner and three rolls of chicken wire Saturday that he didn't order.

Smiley reported to sheriff's deputies that someone ordered the dinner and wire in his name and it was delivered Saturday.

Boy, 10, Leads 775 Runners In Dipsea Race

DOWN THEY GO—Runners kicked up a cloud of dust as they trotted down steep hillside into Muir Woods. It was a warm day but the Pacific Ocean at Stinson Beach beckoned most of them to the finish.

JIM GILMARTIN

Feeling Run Down? Try Dipsea Course

Feeling a little run down today, Bunkies? Too pooped to stoop? Does your heart go pfft-pfft when it should go thump-thump? Somebody slip a Mickey into your Serutan? Do you breathe hard buttering your toast?

Well, if that's what is troubling you, Bunkie, step right up and meet Dr. Paul Spangler of San Luis Obispo, one of the 733 persons who finished the 6.8-mile, mountainous Dipsea Race from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach yesterday.

Oh, Dr. Spangler had a little perspiration on him and a few drops of blood from a spill, but he was chipper as he pranced around the finish line, downing a quart of Gatorade thirst-quencher.

Just What The Doctor Ordered

"This," he said with a wave of the hand back over the torturous Dipsea Trail, "is part of my prescription. I lecture on heart disease and I practice what I preach. I've been running and jogging for about three and a half years. Just last May I won a trophy in the Bay-To-Breakers Race in San Francisco. I'll keep on running in these events as long as I can. I'll live to be 100."

Dr. Spangler, who has 19 grandchildren, is 70 years old. I mean young.

THE HEAT, it was about 85 degrees along the trail, took its toll yesterday. If anyone wants to go into the T-shirt business there are a couple of dozen discarded shirts along the route, according to runner Doug Smith of Stinson Beach.

THERE WAS a bit of nostalgia at the beach when three quite well-known Dipseans got together. First, Norman Bright, who set the still-standing Dipsea record of 47 minutes, 22 seconds in 1937, visited the Dipsea for the first time since his record run. Now 59 years old, Bright is a guidance counsellor in the Seattle school system and still has the track shoes he used in 1937.

He had a nice chat with Dr. Robert Furlong of San Rafael who ran the second annual Dipsea in 1906 and estimates he has seen more than 50 of the 59 races.

Special Sportsmanship Trophy

And don't overlook the remarkably young old timer Jack Kirk, the Dipsea Demon who ran it for the 36th time, having won it twice, in 1951 and 1967. Now 63, Kirk, a National Forestery employee from Yosemite, finished 21st yesterday — the slow poke.

A SPECIAL sportsmanship trophy should go to 12-year-old Mike Wolford, also of Yosemite, who was bumped from third place far down the list due to a handicapping error by the sponsoring Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mike, who turned 12 three days ago and thus was eligible for only 3 instead of 16 minutes handicap, just smiled and shrugged his shoulders at the demotion in the standings.

Two knowledgeable runners rated the Dipsea race one of the toughest courses in the world. Forry Rodd of Alameda, 46-year-old airlines navigator, says it is "infinitely harder than the Boston Marathon." He's run them both, finishing second in the Dipsea yesterday, and says "Boston is like a sprint compared to this."

It Takes A Little Preparation

San Francisco State track coach Bob Lualhati says his wife wanted to run the Dipsea with him. "But, I told her this takes a little preparation. She hasn't run around the corner and isn't quite ready for the toughest course in the world."

SUDDEN THOUGHT: Stinson Beach's population of 500 was outnumbered by the contestants at the finish line. The official final count of finishers was 733.

Winner Vance Eberly, 10-year-old fifth grader, said he got lost last year when placing 35th but practiced hard and learned the tricky Dipsea trail quite well this year. "In fact," he smiled, his blue eyes sparkling below his blond bangs "I found a couple of short cuts this time."

Eberly Is Champ Of Long, Hot Run

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

A 10-year-old fifth grader from San Jose led an army of more than 775 men and women, boys and girls across the hills and valleys of southern Marin County yesterday to win the 59th running of the famed Dipsea Handicap Race from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach.

Youngest winner in the history of the time-honored test of man against mountain is blond Vance Eberly who was timed across the 6.8-mile route in 57 minutes and 59 seconds. He had the full 16-minute handicap along with about 400 others.

Best time trophy in this handicap event went for the second straight year to scratch runner Byron Lowry, 22-year-old San Jose State College senior from Lancaster in southern California who was clocked at 47 minutes, 39 seconds, an improvement of 20 seconds over his 1968 clocking and only 17 seconds off the 32-year-old record of 47:22 set in 1937 by Norman Bright of the San Francisco Olympic Club. Bright attended yesterday's race for the first time since he set his mark.

VANCE EBERLY
Youngest champ

Sixteen-year-old Novato High School star Ron Elijah turned in the fastest time by a high school runner, 48:04, placing seventh, right behind Lowry, and helping the Marin Athletic Club tie the Olympic Club for the team championship each with 66 points based on order of finish.

Vance Eberly carried the banner for two prominent organizations — the San Jose Yearlings, a boys' track club of about 25 members, and the Eberly Clan that included his two sisters, Vicki, 14, and Valerie, 13, and his widowed mother, Myrrah, 36.

Vicki placed 23rd, the first of more than three dozen female entrants to finish and she and her mother won another trophy as the first mother-daughter team to finish, mom coming in 637th. Valerie was the third female across.

61-POUNDER

Vance Eberly, who stands 4 feet, 7 inches tall and weighs 61 pounds, says he wants to be a runner when he grows up. He placed 35th in his Dipsea debut last year and attributes the great leap to first place to alot of hard practice, running seven miles a day with the Yearlings, plus a couple of practice runs across the Dipsea in the past two weeks.

He and 12-year-old Mike Wolford of Yosemite were running neck and neck until Vance

Suyderhoud's Pressure Leap Wins; Novato Girl Second

Mike Suyderhoud did what comes naturally for him yesterday, and he couldn't have picked a better time for it.

The 19-year-old San Anselmo proved once again that he was the best water ski jumper in the world at the Berkeley Aquatic Club after being handed a challenge that could have cost him his national men's overall crown in the climax of the four-day National Water Ski Championships.

Mike had to come up with one of his best jumps ever after Allan Kempton, of Tampa, Fla., soared 155 feet in his bid to dethrone Suyderhoud as National champ.

Suyderhoud came right back with a 158-foot effort, four feet short of his world record of 162 feet, but more than good enough to win the event and the overall title.

Suyderhoud, who recently won the world championship at Copenhagen for the second straight time, had finished second in the tricks and slalom, but needed a win in the jump to take the overall title, leading Kempton by only 57 points in the overall race. He did just that.

Mrs. Thelma Salmas of Novato was unsuccessful in her bid to capture her third straight senior women's title, bowing to Mrs. Artis Price of Mundelein, Ill., who wrapped up the title Saturday. Mrs. Salmas did win the jump Saturday with a 78-foot effort, but by then, it was too late. She finished second overall.

SHARON SECOND

Miss Allan again swept all three events, in much the same pattern that took her to a world crown in Copenhagen. She won the tricks yesterday with 3,692 points, while Sharon had 3,277 points.

METS, BUCS HELP

Giants In First!

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Surprise, surprise. The San Francisco Giants, perennial bridesmaids, are not wedded to second place.

The Giants, National League runners-up for four straight seasons, find themselves in first place in the red hot West division today. That's what winning will do for you.

San Francisco climbed into the top spot with a 6-4 decision over Montreal yesterday — its fifth straight victory — as Bobby Bonds drove in three runs, Willie McCovey ran his RBI total to an even 100 and Juan Marichal won his 15th game.

Still the Giants needed help to move to the top. And they got it from New York and Pittsburgh. The Mets completed a three-game sweep from Los Angeles, beating the Dodgers 7-4, and Pittsburgh slugged Cincinnati 9-4.

Atlanta kept pace with a 14 inning 4-1 decision over St. Louis and Houston split with Chicago, losing 10-9 before winning 3-2. Philadelphia tripped San Diego 6-4 in Sunday's other National League action.

ON TOP

Bonds hit his 25th homer and McCovey tagged his 39th as the Giants wiped out an early 2-0 Expo lead.

The Giants were leading 4-2 when Montreal strafed Marichal for a pair of runs in the eighth, tying the score. But San Francisco bounced right back.

Don Mason opened the ninth with a single, moved up on a wild pitch and scored the tie-breaking run on Ron Hunt's double. Then a sacrifice and Bonds' fly ball brought Hunt home with an insurance run.

Meanwhile, the Mets punished the Dodgers with Ron Swoboda's bases-loaded double chasing home three runs in the seventh inning and turning the game around. Singles by Cleon Jones and Art Shamsky and a bunt single by Ken Boswell had loaded the bases for Swoboda,

PRO GRID ROUNDUP

Chiefs Drop A Bombshell With Easy Win Over Rams

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Jets, pro football kings of 1968, visit the Oakland Raiders tonight with the big blasts generated Saturday night by the Kansas City Chiefs still ringing in their ears.

The Chiefs bombed the Los Angeles Rams of the National League 42-14 and the Jets, even though this is only the exhibition campaign, undoubtedly are impressed with the belief that Kansas City may be the big hurdle in this year's American League title path and not the Raiders, who won out in the West a year ago.

The Jets have a 2-1 exhibition record, having beaten the College All-Stars and the New York Giants and losing to the St. Louis Cardinals. Oakland has lost all three starts to Kansas City, Baltimore and San Diego.

Kansas City defeated the Raiders 23-17 on Aug. 2.

One other game is scheduled tonight. The Detroit Lions play the Boston Patriots in Montreal.

Kansas City's thrashing of the Rams made the loudest noise so far in this aging exhibition season. The Chiefs have won all of their tests and are the only unbeaten AFL club.

President Nixon and 58,305 other spectators watched the Chiefs come from behind twice and ran roughshod over the Rams. Len Dawson's passes were too much. He pitched a 72-yard strike to Frank Pitts and 33 yards to Gloster Richardson, completing 22 of 32 for 418 yards.

The Rams' Roman Gabriel was no match although he found receivers on 16 of 29 for 205 yards and one touchdown.

In other games Saturday night, the Dallas Cowboys swamped Green Bay 31-13; the Minnesota Vikings routed St. Louis 41-13; the Cleveland Browns and the San Diego Chargers fought to a 19-19 deadlock; the Denver Broncos edged the San Francisco 49ers 19-15; the Pittsburgh Steelers downed the New Orleans Saints 34-24; the Cincinnati Bengals tripped the Miami Dolphins 28-21 and the Washington Redskins ripped the Atlanta Falcons 24-7.

Baltimore beat Buffalo 20-7 and Houston nipped the Chicago Bears 19-17 Friday night.

COWBOY STAR

Speedster Bob Hayes was the star for Dallas against Green Bay. He leaped between two clinging Packer backs with one of Craig Morton's passes in the fourth period for 18 yards and a touchdown. However, a 58-yard touchdown pass from halfback Danny Reeves to Lance Rentzel touched off the Cowboys' offensive fire in the second period.

Minnesota blended Gary Cuozzo's fine passing with a furious ground attack to crush the Cardinals. Cuozzo threw two payoff passes, Fred Cox contributed two field goals, Gary Larson recovered an end zone fumble and Clinton Jones and Bill Brown tallied on ground jabs.

Cleveland was able to tie San Diego when rookie defensive back Walt Sumner blocked a 10-yard field goal attempt with 17 seconds left. After the Chargers were stopped on the one-yard line, Dennis Partee tried the placement, but Sumner broke through.

Dick Shiner led Pittsburgh to its conquest of New Orleans by firing two touchdown passes.

Wanted Badly: A 49er Victory

DENVER (AP) — The American Football League Denver Broncos are having no problems getting good performances out of two quarter-backs but the San Francisco 49ers still are looking for a victory out of one.

Pete Liske, a former Canadian League football standout, flipped a 41-yard touchdown pass to Mike Haffner Saturday night as the Broncos bested the NFL 49ers 19-15. Liske played only the second half at quarterback while Steve Tensi set up three Denver field goals in the first half.

For San Francisco, still looking for an exhibition football victory, John Brodie stayed in through most of the game and couldn't lead the club to a touchdown. It was only in the last four minutes that reserve Steve Spurrier, the former Heisman Trophy winner, came on for the 49ers and passed for a two-yard score.

PROBLEMS

'We needed that win," said a happy Lou Saban in the Denver dressing room. "I thought the defense was great and both units did a good job. We really made a comeback from last week."

While Saban was in top form, a couple of doors down in the 49er dressing room, coach Dick Nolan had his problems.

"They (Denver) played a good game and held tough all the way," he said. "Brodie had some tough luck in the first half or else we could have had a couple of scores. Penalties killed us."

Brodie, who slipped away from the dressing room shortly after the game, overthrew his receivers in the first half but settled down later when he found rookie Gene Washington of Stanford several times. He threw three interceptions, including one in the third quarter that set up the only Denver touchdown.

KIND WORDS

Saban had kind words for both his quarterbacks, fighting for the starting job when the Broncos open their season against the Boston Patriots. He said Liske started slow "but came on and got us a touchdown and that's what counts."

Tensi nearly had a touchdown himself but fumbled the snap from center on the 49ers one-yard line and San Francisco recovered.

Nolan did not say whether Brodie, who several season back signed a $900,000 contract, would start the 49ers next game.

RAIDERS-JETS

Sparks Should Fly Tonight In Oakland

OAKLAND (AP) — The New York Jets and the Oakland Raiders, who give off sparks every time they walk onto the same football field, meet in an American Football League exhibition game here tonight.

The last time they met was in the AFL title game in New York last year, won 27-23 by the Jets in a thriller. The time before that, the Raiders won 43-32, scoring two touchdowns in the final minute.

The Raiders have beaten the Jets twice in exhibition play but are winless in three preseason games this year. The Jets are 2-1.

Both teams figure to use their veterans about half of the game and let their rookies and substitutes play the rest of the time.

NAMATH-LAMONICA

Joe Namath of the Jets and Daryle Lamonica of the Raiders will start at quarterback in the game that will be televised only in the New York area.

Today's game will start at 8 o'clock. A printing error on game tickets listed the starting time at 7.

The Oakland Coliseum's 53,000 seats will be filled and an all-time record for parking lot confusion may be set. A circus is going on at the same time in the adjacent Oakland Arena.

Namath has the edge over Lamonica in the passing department through three games.

Namath has completed 37 of 66 passes for 535 yards, three touchdowns, three interceptions and a 56.1 percentage. Lamonica has hit on 25 of 52 passes for 345 yards, three touchdowns, two interceptions and a 48.1 percentage.

Wes Parker homered for the Dodgers, who dropped their fourth straight. The victory gave the Mets 11 triumphs in 12 tries against the Giants and Dodgers in New York this season.

Gene Alley rapped an inside-the-park homer and Willie Stargell tagged one of the conventional kind, leading the Pirate attack. Alley has hit all of his six homers in the last 10 days, five of them against the Reds.

Hank Aaron unloaded his 34th homer of the season, breaking a 14th inning tie and giving Atlanta its victory over St. Louis. Aaron connected with two out, rewarding four innings of one-hit relief by George Stone, who started the Braves' winning rally with a single.

CEPEDA HOMERS

Orlando Cepeda tied it for Atlanta in the eighth with his 20th home run of the year and fourth against the Cardinals, his ex-teammates

Houston had pulled out to an early 8-3 lead before three runs in the seventh and four more in the eighth pulled it out for Chicago. Banks' second homer of the game and 19th of the season climaxed the final raily.

The Astros salvaged the split on Don Wilson's six-hitter with the deciding run crossing the plate in the sixth inning on a bases-loaded walk to Doug Rader.

Forry Rodd of Alameda, a 46-year-old navigator for United Air Lines, finished second while Wolford placed third, then was dropped far down the list by embarassed officials of the sponsoring Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce who discovered an error on their part. Wolford was given the full 16-minute handicap when, as a 12-year-old, he was entitled to only 3 minutes.

Jaycees officials said 775 persons started the race under warm cloudless skies and 733 finished. Several dropouts re-records. Several dropouts required medical attention as the result of heat and spills along the rugged course.

Bee Kilgore In Two Wins

Bee, who will be a freshman at San Domenico School for Girls in Sleepy Hollow this yearn teamed up with Susan Memedbasich to take the girls 14 crown with a 6-4, 6-2 win over Madelyn Colombo and Joy Hahn.

She and Lissy Manheim of Tiburon stunned top-seeded Pam Mitchell and Nancy Crawford of Menlo Park, 6-2, 6-2, to take the girls 16 crown.

Cardinal Grabs Peacock Gap Junior Title

Cardinal, one down Friday after 18 holes in the 36-hole final, came back to take command Saturday, clinching it on the 14th hole with a birdie while Doris was getting a par.

Defending champion John Helwig was ousted Wednesday by Kelly Wolfe, who lost in the semifinals Thursday.

Rick Barry To Learn Fate Today; Will He Move, Stay Put, Retire?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Earl Foreman, who now owns a majority of the Oakland Oaks stock, sought today to induce Oakland's No. 1 player, Rick Barry, to become a Washington Capitol.

The two were to meet in the Los Angeles office of Barry's attorney, Robert Holtzman.

Foreman assume the Oaks' $2.6 million in liabilities last week and said the defending American Basketball Association champions would be moved to Washington and be called the Capitols.

Barry, like his coach, Alex Hannum, owns 15 per cent of the franchise. Fifteen per cent has been estimated by Hannum to be worth $390,000. Hannum has refused to go to Washington and says he will apply for an ABA franchise in Albuquerque.

WANTS TO STAY

In an airport interview yesterday after arriving in San Francisco from basketball clinics in Massachusetts and New Hampshire, Barry made it clear he does not want to leave the San Francisco Bay Area.

But he has two years to play on a $75,000 a year contract now owned by Foreman.

Asked whether or not there is a clause making him a free agent should the Oaks move or the ABA fold, Barry said:

"If I can be released from the contract, we'll find out."

Ken Davidson, who owned 51 per cent of the Oaks, said the agreement applied only if the ABA went out of business.

TWO CHOICES

"I think he has two choices, play in Washington or retire," Davidson said.

Barry hinted strongly he would play.

"If I have to go back, I'll just have to make the best of it," the 6-foot-7 supershooter said.

The star from Miami University of Florida is still sought by the San Francisco Warriors. With them he led the National Basketball Association in scoring with an average of 35.6 points per game in 1966-67 before jumping to the Oaks.

A court order forced Barry to sit out the 1967-68 season. Last year, he averaged 34.0 a game for the Oaks before missing the second half of the season with a knee injury.

Still pending is an appeal by the Warriors on the judge's decision that allowed Barry to join the Oaks.

"I'll go where he goes," she said.

"We just bought a new house in Orinda," an Oakland suburb, Barry said. "Pam has already made plenty of friends in the neighborhood. Moving will be tougher on her."

San Rafael Ties For Baseball Title

By GARY TISHLER

MONTEREY — The San Rafael Braves got drowned by a muddy river yesterday.

As a result, they will have to share the San Jose Travel League semidpro baseball title with El Cerrito, alias Hatzell Radio.

The Braves pulled into Monterey yesterday, riding the crest of a nine-game winning streak and needing a sweep of a doubleheader with the Seaside Bombers. They got a split instead, losing the first game to the appetizing but frustrating junk of a gentleman named Muddy Rivers, who stopped them, 4-1.

Not surprisingly, the Braves came back to bomb the Bombers, 11-1, in the second game, behind a 14-hit barrage and the pitching of Ben Burch. But El Cerrito had already won a pair by that time and the tie was on.

SLOW SPEEDS

Good old Muddy was the difference. He threw more junk than you can find at the San Rafael dumps, changing his speeds from slow, to slower to very slow, but the Braves, with a 300-foot right-field fence beckoning, couldn't solve Muddy, who might have been Satchel Paige's cousin, away.

Only Dave Edson caught Rivers in a mistake, pulling a fat third-inning offering over the homer fence for the Braves' only run. The rest of the way, the Braves knocked on the door loudly but couldn't open it.

They loaded the bases in the final two innings, but strikeouts ended both threats. In the sixth, big Art Blunt strike out on a curve just above his shins. In the seventh, after pinch-hitters Carl Mathews and John Burnett had loaded them up, pinch-hitter Jess Jacinto fanned to end the threat.

DILLON LOSES

Meanwhile, Russ Dillon made just enough mistakes to lose for the Braves, although he was humming the ball like a pro. One of the mistakes was a fat offering to Rivers, who dumped one for a two-run, lazy fly homer that went over the right centerfield fence in the fifth inning.

The other was a balk call with a runner on third, the only time the umpires even noticed Dillon's patented pickoff throw to first. Dillon tried the pickoff five times.

The second game was a genuine laugher. Burch dazzled the Bombers into submission while the Braves chased three Seaside pitchers in a long game that streteched all the way to six o'clock.

Tom Corder, Rocky Shone, Burch and Mathews all had two hits while Corder played an outstanding game at shortstop. Burch struck out 11 batters in winding up with an 9-1 won -lost season record.

The Braves finished at 11-3 in league play and had a 31-8 season record.

Koss Team Splits Tourney Game

Paul Koss Supply is still alive in the Western Regional Softball tournament, splitting two games over the weekend in Mountain View.

Novato's Doug Tanner singled in two runs to lead Koss to a 4-0 win over Petaluma in the opening game Saturday.

A homer in the seventh inning yesterday, however, gave Santa Clara County's representative, Leblank Engineering, a 4-3 decision over the Koss Supply team.

San Rafael's Steve Lebeck tripled and scored on a wold pitch in the sixth inning to tie the score at 3-3, but the second batter in the seventh for Leblank hit a home run to win the game.

The tournament continues next weekend, with the winner to go to the national tournament in Springfield, Mo. in September.

Sweep Gives A's Big Morale Lift

OAKLAND (UPI) — Reggie Jackson, who is under the greatest pressure of them all, said it best for his Oakland A's teammates:

"No question, beating the Orioles, whom I think are the best team in baseball, three times has to make us serious contenders. But even more important, help our morale."

Jackson was speaking moments after the A's had beaten the Orioles, 9-8, in the second game of a long Sunday doubleheader to go only two games behind Minnesota in the American League West race.

Jackson, who had seemed to fade in his bid for the single season homer record, lashed his 44th and 45th round trippers and drove in seven runs in all as the A's took both ends of the twinbill. They won the opener, 9-0, but by the time the second game ended—on Ted Kubiak's two-out single in the bottom of the 18th—hardly anyone remembered what happened in the opener.

HAPPIEST WARRIOR

Jackson had reason to be happy with his day's work but Kubiak, who finally got a chance to play in the second game, was the happiest warrior in eight previous at-bats in the nightcap, which took five hours and eight minutes to play, but when he hit his game winning single, Ted jumped with glee, and so, too, did A's owner Charlie Finley, who sat through the long doubleheader.

Jackson hit a homer in each game. His 45th came in the 123rd game played by the A's this year and left him nine games ahead of Babe Ruth's 60-homer pace of 1927 and six behind Roger Maris' 61 homer pace of 1961.

THE PRESSURE

Is the pressure beginning to tell on Jackson?

"It's (the pressure) been of the season," said Jackson. "KI guess you might say I feel it more now, but honestly, the only thing I'm really worked up about is helping the club win the pennant. If I get the record, that would be great."

Reggie's 44th homer in his first at-bat of the opener gave Chuck Dobson all the help he was to need in posting his 14th victory against 10 losses. Chuck gave up eight hits but was in command all the way.

AVCO CLASSIC

Young Lions On Prowl In Golf

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Tom Shaw is a blond, smiling young man who is typical of the young lions who are moving into a dominant position in pro golf—a movement that Bobby Stanton says is just beginning.

"There will be even more young players winning next year than this," the slim, 23-year old Australian predicted yesterday after finishing one shot back of Shaw in the $150,000 Avco Golf Classic.

"The younger players practice more," Stanton said. "The older guys are lazy. They don't work as hard at it. If they shoot a 66, that's fine. If they shoot a 76 that's fine, too.

"And players like (Arnold) Palmer, (Jack) Nicklaus and (Gary) Player aren't playing as much as they used to. Someone has to win. And it will be the young ones."

Shaw, 26, who won the Doral Open earlier this year, led the first three rounds, but faltered in the muggy going on the final 18, shooting a fat 77, five over par on the 7,212-yard Pleasant Valley Country Club course.

He finished with a 280 while Stanton, who had a final 71, was at 281.

Tom Weiskopf took third place with a 66 for 283, while Player bowed out of his current United States tour with a 76 for 294. Nicklaus bypassed the event while Palmer, nursing an ailing hip, served as a television commentator.

Parnelli Jones until the 36th lap, when Jones' Mustang started having transmission trouble. His car caught fire and Jones was forced out on the 44th lap.

"The guy who flies away at the beginning is not always the winner," remarked Donohue. "You have to have a car under you when you finish."

Donohue won $3,200 and another $2,000 in manufacturers' prizes.

Peter Gregg of Jacksonville, Fla., placed 10th in a Porsche 911 and captured first for cars under two liters, winning $1,400.

A crowd of 15,300 watched the race, finished by 21 of the 32 starters.

1. Mark Donohue, Media, Pa., Camaro, $3,200.

Tiburon Captures Marin Swim Title

Marinwood, the regular season dual meet champion of the Marin County Swim League, ran into rough waters at the sixth annual Marin Swim League Championships at College of Marin yesterday.

Tiburon Peninsula won the meet's team title, marking the first time in the history of the meet that the dual meet champion has not won the team title inthe big meet.

Tiburon racked up 488 points, followed by Lucas Valley with 433 points and Marinwood with 390 points. Rafael Racquet Club was next with 211 points, followed by Terra Linda with 210, Strawberry with 115 and San Marin with 75 points.

Marinwood had won all six regular season dual meets.

Some 600 young swimmers showed up for the meet and three of them came home triple winners.

They were Stacey Hoffmire of Lucas Valley in girls' 11-12 age group, Scott Dieker of the Rafael Racquet Club in boys' 13-14 and Cris DeMont of Tiburon Peninsual in girls' 15-17.

27 RECORDS

Tiburon Peninsula led the assault on meet record getting 14 of the 27 new records.

Top performers in each age group were named. They were Betsy Shaw, Lucas Valley, girls' 8-under; Carol Lindstrom, Tiburon, boys' 8-under; Jerry Carter, Tiburon, girls 9-10; Cary Stansbury, Lucas Valley, boys' 9-10; Stacey Hoffmire, Lucas Valley, girls' 11-12; Chris Jones, Marinwood, boys' 11-12; Cathy Mullowney, Marinwood, girls' 13-14; Scott Dicker, Rafael Racquet, boys' 13-14; Cris DeMont, Tiburon, girls' 15-17 and Dave Tang, Rafael Racquet, boys' 15-17.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1718 New Orleans was founded.

In 1921 the United States signed a peace treaty with Germany, bringing World War I to an official end.

In 1944 American troops liberated Paris.

In 1950 President Harry Truman seized the nation's railroads to prevent a general strike.

A thought for the day: James Monroe said, "National honor is national property of the highest value."

Wyoming Department Serves Locally, Too

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI)— The Wyoming Department of Public Health is probably unique in the United States in that it not only must carry out statutory and governmental programs on the state level but also provide services at the local level that ordinarily would be carried out by local health units in more densely populated states.

The divisions functioning under the Wyoming Department of Public Health are the division of crippled children, division of maternal and child health, division of dental health, division of preventive medicine, division of sanitation and division of nursing.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

This Hand Is Test Of The Ability To Foresee Disaster

Today's hand, played some years ago in the annual Intercollegiate Tournament, was a test of the ability to foresee bad breaks. Several thousand college students played the hand in more than a hundred colleges, but only a few were pessimistic and forethoughtful enough to come up with the right answer.

CORRECT CONTRACT

In most cases South got to the correct contract of five diamonds, and West usually opened the jack of clubs.

South can expect to win seven trumps, two top clubs and the ace of spades. The eleventh trick, needed for the game contract, can come only from developing dummy's long club suit.

Declarer naturally thinks first of taking the top clubs and ruffing a low club. If each opponent has exactly three clubs, declarer can get back to dummy with the king of diamonds in order to win tricks with the last two clubs. South will thus win 12 tricks.

UNFAVORABLE ODDS

The trouble with this plan is that the odds are almost 2 to 1 against a 3-3 break of the missing six clubs. The suit is more likely to break 4-2.

To guard against the expected 4-2 break of the six missing clubs, South should play a low club from the dummy at the first trick.

East's best play is to overtake with the queen of clubs in order to return the queen of spades through South. South wins with the ace of spades, draws two rounds of trumps with the ace and queen, and then leads a club to dummy's king.

A CLUB RUFF

Now South can easily cash the ace of clubs and ruff a club. This establishes dummy's last club as a good trick, and South can get back to dummy with the king of diamonds to discard a spade on the good club. This assures the contract.

Stocks In Downturn After A Good Week

Most analysts felt that the recent rally "simply tired in the absence of major news," as one of them phrased it.

Among the most active issues were Bethlehem Steel, Brunswick, Texaco, Natomas and City Investing.

Most steels were on the soft side.

Weakness also cropped up in the conglomerate area, although most losses were in fractions.

Natomas and Atlantic Richfield were among the biggest movers in the mostly easier oil group. Airlines also came down after climbing sharply Friday. Aircrafts and rails were mixed.

There were several point-plus losers in the electronics, including IBM.

Prices also softened on the American Stock Exchange in moderate turnover.

Investment Aid Firms In Merger

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Two of the largest investment counsel firms in the west — Turrell, Dahl & Belden and Bergues, Wentworth & Co. — have merged to form the new firm of Wentworth, Dahl & Belden.

Main office is in the Crocker Plaza Building, with branches in Los Angeles and Carmel.

The combined firm will be one of the largest investment counseling organizations in the nation. Both firms were founded in 1937.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

McDonnell Douglas Has Growth Promise

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I purchased McDonnell Douglas at 48 and 34. I hate to take a loss but will, if necessary. What's your opinion of this stock? — S. K.

A. As you seem financially able to hold McDonnell Douglas as a long-range speculation, I think you should. Company officials say they are looking ahead to 1975 or 1976 for celebrating their success in marketing the new DC-10 airbus and their satisfaction with the 1967 merger of their two companies.

The airbus goes into operation in 1971 when MD's initial orders are delivered to American Airlines and United Air Lines. Orders are up from other carriers but have not reached the break-even point. MD's deliveries of its DC-8 and DC-9 commercial jets and it's F-4 military planes has accelerated.

Commercial sales during 1969 are expected to be well over 50 per cent of the year's total. I believe that the company could grow vigorously in the 1970s and, if my estimates prove valid, share price could advance to the mid-50s.

Q. I sold Alcan Aluminum and Domtar, both Canadian. My broker assured me that these transactions are not subject to the interest equalization tax. What shares are subject to this tax? — W. E.

A. When a foreign security, owned by a foreigner, is purchased by an American citizen, the American owner becomes liable for the interest equalization tax.

Bank Of America To Manage Alaska Funds

JUNEAU (BW) — Gov. Keith H. Miller has announced the State of Alaska's money from the Sept. 10 sales of North Slope Oil leases will be managed by Bank of America, San Francisco, the largest commercial bank in the world.

Gov. Miller said the state has entered into an investment agency agreement with the Bank of America for collection and investment of the funds. He said the bank was chosen after extensive study and consultation with financial experts throughout the nation.

York-Portsmouth Merger Approved By Stock Exchange

The acquisition of York Securities Corp., investment securities firm and member of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange, by Portsmouth Square, Inc. is now expected to be completed by Sept. 10.

Palmer York Jr., president of both companies, said completion of the merger has been made possible by a resolution adopted last week by governors of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange approving in principle the direct or indirect public ownership of exchange member firms.

Portsmouth Square stockholders voted last May to acquire York and at that time established a Sept. 10 deadline, pending approval by the exchange.

York formed Portsmouth Square in 1967 to supply organizational management and part of the equity for a 572-room hotel and 460-stall garage to be built at the site of the old Hall of Justice on Kearny Street, San Francisco. Construction is now under way.

No Detroit Dividend

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit Steel Corp. has decided to omit the dividend on common stock for the third quarter this year. The company has been paying 15 cents a share quarterly.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Better Business Bureau Warns Of Rise In Promotion Gimmicks

A rapid increase in questionable sales promotion gimmicks and businesses in Marin and Sonoma counties recently has been reported by the Better Business Bureau.

People are particularly warned to be skeptical of mail solicitations in unmarked envelopes with offers of prizes — also telephone solicitations with simple questions that, when answered correctly, supposedly entitle the winner to a prize if both the husband and wife will come to a certain address or store.

What usually happens is that they end up buying a merchandise package they don't really want at a price that definitely is no bargain.

Patronize reliable merchants when making any major purchase. If tempted to do business with an unfamiliar firm, door-to-door salesman, telephone or mail solicitor, check first with the Better Business Bureau of San Francisco, Ltd., which also covers Marin and Sonoma counties.

An investigator is now working full time on this side of the bay and a branch office is eventually planned.

JOSEPH A. CLYDE of San Rafael has joined the investment securities firm, Charles J. Francis Co., San Rafael, as an account executive. He was Northern California branch manager, consumer products division, for Sperry Rand Corp. before entering the investment field in 1968.

FIRST PART of a three-part Insurance Institute of America general insurance study program will be held tomorrow night at Bank of Marin, San Rafael. It is being sponsored by the Insurance Women of Marin and further details may be obtained from Mrs. Fan Beam, president of that organization, at the office of Fred A. Banducci in San Rafael.

REAL ESTATE: Webster V. Norton of San Rafael has joined the staff of Don Timmer, Realtor. He has been six years with Davis, Egnew and Watt since his retirement from Southern Pacific Co. . . . An organizational meeting for real estate brokers interested in devoting part of their time toward the preparation of tax returns will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. It is sponsored by Lumbleau Real Estate Schools.

RUSSELL G. JOHNSON of Kentfield has been named San Francisco area manager for the refinery and chemical division of Bechtel Corp. He has been with the company 27 years. He was chief engineer of the division for six years and subsequently spent five years as manager of operations in London. Recently he has been responsible for refinery and chemical project management in San Francisco.

BERNARD F. SELIGMAN of Sleepy Hollow and his wife Arvilla have returned from a conference of key distributors of Nutrilite products held in Anaheim. He has represented Nutrilite Products, Inc for almost 20 years.

RONALD W. MURPHY, assistant manager for Home Life Insurance Co. in San Rafael, has received the National Sales Achievement Award from the National Association of Life Underwriters for his 1968 sales record.

WESTERN BANCORPORATION (parent company of United California Bank) directors have voted to increase the quarterly dividend from 30 cents to 42.5 cents per share, payable Sept. 30. This raises the annual dividend rate from $1.20 to $1.30 per share.

PERINI CORP. has reported a drop in construction and real estate revenues to $63.3 million for the six months ended June 30 from $76.2 million a year ago. Earnings were down from 28 cents to 19 cents per share.

"Now, make me a newspaper by tonight"

Tall order . . . since a complete newspaper such as the Independent-Journal is at once the most complex yet lowest-priced product that can be made in one day.

Every day a new "model" . . . delivered by nightfall. To do this job against the clock—

- our 18 reporters comb the county, observing, interviewing, phoning, writing, getting the facts for you.
- thousands of AP and UPI newsmen check the world for you, put its pulse on the wire.
- teletypes chatter some 120,000 words to us, from as close as Mill Valley, as far away as Capetown.
- rolls of paper, each 850 lbs., move in from Canada and the Northwest.
- electronic impulses turn into photographs on a machine—the world in black and white, caught in action.
- the managing editor watches for the big stories, gauging the importance of each, overseeing the editorial "construction" of the paper, from content to design.
- pressmen feed the giant press with ink and paper—a taste of what's to come.
- "Circulation" readies for the job of distributing the paper, via 700 newspaperboys, to two out of three homes in the county.
- experts set type for news, for ads—enough in one day to fill a good-sized book.
- the retail advertising staff, 10 strong, contacts almost every business in the county . . . planning campaigns, offering merchants professional service in copywriting, layout and merchandising.
- the city editor "feels" for the news on a hundred fronts, hands out assignments, shaping the news force to the shape of events.
- engravers work their chemical magic, placing print and picture on metal.
- the women's editor and staff of 5 molds food and fashions, social doings, meetings, school events, into a women's world.
- syndicates send in both national and world-wide features—columns, comics, cartoons.
- specialists "make up" the paper, designing every page of news and ads.
- the art department creates illustrations, layouts, designs, cartoons.
- photographers race the news throughout the county, clicking the visual happenings of Marin today.
- ink for the press arrives not in bottles but tank trucks.
- color plates and color inks are being readied for ads, special editions, covers—all to brighten your reading eye.
- sports "jump" in the typewriters of the sports department and Willie Mays leaps up into a headline.
- "Classified" is setting up the county's daily market place, and the phone rings with "wanted" and "for sale."
- headlines are being written against deadlines—and the tight confines of space.
- vital statistics are being compiled; weather and stock reports are coming in.
- the mechancial superintendent moves the copy through a maze of linotypes, electronic typesetters and the precise hands of men who literally know type up-side down.
- the library is digging up background data for stories, filing photos, micro-filming each edition of the newspaper.
- legal ads get eagle-eyed checking for accuracy.
- orders are coming in from the nation's advertising agencies with mats for advertisements—everything from autos to ant spray.
- issues become the tissue of editorials—the reasoned interpretation of events.
- proofreaders scan every line of news and advertising trying to hold errors to a minimum against the pressure of time.
- letters to the editor are being read for possible publication.
- the dispatch office is moving ads into production—checking size, type, mats, insertion dates, art, photos—a hundred elements.
- our national representatives are meeting with ad agencies and advertisers in New York, Detroit, Chicago—a dozen cities—telling them about Marin County and its newspaper.
- special contributors' columns on fishing, baseball and many others are being processed.
- Marin Magazine is being dummied; stories developed for the Saturday edition—picturing life in Marin.
- the business office moves against a mountain of financial and administrative detail.
- stereotypers cast the weighty cylinders for the big press—the final imprint of the news on metal.
- last minute news comes through and the front page changes under the expert fingers of typographers and the eye of the editor.

THE PERMISSIVE SOCIETY

Today's Morals No Worse Than Before?

By CHRISTOPHER ARNOLD

LONDON (London Express) — "Innovation! Innovation! Everything is being questioned. Everything has to be in a state of crisis. Mankind seems to be gripped in a mania for change."

The words were spoken recently by Pope Paul VI, and though they expressed a general observation they sum up well the sentiments of critics of what is now commonly termed the permissive society. No old tenets and traditions are sacred; none of the standards of one generation are automatically accepted by the next. Almost every aspect of mores and morality has been or is being freshly examined.

We appear to be firmly in the grasp of what has been described as an "orgy of open-mindedness."

The "orgy" manifests itself in many ways — more freedom from censorship in the arts, availability of the pill to married and unmarrieds alike, relaxation of the laws pertaining to divorce, abortion and homosexuality, the increasing use of drugs "for kicks," stories of wife-swapping in suburbia and so on. But is this really such a permissive society? Are we, in fact, less moral than our ancestors?

Or is this new era of sexual freedom largely an illusion created because social problems and misdemeanors are more widely discussed and more efficiently publicized than ever before?

Society has always known demonstrative behavior by a few odd-balls. Beatle John Lennon and Yoko Ono, for example, were not really being so way-out when they spent their honeymoon on a one-week, in-bed public demonstration against war and violence. When the 18th Century arts patron Thomas Butts called on the poet-painter William Blake and his wife at their home in London, he found them sitting naked in a summer house, reciting passages from Paradise Lost to each other.

"Come in. It's only Adam and Eve, you know," said Blake, the author of the majestic hymn Jerusalem.

History is crowded with such acts of bare-faced eccentricity.

There is no clear definition of a permissive society. Most people, however, would probably identify the expression as referring to a society which allows new extremes of license in social behavior, in general, and sex in particular. This is certainly a highly permissive age.

Sex before marriage is widely accepted; abortion has been legalized in many lands; homosexuals are no longer persecuted for private pursuit of what Oscar Wilde knew as "the love that dare not speak its name." Society is even beginning to display a little understanding towards Lesbians.

But tolerance and understanding are not to be confused with permissiveness. Nor is permissiveness necessarily a sign of immorality.

When the archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, recently spoke out against many aspects of society today he at least pointed out that morals in 18th Century England were shocking and that there was far more sexual indulgence during the Restoration period. In many ways we are less permissive than our ancestors.

Sex: The antithesis of the permissive society is the Victorian age in England. But in this period of widespread sexual repression, the business of prostitution boomed.

Drugs: Today the drug problem is very real. In the 19th Century, opium was cheaper than beer or gin and countless thousands of people were addicted. It influenced such writers as Da Quincey, Colleridge, Baudelaire and Francis Thompson.

Fashion: Here this is certainly not the most permissive society we have known. Otherwise legal proceedings would never have been taken a few years ago when a few daring women in Britain, America and other countries tried to launch the topless dress fashion in public.

For all the daring of the mini-skirt and talk about see-through blouses, women today are far more coy about exhibiting themselves than women of, say, the 16th Century. Society, not the law, ultimately dictates such matters.

Films: In recent months such sensational advances have been made by moviemakers in portraying sex and sin that one can scarcely believe that eyebrows were raised only two years ago because Vanessa Redgrave stripped to the waist in "Blow-up" and Hayley Mills revealed a bare bottom in "The Family Way."

But the public appetite for such entertainment does not automatically indicate a decline in moral standards; it is merely an escalation of what takes to shock, surprise or arouse controversy at a time when we have become conditioned to sex and violence on the television.

Were things so much more respectable in grandmother's day? Before the talkies, the public was drooling over the first cinema vamp, Theda Bara, whose wisp-of-lace costumes left virtually nothing to the imagination.

Of course, strict censorship eventually came. Hollywood itself was never more immoral than when its films were subject to rigid censorship. The clean-up campaigns of the Legion of Decency had no marked impact on the off-screen lives of the stars.

The theater: On stage as on the screen, America has recently been far outstripping most countries in so-called freedom of expression. Last year it was the musical "Hair." This year it has been Che! More recently New Yorkers have seen Dionysus in '69, in which players of both sexes romp naked on stage and among the audience.

But there is a limit to what can be shown. Thus plays like Che! have brought legal proceedings.

Literature: Playwright barrister John Mortimer, famed for his defence of the novel "Last Exit to Brooklyn," has opined: "A man is never more innocently occupied than when he's reading pornography."

This was not the attitude in Victorian times. There was booming trade in dirty books on underground markets and pornography of that period could equal any in history for crudely expressed perversion and filth.

In June, 1967, the Danish parliament took a daring, controversial step: It made pornographic literature free of possible prosecution for obscenity. For a while sex books flooded the market and sales boomed. Then the bubble burst, sales began to slump; dealers went bankrupt.

"What happened," said a leading Danish publisher, "is that people finally got bored with it."

Politicians who opposed this new freedom predicted it would have a disastrous corrupting effect. The yearly total of sex crimes in Copenhagen showed a 25 per cent drop.

It is a fact that in modern times pre-marital sex was never been so common. Surveys have indicated that the vast majority of American men and at least half the women have sexual intercourse before marriage. Young men and women in most other Western countries would not seem to be very far behind.

But all the responsibility for this increase cannot be attributed to the pill. Otherwise, why does the illegitimacy rate continue to rise steadily? Sex before marriage was, in fact, catching on fast long before the advent of the pill.

Bavarian Chalet-Styled
One of the most charming, sturdily built, modified "A"-frame homes that we have seen (3 bdrms., 2 baths plus den). From the quality carpeted living rm., a styled staircase rises with a flair to a railinged study-den & to a most generous sized master bdrm. w/adj. large walk-in closet & bath. The view windows are like picture frames encasing the beauty of natural wooded privacy accented by Yosemite-sized boulders and gay splashes of colorful fruit & flowers. The customized all-electric kitchen is unusual and warm with rdwd. paneling & surprise quality extras. About 12 min. to G.G. toll. Want charming living (?), then please phone now; you'll be glad you did!

CHARTER ORDINANCE NO. 954

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING CHAPTER 12.20 OF THE SAN RAFAEL MUNICIPAL CODE BY ADOPTING BY REFERENCE THE 1968 EDITION OF THE UNIFORM ELECTRICAL CODE AND THE SECONDARY CODE REFERRED TO THEREIN BEING THE NATIONAL ELECTRICAL CODE, 1968 WITH CERTAIN CHANGES, ADDITIONS AND DELETIONS THERETO.

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section I

Sec. 12.20.010 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

12.20.010 Adoption of Uniform Electrical Code and National Electrical Code. All that certain "Uniform Electrical Code" published by the Pacific Coast Electrical Association, Inc.; 1968 Edition, including the Secondary Code referred to therein being the National Electrical Code, 1968, three certified copies of said codes, in printed form, have been filed and are now on file in the office of the City Clerk marked "filed" therein on the 6th day of August 1969, for use and examination by the public, is hereby adopted as the Electrical Code of and for the City of San Rafael to which reference is hereby made with like effect as if all the provisions and printed matter therein were herein set forth in full.

Section II

Section 12.20.030 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

12.20.030. Amendments made in Uniform Electrical Code. The Uniform Electrical Code as adopted by Section 12.20.010 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is amended to and changed in the following respects. The section numbers hereinafter referred to are the section numbers of said Uniform Electrical Code.

Section I-A is hereby amended to read as follows:

A. There is hereby created the office of Chief Electrical Inspector to which shall be part of the Building Department. Whenever the term "Chief Electrical Inspector" is used it shall be construed to include the Chief Building Inspector.

Section 2-A is hereby amended by adding thereto the following: No permit shall be issued to anyone not licensed by the State of California to do electrical work except as provided in subsection B and C of this section.

Section 3 is hereby amended by deleting the individual fee schedule and substituting the following: Fees for permits and inspection shall be as setforth by resolution of the City Council of the City of San Rafael.

Section 6-D is hereby amended to read as follows:

D. National Electrical Code (1968 Edition) as approved by the USA Standards Institute is hereby adopted by reference as the National Electrical Code referred to in sub-section B and C above and said National Electrical Code, 1968 is hereby amended, added to and changed in the following respects. The section numbers hereinafter referred to are the section numbers of said National Electric Code, 1968.

DWELLING TYPE OCCUPANCIES: One plug receptacle, not part of the lighting fixture, shall be provided in each bathroom where a lavatory is provided in dwelling, apartments, motels and hotels.

ENTRANCE LIGHTING: One light outlet shall be provided at each outside entrance to a building intended for residential occupancy. Where two entrances are located on the same side of the building, one light may be adequate provided it is controlled by a switch at each entrance.

Section 21-22(F) is amended by adding thereto the following:

OUTDOOR RECEPTACLE: In single or two family dwellings, each unit shall have not less than one weatherproof grounding type receptacle which shall be connected to one 20 amp appliance circuit.

Section 220-3(A) is amended by changing the last paragraph to read as follows:

For general illumination in single and multiple dwellings, not less than one branch circuit shall be installed for each 500 square feet or fraction thereof of floor area in addition to the receptacle circuits called for in section 220-3(B).

Section 220-3(D) is amended by adding a new sub-section (D) to read as follows:

In dwelling occupancies including unfinished rooms suitable for future occupancy except garages, storage closets and work shops, adequate circuit wiring must be extended to the unfinished area, terminated in an approved outlet box accessible for future use and identified.

Section 230-44 is amended to read as follows:

Section 230-44 WIRING METHODS: Service entrance conductors shall be installed in rigid metallic conduit, for services not exceeding 600 volts busways may be used.

Section 230-46 is hereby deleted.

Section 230-47 is hereby deleted.

Section 230-48 is hereby deleted.

Section 230-49 is hereby deleted.

Section 230-50 is hereby deleted.

Section 230-70(B) is amended to read as follows:

Location: The service disconnecting means shall be located at a readily accessible point nearest to the entrance of the service conductors, and in residential property shall be accessible from the exterior, except in garage, carport, or where a meter room is provided. Such service disconnecting means shall not be installed under show windows or at any location above the ground floor level or in the case of multiple occupancies in any location not readily accessible to all parties concerned. The center of the grip of the operating handle of the disconnecting means, when in its highest position shall not be more than six and one-half (6½) feet above the floor or working platform.

A main service disconnecting means shall be provided for each separately metered subdivision of the service conductors.

Switches or circuit breakers accessible from the exterior of a single family or duplex dwelling shall be located within a single enclosure approved for the purpose.

Exception: Two switches or circuit breakers in a common enclosure may be used as the main service disconnecting means when the ampacity exceeds 225 amperes.

Section 230-70(G) is amended by adding thereto an exception to read as follows:

Exception: For single family dwellings the service disconnecting means shall consist of a switch or circuit breaker equipped with a handle which is manually operable for simultaneous disconnection of all ungrounded service conductors. This disconnection means shall be of a type approved for service equipment.

Section 250-81 is amended to read as follows:

Section 250-81 WATER PIPE: The interior metallic cold water and gas piping system shall always be bonded to the grounding electrode. The bonding conductors shall be a No. 6 copper conductor or equivalent.

Section 250-83 is amended to read as follows:

Section 250-83 MADE ELECTRODES: Concrete encased electrodes installed in accordance with section (2) shall always be used as the grounding electrode.

Article 300 is amended by adding a new section 300-24 to read as follows:

The wiring method for the following occupancies as defined in the current edition of the Uniform Building Code as group A, B, C, D, E, F and G, inclusive, shall be raceway as defined under Article 100 National Electrical Code, except for use limited in this code.

Type M. I. Cable, Article 330, N.E.C. and type MC power cable supported by continuous cable supports referred to in section 334-6 N.E.C. may be installed in the above occupancies.

Section 324-2 is amended to read as follows:

Section 324-2 USE: Concealed knob-and-tube work may only be used in the hollow spaces of walls and ceilings of wood frame construction. Groups H, I and J occupancies and must be concealed by the permanent finish of the building. Concealed knob-and-tube wiring is limited to use on circuits not exceeding 300 volts between conductors or 150 volts to ground.

Section 334-13(A) is amended to read as follows:

IN ACCESSIBLE ATTICS: Cable in accessible attics or roof spaces shall be run through bored holes in joists or protected by approved means. Exception: In attics not accessible by a permanent stairway, no boring or protection is necessary where the vertical height between the ceiling joists and rafters is less than twelve (12) inches, or in attics with maximum height less than thirty (30) inches.

Section 336-3 is amended by adding new sub-section (D) and (E) to read as follows:

(D) USE. Non-metallic sheathed cable which is run exposed in accessory buildings and attached garages shall be installed not less than 7'6" above the floor. Where the cable is subject to physical damage it shall be protected by the use of running boards, conduit or other approved means. It is limited to use on circuits not exceeding 300 volts between conductors or 150 volts to ground.

(E) USE. Concealed electric wiring under roofing materials. Non-metallic sheathed cable may be used for circuits feeding ceiling lights and respective switch legs only. It must be protected from injury by the use of conduit or metal channels not less than 1/16" thick. Wiring under roofing to all other outlets shall be run in metal conduit continuous from outlet to outlet. The minimum temperature rating of the circuit conductor shall ben ot less than 75° C.

Section 338-2 is hereby deleted

Section 339-3(D) is amended by the addition of the following:

U. F. Cable shall not be used for exposed exterior wiring, or direct burial under slab floors within a building, unless approved for such use.

Section 350-2 is amended to read as follows:

Section 350-2. USE: Flexible metal conduit shall only be used where the use of rigid conduit or electrical metallic tubing is impractical.

Section 384-13 is amended by adding thereto the following:

GENERAL: For single and two-family dwellings the panel-boards shall be of a design which will provide for two spare circuits of opposite polarity, in addition to the number of circuits is computed from Article 220. The panel or panels must be accessible for extensions of such circuits.

Section 420-3 is amended by adding thereto the following:

Control switches shall be provided for the control of keyless lampholders and for the control of lampholders of the switched type that are not within safe and convenient reach.

In those rooms of dwelling type occupancies where receptacle outlets are required, (see Section 210-22(B), but no lighting outlet is installed, at least one such receptacle outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch.

Section 410-4 is amended by adding new sub-section (C) to read as follows:

(C). Fixtures near grounded surfaces: Fixtures which are operated through any type of switching device which is a part of a lampholder, such as pull chain sockets, key sockets, or push type sockets shall not be used in bathrooms, kitchens, laundry rooms, or on the exterior of buildings or structures, or within eight (8) feet vertically or five (5) feet horizontally of a grounded surface.

Section 600-1 is amended by adding thereto the following:

These provisions shall be supplementary to any and all local ordinances or regulations which govern the location, erection, and/or structural support of signs.

The provisions of this ordinance shall not apply to any signs identifying the location of public telephones or the existence of public utility facilities.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this ordinance, no sign shall be constructed, erected, installed, maintained, or repaired in any manner that conflicts with any rule, regulations, or order of the California P.U.C. pertaining to the construction, operation and maintenance of public utility facilities.

Section 600-2(A) is amended to read as follows:

(A). IN SIGHT OF SIGN: In addition to the switch required by Section 600-2, an approved disconnecting means shall be so located that it shall be within sight of the sign and/or outline lighting and under the control of authorized sign servicemen, normally not readily accessible to unauthorized persons whenever operating voltages are in excess of 1,000 volts. When said disconnecting means controls roof signs, it shall be located not more than six and one-half (6½) feet above the roof.

SIGN CIRCUIT REQUIRED: Each commercial building and/or each commercial occupancy with ground floor frontage shall be provided with a minimum 20 ampere branch circuit to the sign location, or a spare circuit and an empty raceway may be provided.

Section 600-31(A) is amended to read as follows:

(A). WIRING METHOD: Conductors shall be installed in rigid metallic conduit or in electrical metallic tubing. Open conductors may not be used either indoors or outdoors except when contained within the sign enclosure or as provided for under 600-31(H). All conductors for outline lighting, either interior or exterior, or where passing through walls, shall be in a raceway system with approved fittings.

Section 600-31(D) is hereby deleted.

Section 600-31(E) is amended to read as follows:

(E). Concealed conductors or insulators shall not be allowed outside the sign enclosure.

Section 600-31(G) is hereby deleted.

Article 725 is amended by adding new section 725-8 to read as follows:

Section 725-8. TRANSFORMER LOCATIONS: Signal transformers: Signal transformers shall be installed in fuse cabinets in a separate compartment or mounted on outlet boxes adjacent thereto; insofar as practical. When installed in closets or furnace rooms, exposed signal transformers shall be located on the ceiling or on the wall over the door. Transformers shall not be installed in attics or in concealed areas of basements.

Section 10 is hereby deleted.

Section 11 is hereby deleted.

Sec. 12.20.040 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended by changing the reference from Section 12.20.020 to Section 12.20.030 as it appears in the exception under Fire Zone II.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed bids for construction of a Water Distribution Pipeline will be received at the office of the Bolinas Community Public Utility District, 270 Elm Road, Bolinas, Marin County, California, telephone (415) 868-1224. Mailed Bids shall be addressed to Bolinas Community Public Utility District, P. O. Box 345, Bolinas, California, 94924, and must be received prior to the time stated below to be considered. Bids will be accepted until 7:30 P.M., September 10, 1969 and will be opened at that hour in the District's Office.

The Contractor shall furnish all necessary labor, equipment, and materials necessary to be incorporated into the job.

The general prevailing rate of wages in the locality in which work is to be performed has been ascertained by the District under the provisions of Section 1770 of the Labor Code.

A list of the prevailing wage rates is on file at the District Office and available for inspection by any interested party and is included with the specifications for this project.

Sundays and holidays shall be paid at not less than one and one-half (1½) times the rates shown. The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification, or type of workmen employed on the project.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded and upon any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Proposals will be considered for the complete job only. The proposal must be submitted on the form provided and must be accompanied by a Certified Check, Cash, Post Office Money Order or Bid Bond as a guaranty that the bidder will, if successful, promptly execute a satisfactory contract and furnish bonds as required by these specifications. The Certified Check, Cash, Post Office Money Order or Bid Bond shall be not less than ten (10) per cent of the total amount of the bid and shall be made payable to the Treasurer of the Bolinas Community Public Utility District.

The envelope enclosing the proposal must have stated thereon: "Proposal for Construction of a Water Distribution Pipeline."

Plans and Specifications may be obtained at the Office of Hoffman & Albritton, 35 Mitchell Boulevard, San Rafael, California 94903, upon payment of $10.00, of which $5.00 will be refunded if plans and specifications are returned in good condition within ten days after bid opening. It is requested that those Contractors wishing a District representative to accompany them on their first visit to the site of the work notify the District sufficiently in advance so that necessary arrangements may be made.

Progress payments will be made.

Minor Injuries In Cycle Mishap

The California Highway Patroo reported that Hughes' motorcycle, eastbound on Panoramic Highway, collided with a westbound car driven by Anthony C. Santos, 59, of Santa Cruz, at 1:40 p.m.

To Take Teen Case

Bruce George Gerhard, 19, of San Francisco, was referred to juvenile probation authorities Friday in Marin Municipal Court to see if charges against him of possessing marijuana and alcohol Wednesday in Larkspur can be handled in juvenile court.

Gerhard was told to return to court Sept. 17 for the report from the probation department.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 7:30 p.m. — "Pueblo: A Question of Intelligence" is a special one-hour documentary by NBC news and an attempt to assess the implications of North Korea's seizure of the U.S. vessel and crew on American politics and society today.

KRON (4), 8:30 p.m. — Frank Sinatra, Eddie Hodges, Edward G. Robinson, Eleanor Parker and Carolyn Jones star in the movie comedy "A Hole in the Head."

KQED (9), 9 p.m. — Apartheid or segregation in the Union of South Africa is the subject on "Black Journal."

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 10 p.m. — Dick Cavett welcomes Nicholas Johnson of the Federal Communications Commission and country singer Bobbie Gentry to his show.

Scientists Say DDT Harmful, Ask For Ban

(Special to the I-J)

SAN DIEGO — Eighteen UCSD scientists have issued a statement calling for discontinuance of DDT and "other chlorinated hydrocarbons." The scientists, most of them biologists on the faculty of Revelle College at UCSD, said "evidence is overwhelming that these persistent substances threaten the ecological systems upon which human life depends."

The statement also warned that, according to recent studies, DDT may be stored in human tissues, and "may have direct harmful effects on man himself."

Dr. Michael Soule, assistant professor of biology at UCSD and one of the organizers of the anti-DDT campaign, said that chemical firms still active in the production of DDT are "very hotly contesting" all attempts to have the pesticide discontinued. Soule said that talc impregnated with DDT has been found throughout the world, even over the middle of the Atlantic Ocean.

"Birds that never come near a continent are showing the effects of DDT," he said, "and are on the verge of extinction." Among birds so threatened he listed the Bahama petrel, the penguins of South America, and the brown pelican, "once one of the most abundant sea birds in North America."

Soule cited a study recently concluded at the University of Florida medical school in which pathologists established that people who die of a certain class of terminal diseases affecting the liver and the central nervous system "had two to three times the level of DDT in their fat tissues as did a random sample of people who died from other causes."

"It is the moral responsibility of all of us to exercise care as to what we dump into the environment," Soule said. "It's a very small planet, and what an industrialist may do, for example, may affect people in very remote parts of the world. The Eskimos have considerable amounts of DDT in their bodies, and they live thousands of miles from any source of this pesticide."

In a related action, nine Scripps Institution of Oceanography scientists last week signed an "open letter to Governor Ronald Reagan and the people of the State of California" asserting they are "deeply concerned by the accumulation of DDT in the oceans."

The oceanographers' statement pointed out that "DDT is a 'hard' pesticide" which "takes years to decompose to harmless products by weathering and biological processes.

"DDT and its toxic residues are found in Antarctic penguins and seals, and in fishes living thousands of miles out at sea. Though the sea is immense, the accumulation of DDT in it has reached a point where it presents a grave threat to marine food resources."

VIADUCT GROWING

Crews from Murphy Pacific Enterprises juggle forms into place on the west side of the south end of the existing Highway 101 viaduct in preparation for pouring concrete posts for the new, parallel four-lane southbound viaduct. Workers are Russ Brandon (on truck) and Bernard Cullen (below Brandon). Work began on the $2 million project last month and will be completed in July 1971 unless a contractor's proposal for speeding the work is accepted by the state Division of Highways. The plan would cut completion time by six months to a year. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Mountanos Probing Sausalito Threats

President Of School Board Receives Calls

An investigation into five threats against the life of Nathaniel Johnson, black president of troubled Sausalito School District, has been ordered by Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, it was learned today.

The anonymous phone threats were made last week, apparently sparked by Johnson's vigorous defense of Sidney F. Walton Jr., the controversial new principal of Martin Luther King School.

Apparently no threats have been made against the other four members of the board, all of whom are white.

Meanwhile, the Sausalito board braced for an expected tense public meeting today at 7:30 p.m. at the district's offices in Sausalito. A closed session to discuss the allegations against Walton —which include the charge that he threatened the life of a white college president — will be held at 6:45 p.m. Walton, who is in Atlanta, will not be at the meeting.

Johnson, who lives in Marin City, said last week he is "100 per cent behind" Walton and Sausalito Supt. Philip W. Schneider.

Two board members, James E. Muldoon and C. Gerald Clear, have questioned Walton's hiring and Schneider's role in screening of applicants. Muldoon has questioned whether Schneider deliberately withheld information about Walton's militant activities at Merritt College in Oakland and his affiliation with the black panthers.

The threats against Johnson came after he was quoted in the Independent-Journal as saying, "My overall view is that Sausalito is doing something this country doesn't have the guts to do."

He also said, "I'm kind of fed up with the name-calling and nit-picking rather than giving us support and encouragement to do something that if this country doesn't eventually do, it will be destroyed."

Mountanos was not available today for comment.

Tonight's public meeting agenda does not include any discussion of the storm of controversay over Walton's hiring. It presumably could come up under items introduced by the board but indications were the board would try to avoid the subject until Walton returned.

Clear, commenting on the closed meeting, said he expected no quick decisions on Walton or Schneider. "We cannot have a kangaroo court," he said.

Schneider, who has been on vacation during the controversy, was not in his office today and his office said it was not certain whether he would be at the meeting.

Muldoon, who said last week he might ask for the resignations of both Walton and Schneider, today said the reaction he

SAUSALITO INTEGRATION

School Plan A Bright Step —But On Exploratory Toe?

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON
(First of five articles)

"To my knowledge, this is the first school district in the State of California to completely desegregate on a district-wide basis," County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis told the Sausalito School District board on the night of Aug. 11, 1965.

The board had just accepted by unanimous vote a proposal by Hollis — who was then also acting district superintendent; Richard L. Foster, then superintendent of San Ramon Unified School District, and David Shapiro, Foster's assistant.

It called for placing all kindergarten pupils at Bayside School, all second and third graders at Central School, and all fourth through eighth graders at Richardson Bay School.

It also called for phasing out Central and Bayside within three years, replacing them with a new primary school.

Thus, on a note of high hope, the Sausalito School District embarked on integration.

Behind the decision was a long history of dissatisfactions.

Marin City parents had repeatedly complained that their schools were not up to the same standard as others in the district.

Parents in Sausalito and at the Southern Marin forts, as well as in Marin City, had complained that Richardson Bay School, which all seventh and eighth graders attended, was inferior — and cited troubles of its graduates on entering Tamalpais High School to prove their claim.

More than a year before the integration decision, on May 18, 1964 — the 10th anniversary of the Supreme Court's historic Brown vs. Board of Education decision which ruled "separate but equal" schools for blacks and whites unconstitutional — the Marin City dissatisfactions were dramatized by a pupil boycott arranged by the Conference of Racial Equality.

Some 300 pupils stayed away from their regular schools that day to attend "freedom school" at the First Missionary Baptist Church in Marin City. Nearly all of them were black.

The day's attendance figures at the public schools showed plainly the de facto segregation existing in the district. At Manzanita School in Marin City, only about 100 of the 265 pupils enrolled were present; at Richardson Bay, 223 of the 402 enrolled. But at Bayside and Central schools, attendance was normal.

A couple of months later, on July 30, 1964, Wilson C. Riles, director of the Commission on Equal Educational Opportunities of the California Department of Education, submitted a report commissioned by the Sausalito district.

He was pessimistic about the possibilities of integration, holding the population pattern made it impossible.

As a step toward integration, however, he recommended that ability grouping in the classrooms be discarded in favor of "cluster grouping." He also urged appointment of a citizen committee to explore such possibilities further.

The citizen committee, head-

Opium Buy Linked To $65 Robbery

Five youths, four from Marin County and one from San Francisco, were arrested yesterday in Fairfax after a San Anselmo boy was robbed of $65 at knife point, police reported.

The robbery was supposed to have centered around the proposed purchase of some opium but with incense being switched for the drug, police said.

Booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of armed robbery were: John S. Iacono, 19, of 200 Via Lerida, Greenbrae; Reade Collins Backer, 18, of 33 Wellington Avenue, Ross, and Stephen John Pappas, 19, of San Francisco. Backer was also booked on suspicion of possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

Booked at Juvenile Hall on suspicion of armed robbery were: David Iacono, 17, John's brother, and Jan Perroti, 16, of 33 College Park, Larkspur, police reported.

Richard Standridge, San Anselmo police officer, said he was on patrol at 12:40 a.m. when he was stopped by David Bundschu, 16, of 421 The Alameda and Patrick Harold Payton, whose age was not learned, of 1649 San Anselmo Avenue, who said they had just been robbed.

The youths were trying to repair a motorcycle when they were attacked, one man holding a knife at Bundschu's throat and demanding his money, Bundschu told police. Sixty-five dollars was given to the men, the youth informed police, and the men fled in a car.

San Anselmo police broadcast a description of the holdup group's car and Fairfax police stopped the vehicle a short time later at 19 Broadmoor Avenue, Fairfax, police said. San Anselmo police then arrested the five.

John Iacono told police that Bundschu and Payton had approached him and his four companions at the Third Rail Coffee House at 72 Kensington Road and asked if his group could sell them $100 worth of opium.

Iacono, police reported, said the group could and they agreed to meet in the vicinity of the Stop N' Go Market at 807 San Anselmo Avenue while Bundschu went to get some money.

It was agreed that Bundschu and Payton would be given incense instead of opium in order to get the money, Iacono told officers. When Bundschu returned, he did not have all of the money, Iacono reported to police, and Pappas and one other of the group took the $65 from Bundschu, Pappas using the knife as a threat.

Police said they searched the five young men at the police station where they found a package of cigarette papers and one rolled matchbook cover partially covered with a substance which appeared to be marijuana residue on Backer.

Pappas is in jail in lieu of $1,250 bail; John Iacono posted $625 bail and is to appear in Municipal Court at 2 p.m. tomorrow. No bail was posted on Backer who was later cited to Juvenile hall on court order.

Teamsters Picket Oakland Terminal

OAKLAND (UPI) -- Teamsters picketed an empty dockside terminal in Oakland today in a dispute with the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union.

About half a dozen pickets marched in front of the 7th Street dock operated by Marine Terminals. There were no ships tied up there, however, and a company spokesman said there were no goods in the warehouse.

Agnew Reports On Hurricane

SAN CLEMENTE (AP)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew today recommended to President Richard M. Nixon that a better system be found for predicting when and where hurricanes can be expected.

He also suggested that ways be found to provide assistance to stricken areas more quickly.

The vice president, who made a helicopter survey of gulf areas hit by Hurricane Camille, reported personally to President Nixon today at the Western White House on the devastation of the storm.

He was asked by newsmen what the damage estimate might be.

Agnew said he knew of no accurate estimate but that some thought it would go as high as $500 million.

He said efforts to get advance warning had been handicapped in this instance because while the Navy had exceptionally good equipment for reading the meteorological situation, its plane equipment was too obsolete to penetrate the hurricane and do the job properly.

While the Air Force had a wonderful plane for the job, it did not have the equipment capability of the Navy, the vice president said. Agnew said this was one of the reasons he was recommending reinforcing systems for measuring storms.

He also told newsmen outside the President's office here that Lake Ponchatrain outside New Orleans does not have enough flood protection and controls for such a highly populated area.

A million dollars in federal disaster aid money already has been allocated by President Nixon for Mississippi and another $1 million for Louisiana.

Judge May Ban Kopechne Autopsy

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A judge today took under advisement a move to dismiss a request of Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass., for an autopsy on the body of Mary Jo Kopechne.

The action apparently killed any hope the Massachussetts prosecutor had of presenting autopsy results at an inquest into her death he has scheduled for Sept. 3 in Edgartown, Mass.

The 28-year-old Miss Kopechne drowned last month when a car driven by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D.-Mass., plunged off a narrow bridge on Chappaquiddick Island on the Massachusetts coast. She is buried in nearby Larksville.

Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court said he would take at least 48 hours to rule on the motion by the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N. J., who are opposed to an autopsy.

They claimed, through their attorney, that Pennsylvania was without jurisdiction in the matter because "no crime has been committed in Pennsylvania."

Brominski also said no date would be set for a hearing on Dinis' original petition until after he had ruled on the Kopechne motion.

Dinis had no immediate comment on whether he planned to postpone the inquest.

His assistant, Armand Fernandes Jr., said, however, "there will be an inquest, and because of that fact, there ought to be an autopsy."

Brominski said his normal procedure after writing an opinion was to mail copies to opposing counsel and then publicly announce his decision the following day.

"Then if I have to schedule a further hearing on the matter, I usually allow at least 10 days before doing so," he said.

If he followed that procedure, a hearing on the original autopsy petition could not be held before Sept. 8.

Czech Student Dies Of Burns

BRNO, Czechoslovakia (UPI) — A 19-year-old part-time student has died of burns suffered when he set himself on fire to show Russian occupiers he would rather die "with my head held high than live on my knees," his friends said today.

Jan Polasek, a plumber in a textile factory, soaked his clothes with gasoline Thursday during an anti-Soviet demonstration in this Moravian capital and ran blazing into Svoboda (Freedom) Square.

He was taken to a military hospital near Brno where he died yesterday the friends said.

Marine Jets Leaving Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI) — A Marine fighter squadron with 250 men and 14 Phantom rets will leave Vietnam for Japan tomorrow as part of President Richard M. Nixon's 25,000-man troop withdrawal.

Spokesmen said Attack Squadron 334 will be stationed at Iwakuni, Japan, and will operate as a first-line combat-ready unit prepared to support marine requirements in Asia.

The withdrawal will bring to about 20,000 the number of U.S. servicemen withdrawn since President Nixon announced the withdrawal plan last month.

B52s Blast Red Dumps Near Cambodian Border

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52s blasted an arc about 80 miles north of Saigon with up to 750 tons of explosives today in a move to blunt an expected new round of enemy strikes.

The U.S. Command said the eight-engine planes flew five missions against "enemy activity, base camps, bunkers, supply and staging areas" close to the Cambodian border.

All the raids were within 10 miles of the key district capital of Loc Ninh, scene of bitter fighting when the Communist command kicked off its fall campaign Aug. 11-12.

The concentrated pounding of a known major enemy infiltration corridor leading from Cambodia was prompted by indications that the enemy plans to launch another series of attacks around Sept. 1.

During that period, Hanoi celebrates the 24th anniversary of Ho Chi Minh's proclamation of the independence of Vietnam and the establishment of the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam.

Informants said Monday there are elements of four enemy divisions poised in an arc cutting across three provinces bordering Cambodia.

The enemy's campaign slowed down somewhat as it entered its third week Monday but informed sources reported renewed movement at night in Tay Ninh Province northwest of Saigon.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

CIA Lied, Attorney Says

NEW YORK (AP) — A lawyer for three of eight Army Green Berets charged with murdering a Vietnamese, reportedly a double agent, says a Central Intelligence Agency representative "lied" at a pretrial hearing last week to "cover up for his own mistakes and stupidity."

Rothblatt

"The CIA," said attorney Henry B. Rothblatt, "distorted information to precipitate the hearing. Then, in cross examination, a representative of the agency was caught in lies and hid behind executive privilege."

Rothblatt returned yesterday from Saigon and said he was confident the Army would drop charges against the eight Special Forces members "within a week."

"They just don't have any evidence," he said of the Army.

Rothblatt said he could not discuss details of the case because they were classified by the military.

Captain Cleared In Collision

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A court-martial cleared Capt. John P. Stevenson today of charges that he was partly to blame for the collision of his ship, the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne, and the American Destroyer Frank E. Evans.

Stevenson

The five-man board ruled for honorable acquittal after the judge advocate, Cmdr. P. L. Sharp, found that Stevenson did not have to answer the two charges of negligence. He was accused of failing to transmit to the destrayer a positive direction to correct a collision course and of failing to put his engines astern when he realized a collision course could not be avoided.

The U.S. Navy has yet to announce whether it will bring charges against any of the officers of the Evans. Seventy-four Americans died when the Melbourne sliced through the destroyer in the South China Sea during maneuvers on June 3.

"The primary responsiblity rested with the destroyer," said a joint U.S-Australian investigative board, but it said the carrier was partly to blame.

Date For Fear

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says a friend in one of the nation's militant groups has told him that terrorist activities aimed at making Americans fearful will begin Oct. 1.

Graham declined, in an interview yesterday on the ABC television and radio program "Issues and Answers," to identify his informant.

The evangelist said moral decay in American society has been accelerating lately, citing erotic movies and Broadway shows.

"There is so much hell in the country because there is not more hell in the pulpit," he said.

Rash Of Fires

As firemen and troops beat down the last of the blazes, campers, tourists and residents all along the Mediterranean were being asked about suspicious persons belived tighted the tinder-dry hills, often behind the backs of crews who were already battling windblown flames.

Admiral Leaps

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Rear Adm. Alan F. Fleming, commander of the U.S. Fleet Air Mediterranean, and seven other persons leaped into the sea six miles offshore yesterday to escape a fire aboard a motor launch.

All were picked up by three craft in the vicinity. The launch sank in 200 feet of water.

A Navy spokesman said that in addition to the admiral and his wife the party included two other naval officers and their wives. There was a crew of two.

Respect For Priests

CASTEL GONDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI says priests, friars and nuns deserve the respect and affection of all.

In his regular Sunday speech at the papal summer residence, the Pope said:

"We want to comfort the vocation of these generous and courageous souls, franchised from the world in which paradoxically they go on living, in order to seek in the fullness of love, Christ, the church, the brothers and the world itself, in the humbleness of service and in the greatness of sacrifice."

VIET CONG EFFICIENCY

After Viet Cong commandoes cut through barbed wire at Da Nang last week, U.S. officials wanted to know how they did it. Here, former Viet Cong sappers who have defected demonstrate for U.S. troops at Long Binh. It is claimed the guerrillas can cut through 200 strands of concertina barbed wire in 90 seconds without making a sound. (UPI Telephoto)

Storm Stops Spreading Brush Fires

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Helped by a tropical storm 1,000 miles away, firefighters have stopped the spread of three searing brush fires that crackled over 42,700 acres and forced an estimated 650 persons from their homes.

The fires began Friday a few miles apart in northern San Diego County. Up to 1,800 weary firefighters confronted gusty winds, 100-degree heat and 10-per-cent humidity in the parched, brown hills as the blazes swept out of control.

Then came the break.

A large tropical storm off Mexico pushed moist air into Southern California, driving the humidity up and the temperature down.

TB Still Deadly

HELSINKI (UPI)—Tuberculosis is still a killer disease in Finland. Medical authorities report 400 persons died from the disease in 1968 and 5,800 new cases were discovered.

Park Back In Seoul With Hitchhikers

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean President Chung Hee Park returned home today from talks with President Richard M. Nixon and told the nation he is convinced that America's defense committee to his government will remain unchanged.

Continuing his generosity to American air hitchhikers, Park brought with him the wife and daughter of an American serviceman stationed in Seoul.

In an impromptu speech to a welcoming crowd at Kimpo International Airport, Park said there has been some apprehension and speculation among Asians about the Nixon government's new Asian policy, but as far as Korea is concerned there will be no change.

The 51-year-old Korean leader said this is because South Korea is in a unique situation in which its security is directly linked with that of all Asia.

Added to Park's 40-member party at the last minute were Jean Brown, 25, of Shreveport, La., and her 6-year-old daughter, Lisa. In Seoul, she plans to set up housekeeping for her husband, Army Sgt. George C. Brown Jr., who has been in Korea a month and has another year to serve. Brown met his family at the airport.

When he arrived in California Wednesday, Park brought Anne Mattson, 19, of Newberry, Mich., who had been visiting her sister in Seoul. She asked for the ride, saying she needed the money to go to college.

Mrs. Brown had sent a telegram to the South Korean president Friday at Yosemite National Park. After his meetings with President Nixon in San Francisco Thursday and Friday, Park went to Yosemite where he golfed and caught six rainbow trout.

"It didn't seem like a bad idea, and all he could say was no," Mrs. Brown said of her telegram. She said her daughter suggested it after they saw Park's picture in a newspaper.

She said the South Korean president phoned her Saturday night and told her, "If you and your daughter can find a way to San Francisco, then you can come along."

Czech Troops Roll In Again, Shut Bridges

PRAGUE (AP) — Demonstrating that the government is determined to stop anti-Soviet protests in Czechoslovakia, trucks carrying about 800 troops rolled into Prague last night.

The troops closed two bridges and took up positions on the west bank of the Vltava River opposite downtown Prague. There were not as many soldiers as were brought into the city last week to control rioting on the first anniversary of the Soviet invasion.

The arrival of the troops apparently was staged to coincide with the end of a football game between two major Czechoslovak teams. The military maneuver kept the crowd of 3,000 from the neighborhood of the Communist party headquarters, which is between the two closed bridges.

The crowd appeared quiet and no arrests were noted. Any disturbance in such a crowd would be grounds for arrest under severe new emergency laws promulgated after the violence last week on the first anniversary of the Soviet invasion.

15 Iraqis Executed; Arabs Gathering

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arab foreign ministers gathered in Cairo today as calls for a holy war against Israel mounted.

Brought together by the fire in the Al Aksah Mosque in Jerusalem, the ministers were expected to discuss Jordan's proposal for a summit meeting. And a summit meeting could result in the Arabs abandoning all efforts toward a peaceful settlement with Israel.

Egypt, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia already have given their approval to a summit meeting.

There were these other developments in the Middle East:

Israeli jets struck at guerrilla bases in Jordan 19 miles north of Amman today after a mine killed two Israeli soldiers and wounded two near the Jordan River. Five Arab guerrillas were reported killed in a clash in the Golan Heights, and seven Israeli border police were reported wounded in an ambush near the Lebanese border. On the Suez Canal front, an Israeli soldier was killed and another wounded in day-long artillery and small arms exchanges Sunday.

Fifteen Iraquis were executed in Baghdad at dawn today after being convicted of spying for Israel and the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. Nine of the men including two Jews, were civilians and were hanged. The rest, a police commissioner and five soldiers, were shot. Thirty-six Iraqis were executed on the same charges earlier this year, and nine of them were identified as Jews.

Police in Izmir, Turked, announced that a Jordanian student was killed and another injured when a homemade time bomb they intended to place at the Israeli pavilion of the Izmir International Fair exploded accidentally late Saturday night.

Thailand Not Seeking Immediate U.S. Pullout

BANGKOK (AP) — Thailand is not seeking an immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops stationed on its soil, Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn said today.

Thanom, making the first official Thai comment on Washington reports that Thailand had sought negotiations for a U.S. withdrawal, also said Thailand did not want all of the 50,000 American troops in the country pulled out.

The Thai leader said Thailand's request for negotiations on U.S. troop withdrawals was related to American troop withdrawals from South Vietnam.

"The purpose of the Americans sending troops here was to support their troops in the Vietnam war," he said. "Now the Americans have begun withdrawing some of their forces from Vietnam.

"As soon as the Vietnam war is concluded there will be no longer be any need for the Americans to keep troops here. Therefore, we would like to know their plans."

This was the reason Thailand had asked the United States for discussions on troop withdrawals, he said.

CHP Chopper On Duty Over Marin

A blue-and-gold California Highway Patrol helicopter will be hovering over Marin commuters tomorrow morning, keeping an eye on traffic.

The helicopter, one of three operating in the state under a one-year study, will be over Marin from 7 to 9 a.m., reported Sgt. James Dukes of the Marin Division of the highway patrol.

Riding with the pilot will be a local highway patrolman, familiar with Marin roads, who will board the chopper at the Richardson Bay heliport.

The jet turbine helicopter, equipped with floats for water landings, will be used primarily for traffic surveillance, service to motorsits and law enforcement, the patrol reported.

Skimming over Highway 101, the crew can detect causes of traffic tieups, report them, and direct ground crews to the location.

It is equipped with two litters for emergencies, and Sergeant Dukes noted it would be valuable for aiding injured or sick at mass gatherings.

He recalled the need for helicopters at the recent rock festival in New York that attracted hundreds of thousands of youths.

It also could provide traffic direction and control for major events such as Western Weekend in Novato or the Dipsea race from Mill Valley, he said.

The helicopter also will serve to detect law violators and help catch them. The three helicopters in the state will operate until July 1, 1970.

Pakistan-China Highway Open For New Trade

KARACHI (UPI) — Trucks rolled today over a 456-mile paved highway between Communist China and Pakistan that follows the famed overland "silk route" of Marco Polo.

The highway connecting the Karakoram Mountain states of Pakistan with China's Sinkiang Province opened Sunday with scores of Pakistani officials welcoming the first trade caravan from China.

An agreement for construction of the highway was reached two years ago, mainly to increase the Pakistan-China barter trade which has averaged $60 million annually since 1965.

Pakistan sends raw jute and raw cotton to China in exchange for rice, cement, non-electrical machinery, dyes, colors and other goods.

Auckland is the largest city and seaport of New Zealand.

Redwood Park Tidied For Nixon

ORICK (AP) — Redwood national park officials worked today to spruce up the canyon of trees where President Richard M. Nixon will dedicate the Lady Bird Johnson Grove of giant redwoods Wednesday.

It will be a special birthday present for former President Lyndon B. Johnson, who created the preserve on Oct. 2, 1968, when he signed the bill creating the park. He will be 61 Wednesday.

Mrs. Johnson dedicated the park Nov. 25, 1968, to climax her final conservation tour of America as the nation's first lady.

"It will be pretty much the same ceremony it was last November," Park Supt. Nelson Murdock said in an interview yesterday.

The presidential party—including the Nixons and the Johnsons—will hike a mile or so off Bald Hills Road on a dirt trail to the towering grove of California coast redwoods, the tallest living things.

The 58,000-acre park was established after years of controversy between conservationists and big lumber companies. The compromise park boundary encompassed about 28,000 acres of California state redwood parks and about 30,000 acres of private timber lands.

British Unit To Stay In Ireland Longer

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops will continue their peacemaking role in Northern Ireland for at least four months, military sources indicated today.

"There is no question of us departing," said Lt. Col. Charles Millman, commander of the troops in Londonderry.

Millman met with the citizens' defense committee which controls Bogside, the barricaded Catholic area in Londonderry. He told the Bogsiders that the army would protect them if they decided to pull down their barricades.

Northern Ireland generally had a quiet weekend, with scattered fires but no casualties.

Protestant extremists kept up their protest against the army's decision that the Protestant B-Special police reservists must turn in their arms when not on duty. James King, chairman of the Armagh Ulster Protestant Volunteers, an unofficial defense force, said: "But for the work of the B-Specials in the past two weeks, anarchists and rebels would have run through the north."

In an attempt to counter Bernadette Devlin's visit to the United States, the governing Unionist party decided to send three members of Parliament to Canada and the United States.

Underground Brewery Found In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — A gaping hole in the pavement caused by a sewer collapse uncovered an old place known as Uhrig's Cave, an underground beer pallor and beer cooling cave in operation from the 1880s to the early 1900s.

Ignatz Uhrig and his brothers enlarged the place from a smaller cavern to complement their brewery. At one time the cave measured 210 feet long, 20 feet wide and 20 feet deep.

Four Injured In Three-Car Bridge Crash

Four persons were injured in a three-car chain collision Friday on northbound Highway 101 near the north tower of the Golden Gate Bridge, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers reported that a car driven by Donald Demetreos, 50, of 1223 Ridgeway Court, Novato, struck the rear of a car driven by Peter R. Oqvuist, 22, of 423 Mangels Street, San Francisco, which had stopped in heavy traffic at 5:35 p.m.

Oqvist's car was pushed into a car driven by Bernice Kerr, 55, of 10 Winship Avenue, Ross, which also was stopped, officers said.

Mrs. Kerr suffered a sore upper back and nevk; Oqvist, a stiff neck; Demetreos, a cut of his upper lip, and Wade B. Brown, 35, of 423 Mangels Street, San Francisco, a passenger in Oqvist's car, neck sprains. Demetreos told officers he would be treated by his own doctor. The others were treated at Marin General Hospital.

Presidency Seen For Ted

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., says he expects Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to become president of the United States.

But McGovern said in a radio interview yesterday he doesn't expect Kennedy to seek the office in 1972.

McGovern said he felt that Kennedy was leaning away from a 1972 presidential bid even before the recent automobile crash involving Kennedy in which a young woman was killed.

"I think he felt, for his own reasons, that perhaps 1972 was not the time for him to make a presidential bid," McGovern said.

Commute Proposals

A recommendation that the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District immediately implement the Marin County Transit District's proposed bus system, and that hydrofoils be tested with federal funds, will be considered for adoption by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Civic Center.

AT MUSEUM

N.Y. Protesters Bare Their Ire

The bare romp, staged by Kayoi Kusama, a 29-year-old Japanese sculptress, took museum officials by surprise.

Miss Kusama, who previously staged nude "happenings" on Wall Street and near the United Nations, said the museum was a place where "you can take off your clothes in good company."

And so her accomplices did, as 200 visitors and an astonished security guard looked on in apparent shock.

"The place isn't made for people," said James Golata, as he climbed barely atop Maillol's "Girl Washing Her Hair," a bronze nude. "The guards won't even let anyone take off their shoes and dunk their feet in the pool."

As the eight nudes stood in the pool and mimicked their stone and metal companions, chief security officer Roy Williams pleaded with them to get dressed. But the young people held their poses.

Miss Kusama said the display had a serious purpose—to protest what she called the museum's lack of modernity. She called it a "mausoleum of modern art" and asked:

"What's modern there? I don't see it. Van Gogh, Cezanne, these other ghosts all are dead or dying. While the dead show dead art, the living artists die."

Williams, after 20 minutes, convinced the nudes to dress and leave. As he escorted them from the enclosed garden on West 54th Street, he warned them never to return.

Later, Miss Kusama led her flock, fully clad, to the Bethesda Fountain in Central Park, to mingle with the standard afternoon crowd of hippies, musicians and families and recount their bare protest.

Six young women and two men shed their clothes and frolicked in the sunny museum garden and reflecting pool amid larger-than-life nude statues.

Four-Car Pileup In Bridge Jam

Three persons received minor injuries in a four-car pile-up in the clogged southbound lanes of Golden Gate Bridge last night, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Injured were Joan K. DeWindt, 22, of Alameda; Richard Heinisch, 49, of San Francisco, and Earl Moree, 39, of San Francisco. None required hospitalization.

The patrol said the front car in the rear-ender was driven by Burton Honig of Belle Harbor, N.Y. His car was hit by one in which Miss DeWindt was a passenger, driven by Charles Jack Konig of Grandville, Mich. Konig's car was hit by Heinisch's which was struck by one driven by James W. Kwiezinski of San Francisco. Moree was a passenger in Heinisch's vehicle.

The accident occurred at 7:20

Since 1960 more than 78,000 South Vietnamese soldiers have been killed in action.

TV Sets Stolen From Auto Agency

A $175 television set, a $40 desk set and transistor radio and another television set of undetermined value were stolen from Annex Motors at 535 Francisco Boulevard Thursday night, San Rafael police reported today.

Police said burglars apparently entered through an open window.

Record Crowd At State Fair

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A crowd of 63,071 that attended Sunday's events at the California State Fair was higher than attendance for any single day at last year's 58-day fair program, fair officials said today.

Among the Fair visitors at the attraction's third day of a 19-day run were 18,219 oldsters who were admitted free on "Senior Citizen's Day."

Horseracing begins today at the fair on its new California Exposition Grounds on the American River.

A special event today will be a demonstration of recovering astronauts by a special Navy team of frogmen from Coronado. They will drop from a helicopter and recover a replica of a space capsule in the exposition lagoon.

Motorcycle Taken

Kent L. Lewis of 218 Forrest Avenue, Fairfax, reported Saturday his 1969 black Harley Davidson motorcycle which did not yet have a license was taken from his home between 9:30 and 10:50 p.m., police said today.

Protesters Jam Pittsburgh Streets

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Hundreds of demonstrators saying they want more blacks in craft unions poured into Pittsburgh's downtown during rush hour traffic this morning, snarling vehicles and pedestrians in a massive traffic jam.

Police, some wearing hard hats and gas masks, tried to direct traffic through the city's famed Golden Triangle while angry motorists caught in the traffic jam leaned on their horns adding to the din.

The huge throng, composed of whites and blacks, walked three and four abreast along the streets. Trolleys, buses and cars were backed up for blocks on Grant Street and Liberty and Penn avenues, three of the main arteries in the downtown area.

The demonstrators ignored traffic signal lights, but sometimes stopped when asked by police. Extra patrolmen called out to handle the expected crush of people were stationed about 20 feet apart on the streets.

As the traffic jam built up, many trolley and bus passengers got off and walked to their jobs.

The demonstrators marched to the U.S. Steel Corp. Building, a 65 story skyscraper being built downtown. There they they were confronted by about 30 police officers wearing hard hats and holding nightsticks.

About 100 workers, all white, looked down from high perches in the building's ironwork while the crowd of demonstrators massed.

Also at the building was a group that called itself the Democratic Association for Black Brothers. They were about 15 to 20 teen-age boys dressed in black berets, shirts, trousers and shoes. They carried bayonets and held four German Shepard dogs on leashes.

Police finally coaxed the workers from their seats. They returned to the ground and a portion of the demonstrating group broke off and headed toward Duquesne University where several buildings are under construction.

The demonstrators, estimated at about 1,000 by police, moved into the downtown from Pittsburgh's North Side where they were going to defy a court order and demonstrate at the half-finished Three Rivers stadium.

But contractors at the stadium joined contractors at five other major construction projects in heeding a plea by the city to give their men the day off.

The demonstrators listened as a court order limiting pickets was read by an Allegheny County deputy sheriff, then started across the Manchester Bridge into the downtown.

"Since it (the stadium) as shut down, we're taking the people to various other jobs that might not be shut down," said Byrd Brown, director of the Pittsburgh chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and a leader of the demonstration.

Public Safety Director James A. Cortese asked the project owners to keep their workers off the job because of "a very real potential for violence."

Work was stopped on the $35-million stadium, the 64-story U.S. Steel building, the Westinghouse office building, the Pittsburgh National Bank building and the Bell Telephone building.

A study by the Mayor's Commission on Human Relations showed that of the 30,000 members of building and trade unions in Pittsburgh, only 2 per cent were Negroes.

WAR

my was once again "preparing the battlefield"—deploying ammunition and food supplies in advance of their attacks—and their night movement "is starting up again."

"It's not as much as it was two weeks ago, but it's there, all right," one U.S. officer said.

Elsewhere, sporadic flareups were reported Monday in Binh Duong Province where 76 enemy soldiers were killed in two sharp battles with U.S. forces about 30 miles northwest of Saigon. U.S. losses in the clashes were two killed and 10 wounded.

In the Mekong Delta, 30 miles southwest of Saigon, a North Vietnamese army colonel was reported killed by U.S. troops yesterday when, after feigning death, he rolled over with a grenade in his hand.

Rangers from the U.S. 9th Infantry Division killed the colonel before he could pull the pin of the grenade, spokesmen said.

A North Vietnamese army captain captured after a brief engagement in which eight other enemy soldiers were killed identified the colonel. He said the force was moving toward Cambodia for a brief rest when it was spotted.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that a 2½-ton truck loaded with ammunition exploded today, killing four persons, wounding 45 and destroying four houses. It was not immediately determined what caused the explosion.

The blast occurred on a street in the provincial capital of My Tho, 35 miles south of Saigon.

The U.S. Command reported 29 enemy shellings of allied bases and towns in the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. Monday, 17 of them against U.S. troops and installations. Thirty-five Americans were wounded, but no U.S. fatalities were reported.

U.S. headquarters also said 983 more U.S. fighting men—653 soldiers and 330 sailors—left South Vietnam Monday as part of President Nixon's initial 25,000-man troop redeployment.

Nixon has decided to hold up a decision for more American troop withdrawals because of the upsurge of enemy attacks but the White House said no freeze has been placed on the first 25,000 ordered pulled out.

Burglars Strike Four Households In Sausalito

Sausalito police today reported four burlaries since Thursday, including the theft of items valued at $1,645 from a single apartment.

Police said the 44 Crescent Avenue apartment of John Andrew Ronscauge was burglarized during Thursday. Thieves made off with $1,645 worth of sound equipment, sculpture, cameras, radios, luggage, a .22-caliber pistol, a 30.06 rifle and a .16-gauge shotgun.

Entry to the apartment apparently was gained by jimmying a lock, police said.

Another apartment in the same building, occupied by Tamara Victoria Krassavin, also was hit by burglars Thursday who took a radio and speaker worth $140.

Another burglary on Thursday netted a television set and sewing machine valued at $40 from the home of Joanne Elizabeth Rockwell of 4 Sausalito Boulevard, police said.

The fourth burglary was Friday night at the Lucky Porky restaurant at 707 Bridgeway. Thieves, who gained entrance by removing a window, got $137 in cash.

Hospital Parking Report Tomorrow

A report on the surfacing of the new parking lot on Bon Air Road will be made by Dan Coleman Associates, engineers, to the Marin Hospital District board at a meeting at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

The board will also authorize advertising for bids for repair and resurfacing of the hospital's existing parking lots. The board meets first at 6 p.m. for dinner in the cafeteria, then moves at 7 p.m. to the Coral Room.

Innocent Plea In Marijuana Case

A jury trial was set for the week of Dec. 8.

Fotomat Corp. of Burlingame will ask the Corte Madera Board of Design for design review approval of a drive-in Fotomat structure to be built in the Co-op Center parking lot at 71 Tamal Vista Boulevard at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the town hall.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

The Answers Were Correct

The Ace Health Insurance Co. promoted a sales contest among its salesmen. Before Sam, a top salesman, sold Charles a policy, he asked about Charles' blood pressure and possible diabetes. Charles said his blood pressure was trifling and his mild diabetes was "controlled" by pills and diet. Nothing more.

On the blanks Sam wrote "no" to both questions, and Charles bought the policy. One month later he had a heart attack, and the company got many a hospital and doctor bill. It refused to pay them, on the ground that the application was not accurate.

In court Charles won: He had told salesman Sam the truth. What Sam wrote down was no concern of his. At any time the company could have checked Charles' health before handing over the policy. But it did not.

Said the court, people often buy insurance like other things, relying on the salesman's good faith. For the courts to presume that they know what the policy says is simply contrary to fact. Most people don't know until something goes wrong and it is too late.

Remember, though: The insured himself cannot misrepresent an important fact in his application. If he does so, the policy is void.

In buying insurance, the court said, the buyer cannot really bargain, since the company fixes the terms, and that is that. Besides, the buyer has to rely on what the agent tells him.

The company's action may also extend the coverage of a policy. For example, Pete had a general liability policy in case he hurt someone accidentally; but not if he intentionally assaulted someone. Pete got into a fight and slugged his neighbor.

The neighbor sued Pete. Since Pete claimed self-defense, the company's lawyer said the company would defend Pete in court and cover his liability. The neighbor won a $10,000 judgment against Pete which the insurance company refused to pay, strictly in accordance with the written terms of the policy.

Still, the court held that its representative had led Pete to believe it would cover the claim. The company had to pay anyhow. (Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

THREATS

has received from residents in the community indicates that many "are somewhat fearful that we might have gotten away from our avowed purpose of integration."

He declined to elaborate on the statement, saying, "I think that's about all I can say."

Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith, who also is backing both Walton and Schneider was unavailable today as was trustee David E. Freedheim, who could be the swing vote in the showdown vote on the firing of either of the men.

Another touchy issue on tonight's agenda is action on whether to continue the Black Panther-originated breakfasts. The board is expected to decide whether the district should take over the breakfasts which have been under fire from reisdents of the district and elsewhere.

Jury Trial Slated In Attack Charges

A jury trial was set today in Marin Superior Court for the week of Sept. 29 for two San Francisco men who are charged with raping a San Leandro woman Aug. 2 at Muir Beach.

Held in Marin County Jail awaiting trial are Robert James Walker, 23, and Edward McCullough, 29.

They are charged with first raping the woman at the beach, then taking her to San Francisco where they attacked her again and stole her purse and car.

Boy Is Bruised Walking Into Car

Morgan Geiger of 142 Willow Avenue was taken to the hospital by his mother, Gretel Geiger, police reported. The accident occurred at 7:04 p.m on Willow Avenue between Tamalpais Drive and Sierra Court, according to police.

Table Stolen

Someone stole a wrought iron table, chair and planter, valued at a total of $60, from the lawn of Mrs. Stanley Stuart, 20 Grove Avenue, Corte Madera, during the week end, Mrs. Stuart reported to police at 9:50 a.m. yesterday.

SCHOOLS

ed by Robert E. Rogers, went to work in October, and on July 1, 1965, it recommended immediate steps to desegregate Manzanita School. It also urged a professional study of the entire school system.

The study by Hollis, Foster and Shapiro resulted. They concurred with Riles on "cluster grouping."

The plan followed quiet closely a proposal by CORE, then the most militant and active group in behalf of Marin City residents.

Douglas J. Quiett, CORE chairman, had reported the preceding November to a Marin County Human Rights Commission housing task force that CORE had been seeking adoption of the "Princeton Plan," putting all primary grade pupils together in one school and all upper grade pupils in another.

It fell to a new superintendent, Charles W. Lavaroni, to put the integration plan into practice with opening of schools in September, 1965. The "first completely desegregated school system in California" received wide notice and drew observers from many other districts.

There was a portent of things to come, however, at an Oct. 11 board meeting, in a petition signed by 61 parents complaining about lack of discipline and alleging that the new "cluster grouping" was slowing pupil progress.

If the integration plan looked like a giant step forward to Hollis and Lavaroni, it appeared to a newly elected majority of the school board to be merely thrusting out an exploratory toe.

Nathaniel Johnson, David E. Freedheim and Bruce E. Woelfel, elected in 1965, agreed with a comment of Riles a year earlier: "Often the feeling is that if you just jockey children around, mix them up, education improves. That is not true."

There were increasing indications that relations between the new board and new superintendent were not entirely happy.

The board engaged Foster, who had participated in the original desegregation recommendations, to make a new survey of how the plan was working.

And at the meeting of March 14, 1966, the board went into one of its frequent closed sessions with the superintendent and emerged to announce that Lavaroni's resignation had been accepted, affective June 30.

At the next board meeting, Trustee Harold L. Sleight proposed that Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato be named to the top job, but his fellow trustees preferred to seek more widely. They named County Superintendent Hollis, trustee Johnson, and Lavaroni as a committee to screen candidates.

The choice of the committee was Phillip W. Schneider, a San Rafael native who had his second teaching job (in Larkspur) and his first superintendency (of the old San Jose School District in and around Hamilton Air Force Base) in Marin County. He was superintendent of Whisman Elementary School District in Santa Clara County when he got the nod.

"I still have to say Schneider was head and shoulders above all the other candidates," said Hollis this week.

Lager was proprietor of Northgate Drugs at the Northgate Shopping Center. A native of California, he had lived in Marin 16 years. He was a member of the California and Marin County pharmaceutical associations.

He is survived by his wife, Patricia L. Lager; three sons, Warren, Matthew and Robert Lager, and a daughter, Barbara Lager, all of Greenbrae; a brother, Dr. Melvin Lager of Burlingame, and a sister, Adele Delman of San Francisco.

Private funeral will be tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

W. P. GLYNN

Requiem Mass for William P. Glynn, brother of James C. Glynn of Greenbrae and Frank Glynn of Novato, will be tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at Saint John's Catholic Church, San Lorenzo.

Glynn, 60, a 20-year resident of Hayward, died in Castro Valley Friday after a short illness.

A native of San Francisco, Glynn was a member of Plumber's Union Local 444 of Oakland.

He is also survived by his wife, Austa, of Hayward; two other brothers, Robert Glynn of Alameda and Thomas Glynn of North Hollywood, and a sister, Marie Hatfield of Santa Clara.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Grissom's New San Lorenzo Chapel, San Lorenzo. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Hayward.

HELEN BANKS

Private funeral for Helen Banks, 89, of 105 Palm Avenue, Corte Madera, has been held at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Banks died Saturday at Marin General Hospital, a week after she fell at her home and suffered a broken hip, according to Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan. She had a history of heart disease also, he said.$- A heart disease also, he said.

A native of New Jersey, Mrs. Banks had lived in California 52 years, the last 30 in Marin.

She is survived by a son, Edwin Brandt of Los Angeles.

LEONARD SJOBERG

Leonard Ellis Sjoberg, 46, of San Rafael, was found dead yesterday at his home. Sjoberg died apparently of natural causes, according to Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan.

His wife, Joy Gwendolyn Sjoberg, found Sjoberg lying in a hallway of the home at 36 Royal Court at 8:20 a.m. She said he had been ill for a month. An autopsy is pending.

Sjoberg was district representative for Kingsford Charcoal Company of San Francisco, and was past president of Sjoberg Brothers of Richmond. A native of California, he had lived in Marin for a year and a half.

He is survived by his wife; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Sjoberg of El Cerrito; a son, Rick Lee Sjoberg of El Sobrante, and a sister, Mrs. Jack Ries of Benicia.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Sunset View Mortuary, 101 Colusa Avenue, Berkeley. Burial will be in Sunset View Cemetery, Berkeley.

CARL J. MARTY

Carl J. Marty, 77, a retired Petaluma rancher, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Switzerland, he moved to Denver, Colo. in 1906 and to Petaluma in 1921. Marty owned and operated a dairy and poultry ranch at 521 Eastman Lane until his retirement in 1947. He was a member of the Helvetia Society of San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Anna; two sons, Fred and Charles Marty of Petaluma; two brothers, Thomas Marty of Petaluma and Adolph Marty of Menlo Park; two sisters, Anna Griffith of Petaluma and Rose Hafner of Santa Rosa. A grandson also survivies.

Requiem Mass will be said at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Vincent de Paul Church, Petaluma. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery. Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. today at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

Gasoline Lake Perils Portion Of Richmond

In devastated portions of Western Virginia flooded by torrential rains brought on by Hurricane Camille, the toll rose yesterday to at least 74 dead, 109 missing and more than $132 million in property damage.

National Guardsmen cordoned off a 29-block area in Richmond yesterday after a leak was discovered in a partially submerged 300,000-ballon gasoline storage tank.

The fuel collected an inch deep on top of muddy river water, trapped in a basin-like depression when the river began to fall.

Food supplies, fresh water and clothing still were being carried to demolished mountain communities in Western Virginia where residents worked to dig out from under tons of mud and tangled debris.

As rescue workers continued to claw through mountain ravines and canyons in their search for the dead, the Coast Guard announced it would take up the search 200 miles downstream.

The Coast Guard planned to search the river as far west as Richmond for bodies that may have washed downstream from the mountains.

Protest Deadline On Assessments

Marin property owners have until 5 p.m. tomorrow to protest their new assessments with the county assessment appeals board.

The clerk of the board is located in room 315 of the county administration building at the Civic Center.

Clerk Mona Elder said 116 appeals have been filed, compared with 251 at this date last year.

The board will begin hearings on Sept. 26 in the supervisors' chambers.

Fairfax Pet Deer Shot, Owner Says

"Baby," the problem-prone deer that is a friend to half the youngsters in Fairfax, has been shot, Laura Nawrath, the 17-month-old deer's owner, said Saturday.

The popular pet deer apparently will live although a veterinarian said a .22-caliber bullet passed into its head next to the eye and left through its nostril.

The deer was shot Friday morning while it was on the porch of the Nawrath home at 620 Bolinas Road. The home is surrounded by game preserve land, Mrs. Nawrath said, adding was shot by a poacher.

Baby has had a series of troubles since the Nawrath family found it abandoned in April 1968. A pack of dogs attacked the deer last November and he nearly died from his wounds.

This year, the day before deer hunting season opened, Baby was tied to a tree by a rope around his leg. "I think someone had tied him up to come back and shoot him the next day," Mrs. Bawrath said.

She is sure the shooting was not an accident. "He's got ribbons tied all up and down his horns," she said. "So it would be obvious to anyone he's somebody's pet."

She urged residents who see persons carrying guns in the area to warn them that the area is not open to deer hunting.

Help Is Pouring In For Victims Of Storm

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A telethon originating from Jackson, Miss., had raised an estimated $1.3 million for victims of the storm. This included a pledge of $1,000 from the family of President Richard M. Nixon.

In a call to telethon headquarters, the President described the hurricane as "probably the worst natural disaster we've had in this country."

Comedian Bob Hope was master of ceremonies for the statewide telethon, which also enlisted singer Eddie Arnold, clarinetist Pete Fountain and members of the New Orleans Saints football team.

The American Red Cross, meanwhile, said it needs a minimum of $15 million in donations to meet the cost of emergency aid and recovery help for the hurricane victims. The relief agency had asked for $6 million last week.

Some 69,000 in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Virginia and West Virginia were affected by the hurricane, the agency said and at least 20,000 families would need Red Cross help.

Officials at 3rd Army headquarters, Fort McPherson, Ga., reported finding one stranded family of 12 persons near Wiggins, Miss., about 30 miles north of the devasted Gulfport area. The family had been without food or water for two days.

Helicopters flew in enough food for three days for more than 130 isolated refugees found 10 miles south of Poplarville, which is about 40 miles north of the coast.

The exact death toll was confused by a number of conflicting estimates and remained unknown. Gov. John Bell Williams placed the figure at about 200, reducing his earlier estimate of 300.

Attempted Auto Theft In Ross

An attempted car theft and the possible theft of a license plate were reported today by Ross police.

William Drews of San Francisco reported that while he was was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Drews, at 300 Upper Toyon Drive, someone, between 6:30 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 p.m. yesterday, tired to take his car. It was pushed out of the garage and rolled downhill, hitting a nearby wall on Upper Toyon when the steering wheel locked. The right front fender was caved in and the lights smashed.

Edward R. Bunting reported missing his front license plate, WRX 241, yesterday, but did not know when it disappeared.

Indiana Teacher Celebrates A Year With New Heart

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "All the girls wanted to kiss me," said Louis B. Russell Jr. after the first anniversary celebration for his new heart.

"I don't know whether this 17-year-old heart had anything to do with this or not."

Russell figures he has two birthdays now.

The Indianapolis schoolteacher won't be 45 until April 26, but Sunday was the first anniversary of his heart transplant operation.

"I don't think I've ever had a birthday with this much excitement and this many people," he said last night.

Friends, relatives, people he hadn't seen in a long time and people he'd never seen before dropped in to congratulate him.

"There was a whole slew of them coming in all day long," Russell said.

In an operation at the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond on Aug. 24, 1968, Russell received the heart of a youth who died of a gunshot wound.

The death of Dr. Philip Blaiberg, a retired South African dentist, left Russell the world's second longest surviving heart transplant recipient. A French priest, the Rev. Charles Boulogne, 56, is the world's longest surviving.

Russell said the death of Blaiberg "was just something that makes you think.

"It's like this. I drive a Pontiac and if word got out that something went wrong with that year's Pontiac, I'd think about it, too," Russell said.

"The Man upstairs decides for all of us and when he decides, no doctor nor anyone else can prevent this," he said.

Three Burglaries Reported In San Rafael

San Rafael police today reported three residential burglaries. Jewelry valued at more than $2,500 was stolen in one of them.

The home of Irene M. Pitman, 15 Brookdale Avenue, was entered between 9:30 a.m. and 3:10 p.m.Friday. Taken were a diamond ring valued at $1,500, a brooch valued at $1,000, a watch valued at $75, another ring with no value given, and a box of syringes used for injecting insulin.

Phillip J. Cullen of 841 Las Pavadas Avenue told police a burglar entered his residence between 2 a.m. Aug. 16 and 1:40 a.m. yesterday and stole a stereo phonograph system valued at $550.

A burglar who entered the residence of Richard Ray, 45 Manderly Road, between 6:30 p.m. Saturday and 11:30 a.m. yesterday stole a color television set and all the family's silverware and jewelry. No estimate of loss was given.

Plea For Park On Tap In Tiburon

Proposals to purchase two and a half acres adjacent to Reed School for a city nature park and to contribute $500 to a Trestle Glen Boulevard landscaping project sponsored by the Belveron Association will be heard by the Tiburon City Council at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

The council is due also to set the city's 1969-70 property tax rate at 65 cents per $100 assessed valuation to finance its approved budget of $566,643.

In addition, the council will hold an appeal hearing on Lawrence C. Olin's request for reduction of required setbacks in Reedland Woods Unit 1 and will consider an ordinance regulating the keeping of horses within the city.

Motorcyclist Breaks Leg

An Oakland man suffered a broken leg and his passenger suffered minor injuries yesterday when their motorcycle slid into the front of a car on Lucas Valley Road.

Jerry B. Yee, 21, was treated at Marin general Hospital, then transferred to Cowell Memorial Hospital at the University of California at Berkeley where he was reported in satisfacotry condition.

His passenger, Carolyn Yee, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a scraped right hand.

The California Highway Patrol said the accident near the San Geronimo-Nicasio Road intersection with Lucas Valley Road occurred when Yee's cycle drifted across the center line on a blind curve and collided with a car driven by Kenton Allen Anderson, 20, of Vallejo. The mishap occurred at 2:50 p.m.

Hearings Scheduled On Airplane Parking

Two special hearings, both involving airplanes, will be held by county zoning administrator Thomas E. Cordill at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow and Wednesday in the Civic Center.

Tomorrow's hearing is on a request by the owner of the illegally parked seaplanes on Richardson Bay, Chris Hansen of San Francisco, to keep them there. The base sprang up during the past two months despite numerous notices by the county to Hansen that it was illegal without a variance.

Wednesday's hearing will be on a use permit asked by the DSI Corp. to continue suing the airport at the Smith Brothers Ranch, which has operated for years without the official blessing of the county.

Also on Wednesday's agenda is a use permit for the construction and operation of a Jack In the Box drive-through restaurant on the northwest corner of the intersection of Ignacio Blvd. and Entrada Drive, Ignacio.

San Anselmo Rate May Be $2.255

San Anselmo City Council will consider adoption of a 1969-70 tax rate of $2.255 per $100 assessed valuation at its 8 p.m. meeting tomorrow in city hall. The 1969-70 budget already has been adopted.

Councilmen will also consider a proposal that the Atheneum Arts Foundation, now housed in the old Dollar Estate in San Rafael, be allowed to use the Robson-Harrington Mansion as headquarters.

Moon's Age Revealed By Rare Gases

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Scientists say moon rocks brought back to earth by the Apollo 11 astronauts may be 2 billion to 4.5 billion years old —the age of the solar system itself.

The gases indicate the material is at least as old as the oldest rocks from the earth's crust.

The researchers said the material contains relatively large amounts of "solar wind" gases, which are streams of particles that boil off from the sun when it is active. Some of these particles bombarded the moon in the form of cosmic rays.

Few such particles get to the earth because the earth's magnetic field keeps them away. But the moon has no magnetic field.

Some of the material will now be packaged for distribution to scientists throughout the United States and nine foreign countries.

It will be about three months before these investigators make their reports on the bits of lunar samples received.

Policeman Hurt During Fight

Simpson did not require hospitalization.

Raymond Lee Wise, 23, of 37 Madrona Avenue, Mill Valley, was arrested for resisting arrest and booked into Marin County Jail where he was held for arraignment this afternoonin lieu of 625 bail.

Police said Simpson had gone to the Kettle at 633 Bridgeway to investigate a report of a fight. While questioning Wise, the Mill Valley man became belligerent and shoved Simpson down, police said.

Sharon Asleep Polanski Says

NEW YORK (UPI)—Movie director Roman Polanski believes his wife, actress Sharon Tate, was asleep when the killer who murdered her and four others began his wild rampage, Life magazine said today.

Life writer Thomas Thompson, a longtime friend, accompanied Polanski on a tour of the director's blood-spattered Hollywood home, where the multiple murders occurred Aug. 8.

Polanski, who was in London when his wife was killed, was on an unsuccessful search for a "thread" which might provide some clue to a solution.

"Sharon must have been asleep that night," Thompson quoted Polanski as saying. "Look there, the pillows—she always put them that way when I was gone."

Thompson said Polanski was looking at a big double bed, with the bedclothes rumpled on one side. Two big pillows had been laid end to end down the center of the bed.

"She hugged the pillows instead of me..." Polanski explained. "She must have been awakened by the noise and got up."

He walked down a hall into the living room.

"They hit her here," he said. "She tried to get out that door, and they dragged her into the living room and did . . . it."

The house was just as the police had left it, and Thompson said in effect that spatters, smears and strains of blood on walls, doors and carpets lent emphasis to Polanski's reconstruction.

Killed with Miss Tate were Jay Sebring, a hair stylist who was once her fiance; Voityck Frokowsky and Abigail Folger, houseguests of the Polanskis, and Steven Parent, a youth who had been visiting their caretaker.

The director discounted reports that the murder was the result of some sort of cultist drug - and - sex ritual. "We smoked pot at my house," Polanski said, "but I don't think I've ever been to a Hollywood party where it wasn't."

Alioto To Resist Rafferty

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto said yesterday he would resist efforts by Max Rafferty, state superintendent of schools, to de-certify teachers who used "banned" books in the classroom.

The books, "Soul on Ice" by Edlridge Cleaver and "The Dutchman" by LeRoi Jones, were stricken from the black studies program of San Francisco high schools last Wednesdoy by the city's school superintendent Robert E. Jenkins. Rafferty had threatened revoking teachers' credentials if the books were used.

Alioto said he would seek an injunction against Rafferty if the state school superintendent tried to penalize teachers for using the books.

"Local authority over education must be inviolable," Alioto said, "and I believe San Francisco must stand firm against the repressive interference of the state superintendent."

Cycle-Auto Crash

Philip Hadjian, 18, of San Francisco, was to see his physician for minor injuries yesterday after his motorcycle collided at 3 p.m. on a Highway 1 curve near Muir Beach with a car driven by William Conrad Soomann, 55, of San Francisco, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Stops Tormenting Rectal Itch
Exclusive Formula Promptly Stops Itching, Burning and Relieves Pain of Piles In Most Cases
New York, N.Y. (Special): The embarrassing itch caused by hemorrhoids is most torturous. But science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to promptly stop the burning itch, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids. And all without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.
The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other hemorrhoid formula like it. Preparation H also lubricates, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Lunching Driver Hits Guardrail On 101

A Corte Madera driver, who leaned over to pick up a tomato, suffered a concussion at 3:05 p.m. Saturday when his car struck the northbound Highway 101 center guard rail, north of Alto overcrossing.

California Highway Patrol officers reported that the driver, Joseph William Nagy, 56, of 5 Council Crest Drive, told them he was eating lunch and leaned over to pick up a tomato when his car swerved into the rail. Nagy was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Assessment Ratio Set By Board

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Board of Equalization has set the statewide property assessment ratio average at 23.2 per cent.

The average, set at a meeting Friday, has a bearing on local school aid apportionments by the state, and on appeals of property value assessments.

Marin County's rate is 21.8 per cent.

The assessment levels from the 58 counties vary from a low of 18.2 per cent for Trinity County to 25.5 per cent for Alpine County. The board adopted a policy that it would tolerate a county ratio within 4 per cent of the average.

Thus, it ordered Trinity County to show cause why it should not be forced to raise its ratio.

The ratio is the percentage of cash value at which property is assessed for property tax purposes. State law requires the counties to reach a uniform 25 per cent by 1971.

Twenty-five counties are equal or above the 23.2 per cent average. Seven are 25 per cent or higher;

Ratios of some major California counties as reported to the board include Contra Costa 24.2 per cent, Los Angeles 24, San Diego 23.8, Santa Clara 23.7, Ventura 23.3, San Joaquin 23.1, San Mateo 23, Santa Barbara 22.6, Orange 22.3, San Francisco 22.2, Sacramento 22.2, Santa Cruz 22, Riverside 21.7, Fresno 21.1, San Bernardino 21.1, Monterey 21, Napa 19.4.

Burglar Is Busy

A burglar broke down eight doors to offices and shops in the Hansell Associates building, 33 Reed Boulevard, Strawberry, Thursday, and stole a typewriter, a rug, a doctor's bag, and a small quantity of wine and meat, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday. Value of the stolen property was estimated at $600.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Animal Proteins Too Expensive To Supply Global Population

VAN DELLEN

Animal proteins in significant quantities are too expensive for most people in the world. The situation is not likely to improve because production of these proteins cannot keep up with the population explosion. Present and future needs undoubtedly will be met by conventional plant proteins, including those of cereal and legume origin.

Prosperity increases the demand for milk, meat, poultry, and eggs. This is understandable because humans are carnivores and the proportions of essential proteins of other animals come much closer to meeting our RAISING CHICKENS, even under efficient factory-type methods, is expensive, considering the end cost per pound of edible protein obtained. We might find it cheaper to forget the drumstick and eat chicken feed (processed, of course) because of its protein content.

The production of meat from swine faces the same problems. Cattle hold more promise because large grazing areas remain. Many advocate a greater use of marine and fresh water fish. Marine resources, however, are not inexhaustible. Furthermore, they are not a cheap source of protein. And, in some underdeveloped countries, the people are too poor to pay the fisherman for his catch.

THE TYPES OF FISH that most of us enjoy are relatively limited. In contrast, a fish protein concentrate (FPC) can be made from species not usually acceptable to man. Through a new process, the oil from suitable fresh fish is extracted leaving a bland, odorless powder that contains 80 per cent protein.

The oil-rich seeds of cotton, soybean, sesame, sunflower, and peanut are becoming a rich source of protein. But the most popular of all are the conventional plant proteins obtained from wheat, rice, and corn. Legumes are the second most important source of proteins.

INFLAMED PANCREAS

P. R. writes: How is pancreatitis treated?

REPLY

By using drugs to control pain, quiet the pancreas, and eliminate infection. Acute pancreatitis may be associated with shock, which requires blood transfusions and other intravenous fluids. Diet plays an important role when the condition is chronic. In some instances, removal of the gallbladder is recommended to eliminate the source of infection.

MILK CONTAINERS

V. V. writes: Will the wax inside milk cartons cause cancer after drinking milk from them for a long time?

REPLY

No. There is little if any chemical reaction between wax and milk. Furthermore, there is no proof that wax in itself causes cancer when taken internally.

UNDULANT FEVER

A. D. writes: Are dizziness, diarrhea, and numbness of the arms signs of undulant fever?

REPLY

Possibly, but they are not the usual symptoms. In addition, they could occur in a variety of disorders, varying from an ordinary cold to nervousness.

New York. As seen on American Airlines' flights to New York.

All this on all our Americana flights to New York from August 27 to September 23. Plus first-run Astro-Color movies and cartoons.

Incidentally, the Apollo 11 film is so impressive, you'll probably want to see it twice. Simple. Just buy a round-trip ticket to New York. Only $227.85. (Coach Excursion Fare, including tax, minimum 7 full days, maximum 30 days travel.)

Another Marin Pot Farm Suffers From Early Harvest

Another marijuana farmer could report a crop failure today. The cause was the usual blight for which "grass" farmers have been unable to find a cure — lawmanitis.

Acting on an anonymous telephone call, San Rafael police and the Marin County Drug Abuse Cureau Friday uncovered a six-by-three-foot marijuana garden tucked away behind a carport at 35 Clorinda Avenue, San Rafael.

Officers found no one at home, but spotted a yellow bowl on the rear porch of the residence of Bradford Ohlund, holding three more sprouting marijuana plans, Inspector Richard A. Douglas reported. On the strength of that, they entered the house, and reportedly found a jar containing marijuana, a small bag of hashish, a water pipe and a tinfoil-lined pipe used to smoke marijuana.

At this point, Douglas reported, he called the district attorney's office for advice and was told the search probably was not legal, and that they had gone too far to seek a search warrant. The officers confiscated the contraband, took pictures of the pot garden and uprooted the plants for evidence.

Indians Close Beach To Stop Littering

TAHOLAH, Wash. (AP) — The Quinault Indian Tribe closed 25 miles of popular Pacific Coast beach to non-Indians at 12:01 a.m. today and State Atty. Slade Gorton says he is uncertain the state can do anything about it.

The land affected forms the western boundary of the Quinault Reservation on the Olympia Peninsula in Northwestern Washington.

The closure was ordered by tribal chief James Jackson to halt excessive littering and defacing of the beach, its rocks and driftwood, a tribal spokesman said.

Jackson said Indian patrolmen went on duty at 12:01 to enforce the order and more would be on duty shortly after dawn. He said Indian officers had instructions to turn back non-members of the tribe who attempted to use non-public roads on the reservation.

Meanwhile, in Olympia, the state attorney general said he wasn't sure if the state could do anything about the closure.

"The status of Indian reservation beaches is fairly complicated and I cannot yet comment on the legality of the tribe's action," Gorton said.

Gorton said the matter would be discussed at a staff conference Monday.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the Garys Harbor County Sheriff's office said the Indian action apparently is legal.

"We assume the reservation encompasses the beaches," the spokesman said. "Whites have no right to go in there if the Indians object. The Indian police can take them into custody."

The tribe cited an 1873 treaty and subsequent rulings of the U.S. attorney general and the solicitor of the Department of the Interior as authority for its action.

"The Quinault Tribe feels very strongly that by doing this we are protecting the right of future Americans to enjoy the natural and unperverted beauty of the area," a tribal spokesman said.

"We are tired of the apalling treatment of our land," said Joe DeLaCruz, business manager of the Quinaults.

The tribal council said the area has been littered by campers, Indian clam beds have been destroyed and Indian fishing nets stolen.

Another reason given was the desecration of the Point Grenville Rocks. A spokesman said the rocks are deeply rooted in Indian traditions and legends, but are being vandalized by tourists.

"We've got legends about some of those rocks that go way back," Jackson said. "Then when you see some idiot up there with a spray can painting . . . It kind of ticks you off."

Laird Is Reported For Viet Troop Cut

Such a move would amount to a 50 per cent reduction in U.S. strength in Vietnam. The Communists have been demanding unconditional withdrawal of all American forces.

In an interview published this week, Time quoted Laird as saying the 50 per cent pullout "could become a fallback position if the Communists continue to balk at an agreement and refuse to reduce their war effort unequivocally."

The secretary said Americans left behind under such a plan would "not engage in close combat on the ground unless attacked."

"A key feature of this outline is that the American troops kept in Vietnam would all be volunteers rather than the present mix of draftees and regulars," Laird said.

"Further, they would be used only in a support capacity. They would supply the South Vietnamese with air and artillery cover and an assortment of logistical (supply) services."

He said the support forces would remain in Vietnam indefinitely.

Theft From Car

A stereo player and 20 tapes valued at $240 were stolen from hsi car Saturday or yesterday, Donald L. Phillips of 139 D Street, Apt. 17, San Rafael, told police. The car was in a carport at that address when it was broken into, police reported.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

A letter from the United Crusade, intended for the Marin County public defender, was addressed instead to "Marin County Public Offender."

In distribution of county mail at the Civic Center, the letter was sent to the auditor-controller's office.

"Why me?" wondered Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell today.

Crewmen Lost From Freighter

SYDNEY (AP) — Twenty-four crewmen of the Australian freighter Noongah were missing late today after the 81,464-ton coastal ship rolled over and in a gale before dawn about 250 miles north of Sydney.

Two other crew members, an engineer and a steward, were picked up from a life raft by the Japanese oil tanker Koyo Maru.

The Noongah, which had a cargo of steel, apparently went down soon after her crew abandoned her in raging seas and heavy rain. The ship's captain, Leo Botsam of Melbourne, radioed that the ship had a 12-degree list and that he and the crew were taking to the life boats and life rafts.

Planes and two destroyers were searching the area.

Vice Principal Not Superintendent

In a story about barring of "Soul on Ice'" and "Dutchman" from California school use in Saturday's Independent-Journal, Wayne D. Boone was incorrectly identified as superintendent of San Rafael schools.

Bone is vice principal of San Rafael High School. John F. Plank is superintendent of the city school system.

Gallinas Study

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors will discuss the new study of the district's long range needs at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the treatment plant at 300 Smith Ranch Road. The study was presented to directors on Aug. 14.

Police Find AWOL Soldier—Short Hair

Short hair led to the arrest of a 20-year-old Army man found with what appeared to be marijuana and an LSD pill yesterday Larkspur police reported.

Thomas Hugh Harris, who went AWOL from the San Francisco Presidio July 24, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs, possession of marijuana, police said. He was to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Police stopped a car at 5:30 a.m. in the 500 block of Magnolia Avenue today to check the vehicle for a loud muffler and lack of a license plate light.

While talking to the driver, whose name was not disclosed, police saw Harris in the back seat, covered with a blanket. After Harris uncovered himself, it was noticed that he had an extremely short hair cut, police said.

Harris was asked by police if he were AWOL from the Army and after he said yes, a search disclosed a bag of vegetable matter believed to be marijuana and an orange pill believed to be LSD, according to police.

Family Scrap Leads To Jail

A family argument Saturday night led to the arrest of a Hamilton Air Force Base sergeant, Novato police reported.

Booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of assault and battery, and resisting arrest, and released on $625 bail, was S/Sgt. William D. Cornelius, 34, of 1272 San Jose Blvd., Novato. He was scheduled to appear at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that Cornelius is supposed to have slapped his wife, Virgile, and run her out of the house. He struggled when police tried to handcuff him, they reported.

Louise Linder's piggyness exposed in neighborhood pet store.

Louise and her toy poodle Lola merely went in to browse. The browsing turned into buying; the buying turned into a spree.

Now Lola has all that she needs. A collar with jewels, a pair of fur mittens, and two sequined earrings to boot.

This is one case of piggyness.

This is one cause of inflation.

Inflation can be stopped.

Of course, Government must do the big part. But, as shoppers, voters, wage earners, and businessmen, each of us can help.

So let's do it.,

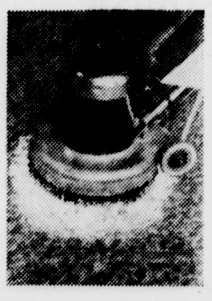
DEEP STEAM Wall to Wall Carpet Cleaning

CLEANS DEEP actually removes soil from both the pile of the carpet and the carpet backing. It does not scrub it deeper.
GENTLE ACTION uses no brushes or scrubbing action, so it does not distort the pile of the carpet.
SAFE PROCESS scientifically developed specially for the professional carpet cleaner. It is completely safe for all carpet fibers.
RESTORES PILE the powerful extraction process removes moisture immediately, thus avoiding shrinkage, and lifts matted pile to 'like new' appearance.
ECONOMICAL reduces the need for frequent professional cleaning because it removes the deeply embedded soil and leaves no residue in the carpet fibers to collect dirt.
SOIL RETARDING AND MOTH PROOFING are included at no extra cost.



The old equipment with brushes, using liquid detergent or powder, scrubs the soil DEEPER into the fabric . . . and even with the help of a vacuum fails to remove soil or residue. The detergent or powder left in the fabric soon attracts more soil and it is not long before the soil works back to the surface. Soon your carpets appear more soiled than before!

Soil Extracted, Not Scrubbed Deeper! That's the Difference . . .

HOW DEEP STEAM SOIL EXTRACTION WORKS

Deep Steam Soil Extraction equipment applies wet steam with a professional formula and soil retardant under pressure deep into the carpet fibers. The two cleaning agents combine to break down soil and the static electric charge, which holds the soil deep in the pile of the carpet, and brings this soil into suspension. Then, instantly, the moisture and soil are removed by the powerful continuous extraction process into a separate stainless steel container. During this cleaning operation every fiber is coated with SOIL RETARDANT and MOTHPROOFING to keep your carpet cleaner and protected longer.

NINE DROWNINGS

Placid Lake Elsinore Turns Into A Killer

In three months nine persons -- two adults and seven children --have drowned in the lake, 60 miles southeast of Los Angeles, in Riverside County. Only three drowned there in five years preceding last May.

"And we all hope there won't be a No. 10," says Elsinore Mayor Norman L. Chaffin, 31.

The lake became a death trap after last winer's rains. They swelled its depth from 9 to 25 feet and expanded it a mile -- spreading it over scores of drainage ditches, some as deep as chimney shafts.

Most of the chasms are near the shoreline, making it treacherous for non swimmers to wade far out. All but one of the dead were non swimmers.

Warning signs dot the shoreline. But, says Senior Patrol Ranger John Stoltz, "nobody does much reading when they're hurriedly unloading a station wagon beside an inviting lake."

"We've done everything possible," he sighs. "There is no lifeguard service available except at one beach.

"We patrol frequently but we can't be everywhere."

The first victim was Joy Dean Applin, 13, Sunnyvale. She walked into the water May 17 with a younger sister on her shoulders.

Joy stepped into a trough on the lake floor. Both girls began struggling in panic. The younger girl was rescued by campers. Joy was not. Her body was later recovered.

Since then, the lake has claimed the lives of a 13-year-old Elsinore girl and her brother, 8; a Costa Mesa boy, 7, and three members of a Corona family – boys 21, 15, and 13 --who drowned while chasing a beach ball into the water July 3. All stepped into holes and sank over their heads.

A 24-year-old parachutist came down in the middle of the lake June 2. He could swim but couldn't get free of his 'chute and drowned.

The last drowning, a 7-year-old Pomona girl, was July 5. She stepped into an irrigation ditch the lake had covered. A human chain of campers later recovered her body.

The 2,500 townspeople of sleepy Elsinore, nestled about a mile from the lake, have been shocked by the tragedies. To try to prevent more drownings, learn-to-swim classes at the lake have begun as well as Red Cross lifesaver and first aid classes.

In a way, says Chaffin, the deaths are bitterly ironic to many Elsinore residents.

The lake was no more than a big mud puddle for a decade before an agreement was made in 1964 with the state Metropolitan Water District to make the lake into a state park with a water level high enough for recreation.

Since then, Elsinore has become a good-sized recreation area, drawing several thousand persons every weekend.

"We saw the lake grow from almost nothing into something big," says Chaffin. "And now the lake has turned on us."

Two Auto Firms Seeks Permits

The San Rafael Planning Commission will consider use permits and architectural plans for two new auto agencies on Francisco Boulevard at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

Hercules Viglienzone has applied for permission to build a 20,000-square-foot showroom and office structure at 475 Francisco Boulevard and George Dexter is seeking permission for a 12,000-square-foot building at 445 Francisco Boulevard.

The commission will also consider a request for location of a berthing-float for the Sea Scouts on the canal behind the Montecito Shopping Center.

Junior High Students Due Signup Packets

Registration packets for students at Kenilworth Junior High School, Petaluma, will be mailed tomorrow, according to Charles A. King, student activities director.

The packets will include students' homeroom numbers, insurance forms, emergency cards and bus schedules. New students or those who wish counseling should contact the school before Wednesday, he said.

A lemon tree will bear as many as 3,000 lemons a year.

Taj Mahal Approach Vs. Grass Roots Plans

Roger Schoen, who has plans for a recreation center in the San Rafael Canal area which will cost the city little or nothing, failed to present them at last week's city council meeting. This was unfortunate, because the council was hit with a $681,000 price estimate on a community center at Albert Park and should have been in receptive mood for a low-cost or no-cost neighborhood center.

The plan developed by Schoen, who operates a barber shop on Belvedere Street, and that presented to the council by architect Robert W. F. Severin serve to show the great gap that too often exists between the grass-roots approach and that of officialdom.

Schoen, with backing from neighborhood groups, the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council and the county probation department, proposes to take over an abandoned building beside the San Rafael Canal and convert it into a place where youngsters can drop in for informal recreation activities.

THE CITY HAS a more grandiose plan. Architect Severin's proposal, which he developed from requests by the city recreation department, envisioned a community recreation center to adjoin a new central fire station between Albert Park Lane and the Safeway store. He estimated costs at $681,000 for the recreation center, $382,265 for the fire station, and $300,000 for land not already owned by the city. Councilmen immediately objected to the size and cost of the proposed rec center.

Schoen did not present his proposal, as he had planned, because he was told by Acting City Mgr. James H. McCown and City Councilman Harry A. Barbier that it was too late to get on the agenda. Unfamiliar with council proceedings, he did not realize he could have presented it at the time set aside for "persons wishing to address the council."

His plan has a few technical difficulties. The building, a former Standard Oil of California warehouse, is on land which the city turned over to the state in a recent land swap to straighten out tidelands ownership. The city fell heir to the building, but state permission would be necessary to make use of it where it stands.

Schoen's proposal appeals to the probation department and the police because lack of youth recreation facilities in the canal area has contributed to high incidence of vandalism and more minor mischief there.

THERE ARE UNTAPPED reservoirs of both good ideas and good will in every city which too often are overlooked by officialdom. Schoen's is just one example. Architect Severin himself some years ago presented a plan for a "Mission Promenade" which might have gone far to revitalize the downtown. Because the city did not pay for it, city officials did nothing about it. More recently, Albert F. Schmitz of Moore's Stationery made a very sensible proposal for downtown bus service which fell on deaf council ears. And the late William Ferrari presented the San Anselmo City Council a well-worked-out plan for downtown rehabilitation which was filed and forgotten — though the city later paid several thousand dollars to a consultant for a very similar one.

The inexpensive way sometimes is the best.

Anything Edible, They Eat

Raccoons, like man, are omniverous. Barring individual excentricities, if it is edible, raccoons will eat it. Vegetables, fruits, meats, fish, rice, bread and dairy products—all appeal to this hungry fellow. He is especially fond of nuts.

Friends who have about nine raccoons eating at their house every night tell us that raccoons are very fond of kibbled dog food. For their nine, they put out three pie pans full of kibbles every night.

We have tried kibbles on our raccoons, too, and just like the advertisements say, it has a glossy coat and enjoys eating and begs for more.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Get That Horse Off The Trail; He Has No License Plate!

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Bigger and better taxes for horse-owners in California loom as the result of a measure passed by the state Legislature.

The Legislature slipped through AB 2245, by Assemblyman George Milias, R-Los Gatos, allowing any county in the state to impose either a county-wide or regional park district-wide tax of up to $10 a head on "horses, mules or other animals used substantially for pleasure riding or trail use."

This is provided the animals are used by the owners on public areas designated for such use, in other words, on riding and hiking trails.

THE NEW LAW could result in the development of a new sport for equine lovers, which would be the acquisition of "riding mules" for use on riding and hiking trails. So far, no one has ever heard of the lowly mule being used for pleasure riding, although they were quite common in a bygone era. But Milias prepared for all contingencies, and in case the sport should get inder way, he wants the tax to apply to the mule as well as the thoroughbred.

His proposal contains exemptions for stock horses used only on ranches or other private property, riding stable horses used on private property or on federal land, and such other exemptions as the "county or district taxing agency may determine."

But of course, there are no exemptions for the Sheltland ponies used by the kids.

EXPENDITURE of the money derived from the "horse tax" is also specified in the measure. The county treasurer must set up a fund to be used for the "acquisition and construction" of trails for horseback riders and hikers.

This provision means that the horseback riders would have to pay for the convenience of people who can't afford a horse, and hike instead. It has been suggested that a "back-pack tax" should be added so hikers could help support the riding and hiking trails, and help the horsemen a bit. That may come later.

THERE IS NO provision in the bill for collecting the tax, and how the counties would do it is a question. They could work it like they collect dog licenses, putting the owner to the annoyance of going to the county court house and buying an annual license.

Or, they could create a new bureauacracy and really make the tax equitable by stationing "horse tax collectors" along the hiking and riding trails, who would be instructed to halt the riders' morning canters every so often and check the horse registration, as well as arrest the rider if he fails to produce the necessary papers.

Fighting In Ulster Not Religious

Walter Beam in his letter (I-J Aug. 19) re the passion of religious hatred misses the point. The fighting in Ulster is not religious, no one takes religion seriously enough to fight over it any more.

The problems in Ulster are social. It is simply that the Catholics are the "niggers" of Ulster. They are systematically excluded from jobs, good living areas, and positions of power. So they have reacted with the same blind frustrated violence as the blacks in this country and with a similar amount of justification.

Chance For People To Have Their Say

I have read with interest letters to the editor in the recent past regarding representative government and majority community thought in some of our small and medium size cities. "The will of the people," in truth ideal, in fact difficult or impossible to discern without the use of the ballot box. So we elect officials who come closest to our way of thinking in most matters and hopefully represent our feelings in the everyday business of government. The problem comes when elected officials' reasoning and our own are at odds. Thoughful citizens react with letters, cards and telegrams. Concerned citizens attend meetings, form committees and are very vocal. But the vast majority are silent, weakly accepting what's dished out without a whimper until they are faced with accomplished fact (as effects them directly) and only then yell loud and long as to how the results did not reflect majority thought.

Each residence in Fairfax recently received a questionaire in conjunction with the Fairfax Community Congress to be held Oct. 11. It affords every resident the opportunity to make himself heard about any facet of community life about him.

Those of us who do not avail ourselves of this excellent means of putting forth our ideas must eventually suffer the results of the opinions of those interested in expressing themselves. Whose town? . . . It might be the other guy's.

Anxieties Created By Bus Decision

We learned today, Aug. 22, that the school bus transportation to Terra Linda High School is discontinued.

The board of education made the decision during the current vacation so families of Marinwood, two miles away, are left into a pool of anxieties: (1) how to get our children to school in time: (2) how to get them home on time.

All citizens have been alarmed by marijuana and drugs, etc. If more children are to "hang around" close to school grounds or nearby won't they be more to get involved into any kind of a trap, even the goddie-goodie children we all think we have? . .

As a citizen, and as a resident of Marinwood, a mother of a freshman, I wish the board of education would reconsider even if some slight charge must be asked from families which are concerned about their children's welfare.

Novato Does Not Lack Ambulance

I would like to comment on the article, "Novato's Ambulance Service," which appeared in the I-J Aug. 22.

This article was very misleading. It seems John A. Trumbull, a Novato attorney, is organizing a voluntary ambulance.

The article stated Novato has been without its own ambulance service since last year. This is untrue. Doctors Ambulance (now known as Bay Cities) has been in Novato, stationed in the Ignacio area, since last September or October. This is the county contract ambulance and is backed up by the ambulances in San Rafael. Whenever the ambulance in Novato goes out on a run, Doctors pulls up another ambulance near the Civic Center and 101 Highway for backup. These ambulances are manned by state licensed professional ambulance men who know their job.

It stated in the article also, the volunteers should be 21 and will receive a Red Cross first aid course. Also women were being recruited.

Well, the state law reads an ambulance driver must be 21 years old, he must pass a written examination and physical examination. The first aid course offered by the Red Cross is not enough training to make you an ambulance driver or attendant . . .

Pleased With Story Of Summer Work

I was delighted with the article about what young people are doing in a constructive way during the summer months; I see so much of lackadaisacal attitude on the part of the young people and even sheer laziness, that it did my heart good to read that many were doing constructive work and helpful work. I think it must have struck many of us the same way and I hope more in the positive angles can be printed in your fine newspaper.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

The university stands for freedom; we are told this especially on those occasions when it is threatened by certain outside political forces. But when it is threatened from within, it becomes clear to even the meanest intellect that this freedom is largely an excuse to avoid the hard but important questions of what is right and what is wrong, what is proper and what is improper, what is good and what is evil, and what is beautiful and what is ugly. — Walter F. Berns, former professor of government at Cornell University.

Nixon's New Welfare Plan Takes Initiative From Democrats

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — A whole new political climate is developing in the nation on domestic policy.

The Democrats have lost the initiative. They never dreamed a Republican President would do that to them. They were confident Richard Nixon would be helpfully timid.

They're waking up to their plight now, but it is too late. Suddenly Mr. Nixon's bold welfare program has put an embarrassed Democratic Congress on the defensive. It doesn't know whether to attack the new relief resolution, try to do it one better, or just hold its breath until voter reaction becomes more evident.

Some Democratic liberals are starting to pick at the program; that's just about all. They suggest it won't work but offer no solid evidence. They suggest enough money isn't going into it, but even at its inception it does far more to help the needy and the working poor than anything previous.

THE DEMOCRATS are now in a ditch of their own digging. They got into it through their own do-nothing policy, certain that the President, occupied and perhaps stymied by Vietnam and inflation, would also be doing nothing.

Despite the fact that the old welfare system had come to the end of its road and was proving both disastrous and destructive, two Democratic administrations over eight years did nothing about it, and the present Democratic Congress did nothing about it in the past eight months. It showed little dissatisfaction and proposed no alternative.

This is why the Democrats are in acute disarray. And now they see President Nixon doing what was open to them to have done. He has dared to say that the old must go, and he has dared to propose that something better be put in its place.

He reminds one somewhat of F.D.R. Franklin Roosevelt didn't know whether the things he proposed would ease the depression, but he was determined to try. Mr. Nixon doesn't know whether his towering new program — breaking new ground on welfare, wage supplements for the working poor, federal revenue sharing, child-care centers and manpower training — will work well at all points. But he knows that what they are replacing has worked badly, and he is ready to try something new.

That's what the Democrats didn't except, and that is where Richard Nixon caught them asleep.

WHAT, THEN, will this Democratic Congress do with the President's welfare plan? Will it founder on Capitol Hill or be approved? There is no certain answer now, but we venture that the Democratic Party cannot afford and will not dare to kill the Nixon program.

The Democrats can't possibly justify continuing the old system, and there's little likelihood they can produce anything better than what Nixon has offered to put in its place. They may try to reshape it, but it will end up a Nixon Administration program. And if they oppose it, they will be carrying the political football backward over their own goal line.

THE WAY Mr. Nixon developed his views and made his decision sheds interesting light on how he works.

HEW Secretary Robert Finch, urgan affairs adviser Daniel P. Moynihan and Labor Secretary George Schultz were its principal advocates. But Finch knew and others quickly learned that the President wanted to master the facts before he got surrounded with conflicting opinions. They fed him information without suffocating him with solutions. When the point of decision came, Richard Nixon could test proposals on the basis of his own knowledge.

For the final cabinet discussions at Camp David, Finch, Schultz and Moynihan thoroughly prepared themselves to answer the cabinet critics. They didn't have to say a word. President Nixon said it all.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Mistrust Of Allies Seen In Beret 'Liquidation'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — South Vietnamese intelligence and counter-intelligence units are presumed by U.S. authorities to be thoroughly infiltrated by the Viet Cong.

That circumstance apparently had a bearing on the much publicized Green Beret murder case. It is the explanation advanced here for keeping the murder victim under U.S. control after he had been shown to be a double agent.

Under normal circumstance, civilian offenders are turned over to South Vietnamese authorities for action. That was not done in the Green Beret case, however, and eight members of the Special Forces — Green Berets — face possible murder charges as a result.

APPARENTLY the Green Berets, having subjected the man to intensive interrogation, did not want to turn him over to South Vietnamese authorities. They felt that he would be questioned by the South Vietnamese and might disclose information about Special Forces activities which would leak back to Hanoi.

The CIA has informed key congressional leaders that the victim in the case was not employed by CIA, at any level, and that CIA did not order his death.

The victim was, according to the best information available here, a rather low level military intelligence agent who reported truck traffic and troop movements. He did not have other, super-secret duties as intimated in some published reports.

After he had been shown to be a double agent, according to this version, the Green Berets consulted with CIA on how to proceed. Sources here say CIA felt the regular routine should be followed and the matter should be turned over to South Vietnamese authorities.

The contrary decision was made by the Special Forces high command, according to this account.

THE FUTURE of the USS New Jersey, the big battleship recommissioned for duty in Vietnam, is once again in doubt.

The New Jersey was sent to waters off North Vietnam late last September. In late March, the ship was ordered home for a regular overhaul after six months of fire support and shore bombardment.

Before the New Jersey arrived off North Vietnam, bombardment had been restricted to the southern part of North Vietnam. Soon after the ship reported there, all bombing of the North was halted, and all bombardment there was stopped also.

That meant that the ship's 16-inch guns, which lob 2,700-pound projectiles, were greatly restricted as to targets.

In recent congressional testimony, Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, the chief of naval operations, testified that the New Jersey had not been given a fair test under the circumstances.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., now chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, was the major booster of recommissioning the New Jersey. In a time of heavy economy pressures, however, Russell's support may not be quite enough to keep the big battleship on the firing line.

Smooth-Running Board Meetings Reflect Credit On Chairman

To those who spend a lot of time at the Civic Center, one of the first things that stands out is how well the new board of supervisors functions. Not that all members share similar views, but that the business going before them is handled efficiently and expeditiously.

Such was not the case last year or the year before. Bitter fights often broke out among members, occasionally sending weekly board sessions far into the evening hours. We can especially remember arguments between Thomas Storer and Ernest Kettenhofen and between Kettenhofen and Byron Leydecker.

With the present board makeup, one would have predicted this to continue. Not so, Bud Baar, for instance, stands miles away, ideologically, from Michael Wornum, but there is little squabbling.

This is as it should be, and much of the credit goes to chairman John McInnis, stern of voice and succinct of word. He will stand for no nonsense — from audience or board member.

THINK YOU HAVE troubles, Marin taxpayers? Tax rate is up 12.5 cents, you say? Well County Administrator Alan Bruce quickly points out that the tax rate in Sacramento County is projected to rise a whopping 74 cents. The board of supervisors there is faced not only with that blow, but the county administrator and some members of his staff recently quit, leaving their replacement holding the bag.

Look for a little razzing when the Sixth Army Concert Band, from the Presidio of San Francisco, gives a performance on the San Rafael Courthouse lawn Sept. 5. A letter to the board of supervisors requesting permission for the band to appear had this postscript: "Maybe the concert might induce some of the 'hippies' usually occupying the courthouse lawn to enlist."

Betcha the county will be occupying the Hall of Justice before that happens.

THE SOCALLED Chosen Family, ousted from its sprawling digs at Rancho Olompali after the county said living conditions there were hazardous, has scattered, with some members reportedly settling in the San Geronimo Valley in an old mansion near Lagunas Creek. Like Olompali, that's in county jurisdiction and county building inspectors are wondering when it's all going to end.

Say, we don't mind the lights of the county administration building burning at night to show off the joint, but must they be left on during the day? An enormous bank of lights remains turned on in the planning commission chambers even when the room is not in use.

Evening Class Signups Slated

Registration for College of Marin's evening credit classes at Novato High School will be held in the high school office, from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow. Textbooks will be sold at the same time, according to Berkeley Johnson, assistant dean of instruction.

Students planning to attend the Novato classes may also register at the Kentfield campus, Sept. 2-3 from 7 to 9 p.m. Classes begin Sept. 8.

Classes offered this fall will be U.S. history, U.S. government, introduction to cultural anthropology, animal biology, beginning accounting, principles of economics, reading and composition, history of modern Europe, introduction to philosophy, general psychology, psychology, introduction to sociology and American social problems.

Third Discussion On Center Plans Set

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission will consider again plans for a proposed community recreation center building, which architects have submitted at about twice the cost the city had estimated, at 8 p.m. Wednesday at city hall.

The city council sent plans for the center back to the commission last Monday when a cost estimate was placed at $681,000. The council recommended the commission consider eliminating the auditorium from the center and other aspects that would bring the price down.

Long Road Leads To Silent Hotel Room – And Waiting

It was a long road that took me to that hotel room in Bowling Green, Ohio, last Sunday morning. Through the window I could look out across the lawn to the pool shining in the sun. The laughter of children ricocheted off the white stucco walls.

But in the room there was stillness, a stillness laced with tension, and I watched the young giant sitting on the edge of the bed holding a book of matches, methodically tearing out a match, twisting it carefully, tightly, chewing it, tossing it into a basket — and beginning the ritual all over again.

YOU LOOK at your watch. The time is 11:20. In 10 minutes it'll be 11:30 and then another and another and another, until finally it will be two in the afternoon — two in the afternoon when the whistle blows, when the crowd comes to its feet with a roar and the young giant will be racing down the field on the kick-off of his first professional football game.

But now in the stillness-heavy room you sit with him, wishing you could say something that would have any meaning, or if not that, wishing you could make with the easy chatter and the light talk, but you don't even try because you know you're not good at it, never were good at it. So you sit, saying nothing, knowing that everything that had to be said had been said, so you let it go. Let it go, you say to yourself, let it go.

YOU CAN'T HELP going over that road, however, that long road that brought you here. You remember the first time you saw that young giant. You held him out at arms length and looked at him. He was a month old then. You had been off in another part of the world when he was born and now, a month later, you met.

In this silent hotel room you laugh inwardly as you think of the time you tried to teach him how to cast with his new rod and reel and, being wholely uncoordinated, he tripped himself into the bass pond. And the time when, with your fingers crossed, you presented him with his first two-wheeler and you came home from a trip to learn he and that bike had tangled with the chrome grillwork of a Buick. It is said that God looks after drunks and little children and this youngster needed all the help he could get. He got it, for he walked away with only a couple of skinned knees and a bruised ego.

SOMEHOW he muddled through those early years — a happy, laughing kid who couldn't run without stumbling, couldn't slice a piece of cake without cutting his finger, and couldn't get out of his bunk bed without putting another lump on his head.

And when he entered high school you caught your breath when he said he was trying out for the football team and you remember how hurt he was when he didn't make it. He didn't make it in his sophomore year either. We sat together on the kitchen steps that day and we talked. His head was bent over his knees and he was crying as only a terribly disappointed youngster can cry. You remember how proud you were when he blubbered through his tears he was going to try again.

THEN ALL at once he was coordinated and the next year he made it and the year after that. He finished college last June on the dean's list and in July he reported to Boston's professional football training camp. The other day the call came, "Dad, are you coming . . . ?"

So I found myself there, sitting with him, waiting out those agonizing minutes before his first pro game. He didn't know it, but this was my first pro game too. You see, I had waited for him. It's a great game that becomes greater when you have someone to look for — someone you love.

Senior Citizens Set Baseball Outing

The Goldenaires Senior Citizens Club will take a bus trip to the San Francisco Giants-Montreal Expos baseball game Sept. 3 in Candlestick Park.

Club members and guests must reserve bus seats by Thursday, according to officers. Buses will leave the Community Recreation Center at Second and Brooks streets, San Rafael, at 11 a.m. and return at 5:30 p.m.

Conservers Aid Beach Planning

The National Conservation Foundation is initiating a project which will assist the Marin County Planning Department in developing a revised general plan for the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area.

The foundation will provide a team of natural scientists, designers and engineers to interpret the several studies of the area prepared for the county.

The project will result in a report to the planning department which will recommend a program for integrating future developments with the environment of Bolinas Lagoon and adjacent lands.

San Rafael Trio In Pot Arrest

Three San Rafael youths were arrested Saturday after police reportedly found them with an assortment of marijuana and narcotics paraphnerlia at 4 a.m. in the Peacock Gap area.

Eugene Fredrick Schenk, 19, and Robert Dudley Deane, 18, both of 231 Riviera Drive, were booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of having marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. They were released on their own recognizance to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

A 17-year-old youth was booked into juvenile hall on suspicion of having marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia.

Police, who were checking out a report of noise in the area, said they came upon the youths on Riviera Dirve.

Beating Suspected In Petaluma Death

A 47-year-old Petaluma man may have been beaten to death along the Petaluma River, police reported today.

Robert Frederick Buhrer of 17 Post Street was picked up by the fire department ambulance beside the river at 2:30 p.m. Saturday and taken to Sonoma County Community Hospital, Santa Rosa, where he died at 4:30 p.m.

Sonoma County Coroner Andrew Johansen said preliminary autopsy reports showed that Buhrer had suffered a ruptured bladder, but said further tests may find other injuries that could have contributed to his death. He said that Buhrer's body had many marks that could have been inflicted during a fight.

Police believe that Buhrer may have been involved in the fight Thursday at 9:30 p.m. when two young men tried to steal wine and money from him and Richard J. Lake, 37, at C and First Streets near the River. Lake had been treated at Hillcrest Hospital for two superficial stab wounds, but Buhrer refused treatment at that time, police said.

In custody for questioning is Jimmy Sims, 18, of no known address. Capt. Henry Eslick said he would meet with a representative of the district attorney's office today to decide what charges may be filed against Sims.

Buhrer, a native of Hollister, San Benito County was an unemployed laborer. He was a Navy veteran of World War II.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Louise Zenzunen of Petaluma; his stepfather, Phillip Zenzunen of Petaluma; a son, Jerry Lynn of Chicago; and a brother, Ernest Buhrer of Petaluma.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

Corte Madera Green Beret Wounded In Viet Action

A Corte Madera couple is waiting today for word of their son, a demolition engineer with the Special Forces who was critically wounded in combat in Vietnam Aug. 12.

Beyond two telegrams from the Army, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Bruscino know nothing of their son, Sp/4 Michael M. Bruscino.

Like countless families who receive notification of war injuries, they must wait until the victim can be moved from the war zone, a process that sometimes takes weeks, the Red Cross reported.

The Bruscinos, of 10 Hickory Avenue, learned Aug. 17 that their 20-year-old son had been hit by small-arms fire and that there were injuries to his stomach and his 10th vertebra was paralyzed. A progress report from the Army Friday indicated his condition was still very serious.

Bruscino had been in Vietnam since last May and had been on a classified mission near the demilitarized zone, his mother said. There were only six Americans at his outpost, she reported.

Bruscino volunteered after he graduated from high school in Richardson, Tex. where the family lived for 18 months. They have otherwise lived in Marin since 1961 and young Bruscino, the eldest if five children, attended Redwood High School.

"He feels very strongly about this war," his mother said. "He wrote that these people (the Vietnamese) don't want to be under Communist control."

MICHAEL M. BRUSCINO
Injured in Vietnam

Caroline Walsh of the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross explained her hands are tied until Bruscino is moved from Vietnam.

While injured soldiers are in Vietnam, they are moved from hospital to hospital, sometimes as often as three or four times a day, making it impossible to find out where they are, she said.

Mrs. Walsh said injured men are moved as soon as possible to hospitals in Japan, the Philippines or the U.S., but the move depends on where in Vietnam they are and their condition.

As soon as a man is moved, the Red Cross can get information for families, she said.

Mrs. Walsh says the Army is good about sending progress reports until the men are moved and the Bruscinos will probably receive another by Wednesday.

Another Sentence In LSD Possession

David Brian Denison, 19, of San Rafael admitted today in Marin Superior Court that he had LSD with him when he returned to Marin County Jail June 14 from a doctor's appointment.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set sentencing for Sept. 15 and told the youth that he will probably receive a 30-to-60 day jail sentence to run consecutively with the one he is now serving for burglary.

Tennis Courts

The Bolinas Community Public Utility District will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the district office, 230 Elm Road, Bolinas, to discuss tennis courts at Bolinas Park.

Wife Asks $250,000 In Jail Death Suit

A $250,000 suit was filed today in Marin Superior Court against the county by the heirs of a man who died last January in Marin County Jail.

A similar claim against the county had been denied earlier by the Board of Supervisors.

Cesar N. Urias (also known as Rivera), 31, was found dead in his jail bunk on the night of Jan. 25, three days after he had been booked for drunkenness. He was a kitchen helper living at the Traveler's inn in San Rafael at the time of his arrest.

His wife, Dulce Urias of San Francisco, and his daughter, Alma Urias Morales, ask $125,000 general damages and $100,000 punitive damages.

They contend that Urias was "obviously ill in body and mind" when admitted to jail and that officials there did not summon medical aid. They also claim that "two John Does" assaulted and struck Urias, contributing to his death.

Berserk Youth Breaks Windows

A San Rafael youth, apparently on a drug trip, shattered three windows and upset display racks at the Food Mart, Fifth and Tamalpais avenues, on Friday, San Rafael police reported today.

John V. Thompson, 18, of 110 Laurel Place, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on the scalp and left arm, and admitted for treatment of the drug. He was released Saturday.

Police said Thompson was hitchhiking Friday and took a pill given him by hippies who picked him up. He began to get LSD-like reactions when he returned home and was taken for a walk by his sister and brother-in-law, Kathleen M. and Robert E. Bond, also of 110 Laurel Place. They got as far as the market when Thompson went berserk, hurling himself into the windows and upsetting the racks.

Brother's Plea In Drug Sale

His case was continued until Sept. 10 for his attorney to apper for setting of a trial date.

A preliminary hearing in Municipal Court for his brother, Frank Joseph Bonomolo, 22, who is accused of selling LSD, is set for Sept. 16.

Blind Woman Held Victim Of Cheaters

A housekeeper, her family and friends have been accused in Marin Superior Court of cheating a nearly blind 85-year-old Fairfax spinster of $50,000 by having her sign checks she could not see.

A suit filed by attorney Warren R. Perry on behalf of Crocker-Citizens National Bank and the spinster, Sybil Marston, asks return of the $50,000 and court attachment of the defendants' bank accounts.

The suit sayd the housekeeper, Margaret Brooks, and the others got the $50,000 over five years by giving her checks to sign which they said were for household expenses. Miss Marston's sister, Mrs. Walker Leigh of Berkeley, asked the bank to act as conservator of her sister's property and the bank filed suit.

Defendants are Mrs. Brooks, her son, Joseph Fusilier, and her ex-husband, George Fusilier, all of Hilarita Housing, Tiburon; Ida Russell, Robert Whitley and Billie Joyce Whiteley, also of Hilarita Housing; Joan V. Winn of Mill Valley, and Virginia Walton and Henry Schrich, whose addresses were not given.

GAS MASK DRILL—Someone just yelled "Gas!" These Marin County reservists have nine seconds to get their gas masks on. The drill is part of the chemical warfare training the weekend warriors must receive once a year. The 91st Training Division of Northern California, with headquarters at Fort Baker, is now in the midst of its summer training at Fort Ord on the Monterey Peninsula.

Marin Reservists Hitting The Dirt

Story and photos
By STEVEN COOK

Hundreds of Marin County men have traded suit coats and ties for boots, brass and uniforms.

In exchange for their 9-5 office jobs, they are working from 5 a.m. to 9 p.m., running Army recruits up and down the sand dunes of fog-bound Fort Ord on the Monterey Peninsula.

They are the summertime soldiers of the 91st Training Division of Northern California, headquartered at Fort Baker. The Reservists are spending their annual two weeks of summer camp, Aug. 16-30, at Fort Ord.

The 3500 men of the division owe two weeks of active duty training and 24 days of training at home stations annually for six years.

The division is commanded by Maj. Gen. Stuart D. Menist of Kent Woodlands, an insurance company vice president. Its Second Brigade, headquartered in San Rafael, is commanded by Col. Earl L. Rains of San Rafael, a food brokerage executive.

The 550 men of the Second Brigade come from Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino, Solano, Napa and Alameda counties. While at Fort Ord, they have assumed the training duties of the men of the Third Fort Ord Basic Training Brigade.

The two week session of active duty allows the men of the 91st Division to practice the tasks they would have to perform if their unit was called to active duty — providing basic and advanced infantry training to Army recruits.

EVERYBODY RUN — Sgt. Russell Zappetini, a San Rafael blacksmith for 50 weeks every year, is an Army drill sergeant this week. He shouts orders for a faster pace as recruits in their second week of basic training run the mile.

PIGGYBACK PARADE—It's a long way to run with a man on your back—150 yards. It's harder still if you're overweight and physically weak. Sp/5 Gerald Lefkowitz, a San Rafael social worker, runs with the recruits, urging them through the race, which is part of the Army's Physical Combat Proficiency Test.

TIME OUT—Pfc Joseph Ferraiuolo of San Rafael is one of the Marin County reservists who have traded bedroom for barracks while on two weeks of active duty training this summer. Ferraiuolo, rests on a foot locker in the barracks of Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 2nd Brigade, San Rafael.

HAND-TO-HAND—If you lean forward and push back suddenly, you can break the grip of a man who has grabbed you from behind. Sgt. James Bilderback, who works for Pacific Gas and Electric Company in San Rafael, demonstrates the technique in a hand to hand combat class at Fort Ord.

MARIJUANA SCARCITY BLAMED

Drug Expert Says Youngsters Forced To Try Out Hard Stuff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—One of the nation's leading drug experts said today the government's temporary success in limiting the availability of marijuana has only caused many young people in the San Francisco Bay area to switch to other potentially more dangerous drugs.

Dr. Joel Fort, a medical doctor who served as a consultant on drug abuse for the World Health Organization and the United Nations, said a drastic shift in the average American's attitude toward marijuana, and all drugs, must be forthcoming before the current drug crisis can be solved

"We are criminalizing a whole generation of youth in America and are turning an ever larger number of young people toward hard drugs as a result of our ineffective and destructive policies toward the possession of marijuana," the Ohio State University medical school graduate warned.

Dr. Fort noted that one of the principal arguments against the use of marijuana—that it causes the user to graduate to "harder drugs"—is a myth and is actually working in reverse in California.

"In San Francisco today, a number of young people are entering into the very hazardous use of black market stimulants and sedatives as well as LSD because of temporary unavailability of marijuana," the professor in the School of Social Welfare at the University of California at Berkeley said.

PARADOX OUTLINED

"Paradoxically, we therefore have a situation in which the absence of marijuana is leading to 'hard drugs' rather than the presence of it," Fort said.

But he said the mere passage of criminal laws only complicates the drug crisis and will never stop drug abuse.

"The American system of attempted drug control through extreme laws has been markedly ineffective and destructive and in fact has led to more use of more drugs, including more potentially dangerous ones, than ever before," Dr. Fort said. "Only an approach of prevention and education which seeks to correct the alienating forces in our society and improve the quality of life will be successful in reducing drug use."

ROCK FESTIVAL

The author of the book, "The Pleasure Seekers," a comprehensive study of the drug crisis in layman's terms which will hit the bookstands next month, said his theories were manifested in the recent Woodstock Rock Festival near Bethel, N.Y.

"The recent hysterical statements about drug use and adverse reactions at the Woodstock Festival appear to have been greatly exaggerated," Fort said.

"But even these unfortunate reactions could have easily been dealt with by a humane health approach to drug abuse providing treatment and education rather than fostering fear and rejection.

"The roots of drug use in America are very deep. We live in a drug-ridden, drug-obsessed society where we are taught from childhood by parents and by commercials that problems are easily solved and happiness obtained through chemicals," he said.

Dr. Fort said that the use of marijuana, like all drugs, involves some risks, especially to people already in an extreme emotional state. "But marijuana is fortunately not a narcotic, not addicting, and in its overall effects it is less destructive to the individual and society than tobacco or alcohol," he said.

Dr. Fort said the emotional and unobjective American attitude toward the entire drug situation has resulted in a situation where "many people feel that we are making social progress when we have former heroin addicts dying from alcoholism."

He urged an objective look at the entire drug situation, especially a realization of the effects of the legal drugs. "In addition to widespread alcoholism and the well-known enormous health problems from cigarette smoking, we have as a society a very serious and growing drug abuse problem with the amphetamines, such as dexadrine and methadrine, and with sleeping pills such as the barbituates.

"Most of this is among middle class, respectable people getting these drugs on prescription from their doctors as well as a certain amount of black market use by a minority of young people who turn to these pills mainly when marijuana is made temporarily unavailable by the occasionally successful activities of drug policemen," the creator of the Center for Special Problems in the San Francisco Department of Public Health said.

Ross Flood Board To Meet On Construction

The town of Ross' Flood Control Advisory board will meet at 6 p.m. today at town hall to discuss the first portion of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project through the community.

The town council has indicated general approval of the plan but delayed action until after the board had met to discuss it.

Owner Misidentified

A burglarized house at 1406 Lincoln Avenue is owned by the estate of Pauline Perry rather than Laverne N. Welch, as incorrectly reported in the Independent-Journal Friday. Antique furniture of undetermined value was taken some time during the last six weeks, police reported.

Hub Schools Set Bus For Pupils

Bus transportation will be provided for kindergarten through third grade children in the San Anselmo School District when school opens Sept. 10, Supt. Stephen L. Parodi has announced.

Those eligible must live at least three-fourths of a mile from school along major roads.

Bus schedules may be obtained either at the school district office at 1024 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard or at the schools, starting Monday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., except for Yolansdale School which will be open from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

featuring new Color Commander Control

New Zenith single control adjusts contrast and color level, with brightness in the proper ratio—so they stay perfectly in balance as you adjust the color picture to match changing light conditions in the room. There's no longer any need to turn separate controls as in conventional receivers. Now when conditions of varying ambient light occur, such as alternately dim or bright room light, you can easily compensate for varying room light by simply adjusting the Color Commander Control for the most pleasing picture, with virtual elimination of washed out or over saturated color pictures.

plus revolutionary Chroma-color tube

After years of research, Zenith introduces Chromacolor, featuring the revolutionary Black-surround principal, that brings you a color TV picture more than 100% brighter—with more true-to-life colors, sharper detail and greater contrast—than any previous giant screen color TV. Zenith, unlike other sets, uses smaller phosphor dots to make up the TV picture, surrounding them with jet black to bring you a picture with increased definition, greater detail, brighter colors. Come see this remarkable innovation at your nearest Big E.

Remember, the Big E is now premiering Zenith's 1970 line of color and black and white television sets, plus new radios, phonographs, tape recorders and wonderful cassette recorders. They're on display at all Big E's now.

Bolinas Lagoon Control Report Due Supervisors

Existing controls on filling Bolinas Lagoon will be reported to the Marin County Board of Supervisors by Public Works Director Donald R. Frost at an all-day meeting beginning at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the Civic Center.

Conservationists criticized the controls as inadequate after developer George P. Leonard of Stinson Beach filled in southeastern portions of the lagoon before ordered to halt by Frost.

County parks and recreation concern over the possible damage of fill to lagoon wildlife and shellfish.

On the agenda at 10:30 a.m. is a hearing of an appeal by the Gallinas Village Improvement Association from the county planning commission's conditional approval of the design for the Tarrant Apartments at La Brea Way and Adrian Street.

An ordinance controlling parking at Waldo Point, a report on logging on the Righetti property in West Marin, and a continued hearing on widening Novato Boulevard are also on the agenda.

Jealousy Kills Husband, Son

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police said a woman motorist used her car to ram the motorcycle on which her husband was giving a teen-age girl a ride today, killing him and the couple's son in the car.

Officers arrested Bonnie Bradford, 26, for investigation of murder in the deaths of her husband, Charles, 27, and their son, Kyle, 3. The car went out of control after the crash, flipping over and fatally injuring the child. Police said Mrs. Bradford chased the cycle several blocks before the collision.

$1,000 Stereo Taken From Student Home

Stereophonic equipment, valued at about $1,000, was stolen Friday from the Muir Woods home of two college students, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

James Wiernick, 21, of 20 Washington Park Ave., a student at the University of California at Berkeley, reported that the equipment owned by him and Allan Goldberg, 22, another student, was taken from the house sometime from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Savings Bond Sales Pass $1 Million Mark

Marin County's U.S. savings bonds sales for July totaled $135,442, county chairman William P. Murray Jr. has reported. Sales so far this year total $1,043,833, he said.

California sales for the year were $216,033,418 and sales for July were $28,695,447.

Member Resigns From Juvenile Panel

Anne S. Miller has resigned, effective immediately, from the Marin Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission to spend full time on a new teaching job.

She has been a member of the commission since July 1967. She announced her resignation in a letter to the board of supervisors.

Pay On Agenda

Possible pay increases for teachers and classified employees of the Lagunitas School District will be discussed by the board of trustees at 7:30 p.m. today.

Long-term building needs of the district will also be considered.

Nelson Is President Of Estate Council

Robert N. Nelson, a San Rafael attorney, has been elected president of the Marin County Estate Planning Council, an educational study group in personal and estate finance management.

Novato Budget, Tax Rate Due Tomorrow

The Novato City Council is scheduled to adopt the fiscal 1970 budget and set a tax rate at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Novato Community house.

The council also will consider changing all parking on Grant Avenue west of Highway 101 to parallel parking. The council deadlocked over the issue Aug. 12. At present, part of the street has parallel parking and part has angle parking.

Other items to come before the council include reorganization of the public works maintenance department and revised employee classifications, setting a date for a meeting with the parks and recreation advisory commission on a possible bond issue for parks and a report on the downtown study.

Redwood Empire's Boosters Will Meet

The Redwood Empire Association will hold its annual convention for the first time in San Rafael, J. Galen Foster, general chairman, has announced.

The meeting has been set for Sept. 24-27 at the Holiday Inn in San Rafael. Travel promotion plans for chambers of commerce and visitors' bureaus, development of Redwood National Park and recreation programs in Oregon will be among the topics of discussion.

Any $7,000 car makes you feel secure on a country club driveway. The Mercedes-Benz 280S makes you feel secure on a bustling turnpike.

Look underneath, and you'll begin to see why.

At Mercedes-Benz, engineers —not styling geniuses or marketing wizards—have the upper hand.

And these stubborn purists insist that if a man can afford to invest $7,000 in an automobile he is entitled to get more than a status symbol.

Result: the Mercedes-Benz 280S at right bristles with sophisticated, ultra-performance features that simply do not exist on domestic sedans in the so-called "fine car" field. It steers, maneuvers and stops as if your life depended on it.

This is one reason why Car and Driver magazine, with a world of cars to choose from, concludes that the current Mercedes-Benz line "represents the present pinnacle in safe car engineering."

Of all cars in the "luxury class" field, the 280S is rated the safest, most roadworthy. Read why.

Racing car suspension

For a clue to the almost uncanny handling and evasive ability of the 280S, scrunch down and look beneath the rear bumper—at the axle. It's not the rigid "beam" axle of most domestic cars. It is articulated.

This Mercedes-Benz low-pivot swing axle permits each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other, just as the front wheels do. The result is leech-like roadability.

If you know what you're looking for, you can also spot heavy-duty thrust arms, individual coil springs and shocks, and a horizontal hydropneumatic load-leveling device.

All in all, suspension ideas more common on 180-mph Grand Prix racing cars than 5-passenger sedans.

Engineering extravagance?

A passenger car doesn't need a suspension fit for a racer, argue some critics. True, reply Mercedes-Benz engineers. For everyday city driving, this is sheer engineering extravagance.

But some day you might have to get off the pavement, onto a stretch of potholed back road. You might have to enter a sharp curve or a turn-off faster than you intended. You might have to change course quickly while cruising at 65 mph on a busy turnpike.

And, suddenly, you realize that this engineering extravagance is no extravagance at all.

Sharp reflexes

Occasionally, it is also necessary for a 3,400-pound automobile hurtling along at high speed to stop abruptly.

Once more, Mercedes-Benz engineers draw on their experience with World Champion racing machinery. They employ the more expensive, but clearly superior, type of brakes used almost universally on today's professional racing circuits.

Disc brakes.

The engineers don't stint, either—by putting disc brakes only at the front wheels, and settling for conventional drum brakes on the rear. They insist on attaching a massive caliper-type disc brake to every wheel of every Mercedes-Benz.

Someday, doubtless, 4-wheel disc brakes will be offered on a domestic "luxury" car.

Accurate steering is vital for maximum control, too. In an emergency, you don't have time for a sweeping twirl of the wheel. The car must respond instantly.

The 280S does. Credit the ingenious Mercedes-Benz recirculating-ball-type steering system. It eliminates sloppy play in the wheel—and blesses you with the "feel" of the road. Suddenly, you are a more confident driver.

Taut, sensitive steering is retained even with Mercedes-Benz power steering—characterized by Car and Driver as "unquestionably the most precise unit of its kind ever developed."

If trouble comes

The responsiveness which makes the 280S such a joy to drive is its best defense against blundering motorists. However, if the worst happens, the car is designed to shield you. Naturally, it meets all the U.S. safety regulations. But Mercedes-Benz safety goes beyond the letter of these laws.

The entire passenger compartment is built as a sturdy "safety zone." Doors are designed to stay shut on impact. The front and rear of the car are engineered to crumple in a crash at a controlled rate, absorbing shock and reducing the threat of serious injury.

"A fellow hit me when I was stopped at a toll booth," reports one Mercedes-Benz owner. "People in his car were hospitalized. But I just opened my door and stepped out."

Showroom experiments

The 280S is as habitable as it is roadworthy and safe.

Slip behind the wheel, and flex your back. This is no marshmallow seat. It supports you, hour after hour. It should: it was designed with help from orthopedic physicians. The springs inside are tuned to the car's suspension motions, cancelling out thousands of tiring vibrations every mile.

Check the rear shelf. Carpeted. Feel the underside of the dashboard. There's no spaghetti tangle of wires. It's fully finished off. Finger the wood trim—real walnut, not plastic.

No shortcuts

Your 280S is built with uncompromising care, to make it a lasting investment.

Every 280S begins life in a shower of sparks. It is not bolted into being, like a conventional car, but solidified by thousands of welds. After 50,000 miles or so, you may start to wonder if it will ever rattle.

When welding stops, the body is gone over by hand with a soft glove. Bumps and burrs are spotted and smoothed away. Vital seams are packed with solder and buffed to oblivion.

The body is then dunked in a 52-ton primer tank, baked, sprayed, painted, hand-sanded, sprayed again, then hand-sprayed. Total primer and paint rust protection: over 44 pounds.

The overhead-cam, six-cylinder engine equals the coachwork for longevity. Bearings are delicately machined to within 4/10,000ths of an inch, and pistons and connecting rods are painstakingly matched and balanced. Yet this power plant is about as fragile as a bull. It's built to cruise flat-out indefinitely—and, on Germany's wide-open autobahns, it often does.

An unconventional car? Defiantly so. Mercedes-Benz does not make conventional cars—and never will.

24-page brochure

If you'd like more facts on this remarkable motor car—$7,000* complete with automatic shift, power steering and electric windows ($6,249* without frills)—mail the coupon for a color brochure.

Of course, the quickest way to appreciate the car's virtues is simply to arrange for a test drive.

Other models to mull over:

220 Diesel—the only diesel-powered automobile Mercedes-Benz makes, gives you small-car economy in a big, safe sedan that may well endure for decades, $4,780*.

Irish Career Woman Discusses Life Of Travel And Adventure

By JOAN LISETOR

Joan Bergin considers herself a fortunate person. She has been able to combine her intense interest in travel and great love of adventure with a career.

Known as Siobhan Ni N'Aimbergin in her native Dublin, Ireland, Miss Bergin travels around the world on behalf of an Irish carpeting firm, visiting stores and lecturing and discussing interior decorating with the public.

She was in Marin Friday on what she calls one of her short trips.

"I'VE ONLY been away two weeks, and next week I am going to take a holiday in Los Angeles," she explains. "This is quite a rest after the five and six month marathon trips I have been making for the past three and a half years."

Discussing the countries she has visited Joan says it is easier to list the ones she has not visited, and the only continent she has missed is South America.

"If I inherited a million pounds I couldn't travel just for enjoyment," the 27-year-old Irish girl says.

But the spirit of adventure is still growing in the colleen who once persuaded a Jesuit priest to smuggle her into Red China.

"I was having dinner with friends in Hong Kong one night and met the priest, who had been a missionary before they were expelled from Red China," she explains. "He wanted to make one more visit to the people, and in a rash, brave moment I convinced him to take me with him. I was disguised as the most unlikely looking Chinese, and we flew in his plane as far in as the Yangtse River.

"ONCE I WAS there, I must confess to being a trifle uneasy and everything was tempered by the fear of not getting out, but after two and a half days we were able to get out by plane."

An exciting life began by answering a newspaper advertisement which led to her present job for Joan, who had planned a music and drama career. She is still active in a little theater group, which she says takes all of her spare time and salary when she visits her family in Dublin. She is a graduate teacher of the Loncon College of Music and Drama in Dublin, but most of her studies have centered around interior decorating.

She won a scholarship from the Swedish Arts Council to study textiles in Stockholm and her thesis on Georgian Dublin qualified her for a fellowship in the Institute of Allied Arts in Zurich. Joan is frequently invited to design the interiors of hotels and public buildings and lectures to clubs on interior design during her travels.

"If I could live in any city in the world," the young executive says, "it would be either Dublin, Hong Kong or Sausalito. On my last trip to Marin County, which was in the spring, I noticed the grass on the hillsides. Until then I thought that Ireland had the greenest grass, but it's here in Marin. It is a place that has a little bit of almost every country I've seen in the world."

Finale Of Fashion-Luncheon Series To Be Held Wednesday

Marin Women

A colorful fashion show with live music will provide a finale to the Northgate Group summer luncheon series Wednesday at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. Mrs. Patrick Foster of Ross, president of the Northgate Group, will welcome the nine sponsoring Marin County organizations and the over 450 guests who are planning to attend this season's closing Northgate Group fashion-luncheon.

Mrs. Hal C. Moore of Greenbrae, who has been the general chairman for the summer luncheon series, says that the nine co-sponsoring groups will provide a total of 18 models, and the organizations will also make available over 80 women who will serve the luncheon.

PARTICIPATING IN the final fashion-luncheon of the series is the North Bay Council of the Children's Home Society. Mrs. Burt Richardson of Larkspur is the general chairman for the fashion-luncheon and will provide 10 waitresses from the various Children's Home Society chapters in the area. Models are Mmes. Douglas Meyer, Santa Rosa; A. J. Corsi, Santa Rosa, and William Brady, Petaluma.

Pixie Parents, who maintain a pre-school memorial playground on the center grounds, will provide 15 waitresses. Mrs. Donald Herbers of Corte Madera is fashion-luncheon chairman for Pixie Parents. On the runway for the group are Mmes. Sandy Greenblat, San Rafael, and Willard Stump, Kentfield.

General chairman for the American Association of University Women is Mrs. John N. Morrison of Novato. Mrs. John A. Colistra of San Rafael is waitress chairman and will furnish 10 women who will serve the luncheon. Model chairman is Mrs. Arthur Ritter of Novato. Models are Mmes. Gilbert Guerin, San Rafael; and Arthur D. Ritter and David Hudson, both of Novato.

BOYD MARIN Museum of Science general chairman is Mrs. William Corrigan of San Anselmo. Thirty volunteer waitresses will come from the museum group. Models are Mmes. Bruce Cullen, Tiburon; Arthur Morse, Mill Valley, and McKenzie Moss II, Kentfield.

The Garden Society of Marin waitress and model chairman is Mrs. Fred Sloat of Ross. The group will provide 10 waitresses. The Garden Society representative of the runway is Mrs. Andre Claeys, Corte Madera.

Mrs. William Muller of Ross is the general chairman for the Marin Garden Club. The group will furnish two waitresses. Mrs. C. Hugh Carruthers of Kentfield will model for the organization.

ALSO BEING honored at the Wednesday fashion-luncheon, but not participating in the fashion promenade, is the Marin Conservation League. The league, which was established in 1934, was one of the founding members of the Marin Art and Garden Center. It was founded for the purpose of preserving and developing the natural assets of Marin County.

The Northgate Group will be represented on the runway at the fashion-luncheon finale by Mmes. H. Reed Volin, San Rafael; Ellison Ebey, Sausalito; William Morrisey III, Ross; and John W. Merryman, San Rafael. The Northgate Group model chairman, fashion coordinator, and liaison between the sponsoring organizations for the series has been Mrs. Boyd Lang of San Rafael.

Ronald Banks To Wed Catherine B. Frank

CATHERINE BRIDGET FRANK

The engagement of Catherine Bridget Frank to Ronald Kenneth Banks of San Rafael has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Frank of Forest Knolls.

The future bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is attending the College of Marin. Robert L. Frank of Portland, Ore., and Michael Frank of Forest Knolls are her brothers and Mrs. Arnold Schrick of Novato is her sister. Frank W. Frank of Ross is Catherine's grandfather.

Ronald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Banks of San Rafael, is employed by the Standard Oil Co. of San Rafael. He was graduated from Terra Linda High School and attended the College of Marin. Mark and Melanie of San Rafael and Steven of Mt. Holly, N. J., are his brothers and sister.

Ronald's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maslen of Mill Valley.

Kenneth Frost Claims Bride In Vallejo Rite

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Bailey of Vallejo. Ken is the son of the Kenneth Frosts of Belvedere.

Mrs. James J. Benn of Bethesda, Md., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Frank L. Cunningham of Vallejo, Mrs. Neil Bridges of Sacramento, Cecelia Moore of Folsom and Diane Johnson of Rancho Cordoba.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Charles W. Frost of Belvedere, to be his best man. Assisting wedding guests to their places were Jack L. Cooper of San Francisco, Ross Fitz-Gerald of Davis, Robert Olson of Cambridge, Mass., Oliver T. Townsend of Wilmette, Ill., and Robert T. Groseth of Oak Park, Ill.

Jane is a graduate of Vallejo Senior High School and of the University of California at Davis. She studied for a year at the University of Madrid and erned an M.A. degree at Davis, where she is an associate in the Spanish department.

Ken is the grandson of Mrs. Charles Whitfield White of San Francisco and Mrs. Faye L. Frost of Aptos. A graduate of Redwood High School, he continued his education at Indiana University, where he received the bachelor's degree. He is a doctoral candidate in chemistry at the University of California at Davis, where he is a research assistant in the chemistry department.

After a wedding trip to Mendocino, the couple will live in Davis.

From Bunny To Stock Broker

NEW YORK (AP) — As a Playboy bunny, Caryl Goldman's stock in trade was tips. Now, 14 months later, her tips in trade are stocks. She's a registered representative at a brokerage house.

The road from the Playboy Penthouse, where bunny-suited hostesses work mainly for tips, to the world of Wall Street and high finance may seem long, but to the petite, raven-haired Miss Goldman, it was only a hop, skip and a jump.

"I quit after three years at the club, started as a trainee, and now here I am," she sayd, glancing at the electronic stock quotes illuminating the wall above her desk.

"I like it here. It's exciting and now here I am," she says, perched on the edge of her chair like a . . . well, like a bunny.

She is tiny — five feet even — 28, and completely feminine, but doesn't seem out of place in the "board room" filled with some 40 men and only one other woman.

"I first got interested in stocks when my father died. He left my mother a lot of securities and I got very involved in investing them for her."

"After a while, I decided I might as well get in the business and started applying at different brokers."

Miss Goldman deals primarily with large investment accounts and traders, taking buy and sell orders on the phone and keeping a close watch on the progress of various stocks.

She's a well-educated ex-bunny with a bachelor of arts degree in art history from the University of Syracuse where she made the dean's list, a master's degree in education from New York University and taught first and second grades in Bedford-Stuyvesant before becoming a Playboy bunny.

"I left teaching because it was no longer challenging," she says. "I guess it was about the same situation as a bunny."

CARYL GOLDMAN, left, when she was a bunny at the Playboy Club, is now a registered representative for a New York brokerage house and works at her desk, right. No dumb bunny, she has a bachelor of arts degree and a master's degree from New York University. (AP wirephoto)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

She Gave Her Son To Sister Who Refuses To Let Them Meet

DEAR HELEN:

The doctors thought I was going to die when my premature baby was born 21 years ago. To be sure he'd have a home, my husband and I signed papers giving my sister custody. Then miraculously, I recovered.

But my sister, who couldn't have children, was so brokenhearted at the thought of giving him up, that we let her keep him. I was still very sick. And I thought I could have more children. As it turned out, I didn't.

It hurt terribly seeing him grow up and not being able to tell him the truth. Then one day in a drunken fit my sister gave the secret away.

I never interfered even though she was an alcoholic. Now he is married to a lovely girl, and I want to be friends, but my sister is being very mean. She won't allow me to come near them. She says he isn't my son because she raised him. After all, I sufferd eight months and nearly died having him. He is my flesh, and a fine boy who doesn't drink or smoke.

Should I be kept from seeing my own son, and perhaps later on, his children? — T. Y.

DEAR T:

There's more to this than appears in your letter, and I can't play Mrs. Solomon unless I know all the facts. Even then, the best I could do would be to say, "Thank your lucky stars the boy turned out well, and give him as much time as you gave him during his growing-up years. I think your sister will grant you that." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

The letter from "Never Forgot Him" might be the story of my life. It isn't always true that you outgrow a first love, Helen.

At 18, I too broke up with the boy I loved because of parental objections. Within three years, both of us had married someone else. I thought of Bob occasionally, but my husband was a good man and I busied myself with making a home and raising our children.

If the goodness of a hsuband is to be measured by material things, then I have a wonderful man, but if it is to be measured by how much he gives of himself, I have very little.

Helen, after 12 years of marriage I reached a point where I felt alone whether I was with him or not. No amount of telling him how I felt made any difference. He 'd only say, "This is the way I am"—a solid wall of indifference.

I involved myself with part-time jobs, club activities, college courses and eight more years passed until I was 41. Then fate stepped in.

After a shopping trip to the city, I decided to stop for a late lunch. A man leaving the restaurant held the door open for me. Yes, it was Bob, and after 23 years, we knew each other immediately!

This was the beginning of something that had never really ended. We meet whenever his business and my home life allows. We have wonderful times together. We share. We can talk. We're alive again.

Bob has a home life on a par with mine. We both feel that we cannot base our own happiness on someone else's unhappiness, so we do not ask our mates for divorces. Perhaps we're better mates because life doesn't seem useless any more. Frankly, I doubt that his wife or my husband would care. No, this isn't a story book ending, and perhaps it never will be. But I can't feel guilty, nor can Bob. We are just grateful that we have each other. — NEVER FORGOT HIM EITHER

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Karen Youngman To Be Wed In October

Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Youngman announced the engagement of their daughter, Karen Ann, to Michael Richard Ryan at a party yesterday at their Oakland home.

KAREN ANN YOUNGMAN

Karen is the brother of George Youngman of Baltimore, Md., and Walter C. Youngman Jr. of Alameda. She was graduated from San Jose State College, where she was a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, and is employed as a legal secretary in San Francisco.

Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Ryan of San Rafael and the brother of Robert Ryan, a student at Occidental College in Los Angeles. He was graduated from San Rafael High School and San Jose State College, where his fraternity was Sigma Chi. The future bridegroom is employed by National Cash Register Company.

An Oct. 11 wedding date has been set by the couple.

Roderick Stephen Taft Weds In Laguna Beach

Roderick Stephen Taft Jr. of Belvedere claimed Ellen Beemer of Laguna Beach as his bride Saturday in a ceremony at St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Laguna Beach.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beemer of Laguna Beach, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roderick S. Taft of Belvedere.

Maid of honor was Fredde Howarth of Newport Beach, and bridesmaids were Roxanne Taft of Belvedere, the bridegroom's sister, Jane Curry of Arcadia and Mrs. Sam Mercer Jr. of San Mateo.

Wyborn Mercer of Belvedere was best man. Ushers were Tom Cooke of Belverdere, Tom Gootherts of Corte Madera and Sam Mercer Jr. of San Mateo.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. After a wedding trip to Monterey the couple will live in San Diego, where the bridegroom will be in his senior year at San Diego State College. He was graduated from Redwood High School.

The bride is a graduate of Laguna Beach High School and the University of California at Santa Barbara. She is the sister of Mrs. Roger Loar of Walnut Creek and John Beemer of Laguna Beach.

The bridegroom is the brother of Mrs. Alicia Widmer of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Stephen Ferris of Napa and the grandson of Mrs. Anna Bilotti of Belvedere.

Firm Muscles

A new exercising device can be stored against a wall or even toted along when you travel. It helps firm muscles in much the manner rowing a boat does.

CUTTING THE CAKE at their wedding reception at West Marin Community Center in Point Reyes Station are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walton Burbank. The bride is the former Linda Ann Gondola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Gondola of Point Reyes Station. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Walton Burbank of Petaluma. The couple exchanged vows at Sacred Heart Church in Olema. (Faulkner photo)

Bold Colors

Color goes on the bold standard for fall footwear. The National Footwear Institute says that brown in all tones comes on strong. But look for mariner and navy blues, the ultraviolets, the deep reds, the tones of wine or bing cherries.

Bandages

The first oversized adhesive bandage with a non-stick pad is available. The pad, two inches square, is constructed to keep wounds semi-dry, which most doctors agree is the best condition to speed healing.

Earthy Tones

Style leader Chester Weinberg goes earthy in fall fashions. The New York designer takes his colors from Mother Nature with such tones as bronze rust, sandy neutrals, forest greens, and clay reds.

ON THE AGENDA

Marin Opera Action Group To Sponsor A Series Of Previews

Mrs. Edmond C. Ward of Kentfield, chairman of the Marin Opera Action Group, has announced the schedule for the fall San Francisco Opera preview series to be held in Marin, sponsored by the local Action Group.

Previews will be held on Thursday evenings. The first will be given in the Barn at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, and the others will be held either there or in the Caroline S. Livermore Room at the center.

On Sept. 11 Jess Thomas, renowned tenor, will preview "Ariadne Auf Naxos," in which he appears with the San Francisco Opera Company. On Sept. 25 a preview of "Fidelio" will be presented by Speight Jenkins, news editor of "Opera News" magazine.

John Rockwell, music critic of the Oakland Tribune, will present a program on "Gotterdammerung" on Oct. 9, and on Oct. 30 "La Forza Del Destino" will be the subject of a program by Dale S. Harris, Stanford University professor and KQED reviewer.

Previews reservations chairman is Mrs. Carlo S. Fowler of Kentfield. A brochure on the opera season or preview information may be obtained from Mrs. Ward.

THE NOVATO chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will have a potluck dinner at 6 p.m. Thursday in the Druids Hall.

Novato chapter, International Order of Rainbow for Girls, will present the opening and closing ceremonies prior to the meeting at 7 p.m.

Chairman is Mrs. David Hixon assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Hoekman, and Mmes. Earl Marshall, Stephen Shoemaker and Pearl Johnson.

A SURPLUS book sale will be held Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. during the final luncheon and fashion show in the summer series at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross to benefit the Moya Library. The library is being established with a permanent, quality selection of books by the Moya Library Guild. The sale will be conducted adjacent to the Octagon House at the center with a wide selection of paperbacks available to buyers. Books for the sale have been donated by guild members and others.

A SALAD bowl luncheon will be sponsored by Court St. Agnes 1428, Catholic Daughters of America, on Thursday at noon in St. Rita's Parish Hall, Fairfax.

Mrs. William McPartland, grand regent, has appointed Mrs. Antone Schunk chairman for the event. Reservations chairman is Mrs. Jessie Sullivan of San Anselmo. Mrs. Schunk has chosen as her committee Mmes. Franklyn Fontes, Claude Kalen, David Lippi, Robert Alten, McPartland, Russell White, Nelson Harris, Sam Irving and Edmond Bruschini.

Pilot Dies At Age 82

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—Zaddie R. Bunker was 65 when she decided she'd rather be in the cockpit than baby-sit her grandchildren. So that's what she did.

Now this desert community is mourning the death of Mrs. Bunker, a legendary figure among women pilots. Death came Thursday—just a week before her 82nd birthday and preceded by these achievements:

Learned to fly at 65; flew solo back and forth across the continent at 66; earned her multi-engine license at 68, and flew faster than sound at 73.

Mrs. Bunker, known as "the Flying Grandmother," and "the First Lady of Palm Springs," first came to the desert in 1913—long before it became the winter playground of movie greats and other celebrities.

Her first job, at age 26: delivering merchandise to local business houses from the railway station in a freight truck.

On winning her multi-engine pilot's license at Teterboro, N.J., she commented: "Why did I learn to fly at 65? Because it's fun."

She maintained that "anyone can learn anything he wants to with enough perseverance."

Of her crosscountry jaunt, she told a newsman: "I've been driving for 45 years, but if I had to make this trip by automobile I don't think I could have done it. Motoring just isn't safe enough."

In breaking the sound barrier, Zaddie piloted an Air Force F100 Super Sabre jet with Lt. Col. Robinson Risner as copilot.

She confessed to friends recently that 18 months ago she half-heartedly applied to be an astronaut and was rejected.

"I could have done it," she said.

The funeral was today at 9 a.m. in the Palm Springs Community Church.

Home Accidents

Deaths from home accidents are declining, but slightly. The National Safety Council says that home deaths decreased two per cent in 1968, 500 fewer than the 1967 toll of 28,000.

LINDA LEE Horick became the bride of Jeffrey Scott Kaspick at Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Horick of Point Reyes Station. They will live in Sacramento, where both are seniors at Sacramento State College.

Linda A. Green Is Bride Of James T. Vincent

Linda Anne Green became the bride of James Thomas Vincent Saturday in a nuptial mass celebrated at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel in Mill Valley.

Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Green of San Anselmo, chose Genetha Day of San Rafael as her maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Sherrey and Shelley, the bride's twin sisters, and Tina Vincent, the bridegroom's sister.

Linda was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and the University of California at Davis. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Green of Larkspur and Earl Hipsley of New Market, Iowa, formerly of Larkspur.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Vincent of Freedom, was graduated from Watsonville High School, Watsonville. His sisters and brothers are Tina, Hilary, Thomas and Joseph, all of Freedom.

The couple will live in Davis where James will attend the University of California.

Elu-Hansen Nuptial Mass Held In Petaluma Church

A nuptial mass yesterday at St. Vincent de Paul Church in Petaluma united in marriage Carole Jean Hansen and John Joseph Elu, both of Petaluma.

Mrs. David Hansen of Petaluma was the matron of honor and Sue Elu, the bridegroom's sister, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Arne Hansen of Los Angeles, and Patty Ricci and Dolores Allena, both of Petaluma.

Serving as best man was Robert Reichmuth of Petaluma. Ushers were David Hansen and Arne Hansen, the bride's brothers, and Roger Cameron and Ron Malanti, both of Petaluma.

After a reception at the Petaluma Woman's Club the couple left for a wedding trip to Carmel and Disneyland. They will live in Petaluma.

Carole, a graduate of Petaluma Senior High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Hansen of Petaluma.

John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elu of Petaluma, was graduated from Petaluma Senior High School and Santa Rosa Junior College. He is employed at the Petaluma Super Market and will attend Sonoma State College in September. Mrs. Dominica Elu of Petaluma is his grandmother.

Marin Dance Council Elects Jack K. Fifield President

JACK K. FIFIELD

He has been dancing since 1957 and previously served as treasurer for the council. He has also be president of the Step Togethers of Marin, president and treasurer of the Southern Marin Folk Dance Club and treasurer and vice president of the Hardly Ables.

The Marin Dance Council is the coordinating body for the various Marin folk dance clubs and spokesman for the clubs to the California Folk Dance Federation.

The next activity sponsored by the council will be a family camping weekend on Sept. 6 and 7. Other important events will be the Karlstad Ball on New Year's Eve, the President's Ball in April and the Folk Dance Festival in July.

Born in Oakland, Fifield was graduated from high school in Colusa.

He is employed by the Army as a civilian joiner-cabinet maker at the Presidio in San Francisco. He has lived in Marin since 1952. He has two children, Mrs. Robert Freet Jr. of Pennsylvania and Florida and Grant Fifield of Cotati, and seven grandchildren.

His other interests are fishing, hunting and camping.

Other officers are: Mrs. Edna Pixley, vice president; James Raselfa, recording secretary; Mrs. Jerry Kerby, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Ralph Douglas, treasurer.

UP, UP AND FORGET IT

It was a great idea, but the piece of driftwood was just too big. Free form constructions like these will be background for the art at the Sausalito Arts Festival, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Sunday, Monday at Bayside School. Volunteer artists who are constructing the festival grounds decided instead of this, to put a mobile on top, a lightweight one.

$1 Million Bails Out N. Y. Festival

NEW YORK (AP) — The wealthy drug family of John Roberts, promoter of the most fantastic rock festival in history, at White Lake, N.Y., put about $1 million in a bank this morning to cover the venture's debts, Roberts' partner said.

"We are speechless at the way the Roberts family rushed forward," said Joel Rosenman, a 26-year-old lawyer who has been associated with young Roberts in Woodstock Ventures for two and a half years.

"We are in debt to the Roberts family in ways other than financial," Rosenman added. "We'll make every effort possible to repay them." He declined to say what bank was involved.

Rosenman said the money put up by the Roberts' family—from a fortune made from Polydent and other products of the Block Drug Co.—would be used to pay "every legitimate creditor" of Woodstock Ventures in full.

He said he and Roberts, 24, hope to recoup the $1 million by sale of films and recordings made at the festival at White Lake, the weekend of Aug. 16-17.

The estimated half-million young people who crowded the pastures around the festival bandstand were, ironically a prime reason for the financial loss.

Only from 60,000 to 70,000 tickets had been sold in advance and the kids poured into the festival site in such huge numbers that ticket-taking became impossible.

It is estimated that enough technical papers are written every day to fill seven sets of Encyclopedia Britannica.

MUSIC REVIEW

'Cosi Fan Tutte' A Pleasure Despite Acoustical Problem

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

One of the high points in the 35-year history of the Marin Music Chest must have been the presentation of an entire opera, Mozart's "Cosi Fan Tutte" yesterday afternoon as the third program in its current summer series at Forest Meadows.

There were many reasons why this was a commendable venture, and only one bad aspect — one having nothing to do with the caliber of the production. This was a high wind that played havoc with acoustical conditions and the loudspeaker system.

In some areas the fine shadings of Mozart's exquisite music and the skill of the singers in interpreting them with utmost finesse must have been lost, as they were for me until I found just the right spot to sit.

One of the major reasons for the high level of the presentation was that it was a San Francisco Opera production by Western Opera Theater, a traveling repertory company of young singers. Another reason was that this opera with its small cast of six singers is intimate and better suited to less than opera-house-size audiences and can be staged with one simple set.

But most important of all was the superb casting in looks, voice and dramatic ability of the six characters. Not only were they individually excellent in their arias, but their voices blended to perfection in duet, trio, quartet, quintet and sextet.

The voices of soprano Sheila Marks as Fiordiligi and mezzo soprano Donna Petersen as Dorabella were wonderfuly complementary. Since the role of Fiordiligi contains music written to show off the voice of a certain prima donna, Miss Marks had more chance to show her virtuosa skill, particularly in the aria "Come Scoglio" with its astounding range and huge skips, and in the aria "Per Pieta."

Miss Petersen, though not having as brilliant material, sang splendidly. Shigemi Matsumoto was very nearly the ideal soubrette for the coloratura role of the maid Despina, as was immediately established in her first aria on the art and necessity of flirtation. She was not quite so successful in changing her voice to match her disguises, first as the doctor and then as the notary.

Baritone Allan Monk as Guglielmo, lover of Fiordiligi, and tenor Lawrence Boyle of Ferrando, Dorabella's fiance, were well matched with the girls.

Bass William Fleck was by no means the cynical old man, as Don Alfonso is often played, but a suave, sophisticated bachelor responsible for the bet that all women prove faithless which forms the core of the plot. He had a fine voice and perhaps the best diction of all the singers.

Adding much to the enjoyment were beautiful costumes. I was pleased that when disguised as Albanians the two men were not made to look like buffoons, as is sometimes done and the good English translation that is important for many not accustomed to opera.

Musical director Richard Woitach led the small orchestra in a bright, efficient manner and tempo that kept everything moving at the right lively pace.

There was a large audience, but not many of the young people who are hearing a different beat nowadays or off doing the athletic things possible on a sunny day.

Final program in the series will be presented by classical guitarists The Romeros Sept. 21 at 3 p.m.

During World War I, the Presidio of San Francisco was an officer's training camp for the 11 Western States.

Minor Injuries In Auto Crash

A two-car collision on Drake's View Drive near Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 3:45 p.m. yesterday afternoon resulted in minor injuries to two persons, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Mark William Baldrige, 22, of La Honda, and his passenger, Peggy Ann Wilson, 20, of Redwood City, were injured when their car collided with one driven by Betty May Heilig, 55, of 490 Pinewood Drive, San Rafael.

Baldrige complained of a sore wrist and right knee and a chest pain and suffered a bump and cut on his forehead. Miss Wilson had pains in both knees and a shoulder, the patrol said. Both refused treatment.

Burglary Reported In Sleepy Hollow Home

A burglar has stolen an estimated $450 in change from a Sleepy Hollow residence, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Deputies said the thief took a five-gallon jar containing 38 pounds of coins and three small coin banks Wednesday afternoon from the residence of Gerald F. Kerleher, 31 Dutch Valley Lane.

Ninety per cent of Canada's 20 million people live within a 200-mile-wide strip threaded by the Trans-Canada Highway.

Girl Drowns In Pool At Her Home

Thirty-month-old Kelly Germanine McMurtry accidentally drowned Saturday afternoon at her home at 335 Crown Road, Kent Woodlands, the sheriff's office has reported.

Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMurtry, drowned shortly after noon in the yard of her home after she walked to the pool unobserved by adults.

Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan reported the child apparently fell in to the pool and was missing about 15 minutes before the accident was discovered. She was reported dead on arrival at Marin General Hospitotal at 1 p.m.

Kentfield firemen tried to revive her with heart massage, mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and a resusciator, to no avail.

The child had lived in Marin about two months. Funeral is pending at Oak Hill Mortuary, San Jose.

Mystery Death For Skydiver

OCEANSIDE (UPI) — An autopsy will be performed on a veteran skydiver who died Saturday while making his second jump of the day at the Oceanside parachute drop zone.

Robert L. Bolger, 31, Los Angeles, jumped from about 6,000 feet, went through his planned maneuvers, and was about to open his parachute when he seemed to double over in pain, police said.

Witnesses said he managed to open the chute, but it was too late and he hit the ground with it only partially filled. Bolger had made 142 jumps previously.

Painting Theft

A $150 fingerpainting was stolen from the home of Edward Cannon at 4200 Paradise Drive yesterday, deputies at the Marin City sheriff's office substation reported today.

Woman Who Hit Kiesinger Gets Suspended Sentence

BERLIN (AP) — A Berlin-born Frenchwoman was given a four-month suspended jail sentence with three years probation today for striking West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger in the eye last November.

Attorneys for Beate Klarsfeld, 30, the defendant, filed a cross-complaint in the West Berlin Appeals Court charging Kiesinger with insult because of his Nazi past.

Kiesinger, a former member of the Nazi party, worked in the radio propaganda section of the wartime Foreign Office in Berlin. Attorney Horst Mahler, speaking for Mrs. Klarsfeld, said Kiesinger's public office, despite his past Nazi connection, was an insult to his client.

Mrs. Klarsfeld struck the chancellor at a political rally in West Berlin last Nov. 7. The same day a court handed her a one-year prison sentence, which she appealed.

Judge Wolfgang Taegener noted there were mitigating circumstances in that the parents of Mrs. Klarsfeld's husband died in a Nazi concentration camp and that she felt she acted out of political conviction.

And An Hour Later He Was Hungry Again

David D. Smiley of 512 Browning Court, Tamalpais Valley, got a Chinese dinner and three rolls of chicken wire Saturday that he didn't order.

Smiley reported to sheriff's deputies that someone ordered the dinner and wire in his name and it was delivered Saturday.

Boy, 10, Leads 775 Runners In Dipsea Race

DOWN THEY GO—Runners kicked up a cloud of dust as they trotted down steep hillside into Muir Woods. It was a warm day but the Pacific Ocean at Stinson Beach beckoned most of them to the finish.

JIM GILMARTIN

Feeling Run Down? Try Dipsea Course

Feeling a little run down today, Bunkies? Too pooped to stoop? Does your heart go pfft-pfft when it should go thump-thump? Somebody slip a Mickey into your Serutan? Do you breathe hard buttering your toast?

Well, if that's what is troubling you, Bunkie, step right up and meet Dr. Paul Spangler of San Luis Obispo, one of the 733 persons who finished the 6.8-mile, mountainous Dipsea Race from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach yesterday.

Oh, Dr. Spangler had a little perspiration on him and a few drops of blood from a spill, but he was chipper as he pranced around the finish line, downing a quart of Gatorade thirst-quencher.

Just What The Doctor Ordered

"This," he said with a wave of the hand back over the torturous Dipsea Trail, "is part of my prescription. I lecture on heart disease and I practice what I preach. I've been running and jogging for about three and a half years. Just last May I won a trophy in the Bay-To-Breakers Race in San Francisco. I'll keep on running in these events as long as I can. I'll live to be 100."

Dr. Spangler, who has 19 grandchildren, is 70 years old. I mean young.

THE HEAT, it was about 85 degrees along the trail, took its toll yesterday. If anyone wants to go into the T-shirt business there are a couple of dozen discarded shirts along the route, according to runner Doug Smith of Stinson Beach.

THERE WAS a bit of nostalgia at the beach when three quite well-known Dipseans got together. First, Norman Bright, who set the still-standing Dipsea record of 47 minutes, 22 seconds in 1937, visited the Dipsea for the first time since his record run. Now 59 years old, Bright is a guidance counsellor in the Seattle school system and still has the track shoes he used in 1937.

He had a nice chat with Dr. Robert Furlong of San Rafael who ran the second annual Dipsea in 1906 and estimates he has seen more than 50 of the 59 races.

Special Sportsmanship Trophy

And don't overlook the remarkably young old timer Jack Kirk, the Dipsea Demon who ran it for the 36th time, having won it twice, in 1951 and 1967. Now 63, Kirk, a National Forestery employee from Yosemite, finished 21st yesterday — the slow poke.

A SPECIAL sportsmanship trophy should go to 12-year-old Mike Wolford, also of Yosemite, who was bumped from third place far down the list due to a handicapping error by the sponsoring Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mike, who turned 12 three days ago and thus was eligible for only 3 instead of 16 minutes handicap, just smiled and shrugged his shoulders at the demotion in the standings.

Two knowledgeable runners rated the Dipsea race one of the toughest courses in the world. Forry Rodd of Alameda, 46-year-old airlines navigator, says it is "infinitely harder than the Boston Marathon." He's run them both, finishing second in the Dipsea yesterday, and says "Boston is like a sprint compared to this."

It Takes A Little Preparation

San Francisco State track coach Bob Lualhati says his wife wanted to run the Dipsea with him. "But, I told her this takes a little preparation. She hasn't run around the corner and isn't quite ready for the toughest course in the world."

SUDDEN THOUGHT: Stinson Beach's population of 500 was outnumbered by the contestants at the finish line. The official final count of finishers was 733.

Winner Vance Eberly, 10-year-old fifth grader, said he got lost last year when placing 35th but practiced hard and learned the tricky Dipsea trail quite well this year. "In fact," he smiled, his blue eyes sparkling below his blond bangs "I found a couple of short cuts this time."

Eberly Is Champ Of Long, Hot Run

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

A 10-year-old fifth grader from San Jose led an army of more than 775 men and women, boys and girls across the hills and valleys of southern Marin County yesterday to win the 59th running of the famed Dipsea Handicap Race from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach.

Youngest winner in the history of the time-honored test of man against mountain is blond Vance Eberly who was timed across the 6.8-mile route in 57 minutes and 59 seconds. He had the full 16-minute handicap along with about 400 others.

Best time trophy in this handicap event went for the second straight year to scratch runner Byron Lowry, 22-year-old San Jose State College senior from Lancaster in southern California who was clocked at 47 minutes, 39 seconds, an improvement of 20 seconds over his 1968 clocking and only 17 seconds off the 32-year-old record of 47:22 set in 1937 by Norman Bright of the San Francisco Olympic Club. Bright attended yesterday's race for the first time since he set his mark.

VANCE EBERLY
Youngest champ

Sixteen-year-old Novato High School star Ron Elijah turned in the fastest time by a high school runner, 48:04, placing seventh, right behind Lowry, and helping the Marin Athletic Club tie the Olympic Club for the team championship each with 66 points based on order of finish.

Vance Eberly carried the banner for two prominent organizations — the San Jose Yearlings, a boys' track club of about 25 members, and the Eberly Clan that included his two sisters, Vicki, 14, and Valerie, 13, and his widowed mother, Myrrah, 36.

Vicki placed 23rd, the first of more than three dozen female entrants to finish and she and her mother won another trophy as the first mother-daughter team to finish, mom coming in 637th. Valerie was the third female across.

61-POUNDER

Vance Eberly, who stands 4 feet, 7 inches tall and weighs 61 pounds, says he wants to be a runner when he grows up. He placed 35th in his Dipsea debut last year and attributes the great leap to first place to alot of hard practice, running seven miles a day with the Yearlings, plus a couple of practice runs across the Dipsea in the past two weeks.

He and 12-year-old Mike Wolford of Yosemite were running neck and neck until Vance

Suyderhoud's Pressure Leap Wins; Novato Girl Second

Mike Suyderhoud did what comes naturally for him yesterday, and he couldn't have picked a better time for it.

The 19-year-old San Anselmo proved once again that he was the best water ski jumper in the world at the Berkeley Aquatic Club after being handed a challenge that could have cost him his national men's overall crown in the climax of the four-day National Water Ski Championships.

Mike had to come up with one of his best jumps ever after Allan Kempton, of Tampa, Fla., soared 155 feet in his bid to dethrone Suyderhoud as National champ.

Suyderhoud came right back with a 158-foot effort, four feet short of his world record of 162 feet, but more than good enough to win the event and the overall title.

Suyderhoud, who recently won the world championship at Copenhagen for the second straight time, had finished second in the tricks and slalom, but needed a win in the jump to take the overall title, leading Kempton by only 57 points in the overall race. He did just that.

Mrs. Thelma Salmas of Novato was unsuccessful in her bid to capture her third straight senior women's title, bowing to Mrs. Artis Price of Mundelein, Ill., who wrapped up the title Saturday. Mrs. Salmas did win the jump Saturday with a 78-foot effort, but by then, it was too late. She finished second overall.

SHARON SECOND

Miss Allan again swept all three events, in much the same pattern that took her to a world crown in Copenhagen. She won the tricks yesterday with 3,692 points, while Sharon had 3,277 points.

Ricky Mc Cormick of Independnce, Mo., won his second straight boys title. Cindy Hutcherson of Miami, Fla., took the junior girls crown, while Dr. Jack Horton of Arcadia took the senior men's crown. Steve Binford of Huntsville, Ala., was the junior boys' king and Christy Lynn Weir of McQueeney, Tex., took the girls' crown.

Giants In First!

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Surprise, surprise. The San Francisco Giants, perennial bridesmaids, are not wedded to second place.

The Giants, National League runners-up for four straight seasons, find themselves in first place in the red hot West division today. That's what winning will do for you.

San Francisco climbed into the top spot with a 6-4 decision over Montreal yesterday — its fifth straight victory — as Bobby Bonds drove in three runs, Willie McCovey ran his RBI total to an even 100 and Juan Marichal won his 15th game.

Still the Giants needed help to move to the top. And they got it from New York and Pittsburgh. The Mets completed a three-game sweep from Los Angeles, beating the Dodgers 7-4, and Pittsburgh slugged Cincinnati 9-4.

Atlanta kept pace with a 14 inning 4-1 decision over St. Louis and Houston split with Chicago, losing 10-9 before winning 3-2. Philadelphia tripped San Diego 6-4 in Sunday's other National League action.

ON TOP

Bonds hit his 25th homer and McCovey tagged his 39th as the Giants wiped out an early 2-0 Expo lead.

The Giants were leading 4-2 when Montreal strafed Marichal for a pair of runs in the eighth, tying the score. But San Francisco bounced right back.

Don Mason opened the ninth with a single, moved up on a wild pitch and scored the tie-breaking run on Ron Hunt's double. Then a sacrifice and Bonds' fly ball brought Hunt home with an insurance run.

Meanwhile, the Mets punished the Dodgers with Ron Swoboda's bases-loaded double chasing home three runs in the seventh inning and turning the game around. Singles by Cleon Jones and Art Shamsky and a bunt single by Ken Boswell had loaded the bases for Swoboda,

Chiefs Drop A Bombshell With Easy Win Over Rams

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Jets, pro football kings of 1968, visit the Oakland Raiders tonight with the big blasts generated Saturday night by the Kansas City Chiefs still ringing in their ears.

The Chiefs bombed the Los Angeles Rams of the National League 42-14 and the Jets, even though this is only the exhibition campaign, undoubtedly are impressed with the belief that Kansas City may be the big hurdle in this year's American League title path and not the Raiders, who won out in the West a year ago.

The Jets have a 2-1 exhibition record, having beaten the College All-Stars and the New York Giants and losing to the St. Louis Cardinals. Oakland has lost all three starts to Kansas City, Baltimore and San Diego.

Kansas City defeated the Raiders 23-17 on Aug. 2.

One other game is scheduled tonight. The Detroit Lions play the Boston Patriots in Montreal.

Kansas City's thrashing of the Rams made the loudest noise so far in this aging exhibition season. The Chiefs have won all of their tests and are the only unbeaten AFL club.

President Nixon and 58,305 other spectators watched the Chiefs come from behind twice and ran roughshod over the Rams. Len Dawson's passes were too much. He pitched a 72-yard strike to Frank Pitts and 33 yards to Gloster Richardson, completing 22 of 32 for 418 yards.

The Rams' Roman Gabriel was no match although he found receivers on 16 of 29 for 205 yards and one touchdown.

In other games Saturday night, the Dallas Cowboys swamped Green Bay 31-13; the Minnesota Vikings routed St. Louis 41-13; the Cleveland Browns and the San Diego Chargers fought to a 19-19 deadlock; the Denver Broncos edged the San Francisco 49ers 19-15; the Pittsburgh Steelers downed the New Orleans Saints 34-24; the Cincinnati Bengals tripped the Miami Dolphins 28-21 and the Washington Redskins ripped the Atlanta Falcons 24-7.

Baltimore beat Buffalo 20-7 and Houston nipped the Chicago Bears 19-17 Friday night.

COWBOY STAR

Speedster Bob Hayes was the star for Dallas against Green Bay. He leaped between two clinging Packer backs with one of Craig Morton's passes in the fourth period for 18 yards and a touchdown. However, a 58-yard touchdown pass from halfback Danny Reeves to Lance Rentzel touched off the Cowboys' offensive fire in the second period.

Minnesota blended Gary Cuozzo's fine passing with a furious ground attack to crush the Cardinals. Cuozzo threw two payoff passes, Fred Cox contributed two field goals, Gary Larson recovered an end zone fumble and Clinton Jones and Bill Brown tallied on ground jabs.

Cleveland was able to tie San Diego when rookie defensive back Walt Sumner blocked a 10-yard field goal attempt with 17 seconds left. After the Chargers were stopped on the one-yard line, Dennis Partee tried the placement, but Sumner broke through.

Dick Shiner led Pittsburgh to its conquest of New Orleans by firing two touchdown passes.

Wanted Badly: A 49er Victory

DENVER (AP) — The American Football League Denver Broncos are having no problems getting good performances out of two quarter-backs but the San Francisco 49ers still are looking for a victory out of one.

Pete Liske, a former Canadian League football standout, flipped a 41-yard touchdown pass to Mike Haffner Saturday night as the Broncos bested the NFL 49ers 19-15. Liske played only the second half at quarterback while Steve Tensi set up three Denver field goals in the first half.

For San Francisco, still looking for an exhibition football victory, John Brodie stayed in through most of the game and couldn't lead the club to a touchdown. It was only in the last four minutes that reserve Steve Spurrier, the former Heisman Trophy winner, came on for the 49ers and passed for a two-yard score.

PROBLEMS

'We needed that win," said a happy Lou Saban in the Denver dressing room. "I thought the defense was great and both units did a good job. We really made a comeback from last week."

While Saban was in top form, a couple of doors down in the 49er dressing room, coach Dick Nolan had his problems.

"They (Denver) played a good game and held tough all the way," he said. "Brodie had some tough luck in the first half or else we could have had a couple of scores. Penalties killed us."

Brodie, who slipped away from the dressing room shortly after the game, overthrew his receivers in the first half but settled down later when he found rookie Gene Washington of Stanford several times. He threw three interceptions, including one in the third quarter that set up the only Denver touchdown.

KIND WORDS

Saban had kind words for both his quarterbacks, fighting for the starting job when the Broncos open their season against the Boston Patriots. He said Liske started slow "but came on and got us a touchdown and that's what counts."

Tensi nearly had a touchdown himself but fumbled the snap from center on the 49ers one-yard line and San Francisco recovered.

Nolan did not say whether Brodie, who several season back signed a $900,000 contract, would start the 49ers next game.

RAIDERS-JETS

Sparks Should Fly Tonight In Oakland

OAKLAND (AP) — The New York Jets and the Oakland Raiders, who give off sparks every time they walk onto the same football field, meet in an American Football League exhibition game here tonight.

The last time they met was in the AFL title game in New York last year, won 27-23 by the Jets in a thriller. The time before that, the Raiders won 43-32, scoring two touchdowns in the final minute.

The Raiders have beaten the Jets twice in exhibition play but are winless in three preseason games this year. The Jets are 2-1.

Both teams figure to use their veterans about half of the game and let their rookies and substitutes play the rest of the time.

NAMATH-LAMONICA

Joe Namath of the Jets and Daryle Lamonica of the Raiders will start at quarterback in the game that will be televised only in the New York area.

Today's game will start at 8 o'clock. A printing error on game tickets listed the starting time at 7.

The Oakland Coliseum's 53,000 seats will be filled and an all-time record for parking lot confusion may be set. A circus is going on at the same time in the adjacent Oakland Arena.

Namath has the edge over Lamonica in the passing department through three games.

Namath has completed 37 of 66 passes for 535 yards, three touchdowns, three interceptions and a 56.1 percentage. Lamonica has hit on 25 of 52 passes for 345 yards, three touchdowns, two interceptions and a 48.1 percentage.

Wes Parker homered for the Dodgers, who dropped their fourth straight. The victory gave the Mets 11 triumphs in 12 tries against the Giants and Dodgers in New York this season.

Gene Alley rapped an inside-the-park homer and Willie Stargell tagged one of the conventional kind, leading the Pirate attack. Alley has hit all of his six homers in the last 10 days, five of them against the Reds.

Hank Aaron unloaded his 34th homer of the season, breaking a 14th inning tie and giving Atlanta its victory over St. Louis. Aaron connected with two out, rewarding four innings of one-hit relief by George Stone, who started the Braves' winning rally with a single.

CEPEDA HOMERS

Orlando Cepeda tied it for Atlanta in the eighth with his 20th home run of the year and fourth against the Cardinals, his ex-teammates

Houston had pulled out to an early 8-3 lead before three runs in the seventh and four more in the eighth pulled it out for Chicago. Banks' second homer of the game and 19th of the season climaxed the final raily.

The Astros salvaged the split on Don Wilson's six-hitter with the deciding run crossing the plate in the sixth inning on a bases-loaded walk to Doug Rader.

Forry Rodd of Alameda, a 46-year-old navigator for United Air Lines, finished second while Wolford placed third, then was dropped far down the list by embarassed officials of the sponsoring Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce who discovered an error on their part. Wolford was given the full 16-minute handicap when, as a 12-year-old, he was entitled to only 3 minutes.

Jaycees officials said 775 persons started the race under warm cloudless skies and 733 finished. Several dropouts re-records. Several dropouts required medical attention as the result of heat and spills along the rugged course.

Bee Kilgore In Two Wins

Bee, who will be a freshman at San Domenico School for Girls in Sleepy Hollow this yearn teamed up with Susan Memedbasich to take the girls 14 crown with a 6-4, 6-2 win over Madelyn Colombo and Joy Hahn.

She and Lissy Manheim of Tiburon stunned top-seeded Pam Mitchell and Nancy Crawford of Menlo Park, 6-2, 6-2, to take the girls 16 crown.

Cardinal Grabs Peacock Gap Junior Title

Cardinal, one down Friday after 18 holes in the 36-hole final, came back to take command Saturday, clinching it on the 14th hole with a birdie while Doris was getting a par.

Defending champion John Helwig was ousted Wednesday by Kelly Wolfe, who lost in the semifinals Thursday.

Rick Barry To Learn Fate Today; Will He Move, Stay Put, Retire?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Earl Foreman, who now owns a majority of the Oakland Oaks stock, sought today to induce Oakland's No. 1 player, Rick Barry, to become a Washington Capitol.

The two were to meet in the Los Angeles office of Barry's attorney, Robert Holtzman.

Foreman assume the Oaks' $2.6 million in liabilities last week and said the defending American Basketball Association champions would be moved to Washington and be called the Capitols.

Barry, like his coach, Alex Hannum, owns 15 per cent of the franchise. Fifteen per cent has been estimated by Hannum to be worth $390,000. Hannum has refused to go to Washington and says he will apply for an ABA franchise in Albuquerque.

WANTS TO STAY

In an airport interview yesterday after arriving in San Francisco from basketball clinics in Massachusetts and New Hampshire, Barry made it clear he does not want to leave the San Francisco Bay Area.

But he has two years to play on a $75,000 a year contract now owned by Foreman.

Asked whether or not there is a clause making him a free agent should the Oaks move or the ABA fold, Barry said:

"If I can be released from the contract, we'll find out."

Ken Davidson, who owned 51 per cent of the Oaks, said the agreement applied only if the ABA went out of business.

TWO CHOICES

"I think he has two choices, play in Washington or retire," Davidson said.

Barry hinted strongly he would play.

"If I have to go back, I'll just have to make the best of it," the 6-foot-7 supershooter said.

The star from Miami University of Florida is still sought by the San Francisco Warriors. With them he led the National Basketball Association in scoring with an average of 35.6 points per game in 1966-67 before jumping to the Oaks.

A court order forced Barry to sit out the 1967-68 season. Last year, he averaged 34.0 a game for the Oaks before missing the second half of the season with a knee injury.

Still pending is an appeal by the Warriors on the judge's decision that allowed Barry to join the Oaks.

Dressed in a mod outfit of mustard-colored bell-bottom pants, paisley scarf and high Italian shoes, Barry was met by his pretty wife Pam, daughter of Oaks' General Manager Bruce Hale.

"I'll go where he goes," she said.

"We just bought a new house in Orinda," an Oakland suburb, Barry said. "Pam has already made plenty of friends in the neighborhood. Moving will be tougher on her."

San Rafael Ties For Baseball Title

By GARY TISHLER

MONTEREY — The San Rafael Braves got drowned by a muddy river yesterday.

As a result, they will have to share the San Jose Travel League semidpro baseball title with El Cerrito, alias Hatzell Radio.

The Braves pulled into Monterey yesterday, riding the crest of a nine-game winning streak and needing a sweep of a doubleheader with the Seaside Bombers. They got a split instead, losing the first game to the appetizing but frustrating junk of a gentleman named Muddy Rivers, who stopped them, 4-1.

Not surprisingly, the Braves came back to bomb the Bombers, 11-1, in the second game, behind a 14-hit barrage and the pitching of Ben Burch. But El Cerrito had already won a pair by that time and the tie was on.

SLOW SPEEDS

Good old Muddy was the difference. He threw more junk than you can find at the San Rafael dumps, changing his speeds from slow, to slower to very slow, but the Braves, with a 300-foot right-field fence beckoning, couldn't solve Muddy, who might have been Satchel Paige's cousin, away.

Only Dave Edson caught Rivers in a mistake, pulling a fat third-inning offering over the homer fence for the Braves' only run. The rest of the way, the Braves knocked on the door loudly but couldn't open it.

They loaded the bases in the final two innings, but strikeouts ended both threats. In the sixth, big Art Blunt strike out on a curve just above his shins. In the seventh, after pinch-hitters Carl Mathews and John Burnett had loaded them up, pinch-hitter Jess Jacinto fanned to end the threat.

DILLON LOSES

Meanwhile, Russ Dillon made just enough mistakes to lose for the Braves, although he was humming the ball like a pro. One of the mistakes was a fat offering to Rivers, who dumped one for a two-run, lazy fly homer that went over the right centerfield fence in the fifth inning.

The other was a balk call with a runner on third, the only time the umpires even noticed Dillon's patented pickoff throw to first. Dillon tried the pickoff five times.

The second game was a genuine laugher. Burch dazzled the Bombers into submission while the Braves chased three Seaside pitchers in a long game that streteched all the way to six o'clock.

Tom Corder, Rocky Shone, Burch and Mathews all had two hits while Corder played an outstanding game at shortstop. Burch struck out 11 batters in winding up with an 9-1 won -lost season record.

The Braves finished at 11-3 in league play and had a 31-8 season record.

Koss Team Splits Tourney Game

Paul Koss Supply is still alive in the Western Regional Softball tournament, splitting two games over the weekend in Mountain View.

Novato's Doug Tanner singled in two runs to lead Koss to a 4-0 win over Petaluma in the opening game Saturday.

A homer in the seventh inning yesterday, however, gave Santa Clara County's representative, Leblank Engineering, a 4-3 decision over the Koss Supply team.

San Rafael's Steve Lebeck tripled and scored on a wold pitch in the sixth inning to tie the score at 3-3, but the second batter in the seventh for Leblank hit a home run to win the game.

The tournament continues next weekend, with the winner to go to the national tournament in Springfield, Mo. in September.

Sweep Gives A's Big Morale Lift

OAKLAND (UPI) — Reggie Jackson, who is under the greatest pressure of them all, said it best for his Oakland A's teammates:

"No question, beating the Orioles, whom I think are the best team in baseball, three times has to make us serious contenders. But even more important, help our morale."

Jackson was speaking moments after the A's had beaten the Orioles, 9-8, in the second game of a long Sunday doubleheader to go only two games behind Minnesota in the American League West race.

Jackson, who had seemed to fade in his bid for the single season homer record, lashed his 44th and 45th round trippers and drove in seven runs in all as the A's took both ends of the twinbill. They won the opener, 9-0, but by the time the second game ended—on Ted Kubiak's two-out single in the bottom of the 18th—hardly anyone remembered what happened in the opener.

HAPPIEST WARRIOR

Jackson had reason to be happy with his day's work but Kubiak, who finally got a chance to play in the second game, was the happiest warrior in eight previous at-bats in the nightcap, which took five hours and eight minutes to play, but when he hit his game winning single, Ted jumped with glee, and so, too, did A's owner Charlie Finley, who sat through the long doubleheader.

Jackson hit a homer in each game. His 45th came in the 123rd game played by the A's this year and left him nine games ahead of Babe Ruth's 60-homer pace of 1927 and six behind Roger Maris' 61 homer pace of 1961.

THE PRESSURE

Is the pressure beginning to tell on Jackson?

"It's (the pressure) been of the season," said Jackson. "KI guess you might say I feel it more now, but honestly, the only thing I'm really worked up about is helping the club win the pennant. If I get the record, that would be great."

Reggie's 44th homer in his first at-bat of the opener gave Chuck Dobson all the help he was to need in posting his 14th victory against 10 losses. Chuck gave up eight hits but was in command all the way.

AVCO CLASSIC

Young Lions On Prowl In Golf

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Tom Shaw is a blond, smiling young man who is typical of the young lions who are moving into a dominant position in pro golf—a movement that Bobby Stanton says is just beginning.

"There will be even more young players winning next year than this," the slim, 23-year old Australian predicted yesterday after finishing one shot back of Shaw in the $150,000 Avco Golf Classic.

"The younger players practice more," Stanton said. "The older guys are lazy. They don't work as hard at it. If they shoot a 66, that's fine. If they shoot a 76 that's fine, too.

"And players like (Arnold) Palmer, (Jack) Nicklaus and (Gary) Player aren't playing as much as they used to. Someone has to win. And it will be the young ones."

Shaw, 26, who won the Doral Open earlier this year, led the first three rounds, but faltered in the muggy going on the final 18, shooting a fat 77, five over par on the 7,212-yard Pleasant Valley Country Club course.

He finished with a 280 while Stanton, who had a final 71, was at 281.

Tiburon Captures Marin Swim Title

Marinwood, the regular season dual meet champion of the Marin County Swim League, ran into rough waters at the sixth annual Marin Swim League Championships at College of Marin yesterday.

Tiburon Peninsula won the meet's team title, marking the first time in the history of the meet that the dual meet champion has not won the team title inthe big meet.

Tiburon racked up 488 points, followed by Lucas Valley with 433 points and Marinwood with 390 points. Rafael Racquet Club was next with 211 points, followed by Terra Linda with 210, Strawberry with 115 and San Marin with 75 points.

Marinwood had won all six regular season dual meets.

Some 600 young swimmers showed up for the meet and three of them came home triple winners.

They were Stacey Hoffmire of Lucas Valley in girls' 11-12 age group, Scott Dieker of the Rafael Racquet Club in boys' 13-14 and Cris DeMont of Tiburon Peninsual in girls' 15-17.

27 RECORDS

Tiburon Peninsula led the assault on meet record getting 14 of the 27 new records.

Top performers in each age group were named. They were Betsy Shaw, Lucas Valley, girls' 8-under; Carol Lindstrom, Tiburon, boys' 8-under; Jerry Carter, Tiburon, girls 9-10; Cary Stansbury, Lucas Valley, boys' 9-10; Stacey Hoffmire, Lucas Valley, girls' 11-12; Chris Jones, Marinwood, boys' 11-12; Cathy Mullowney, Marinwood, girls' 13-14; Scott Dicker, Rafael Racquet, boys' 13-14; Cris DeMont, Tiburon, girls' 15-17 and Dave Tang, Rafael Racquet, boys' 15-17.

Today is Monday, Aug. 25, the 237th day of 1969 with 128 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1718 New Orleans was founded.

In 1921 the United States signed a peace treaty with Germany, bringing World War I to an official end.

In 1944 American troops liberated Paris.

In 1950 President Harry Truman seized the nation's railroads to prevent a general strike.

A thought for the day: James Monroe said, "National honor is national property of the highest value."

Wyoming Department Serves Locally, Too

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI)— The Wyoming Department of Public Health is probably unique in the United States in that it not only must carry out statutory and governmental programs on the state level but also provide services at the local level that ordinarily would be carried out by local health units in more densely populated states.

The divisions functioning under the Wyoming Department of Public Health are the division of crippled children, division of maternal and child health, division of dental health, division of preventive medicine, division of sanitation and division of nursing.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

This Hand Is Test Of The Ability To Foresee Disaster

Today's hand, played some years ago in the annual Intercollegiate Tournament, was a test of the ability to foresee bad breaks. Several thousand college students played the hand in more than a hundred colleges, but only a few were pessimistic and forethoughtful enough to come up with the right answer.

CORRECT CONTRACT

In most cases South got to the correct contract of five diamonds, and West usually opened the jack of clubs.

South can expect to win seven trumps, two top clubs and the ace of spades. The eleventh trick, needed for the game contract, can come only from developing dummy's long club suit.

Declarer naturally thinks first of taking the top clubs and ruffing a low club. If each opponent has exactly three clubs, declarer can get back to dummy with the king of diamonds in order to win tricks with the last two clubs. South will thus win 12 tricks.

UNFAVORABLE ODDS

The trouble with this plan is that the odds are almost 2 to 1 against a 3-3 break of the missing six clubs. The suit is more likely to break 4-2.

To guard against the expected 4-2 break of the six missing clubs, South should play a low club from the dummy at the first trick.

East's best play is to overtake with the queen of clubs in order to return the queen of spades through South. South wins with the ace of spades, draws two rounds of trumps with the ace and queen, and then leads a club to dummy's king.

A CLUB RUFF

Now South can easily cash the ace of clubs and ruff a club. This establishes dummy's last club as a good trick, and South can get back to dummy with the king of diamonds to discard a spade on the good club. This assures the contract.

Stocks In Downturn After A Good Week

Most analysts felt that the recent rally "simply tired in the absence of major news," as one of them phrased it.

Among the most active issues were Bethlehem Steel, Brunswick, Texaco, Natomas and City Investing.

Most steels were on the soft side.

Weakness also cropped up in the conglomerate area, although most losses were in fractions.

Natomas and Atlantic Richfield were among the biggest movers in the mostly easier oil group. Airlines also came down after climbing sharply Friday. Aircrafts and rails were mixed.

There were several point-plus losers in the electronics, including IBM.

Prices also softened on the American Stock Exchange in moderate turnover.

Investment Aid Firms In Merger

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Two of the largest investment counsel firms in the west — Turrell, Dahl & Belden and Bergues, Wentworth & Co. — have merged to form the new firm of Wentworth, Dahl & Belden.

Main office is in the Crocker Plaza Building, with branches in Los Angeles and Carmel.

The combined firm will be one of the largest investment counseling organizations in the nation. Both firms were founded in 1937.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

McDonnell Douglas Has Growth Promise

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I purchased McDonnell Douglas at 48 and 34. I hate to take a loss but will, if necessary. What's your opinion of this stock? — S. K.

A. As you seem financially able to hold McDonnell Douglas as a long-range speculation, I think you should. Company officials say they are looking ahead to 1975 or 1976 for celebrating their success in marketing the new DC-10 airbus and their satisfaction with the 1967 merger of their two companies.

The airbus goes into operation in 1971 when MD's initial orders are delivered to American Airlines and United Air Lines. Orders are up from other carriers but have not reached the break-even point. MD's deliveries of its DC-8 and DC-9 commercial jets and it's F-4 military planes has accelerated.

Commercial sales during 1969 are expected to be well over 50 per cent of the year's total. I believe that the company could grow vigorously in the 1970s and, if my estimates prove valid, share price could advance to the mid-50s.

Q. I sold Alcan Aluminum and Domtar, both Canadian. My broker assured me that these transactions are not subject to the interest equalization tax. What shares are subject to this tax? — W. E.

A. When a foreign security, owned by a foreigner, is purchased by an American citizen, the American owner becomes liable for the interest equalization tax.

Bank Of America To Manage Alaska Funds

JUNEAU (BW) — Gov. Keith H. Miller has announced the State of Alaska's money from the Sept. 10 sales of North Slope Oil leases will be managed by Bank of America, San Francisco, the largest commercial bank in the world.

Gov. Miller said the state has entered into an investment agency agreement with the Bank of America for collection and investment of the funds. He said the bank was chosen after extensive study and consultation with financial experts throughout the nation.

York-Portsmouth Merger Approved By Stock Exchange

The acquisition of York Securities Corp., investment securities firm and member of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange, by Portsmouth Square, Inc. is now expected to be completed by Sept. 10.

Palmer York Jr., president of both companies, said completion of the merger has been made possible by a resolution adopted last week by governors of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange approving in principle the direct or indirect public ownership of exchange member firms.

Portsmouth Square stockholders voted last May to acquire York and at that time established a Sept. 10 deadline, pending approval by the exchange.

York formed Portsmouth Square in 1967 to supply organizational management and part of the equity for a 572-room hotel and 460-stall garage to be built at the site of the old Hall of Justice on Kearny Street, San Francisco. Construction is now under way.

No Detroit Dividend

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit Steel Corp. has decided to omit the dividend on common stock for the third quarter this year. The company has been paying 15 cents a share quarterly.

"Now, make me a newspaper by tonight"

Tall order . . . since a complete newspaper such as the Independent-Journal is at once the most complex yet lowest-priced product that can be made in one day.

Every day a new "model" . . . delivered by nightfall. To do this job against the clock—

- our 18 reporters comb the county, observing, interviewing, phoning, writing, getting the facts for you.
- thousands of AP and UPI newsmen check the world for you, put its pulse on the wire.
- teletypes chatter some 120,000 words to us, from as close as Mill Valley, as far away as Capetown.
- rolls of paper, each 850 lbs., move in from Canada and the Northwest.
- electronic impulses turn into photographs on a machine—the world in black and white, caught in action.
- the managing editor watches for the big stories, gauging the importance of each, overseeing the editorial "construction" of the paper, from content to design.
- pressmen feed the giant press with ink and paper—a taste of what's to come.
- "Circulation" readies for the job of distributing the paper, via 700 newspaperboys, to two out of three homes in the county.
- experts set type for news, for ads—enough in one day to fill a good-sized book.
- the retail advertising staff, 10 strong, contacts almost every business in the county . . . planning campaigns, offering merchants professional service in copywriting, layout and merchandising.
- the city editor "feels" for the news on a hundred fronts, hands out assignments, shaping the news force to the shape of events.
- engravers work their chemical magic, placing print and picture on metal.
- the women's editor and staff of 5 molds food and fashions, social doings, meetings, school events, into a women's world.
- syndicates send in both national and world-wide features—columns, comics, cartoons.
- specialists "make up" the paper, designing every page of news and ads.
- the art department creates illustrations, layouts, designs, cartoons.
- photographers race the news throughout the county, clicking the visual happenings of Marin today.
- ink for the press arrives not in bottles but tank trucks.
- color plates and color inks are being readied for ads, special editions, covers—all to brighten your reading eye.
- sports "jump" in the typewriters of the sports department and Willie Mays leaps up into a headline.
- "Classified" is setting up the county's daily market place, and the phone rings with "wanted" and "for sale."
- headlines are being written against deadlines—and the tight confines of space.
- vital statistics are being compiled; weather and stock reports are coming in.
- the mechancial superintendent moves the copy through a maze of linotypes, electronic typesetters and the precise hands of men who literally know type up-side down.
- the library is digging up background data for stories, filing photos, micro-filming each edition of the newspaper.
- legal ads get eagle-eyed checking for accuracy.
- orders are coming in from the nation's advertising agencies with mats for advertisements—everything from autos to ant spray.
- issues become the tissue of editorials—the reasoned interpretation of events.
- proofreaders scan every line of news and advertising trying to hold errors to a minimum against the pressure of time.
- letters to the editor are being read for possible publication.
- the dispatch office is moving ads into production—checking size, type, mats, insertion dates, art, photos—a hundred elements.
- our national representatives are meeting with ad agencies and advertisers in New York, Detroit, Chicago—a dozen cities—telling them about Marin County and its newspaper.
- special contributors' columns on fishing, baseball and many others are being processed.
- Marin Magazine is being dummied; stories developed for the Saturday edition—picturing life in Marin.
- the business office moves against a mountain of financial and administrative detail.
- stereotypers cast the weighty cylinders for the big press—the final imprint of the news on metal.
- last minute news comes through and the front page changes under the expert fingers of typographers and the eye of the editor.

THE PERMISSIVE SOCIETY

Today's Morals No Worse Than Before?

By CHRISTOPHER ARNOLD

LONDON (London Express) — "Innovation! Innovation! Everything is being questioned. Everything has to be in a state of crisis. Mankind seems to be gripped in a mania for change."

The words were spoken recently by Pope Paul VI, and though they expressed a general observation they sum up well the sentiments of critics of what is now commonly termed the permissive society. No old tenets and traditions are sacred; none of the standards of one generation are automatically accepted by the next. Almost every aspect of mores and morality has been or is being freshly examined.

We appear to be firmly in the grasp of what has been described as an "orgy of open-mindedness."

The "orgy" manifests itself in many ways — more freedom from censorship in the arts, availability of the pill to married and unmarrieds alike, relaxation of the laws pertaining to divorce, abortion and homosexuality, the increasing use of drugs "for kicks," stories of wife-swapping in suburbia and so on. But is this really such a permissive society? Are we, in fact, less moral than our ancestors?

Or is this new era of sexual freedom largely an illusion created because social problems and misdemeanors are more widely discussed and more efficiently publicized than ever before?

Society has always known demonstrative behavior by a few odd-balls. Beatle John Lennon and Yoko Ono, for example, were not really being so way-out when they spent their honeymoon on a one-week, in-bed public demonstration against war and violence. When the 18th Century arts patron Thomas Butts called on the poet-painter William Blake and his wife at their home in London, he found them sitting naked in a summer house, reciting passages from Paradise Lost to each other.

"Come in. It's only Adam and Eve, you know," said Blake, the author of the majestic hymn Jerusalem.

History is crowded with such acts of bare-faced eccentricity.

There is no clear definition of a permissive society. Most people, however, would probably identify the expression as referring to a society which allows new extremes of license in social behavior, in general, and sex in particular. This is certainly a highly permissive age.

Sex before marriage is widely accepted; abortion has been legalized in many lands; homosexuals are no longer persecuted for private pursuit of what Oscar Wilde knew as "the love that dare not speak its name." Society is even beginning to display a little understanding towards Lesbians.

But tolerance and understanding are not to be confused with permissiveness. Nor is permissiveness necessarily a sign of immorality.

When the archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, recently spoke out against many aspects of society today he at least pointed out that morals in 18th Century England were shocking and that there was far more sexual indulgence during the Restoration period. In many ways we are less permissive than our ancestors.

Sex: The antithesis of the permissive society is the Victorian age in England. But in this period of widespread sexual repression, the business of prostitution boomed.

Drugs: Today the drug problem is very real. In the 19th Century, opium was cheaper than beer or gin and countless thousands of people were addicted. It influenced such writers as Da Quincey, Colleridge, Baudelaire and Francis Thompson.

Fashion: Here this is certainly not the most permissive society we have known. Otherwise legal proceedings would never have been taken a few years ago when a few daring women in Britain, America and other countries tried to launch the topless dress fashion in public.

For all the daring of the mini-skirt and talk about see-through blouses, women today are far more coy about exhibiting themselves than women of, say, the 16th Century. Society, not the law, ultimately dictates such matters.

Films: In recent months such sensational advances have been made by moviemakers in portraying sex and sin that one can scarcely believe that eyebrows were raised only two years ago because Vanessa Redgrave stripped to the waist in "Blow-up" and Hayley Mills revealed a bare bottom in "The Family Way."

But the public appetite for such entertainment does not automatically indicate a decline in moral standards; it is merely an escalation of what takes to shock, surprise or arouse controversy at a time when we have become conditioned to sex and violence on the television.

Were things so much more respectable in grandmother's day? Before the talkies, the public was drooling over the first cinema vamp, Theda Bara, whose wisp-of-lace costumes left virtually nothing to the imagination.

Of course, strict censorship eventually came. Hollywood itself was never more immoral than when its films were subject to rigid censorship. The clean-up campaigns of the Legion of Decency had no marked impact on the off-screen lives of the stars.

The theater: On stage as on the screen, America has recently been far outstripping most countries in so-called freedom of expression. Last year it was the musical "Hair." This year it has been Che! More recently New Yorkers have seen Dionysus in '69, in which players of both sexes romp naked on stage and among the audience.

But there is a limit to what can be shown. Thus plays like Che! have brought legal proceedings.

Literature: Playwright barrister John Mortimer, famed for his defence of the novel "Last Exit to Brooklyn," has opined: "A man is never more innocently occupied than when he's reading pornography."

This was not the attitude in Victorian times. There was booming trade in dirty books on underground markets and pornography of that period could equal any in history for crudely expressed perversion and filth.

In June, 1967, the Danish parliament took a daring, controversial step: It made pornographic literature free of possible prosecution for obscenity. For a while sex books flooded the market and sales boomed. Then the bubble burst, sales began to slump; dealers went bankrupt.

"What happened," said a leading Danish publisher, "is that people finally got bored with it."

Politicians who opposed this new freedom predicted it would have a disastrous corrupting effect. The yearly total of sex crimes in Copenhagen showed a 25 per cent drop.

It is a fact that in modern times pre-marital sex was never been so common. Surveys have indicated that the vast majority of American men and at least half the women have sexual intercourse before marriage. Young men and women in most other Western countries would not seem to be very far behind.

But all the responsibility for this increase cannot be attributed to the pill. Otherwise, why does the illegitimacy rate continue to rise steadily? Sex before marriage was, in fact, catching on fast long before the advent of the pill.

BRING THE FAMILY TO SEE THIS!

This is the big, big Atherton with 3 large bedrooms, and 2 baths, long beautiful step-down family room, with raised hearth fireplace wall and large separate dining area with iron railings! But it has many extra pluses:

- The big double garage is completely finished inside — tiled floor — built-in benches — fluorescent lights — great for children's activities.
- There is a peaceful close-in screened porch — great for relaxing.
- It's on a corner lot — with easy possible access for boats and trailers.
- You can walk to all schools.
- It is elegantly decorated and in immaculate condition.
- It has gorgeous grounds with trees, plants, patio and great pool site.
- It's too good to be true. You must see it! $41,500.

Legal Notices

CHARTER ORDINANCE NO. 954

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING CHAPTER 12.20 OF THE SAN RAFAEL MUNICIPAL CODE BY ADOPTING BY REFERENCE THE 1968 EDITION OF THE UNIFORM ELECTRICAL CODE AND THE SECONDARY CODE REFERRED TO THEREIN BEING THE NATIONAL ELECTRICAL CODE, 1968 WITH CERTAIN CHANGES, ADDITIONS AND DELETIONS THERETO.

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section I

Sec. 12.20.010 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

12.20.010 Adoption of Uniform Electrical Code and National Electrical Code. All that certain "Uniform Electrical Code" published by the Pacific Coast Electrical Association, Inc.; 1968 Edition, including the Secondary Code referred to therein being the National Electrical Code, 1968, three certified copies of said codes, in printed form, have been filed and are now on file in the office of the City Clerk marked "filed" therein on the 6th day of August 1969, for use and examination by the public, is hereby adopted as the Electrical Code of and for the City of San Rafael to which reference is hereby made with like effect as if all the provisions and printed matter therein were herein set forth in full.

Section II

Section 12.20.030 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

12.20.030. Amendments made in Uniform Electrical Code. The Uniform Electrical Code as adopted by Section 12.20.010 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is amended to and changed in the following respects. The section numbers hereinafter referred to are the section numbers of said Uniform Electrical Code.

Section I-A is hereby amended to read as follows:

A. There is hereby created the office of Chief Electrical Inspector to which shall be part of the Building Department. Whenever the term "Chief Electrical Inspector" is used it shall be construed to include the Chief Building Inspector.

Section 2-A is hereby amended by adding thereto the following: No permit shall be issued to anyone not licensed by the State of California to do electrical work except as provided in subsection B and C of this section.

Section 3 is hereby amended by deleting the individual fee schedule and substituting the following: Fees for permits and inspection shall be as setforth by resolution of the City Council of the City of San Rafael.

Section 6-D is hereby amended to read as follows:

D. National Electrical Code (1968 Edition) as approved by the USA Standards Institute is hereby adopted by reference as the National Electrical Code referred to in sub-section B and C above and said National Electrical Code, 1968 is hereby amended, added to and changed in the following respects. The section numbers hereinafter referred to are the section numbers of said National Electric Code, 1968.

Section 210-22(B) is amended by adding thereto the following:

DWELLING TYPE OCCUPANCIES: One plug receptacle, not part of the lighting fixture, shall be provided in each bathroom where a lavatory is provided in dwelling, apartments, motels and hotels.

ENTRANCE LIGHTING: One light outlet shall be provided at each outside entrance to a building intended for residential occupancy. Where two entrances are located on the same side of the building, one light may be adequate provided it is controlled by a switch at each entrance.

Section 21-22(F) is amended by adding thereto the following:

OUTDOOR RECEPTACLE: In single or two family dwellings, each unit shall have not less than one weatherproof grounding type receptacle which shall be connected to one 20 amp appliance circuit.

Section 220-3(A) is amended by changing the last paragraph to read as follows:

For general illumination in single and multiple dwellings, not less than one branch circuit shall be installed for each 500 square feet or fraction thereof of floor area in addition to the receptacle circuits called for in section 220-3(B).

Section 220-3(D) is amended by adding a new sub-section (D) to read as follows:

In dwelling occupancies including unfinished rooms suitable for future occupancy except garages, storage closets and work shops, adequate circuit wiring must be extended to the unfinished area, terminated in an approved outlet box accessible for future use and identified.

Section 230-44 is amended to read as follows:

Section 230-44 WIRING METHODS: Service entrance conductors shall be installed in rigid metallic conduit, for services not exceeding 600 volts busways may be used.

Section 230-46 is hereby deleted.

Section 230-47 is hereby deleted.

Section 230-48 is hereby deleted.

Section 230-49 is hereby deleted.

Section 230-50 is hereby deleted.

Section 230-70(B) is amended to read as follows:

Location: The service disconnecting means shall be located at a readily accessible point nearest to the entrance of the service conductors, and in residential property shall be accessible from the exterior, except in garage, carport, or where a meter room is provided. Such service disconnecting means shall not be installed under show windows or at any location above the ground floor level or in the case of multiple occupancies in any location not readily accessible to all parties concerned. The center of the grip of the operating handle of the disconnecting means, when in its highest position shall not be more than six and one-half ($6\frac{1}{2}$) feet above the floor or working platform.

A main service disconnecting means shall be provided for each separately metered subdivision of the service conductors.

Switches or circuit breakers accessible from the exterior of a single family or duplex dwelling shall be located within a single enclosure approved for the purpose.

Exception: Two switches or circuit breakers in a common enclosure may be used as the main service disconnecting means when the ampacity exceeds 225 amperes.

Section 230-70(G) is amended by adding thereto an exception to read as follows:

Exception: For single family dwellings the service disconnecting means shall consist of a switch or circuit breaker equipped with a handle which is manually operable for simultaneous disconnection of all ungrounded service conductors. This disconnection means shall be of a type approved for service equipment.

Section 250-81 is amended to read as follows:

Section 250-81 WATER PIPE: The interior metallic cold water and gas piping system shall always be bonded to the grounding electrode. The bonding conductors shall be a No. 6 copper conductor or equivalent.

Section 250-83 is amended to read as follows:

Section 250-83 MADE ELECTRODES: Concrete encased electrodes installed in accordance with section (2) shall always be used as the grounding electrode.

Article 300 is amended by adding a new section 300-24 to read as follows:

The wiring method for the following occupancies as defined in the current edition of the Uniform Building Code as group A, B, C, D, E, F and G, inclusive, shall be raceway as defined under Article 100 National Electrical Code, except for use limited in this code.

Type M. I. Cable, Article 330, N.E.C. and type MC power cable supported by continuous cable supports referred to in section 334-6 N.E.C. may be installed in the above occupancies.

Section 324-2 is amended to read as follows:

Section 324-2 USE: Concealed knob-and-tube work may only be used in the hollow spaces of walls and ceilings of wood frame construction, Groups H, I and J occupancies and must be concealed by the permanent finish of the building. Concealed knob-and-tube wiring is limited to use on circuits not exceeding 300 volts between conductors or 150 volts to ground.

Section 334-13(A) is amended to read as follows:

IN ACCESSIBLE ATTICS: Cable in accessible attics or roof spaces shall be run through bored holes in joists or protected by approved means. Exception: In attics not accessible by a permanent stairway, no boring or protection is necessary where the vertical height between the ceiling joists and rafters is less than twelve (12) inches, or in attics with maximum height less than thirty (30) inches.

Section 336-3 is amended by adding new sub-section (D) and (E) to read as follows:

(D) USE. Non-metallic sheathed cable which is run exposed in accessory buildings and attached garages shall be installed not less than 7'6" above the floor. Where the cable is subject to physical damage it shall be protected by the use of running boards, conduit or other approved means. It is limited to use on circuits not exceeding 300 volts between conductors or 150 volts to ground.

(E) USE. Concealed electric wiring under roofing materials. Non-metallic sheathed cable may be used for circuits feeding ceiling lights and respective switch legs only. It must be protected from injury by the use of conduit or metal channels not less than 1/16" thick. Wiring under roofing to all other outlets shall be run in metal conduit continuous from outlet to outlet. The minimum temperature rating of the circuit conductor shall ben ot less than 75° C.

Section 338-2 is hereby deleted.

Section 339-3(D) is amended by the addition of the following:

U. F. Cable shall not be used for exposed exterior wiring, or direct burial under slab floors within a building, unless approved for such use.

Section 350-2 is amended to read as follows:

Section 350-2. USE: Flexible metal conduit shall only be used where the use of rigid conduit or electrical metallic tubing is impractical.

Section 384-13 is amended by adding thereto the following:

GENERAL: For single and two-family dwellings the panel-boards shall be of a design which will provide for two spare circuits of opposite polarity, in addition to the number of circuits is computed from Article 220. The panel or panels must be accessible for extensions of such circuits.

Section 420-3 is amended by adding thereto the following:

Control switches shall be provided for the control of keyless lampholders and for the control of lampholders of the switched type that are not within safe and convenient reach.

In those rooms of dwelling type occupancies where receptacle outlets are required, (see Section 210-22(B), but no lighting outlet is installed, at least one such receptacle outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch.

Section 410-4 is amended by adding new sub-section (C) to read as follows:

(C). Fixtures near grounded surfaces: Fixtures which are operated through any type of switching device which is a part of a lampholder, such as pull chain sockets, key sockets, or push type sockets shall not be used in bathrooms, kitchens, laundry rooms, or on the exterior of buildings or structures, or within eight (8) feet vertically or five (5) feet horizontally of a grounded surface.

Section 600-1 is amended by adding thereto the following:

These provisions shall be supplementary to any and all local ordinances or regulations which govern the location, erection, and/or structural support of signs.

The provisions of this ordinance shall not apply to any signs identifying the location of public telephones or the existence of public utility facilities.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this ordinance, no sign shall be constructed, erected, installed, maintained, or repaired in any manner that conflicts with any rule, regulations, or order of the California P.U.C. pertaining to the construction, operation and maintenance of public utility facilities.

Section 600-2(A) is amended to read as follows:

(A). IN SIGHT OF SIGN: In addition to the switch required by Section 600-2, an approved disconnecting means shall be so located that it shall be within sight of the sign and/or outline lighting and under the control of authorized sign servicemen, normally not readily accessible to unauthorized persons whenever operating voltages are in excess of 1,000 volts. When said disconnecting means controls roof signs, it shall be located not more than six and one-half ($6\frac{1}{2}$) feet above the roof.

Section 600-6 is amended by adding thereto the following:

SIGN CIRCUIT REQUIRED: Each commercial building and/or each commercial occupancy with ground floor frontage shall be provided with a minimum 20 ampere branch circuit to the sign location, or a spare circuit and an empty raceway may be provided.

Section 600-31(A) is amended to read as follows:

(A). WIRING METHOD: Conductors shall be installed in rigid metallic conduit or in electrical metallic tubing. Open conductors may not be used either indoors or outdoors except when contained within the sign enclosure or as provided for under 600-31(H). All conductors for outline lighting, either interior or exterior, or where passing through walls, shall be in a raceway system with approved fittings.

Section 600-31(D) is hereby deleted.

(E). Concealed conductors or insulators shall not be allowed outside the sign enclosure.

Section 600-31(G) is hereby deleted.

Article 725 is amended by adding new section 725-8 to read as follows:

Section 725-8. TRANSFORMER LOCATIONS: Signal transformers: Signal transformers shall be installed in fuse cabinets in a separate compartment or mounted on outlet boxes adjacent thereto; insofar as practical. When installed in closets or furnace rooms, exposed signal transformers shall be located on the ceiling or on the wall over the door. Transformers shall not be installed in attics or in concealed areas of basements.

Section 10 is hereby deleted.

Section 11 is hereby deleted.

Sec. 12.20.040 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended by changing the reference from Section 12.20.020 to Section 12.20.030 as it appears in the exception under Fire Zone II.

Section III. This ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage in the Independent-Journal a newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in said city and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed bids for construction of a Water Distribution Pipeline will be received at the office of the Bolinas Community Public Utility District, 270 Elm Road, Bolinas, Marin County, California, telephone (415) 868-1224. Mailed Bids shall be addressed to Bolinas Community Public Utility District, P. O. Box 345, Bolinas, California, 94924, and must be received prior to the time stated below to be considered. Bids will be accepted until 7:30 P.M., September 10, 1969 and will be opened at that hour in the District's Office.

The Contractor shall furnish all necessary labor, equipment, and materials necessary to be incorporated into the job.

The general prevailing rate of wages in the locality in which work is to be performed has been ascertained by the District under the provisions of Section 1770 of the Labor Code.

A list of the prevailing wage rates is on file at the District Office and available for inspection by any interested party and is included with the specifications for this project.

Sundays and holidays shall be paid at not less than one and one-half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) times the rates shown. The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification, or type of workmen employed on the project.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded and upon any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Proposals will be considered for the complete job only. The proposal must be submitted on the form provided and must be accompanied by a Certified Check, Cash, Post Office Money Order or Bid Bond as a guaranty that the bidder will, if successful, promptly execute a satisfactory contract and furnish bonds as required by these specifications. The Certified Check, Cash, Post Office Money Order or Bid Bond shall be not less than ten (10) per cent of the total amount of the bid and shall be made payable to the Treasurer of the Bolinas Community Public Utility District.

The envelope enclosing the proposal must have stated thereon: "Proposal for Construction of a Water Distribution Pipeline."

Plans and Specifications may be obtained at the Office of Hoffman & Albritton, 35 Mitchell Boulevard, San Rafael, California 94903, upon payment of $10.00, of which $5.00 will be refunded if plans and specifications are returned in good condition within ten days after bid opening. It is requested that those Contractors wishing a District representative to accompany them on their first visit to the site of the work notify the District sufficiently in advance so that necessary arrangements may be made.

Progress payments will be made.

Minor Injuries In Cycle Mishap

The California Highway Patroo reported that Hughes' motorcycle, eastbound on Panoramic Highway, collided with a westbound car driven by Anthony C. Santos, 59, of Santa Cruz, at 1:40 p.m.

To Take Teen Case

Bruce George Gerhard, 19, of San Francisco, was referred to juvenile probation authorities Friday in Marin Municipal Court to see if charges against him of possessing marijuana and alcohol Wednesday in Larkspur can be handled in juvenile court.

Gerhard was told to return to court Sept. 17 for the report from the probation department.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 7:30 p.m. — "Pueblo: A Question of Intelligence" is a special one-hour documentary by NBC news and an attempt to assess the implications of North Korea's seizure of the U.S. vessel and crew on American politics and society today.

KRON (4), 8:30 p.m. — Frank Sinatra, Eddie Hodges, Edward G. Robinson, Eleanor Parker and Carolyn Jones star in the movie comedy "A Hole in the Head."

KQED (9), 9 p.m. — Apartheid or segregation in the Union of South Africa is the subject on "Black Journal."

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 10 p.m. — Dick Cavett welcomes Nicholas Johnson of the Federal Communications Commission and country singer Bobbie Gentry to his show.

Scientists Say DDT Harmful, Ask For Ban

(Special to the I-J)

SAN DIEGO — Eighteen UCSD scientists have issued a statement calling for discontinuance of DDT and "other chlorinated hydrocarbons." The scientists, most of them biologists on the faculty of Revelle College at UCSD, said "evidence is overwhelming that these persistent substances threaten the ecological systems upon which human life depends."

The statement also warned that, according to recent studies, DDT may be stored in human tissues, and "may have direct harmful effects on man himself."

Dr. Michael Soule, assistant professor of biology at UCSD and one of the organizers of the anti-DDT campaign, said that chemical firms still active in the production of DDT are "very hotly contesting" all attempts to have the pesticide discontinued. Soule said that talc impregnated with DDT has been found throughout the world, even over the middle of the Atlantic Ocean.

"Birds that never come near a continent are showing the effects of DDT," he said, "and are on the verge of extinction." Among birds so threatened he listed the Bahama petrel, the penguins of South America, and the brown pelican, "once one of the most abundant sea birds in North America."

Soule cited a study recently concluded at the University of Florida medical school in which pathologists established that people who die of a certain class of terminal diseases affecting the liver and the central nervous system "had two to three times the level of DDT in their fat tissues as did a random sample of people who died from other causes."

"It is the moral responsibility of all of us to exercise care as to what we dump into the environment," Soule said. "It's a very small planet, and what an industrialist may do, for example, may affect people in very remote parts of the world. The Eskimos have considerable amounts of DDT in their bodies, and they live thousands of miles from any source of this pesticide."

In a related action, nine Scripps Institution of Oceanography scientists last week signed an "open letter to Governor Ronald Reagan and the people of the State of California" asserting they are "deeply concerned by the accumulation of DDT in the oceans."

The oceanographers' statement pointed out that "DDT is a 'hard' pesticide" which "takes years to decompose to harmless products by weathering and biological processes.

"DDT and its toxic residues are found in Antarctic penguins and seals, and in fishes living thousands of miles out at sea. Though the sea is immense, the accumulation of DDT in it has reached a point where it presents a grave threat to marine food resources."
